Customs of India Explained by Native

BRITTON — Mrs. K. S. Xavier, a native of India, presented an unusual program at the quarterly Women's Fellowship meeting March 1 at the Congregational Christian Church.

Wearing a orange silk sari, Mrs. Xavier told of the customs and traditions of her homeland.

She explained the different religions of India and many dialects spoken. English is the common language.

The ladies were particularly interested in her descriptions of the marriage customs and the woman's day in India.

Indian weddings are all arranged by a marriage broker. Many Indian women have little work to do, she stated, because they have servants to cook, clean and care for the children.

She demonstrated how to put on a sari and dressed several of the ladies with the long, graceful gowns.

A silk sari, usually about five yards long, will cost around $40 or $50.

Fifty ladies were present for the carry-in luncheon at noon. After the program by Mrs. Xavier, Mrs. Gerald Benedict, president of the Fellowship, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Lowell Bush showed the large number of layettes which the ladies of the Priscilla Circle have made. These are to be sent to the mission project at Mulberry Gap, Tenn.

The Father-Son Banquet was announced for March 31. Tickets will be $1 each. The Golden Rule and Mary-Martha Circles are in charge of the kitchen arrangements, and the Priscilla and Sunshine Circles will supervise the dining room work.

In closing, the women joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Ballots Are Empty

BRITTON—Due to the change in election laws, all candidates in the up-coming village election Monday, will have to get write-in votes.

Electors will find blank ballots, listing only the offices, no names. Electors must write in the names of the candidates for whom they wish to vote, and are reminded to be sure to place a cross in front of those names they write, or the ballot will be disqualified.

The Michigan Election Commission has ruled that candidates must file petitions under the Republican or Democrat Party. The candidates in Britton had previously filed as the Progressive Party.

However, a candidate for a write-in need not declare his party. All votes for any one person will be tabulated for the candidate.

Candidates who previously filed nominating petitions and who still are candidates as write-ins are:

President — Warren Lewis

Clerk — Rosemary Auten

Treasurer — Christine Fairbanks

Assessor — Andrew Crutchfield

Trustees — Fred Bryan, Clyde Brown and Dale Monagin.

Anyone else may be voted for any office.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By RICK CURRIE

Seniors looked at the birdie last week as they got graduation pictures taken.

Younger Knights were introduced to freshman girls of St. Joseph Academy at a dance held there. Some 70 Boysville students from the eighth grade, freshman and sophomore classes attended the Saturday night affair.

Girls, guitars, and songs entertained the students at Boysville as a quartette of girls from Marygrove College in Detroit sang a melody of folk songs to the traditional accompaniment of their guitars.

Calling themselves "The Arite's", Lynda Krebshach, Joan Kopp, Chris Sholander and Marianne Reynolds joined together last September.

Jeffrey Forth, an eighth grader who knew the girls, was instrumental in getting them to come to Boysville. The final arrangements were made by the student council.

At intermission Brother Thomas Friel, Brother Leonard and Ron Hiller gave a little concert with their accordions and guitar.

The Differential Aptitude Test was given to the juniors and seniors. Brothers Stephen Davis gave the two-day, two-period test. The test questioned the juniors and seniors' aptitude in abstract reasoning, special relationship, numerical reasoning, verbal reasoning, grammar usage, spelling, clerical speed and accuracy.

The Religion Department plans two projects to foster March as the month of vocations. Each religion class will have one to two students tape a 10-minute speech on either the single, married or religious state of life.

These tapes will then in turn be played during the religion period. Another project will be a poster contest based on the theme of vocations.

Basketball intramural season ends with Ron Cook's Bruins as champs. The Bruins ended with a 5-1 record losing their only game to the Irish.

The Revengers came in second, the Irish third, and the Poppsychs fourth.

Ron Cook, Nick Jurczak, Mike Connors, Lon Webster, Tom Berlicz, Allen Rockwell, Nick Orlando and Gabe Durante made up the championship team.

The engagement of Dawn Ilene Kruse to Dwight D. Shepherd is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kruse, 407 Center Dr. The bride-elect is a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is presently attending Washtenaw Community College, Ypsilanti. Mrs. Pennington Tells of Grandson Born in Caro

Mrs. Earl Pennington, now of Hessel, sends news of a grandson born Feb. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hessel (nee Louise Pennington) of Caro.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

The Art Kunkle residence at 501 Seminole was bursting at the seams last weekend with joy as well as people. Electronics technician 2/c John A. Kunkle, his wife, Leone, and three and one-half-year-old-son, Bryan Keith, have arrived home after being at the Air Force Base in Yokahama, Japan, for four years.

This was the first time that Gram and Gramp Kunkle have seen their grandson. An open house was held Thursday evening at their home.

Other members of the family home to greet their brother, his wife and child, were the Kunkle girls and their families, Arlene, Marcia and Mary — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walsh, Brookfield, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. Lorain Bell and daughter, Audra Lynn of Whiting, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herring and one daughter, Beth Ann, 10 months. The other tiny Herring daughter, Beatrice Heather, was only born Feb. 24, weighing two and one-half pounds, so naturally she is still in St. John's Hospital, Detroit.

God-Given Tasks

Not all the work which Christ has assigned to His Church on earth can be done by men.

Through the nature and devotion of women, educational institutions must be maintained, Christian charity must be practised, the sick and the orphans must be provided for, Christian literature must be printed and disseminated.

All this work can be done by cooperating with a larger number of Christian women who offer their time and spirit to promote the Kingdom of God on earth.

TO FULFILL this God-given task, the Lutheran Church Women of the Gloria Dei have been and are willing to work with others in order to be faithful to the Savior's command.

Monday, March 13, this spirit will lead the LCW members when they have the privileges to have the ladies of the Christ the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Adrian in their midst.

The program is called, "The Sounds of Lent". It is a meaningful play with colored pictures.

Participants are Mrs. Charles Gross, Mrs. Earl Mason, Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann, Mrs. William Macbeth and Mrs. James Colson.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. Those in charge of the decorations are Mrs. William Rohweder and Mrs. Barton Christman.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Valden Bidle, Mrs. Don Geringer and Mrs. James Tonneberger.

Bible Study will open the meeting.

THANKS FOR FOLLOWING ALONG

A conversation with the General a week or so ago started a train of thought which — well, I'm not just quite sure where it will take me. I shall, perhaps, wind up on a soap box, but if you are game, please come along.

We were talking about mid-February's wild and wooly windstorm. It was a fierce thing. I did not hear an accurate measure of exactly what the wind velocity was in Tecumseh, but I do know that it screamed and howled, ranted and raved.

Hour after hour it lashed against the house and tore at the trees. They say there is a purpose for most things, but, putting that theory to a test, what good did such a storm do except create a sleepless night for a great many people.

THE GENERAL had an answer. We all know that this has been a miserably hard winter for birds and animals.

The ground feeders have fared the worst — the deep snows and thick ice covered everything and many of them could not possibly have scratched or broken through.

The storm brought down limbs, twigs, branches. Litter and debris was scattered everywhere, such a mess.

And yet, as the General and his wife looked back into their woods, pheasants and quail were hungrily gobbling, what must have seemed to them, a long overdue dinner.

Mother Nature had to shake things up a bit, but she did provide for some of those who had been most harmed by her earlier experiments in snow and ice making.

The heavy snows, which clogged Tecumseh's streets, make lots of business for the snow plows. As these powerful machines rumbled by, they piled high mountains at the sides of our streets.

Out in front, they scraped gravel as well as snow. Of course, when the thaws set in, the snow started disappearing and oh—. What unsightly, dirty looking messes were those half-melted piles of snow. It was almost not a pleasure to look out the front window.

SUDDENLY though we noticed that the sparrows were "making like" mountain climbers. They were clamoring all over the shrunken mountains of grime. Birds do not chew their food, but instead depend upon gravel.

Just as the ground-feeding birds could not break through the snow and ice to find food neither could the birds get to any of this essential "grinding material".

The snow plow had mixed gravel with the snow though and those smart little sparrows lost no time. What looked unsightly to us was perhaps life-saving to them.

But this is the second week of March and it is nicer to look forward to spring than backward at winter. (Backward, ha, three seconds ago — but spring must be on the way.)

Warm weather will find birds on the move and isn't that nice to contemplate. Actually, this is not a bit too early to start planning for some of our summer guests. We should all start thinking bluebird and martin houses.

THE FIRST martin scouts could be wheeling in around the first part of April. And this must not develop into a discussion of how to attract martins. These birds, however, are the best mosquito controllers we have.

Just think, one martin will eat at least 2,000 mosquitoes in a single day. Instead of spraying our yards and trees with poisonous insecticides, why wouldn't it be better to invite martins and other mosquito eaters to our yards. They are certainly prettier than a spray and they do a much better job.

So it is that I warned you about the possibility of this working into a wandering article, thanks for following along.

Brownie Scouts Do Their Stuff at Nursing Home

Two Brownie Girl Scout troops from the Tecumseh Neighborhood entertained patients at the Herrick Nursing Home just before their dinner hour Feb. 28.

The girls performed dances they did for the Girl Scout Thinking Day dinner.

Troop 100, eight girls under the leadership of Mrs. H. C. Kronberg, performed the Mexican Hat Dance. Troop 123, a group of 17, danced to and sang a Swedish folk song called "Merry-go-round."

Both groups wore colorful costumes typical of the country they represented.

This is one of many of the little services Brownie Girl Scouts perform for their community.

It was an opportunity for these young girls to bring a bit of happiness into the lives of others and thus practice what they preach in their Brownie Girl Scout Promise.

Reed Skinner Plays Lead Role in 'Ah, Wilderness'

Tecumseh High School juniors has begun production of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness!" for three showings in April.

Major roles will be played by Reed Skinner, Sue Smith and Bob Murray.

Thoughts of home and the family circle are among life's choicest treasures. As one ages, nostalgic retrospections increase. When such a dramatist as Eugene O'Neill takes this subject for his theme, a fine play is the result.

"Ah, Wilderness!" shows the intimacies of an average home in an average community, how interesting people really are.

Dates for the play are April 12, 13 and 14 in the Little Theatre of Tecumseh High School. Tickets are $1 for adults and 75c for students.

Tecumseh Bows in Finals, 70-64

Tecumseh's hot and cold Indians ended its cage season Saturday night, losing the rubber game to Blissfield in district tourney play at Dundee, 70-64.

The two clubs had split during the regular season, and Saturday's contest loomed as a tossup. It was — with the Royals pulling it out in the final minutes.

Turning point in the game occurred with about two minutes left when Blisfield's Brian Papanhagen missed a free throw. His shot bounced hard off the back rim, back to him at the free throw line.

The 6'5" center connected, boosting Blissfield's lead from 61-60 to 63-60. The Royals then caught fire for five straight points to up the margin to 68-61, before Charlie Thomas connected on a foul shot for the Indians.

Until the Royals gained an eight-point lead, it was anyone's game.

Unheralded Jim Bateson came off the Blissfield bench in the third quarter to prevent what could have been a disaster for the winners.

With Dean Hebb and Thomas rallying Tecumseh and eventually giving the Indians their first lead in the game, Bateson matched shots and points with the two Tecumseh stars.

Blissfield was on the verge of collapsing until the second string guard rambled through the Indian defense, breaking free at the foul line to pump in three quick goals.

After the teams were tied, 51-51, at the end of three quarters, Hebb and Thomas combined to give Tecumseh a 57-54 lead. The Indians then went sour, getting only one point in the next stretch while the Royals bombed away for seven.

Hebb pulled Tecumseh to within one point, 61-60. The Royals then broke loose to take the game out of the Indians' reach.

Saturday's game could have been Tecumseh's last for a couple years as a finalist in district play. Maybe longer, as the Indians will probably be Class A by then.

Coach Vic Lawson loses his two top scorers in Thomas and Hebb, plus Doug Bugbee, Scott Edwards, Dick Gerten, Dave Kennel and Dan Conklin.

Not only will the coach lose scorers and experience, he will miss the height Tecumseh has enjoyed since the days of Jerry Hebb, Gregg Allen and Terry Alcock.

Thomas, Hebb and Bugbee were 6'3" and 6'2" players. Only Jim Upell at 6'1" wil give Tecumseh any resemblance of the height, unless some of the Jayvee players sprout.

Height in basketball was proven to fans in Saturday's windup, when Hebb shot over and off the boards for 9 points, tops for both clubs.

Thomas' 18 points, second high for the evening, came largely from a 6'3" frame, despite playing opposite the 6'5" Papenhagen, who was slowed down in scoring by Thomas' defensive work.

Indians Outclass Ypsi, 86 to 48

Tecumseh completely outclassed Ypsilanti-Lincoln Wednesday night of last week in the Indians' opening district tourney game at Dundee, 86-48.

Although the Railsplitters had shared the title in its own league, they were walloped in Tecumseh's easiest game of the season.

Coach Vic Lawson substituted freely with the varsity second stringers and several up from the Jayvees. It mattered little as all 15 cagers on the local squad scored.

Only in the first quarter did Ypsi come close to making it a contest, and even then, trailed, 20-13. Tecumseh jumped the margin to 42-21 at the half.

Farm Bureau Takes Issues to Capitol

Mrs. Leroy Heilman of Clinton and Mrs. William Korth of Tecumseh will be among 100 County Farm Bureau legislative leaders who will carry current farm issues directly to their Congressmen.

They'll jet to Washington March 13, for a three-day visit.

One issue sure to be discussed is the rising level of dairy imports into the United States.

Michigan farmers, who receive more than one-fourth of their gross farm incomes from dairy products, have been disturbed by reports that some dairy products offered for export to the U.S. at 20 cents per pound are sold in Europe for 65 to 70 cents per pound.

Many farmers have expressed hope that the Administration will use its present powers to stop the obvious dumping of foreign milk products on the American market at a time when more domestic production is being requested.

Another issue of concern which will be discussed with Congressmen is Senate Bill 109—the unfair practices bill aimed at protecting the right of farm producers to join marketing and bargaining cooperatives without fear of reprisal from processors or other buyers.

The farm leaders support this "right to market" law, and feel that such legislation will prevent discrimination caused by such techniques as refusal to purchase from members, threats or reprisals, or offer of special inducement to producers if ther refuse to join an association.

A breakfast session with the Republican delegation from Michigan, a noon luncheon with the Democrats, and a special meeting with members of the press at the National Press Club, is planned for the farm leaders in Washington.

Let's Protect them..

BECAUSE YOUNG CHILDREN ARE CURIOUS, THEY REACH OUT FOR THINGS . . . AND TEND TO PLACE THEM IN THEIR MOUTHS. THAT IS WHY POTENTIALLY-DANGEROUS PRODUCTS SHOULD BE KEPT OUT OF CHILDREN'S REACH — AS LABELING OF MANY PRODUCTS CAUTIONS. HERE ARE 21 SUGGESTIONS TO HELP YOU PREVENT UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENTS FOR YOUR CHILDREN.

1. KEEP ALL DRUGS, POISONS, and other household chemicals out of the reach of children and away from food.
2. LOCK UP all dangerous substances.
3. DO NOT STORE POISONOUS or inflammable substances (kerosene, gasoline, rat poisons, etc.) in food or beverage containers.
4. READ ALL LABELS and carefully follow "caution" statements. Even if a chemical is not labeled "poison", incorrect use may be dangerous.
5. DO NOT EAT OR SERVE FOODS WHICH SMELL OR LOOK ABNORMAL, and remember that they may poison household and farm animals.
6. BE SURE ALL POISONS are clearly marked. This can be done by sealing with adhesive tape or using a special marker.
7. WHEN YOU THROW AWAY DRUGS or hazardous materials, be sure the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.
8. WARN SMALL CHILDREN not to eat or drink drugs, chemicals, plants or berries they find — without your approval. Insist on this.
9. ADEQUATE VENTILATION is a must when using cleaning fluids. Avoid breathing vapors.
10. PROTECT YOUR SKIN AND EYES when using insect poisons, weed killers, solvents and cleaning agents. Be sure to wash thoroughly after use of such things, and promptly remove contaminated clothing.
11. DO NOT ALLOW FOOD OR FOOD UTENSILS to become contaminated when using insect sprays, aerosol mists, rat poisons, weed killers, or cleaning agents.
12. DO NOT TAKE OR GIVE MEDICINE IN THE DARK. Be sure you can clearly read the label on the container.
13. WHEN MEASURING DRUGS, give it your full attention.
14. GIVE INFANTS AND CHILDREN drugs only as directed by your physician.
15. BEFORE MEASURING LIQUID MEDICINES, always shake the bottle thoroughly.
16. SAFEGUARD TABLETS which are candied, flavored, or colored, since children eat them like candy.
17. DO NOT TAKE MEDICINE from an unlabeled bottle; transparent tape protects the label.
18. DATE ALL DRUG SUPPLIES when you buy them.
19. WEED OUT THE LEFT-OVERS REGULARLY from your medicine chest — especially any prescription drug that your physician ordered for a particular illness.
20. USE A PRESCRIPTION DRUG only for the patient for whom the physician ordered it.
21. READ ALL DIRECTIONS and caution statements on the drug label each time you plan to use the medicine.

Michigan youth representing 10 youth-serving agencies are now making final plans for a state-wide conference at Michigan State University Saturday, March 11.

18 Cases Considered by Service

Since the Protective Service Program has been active in the Tecumseh School District area, a period of approximately six months, a total of 18 cases have been referred on a pre-delinquency basis.

Only two of these later were referred to the court — one because of excessive truancy where it became necessary to impose probation terms and one because the parents wished court action to enforce probationary rules.

During this same period there have been 10 cases referred to the court.

There have been no cases of neglect referred from this area to court action while Protective Services has been able to work with six families on a preneglect referral.

Community response to the Protective Service Program has been good and there is an increasing awareness of citizen responsibility to conditions that bring about neglect and delinquency.

"This total of 18 cases does not include the referrals made through our office to other agencies," states Mrs. H. H. Hanna, director of the Protective Service Program.

Foreign Student Host Families Are Being Sought

Who qualifies as American ambassadors?

The Tecumseh High School Student Council needs two Tecumseh families to serve as "American ambassadors" in their own homes.

These families will serve as host families to foreign exchange students during the 1967-68 school year.

Applications to fill this position are available from either Caroline House, 423-4019, or from the Tecumseh High School office of Donald Brazee.

Pfc. Thomas M. Kish, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaza M. Kish, 6911 Green Hwy., entered the United States Army Aug. 12, 1966. After completing basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., he received two weeks' leadership training before entering AIT at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., graduating Jan 20. He recently spent a two-week leave at home en route to Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam. Pfc. Kish is a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Stautzenberger College before entering the service.

Imperishability

The imperishability of spiritual things will be a theme of this week's Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday.

Half-Notes Plan Fun for Patients

Monthly meeting of the Half-Notes was held Friday at the Friends Church with fourteen members present.

Reciting of the Junior Collect of the National Federation of Music Clubs opened the affair.

Plans were made for a program to be presented at the Tecumseh Nursing Home during April. Fourteen members who will be performing at this program will be notified on the exact day and time.

In observance of the 44th Annual Music Week, which will be held in May, Vicky Vinze, Debby Fogelsong and Paula Branting-ham made posters. These will be put on display in the business district.

Miss Fogelsong presented the program for the day with a short autobiography of Franz Joseph Haydn.

Piano and vocal solos were given by Derlene Smith, Julie Coak, Cynthia Wright, Debby Fogelsong, Vicky Vinze and Jeff Downing. Refreshments were served by Lynn Peck and Jeff Downing.

Nita M. Hart Enters Hillsdale

Nita M. Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Spangler, of Coldwater, and a graduate of Tecumseh High School, recently entered Hillsdale College as a second semester student.

An independent liberal arts college in southern Michigan with an enrollment of 1,059 students, Hillsdale emphasizes preparation for leadership in the fields of science, business administration, and the humanities.

Spice of Africa

Entertainment with the spice of Africa mixed in was provided by the sponsors of the Power Class party Feb. 25 in Tecumseh Friends Church.

The sponsors, the Rev. and Mrs. Dale Neff and the Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Ehinger, have been missionaries in Africa.

Maintaining the theme, even the familiar game of "Jenkins says hand up!" was played with a large Nigerian penny which was very difficult to conceal in the hand.

There were trick games as well. Once, six contestants lines up on each side of a table to feed marshmallows to the one opposite. But after the blindfolds were in place, marshmallows generously coated with powdered charcoal were substituted for the regular ones.

The black coating in no way changed the taste of the marshmallows, but certainly changed the complexion of the contestants to the hearty amusement of the onlookers.

A surprise skit by two of the sponsors produced a volume of laughs as a "radio reporter" interviewed a "lady missionary" just home from her "African field", dressed in sun helmet, carrying her shotgun and baggage and having a trick safety pin through her nose.

In the skit, she told of finding her African natives wearing thorns through their noses, but she hoped that by her example, in a few years, they would all be wearing "shiny safety pins" through their noses instead of "those repulsive thorns!"

The natives in the skit in no way reflected upon the African people among whom the Neffs and Ehingers have worked during their years of missionary service in Nigeria and Burudni.

Mrs. Harold Righter led the devotions at the party.

Refreshments were served to the 23 guests present, which included Ardis Drewyor who came from Alliance, Ohio to meet with the class on this occasion.

You get 8 fenders on every Chevrolet

You get those four polished ones on top and an extra steel fender under each. The four you can't see shield the four you can see from road salt, water, dirt, stones—anything a tire can kick up to corrode or mar your car. It's one of the ways we make sure the new stays in a new Chevrolet. Your Chevrolet dealer will show you a dozen more.

HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

POLAR BEAR — This giant snow statue delights John Hernandez, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hernandez, 217 Herrick Park Dr. Lipstick red mouth and charcoal eyes give a realistic appearance to the larger-than-life size seated bear, made by older children in the household. Several appreciative neighbors called The Herald to take note of the clever snow figure last week.

Ex-Pastor's Sister Speaks at Breakfast

An Easter meditation will be given by Mrs. Hayden Curruth, sister of the Rev. James Nixon, former pastor of the Tecumseh Methodist Church, at the annual white breakfast.

It's being held Thursday, March 16, at 9:30 a.m., in the fellowship hall of the local church.

Mrs. Raymond Nichols, chairman for the event, has announced that Mrs. Dwight Hodges will be in charge of devotions with Mrs. James Danforth, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Oberlin, as soloist.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Erwin Buss, 423-4515, at a cost of seventy-five cents.

Peanut Brittle, Buttered Toffee Going on Sale

Senior High Youth Fellowship of the Tecumseh Methodist Church will be making peanut brittle and buttered toffee this weekend in the church kitchen.

Proceeds from its sale will go into the growing fund for a missionary work project this summer.

Anyone desiring candy may place orders in advance by calling Mrs. Robert Meads, 423-3064, or by calling the church anytime on Saturday, 423-3814.

Sunday evening the youth will be traveling to Ithaca to hear Ford Phipott, an evangelist from Kentucky, whom the Rev. Donald Porteous, pastor, was instrumental in guiding into this field.

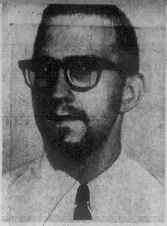
10 Donors Hit Coveted Gallon Mark

There are 10 persons among the blood donors listed in this week's issue of The Herald who have each given one gallon of blood.

Included are Arthur Holdridge, Mrs. James H. Tonneberger, Robert Lambes, Howard Pennington, Lester Ruhl, Arthur Schuler, Leroy Betzoldt, Richard Van Valkenburg, Lester Randolph and Robert Ries.

Eight pints of blood were given specifically for Alfred Linenkugel, an Adrian College student, and two for Don Martin of Macon who expects to undergo heart surgery the latter part of March.



Steven Leigh Fretwell, 311 East Shawnee has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester at Adrian College. To be named to the Dean's List a student must have a 2.25 average on a three-point scale. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Fretwell, he is a senior majoring in History. He is a member of the Student Education Association and was previously on the Dean's List. He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attends Grace Lutheran Church.

Sue Eddinger Joins Sigma Phi Nu

Sue Eddinger was formally initiated into Sigma Phi Nu sorority at Northwood Institute in Midland two weeks ago.

As a member of Sigma Phi Nu, Sue will serve as historian for the spring term.

Six Months Needed To Plan Science Fair

For the past six months the Tecumseh High School Science Club has been organizing the 1967 Science Fair.

It will be held in the Tecumseh High School Gym March 17, 18 and 19.

Students co-ordinating the fair under the direction of Peter Kalam are:

Rick Skinner — awards and arrangement.

Candy Christman, Nancy Clute and Linda Steadly — display.

Karen McCrate — judges.

Martha Hawthorne — publicity.

Victoria Manley — registration.

Bruce Daniels — tables.

Caroline House — co-ordinator.

Special awards consisting of $50 United States Savings Bonds will be donated by the fields of Biology, Chemistry, Physics and Junior High.

Each year the winners are named by unbiased judges and in further attempts to insure this, the Science Club asks that NO names, grades or schools be put anywhere on the projects.

Businesses Give Goodies

Among those providing refreshments for donors at the Bloodmobile March 2 were the A & P Store, Vescios, Krogers, Lenawee Brand Dairy, R. S. Moore & Son Lumber, Flanders Music Co. and Van's Bakery.

we care

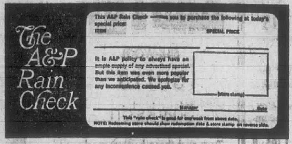
we never "run out" on a sale!

We never advertise a special sale item unless we have an ample supply. Once in a great while, the special is more popular than we imagined. So occasionally, we do run out of the item.

But we never "run out" on a sale. If the item is sold out, just ask the manager for a "RAIN CHECK".



The A&P Rain Check

This A&P Rain Check — entitles you to purchase the following at today's special price:

ITEM SPECIAL PRICE

It is A&P policy to always have an ample supply of any advertised special. But this item was even more popular than we anticipated. We apologize for any inconvenience caused you.

(store stamp)

Manager Date

This "rain check" is good for one week from above date.
NOTE: Redeeming store should show redemption date & store stamp on reverse side.

An A&P Rain Check is a certificate that entitles you to buy the item at the same special price, the following week.

We think that's the fair thing to do. We think that shows "WE CARE".

Not every store can care that much. A&P can . . . and does. Shouldn't A&P be your store?

VOICE of THE HERALD

'Annie' Had Moments

"Annie Get Your Gun" had its moments, but the Tecumseh Players' winter musical was also beset by too many flat segments.

The old pros in the show sparkled. Like Peg Geiger (right) and Bertha Vallelunga Paige (top left). Newcomer Bud Johnson (center above) was a smooth Frank Butler and Bill Frownfelder (right above), although playing a minor part, turned in a solid job.

Other plaudits go to Dr. Bob Murray and Duane Steele, both veteran performers, as well as Ted Broderick, who made his debut in this show.

Lack of an orchestra hurt, especially during the dance numbers, when audiences could hear a pin drop, which is hardly the atmosphere for a musical comedy.

No matter how hard a cast labors, or how much talent members have, if the playwright has produced only mediocre book and lyrics, a show will seldom send audiences out into the night humming songs from the production.

We fondly recall shows like "Pajama Game" and "The Music Man", which offered far superior musical and script material with which to work.

Care in choosing a show is as important as picking the players for it.

Blow to Thriving Business

An extremely successful business in Tecumseh may be forced to shut down operations — and it all seems so ironic.

Immigration authorities have notified Evel Garrido, co-owner of Exclusives Evel-Dean, that he must leave the country.

A native of Spain, Evel came here originally as a guest of Bill Heimerdinger of Clinton, entering the States on a visitor's visa. The idea for a dress shop developed here and Don Smith encouraged them to begin operations over his beef buffet.

It got off to a flying start — greatly due to the designing talents of Evel.

Various attempts were made to have a special Congressional bill passed to permit Evel to remain here because he was self-sufficient. In fact, four jobs were created in town because of his skills.

What can be done?

Well, attorney John Zeigler is trying to work things out in Washington with Sen. Griffin.

Letters from citizens in the area could also be helpful. These can be directed to the senator or representative of your choice at:

Planning for Tomorrow

"Inter-county cooperation is vitally important.'
Edmond Alchin of MSU

This is an excellent piece of advice, made during last week's County Planning Commission.

Volumes of information about Lenawee were presented and discussed. Mr. Alchin's comment hits the mark perfectly.

Considerable has already been done along the lines of county cooperation and much more is in order. We congratulate the folks who have dug so hard and long to present us with a scientific look at Lenawee.

The Herald's Maxine Calhoun reported the planning session and will be covering future gatherings. She was amazed at the details into which the researchers have gone — right down to the last structure.

Now it's the job of Lenawee leaders to put these facts into good working order for the future. That means all sections of the county going along the same road together.

If we think the growth in the last few years has been enormous, wait until we see what takes place between now and 1977.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

One of the biggest boosters for industrial potential of Lenawee County is Consumers Power Co.

A tiny, but vital department of the utility devotes full time to the job of booming areas all over Michigan for possible new industries.

The Tecumseh - Adrian area is one of these — and one to have greatly benefited in the past from Consumers' efforts.

For those who wandered in late, it was Consumers which landed the Fisher Body plant for Tecumseh.

Consumers was also vital in helping settle Stauffer Chemical along Sutton Rd.

Currently there are a trio of firms giving long, clear looks at this part of Lenawee, thanks to information furnished them by Consumers.

One is a New York chemical company. Another good prospect is a metal working outfit from Cleveland. The most enthusiastic possibility is a paper-form firm.

Providing this information was Frank Brewer, manager of Consumers' Jackson Division, who hosted a luncheon in the company's service center at Adrian Tuesday noon.

FIRST FRANK plied us with rare roast beef, mint parfaits and eclairs, then came through with the information about our possible new industrial neighbors. What better way to cap off a sumptuous meal?

The future for our area looks bright, explained Frank.

"We're very optimistic. Industries are intrigued with smaller communities. Fisher Body has enhanced the area, Stauffer Chemical, too.

"Hopefully, we'll be attracting satellite industries," Frank told his audience.

Mr. Brewer said the power company recently completed a survey of workers in various classifications and the Tecumseh-Adrian area rated with a "fine supply of trained labor."

A freight rate study in Michigan is being conducted by Consumers for a chemical co[illegible] (another from one which may set up here) and Lenawee is included in that one.

Consumers is in the process of updating its industrial booklets, which give a detailed picture of what various Michigan communities have to offer industry.

ANOTHER ASPECT of Mr. Brewer's party was to introduce the Bamboo kitchen, which is a thing of beauty. It's going to be tough on husbands after their wives take a look at this fabulous layout.

Consumers has the kitchen on a stage in the Medallion room of the service center and is inviting women's groups to hold meetings, luncheons or card parties there.

During the time they're there, Consumers home economist Mrs. Uno Iott, and her staff, will take a few moments to explain the Bamboo kitchen.

Our session was all-male and when you have a bunch of guys sitting on the edge of their chairs gawking at a lineup of range, refrigerator, blender, freezer, etc., imagine how the gals will drool.

For clubs and church groups interested in accepting Consumers' hospitality, telephone Mrs. Iott, 265-6141.

Sunrise Service at Hidden Lake Begins at 6:30

Tecumseh Ministerial Association and Sunrise Service Committee, composed of youth of the area churches, extend an invitation to all interested persons to attend Easter Sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. March 26 at Hidden Lake Gardens.

The Rev. Herbert Nation of the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene will speak. Dr. Robert Murray will introduce the speaker and be in charge of the program.

The Madrigals, THS choral group, will provide musical selections and Barbara Clark will lead the group singing.

This year the service will be held in front of the new building because of the greater availability of electrical facilities.

Transportation to and from the service will be provided by buses. The Presbyterian Church is the site of the service in the event of bad weather. It will be lighted if the service is to be held there.

TP Sales Reach $291.6 Million

For Tecumseh Products, 1966 was another record-smashing year. Sales jumped $42 million over '65, hitting the $291.6 million mark.

Net earnings topped $13.7 million.

"Expanding markets for the company's refrigeration products, particularly in the fields of room, residential and automotive air conditioning, resulted in a volume of business significantly exceeding that for any year," explained President Kenneth Herrick in the firm's annual report.

Gasoline engines produced by Lauson and Power Products divisions showed impressive sales. Business volume of Peerless Gear Division "substantially exceeded that for 1965."

Overseas markets expanded, reflecting the "high level of prosperity in most of the European Common Market countries," said Mr. Herrick.

The Marion plant, which was expanded by 200,000 square feet in late 1965, saw additional equipment installed there to increase production capacity during last year.

A 32,500-square-foot addition at Lauson Engine is now underway. Peerless Gear's 10,000-square-foot heat treatment room (see adjoining story) was completed in 1966.

The Product's newly-acquired division, Diecast Corp. of Sheboygan Falls, Wis., will get tan addition of 37,800 square feet this year to beef up its capabilities for producing aluminum diecastings, which go to Lauson and Power Products plants.

Bill Pace Clobbered by Auto

Proctor (Bill) Pace, 605 Stacy St., received minor injuries Monday when a run-away car struck him at the Fridd Lumber Yard in Adrian.

A four-year-old boy, Bryon Diaz, took the car out of gear after the driver had left him in it. The car struck two other parked cars before it hit Mr. Pace.

Richard Gauna, the driver, was cited for failure to exercise due care.

Mr. Pace was treated at Bixby Hospital and released.

Final Day for Petitions

May 13 is the last day for filing nominating petitions for the school board election June 12.

Voters may register until May 15 to vote in the election which will include two four-year terms and a one-year term.

Howard Gentry Accepts Post in Roscommon

Howard Gentry has accepted a position as plant manager for Hancock Industries of Roscommon.

Currently building a new plant, Hancock will employ about 150 and make stampings and assemblies for automotive accounts.

For the past four years, Mr. Gentry, who lives with his family in the Tecumseh Northwest Subdivision, has been superintendent of the Stubnitz Spring Division in Adrian.

The Gentry family, children included, have long been avid little theatre participants and performed in many of the Tecumseh Player productions since 1962 when they became Tecumseh residents.

Mr. Gentry plans to start later this week with Hancock, but will probably not move his family to Roscommon until school is concluded this spring.

Hopes High for Garrido

Things are looking up for Evel Garrido.

Co-founder of Exclusives EvelDean in Tecumseh, the Spanish native was issued a deportation notice for April 2.

The bad news came from the Immigration office in Detroit, which contended Mr. Garrido is in the United States on a visitor's visa and thus not eligible to work.

To many who know the talented clothes designer, the deportation order seems ironic. With Bill Heimerdinger of Clinton, the business had been formed last year and now provides jobs for four seamstresses.

Attorney John Zeigler submitted a request to the immigration and labor department people this week seeking a permanent visa for Mr. Garrido on the basis of his skill.

Joseph DeWeese, executive secretary to Senator Robert Griffin, recommended this procedure.

Congressman Marvin Esch, who is also checking into the case, will meet with the business partners Sunday prior to his appearance at the Tecumseh High School Science Fair.

If the new visa is not approved, another special Congressional bill can be submitted to the judicial committee, thus halting deportation through the current session of Congress.

A similar bill was prepared by ex-Rep. Wes Vivian, but with adjournment of the last Congress it automatically became dead.

Rep. Esch Gives Science Fair Awards

Congressman Marvin L. Esch will be presenting awards for the Sixth Annual Tecumseh Area Science Fair at 3 p.m., Sunday, March 19, in the Tecumseh High School gym.

Painting's Fascinating Story

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Chalk artist Mrs. Clark Pearson was guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church Monday evening.

She was introduced by Mrs. Bertram Updike. Mrs. Pearson inspired those attending with "The Challenge Of Easter."

She presented Leonardo da Vinci's "The Last Supper" telling the true story of the seven years required to obtain men to pose as the 12 apostles.

After weeks of laborious search a 19-year-old man was selected to portray Christ, Mrs. Pearson said.

THEN SIX YEARS were spent to produce all the apostles, but Judas who was at last portrayed by a hardened vicious killer

As da Vinci completed his last stroke of the brush and said, "I have finished," the prisoner asked, "Do you not know who I am?"

Da Vinci said, "No, I have never seen you before," whereupon the prisoner stated, "Oh, God, have I fallen so low? Look at me again for I am the same man you painted seven years ago as the Christ."

Mrs. Pearson drew the picture of Jesus in Gethsemane, Calvary and the Resurrection as appropriate music was played on the piano by Mrs. David Champanois.

"Modern Hannah," presenting numerous ways women today can be of Christian service, was the theme of the devotions given by Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson.

DONATIONS were made to the Lenawee County migrant work and the United Council of Church Women.

Announcement was made of future events:

- ► Father-Son Banquet — March 30
- ► Board meeting — March 28 at Shelton Park
- ► Rally at Monroe — April 18. Chairman, Mrs. Richard Carter
- ► Rummage Sale — April 6, 7 and 8. Chairman, Mrs. Robert Grigg

Mrs. Champanois presented the slate of officers for the year.

Mrs. John Westgate dedicated the love gift of $46.17.

Seat Drive Rolls Along

Doug Dunn of the Football Bleacher Fund Drive committee reported that the group have reached about 80% of the goal of $3,800 by mid-week.

More detailed information will be available after a meeting Thursday of the group, which is spearheaded by the city's Exchange and Rotary Clubs.

Tickets are still in the hands of members of the Varsity and Fan Clubs and the Student Council,

Learn New Techniques

Lots of adults find it necessary to take refresher courses to keep abreast of developments in their field of endeavor.

Some 60 area cattle feeders have been attending a five-week short course each Tuesday at the Tecumseh Grange, ending this week.

Directed by Hugh Henderson of the Beef Cattle Division, Animal Husbandry Department, Michigan State University, the program is conducted as an extension service.

The latest techniques in feeding, nutrition, housing and marketing are discussed.

The women of the Tecumseh Grange served noon lunches to the farmers.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

'Tis said that God created Ireland because He decided the earth was too drab and cheerless; that it needed more beauty, gaiety and laughter.

So He made an isle in the midst of a blue sea, took the green of an emerald and painted the trees, the green of an apple, and painted the grass light and lovely and the green of precious jade and colored the hills and valleys.

He chose a special ray of sunlight to shine there and selected the balmiest breezes to blow there.

Then He decided that such a beautiful piece of green earth should belong to the most special people.

So He gathered together the music of a bird's song, the soul and heart of a poet, the twinkle in the star sheen, the brave and fierce heart of a lion and the laughter of angels — blended them into a wonderful people He called the Irish and then named their dwelling place the Emerald Isle.

March 17 is the day that St. Patrick, patron saint of these people, has been honored in America since the first days of this nation.

Tibetan Boy Led Strange Life — Being a Lama

Mrs. Murray Day reviewed the book, "The Third Eye" for members of the Child Study Club March 13 at the home of Mrs. William Snook.

The unusual story is an autobiography of a Tibetan boy trained to be a lama. Mrs. Day related incidents of incredible hardships by the boy of seven.

Believed to be clairvoyant, he is given special training, hence the book title.

Mrs. Richard Chatters informed members of the spring planning meeting to be held in Owosso April 22.

Past President Mrs. Howard Truesdale and Mrs. Graham Foster, a new member, were welcomed.

Mrs. Don Sunderland and Mrs. Proctor Pace served refreshments.

Tiny Easter baskets provided by Mrs. Fred Oberlin, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert and Mrs. Mendal Decker were the favors.

Members Try Out for Camp Scholarship

President Jeannette Mannino announced that tryouts for the $75 summer camp scholarship offered by the two local Music Clubs will be held April 3.

She presided at the Music Makers Club meeting March 5 at the Friends Church.

"The try-outs will also be held at the Friends Church. Applicants must be a member of the local club in good standing. They must be students of the ninth grade through the senior high school," Mrs. James Danforth, counselor, stated.

Other scholarship winners will not be eligible for this one.

Each member of the Club will make a poster to be displayed in local business places in observances of National Music Week May 7-14.

Fifteen members plan to attend the Music Festival March 18 at Jackson Community College, sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

Jamie Danforth, music chairman, presented the program including a piano solo by Tom Adams and vocal solos by Chris Totten.

Dianne Spycher, guest speaker, told of her experiences and showed pictures taken on her trip to South America with the Michigan Choral.

The counselors, Mrs. Danforth and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert served refreshments.

Heat Treat

CLINTON — Two new heat treatment furnaces go into operation at Peerless Gear next week.

Costing approximately $225,000 each, they'll carburize and harden crankshafts and gears in temperatures up to 1,600 degrees.

Automatic and continuous, the process takes about seven and one-half hours.

A third oven, smaller and costing nearly $150,000, is to be installed later this spring. It will be used for carbonitriting parts.

Until now, a heat treat company in Detroit had handled the job, necessitating extra hours and costs for transporting parts to and from here.

As well as Peerless shafts and pinions and various drive gears, the furnaces will also be used to condition refrigeration compressor crankshafts for both Tecumseh Products plants here and in Marion.

PEERLESS manager Kenneth Kimpel and master mechanic Doug Hall explained the way parts will be handled.

1. Parts are loaded onto racks, which are placed on conveyor.
2. Trays go through vapor degreaser.
3. Enter pre-heat chamber of furnace.
4. Reach furnace proper, heated to 1,600 degrees, where carbon is injected into pieces.
5. Exit furnace and dunked in oil quench at 180 degrees to harden parts.
6. Excess oil is removed in vapor de-greaser.
7. Into draw furnace, at 350 to 650 degrees, returns correct hardness to metal.

Kenneth "Doc" Yeager, a Toledo metallurgist, has been hired by Peerless to run the new operation. He formerly had been associated with Dana Corp.

The heat treat setup is located in a 10,000-square foot addition to Peerless, which last year produced 125,000 three- and four-speed transmissions and 120,000 right-angle drives for garden tractors.

State Trooper Says People, Not Guns, Shoot Other People

CLINTON — "Guns do not shoot people, but people shoot people," Trooper Allen Houghton of the Clinton State Police told members of the Clinton Woman's Club meeting Wednesday at the Community Center.

Outlining measures for "Security in the Home", Trooper Houghton recommended that common sense should prevail in the use of firearms.

He described the method of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and said that many police calls are to give aid to persons who have stopped breathing.

He suggested means of avoiding household accidents, emergency treatment of burns, cuts, and broken bones, how to stop bleeding and antidotes for poisons and smoke.

He described quick methods of extinguishing small fires, recommending an inexpensive fire extinguisher in each home.

He urged that children be taught fire drill, told where to go in the yard in front of the house in case of fire. The child should be instructed how to dial a telephone and should know his own telephone number as well as his home address and how to direct people to his home.

Three Area Bands Earn Top Rating at District Meet

CLINTON — Music filled the air in Clinton High School Saturday as 17 bands from Class C and D high schools in District 8 appeared in competition.

Getting off to a great beginning, Clinton's host band opened the program, earning all first division ratings, qualifying them for the State Band Festival April 22.

However, because of the Band Follies scheduled for that same week, Clinton's band does not plan to attend the State Festival.

Other area schools earning top ratings were Onsted High School band with all first division and Britton-Macon High School band, which received two firsts and a second in concert performance and a second in sight reading, with an overall average first division.

Onsted and Britton-Macon also qualified for the State Festival.

by GORDON CHARLES

"This is the most critical moment in the history of gun legislation." Those were the words of Lansing attorney Harold Glassen, vice-president of the National Rifle Association.

Glassen's cause for alarm is a vicious, anti-gun bill just introduced by President Lyndon Johnson through Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut. It replaces Dodd's infamous bill, S. 1.

In a bit of fancy maneureving, the contents of S. 1, were pulled out of the bill. In place of Dodd's bill, the new LBJ Gun Bill has been substituted — and it is a lulu! In the House of Representatives an identical bill has been introduced as H. R. 5384.

The bill, termed "for worse than anything Dodd ever dreamed of," contains a preamble which claims that guns (not people) are the cause of crime, juvenile delinquency, etc. Among other things, the LBJ Gun Bill would:

- ▶ Forbid the purchase of any type of firearms by mail.
- ▶ Forbid the purchase of any pistol except in the state of residence.
- ▶ Allow "over the counter" purchase of rifles and shotguns. However, the Secretary of the Treasury would be given dictatorial powers to regulate gun sales or ownership as he sees fit. Since the Treasury Secretary serves at the pleasure of the President of the United States, it would give President Johnson full control of every type of firearm. In so doing, it would over-ride the Constitution of the United States!

THE NEW BILL would also repeal the entire Federal Firearms Act (Title 18) which now offers reasonable protection. This move is designed to keep S. 1 away from the House Ways and Means Committee so it can be assigned, instead, to the House Judicial Committee, now packed with anti-gun members.

Plans call for pushing S. 1 and H. R. 5384 through Congress before an alarmed American citizenry can gather forces and fight back.

In pushing rapidly for his bill, President Johnson said: "It (the bill) will gain added strength as the states pass firearms legislation and licensing laws similar to the Sullivan Law in New York. (New York's crime rate is the highest in the United States.)

"To pass strict firearms control laws at every level of government is an act of simple prudence and a measure of a civilized society. Further delay is unconscionable."

PURSUED TO its obvious conclusion, the LBJ Gun Bill can leave the American public disarmed and at the mercy of criminals. This, ironically, is what it claims to be trying to prevent.

Unless this is what you want, you have a citizen duty — right now — to phone, write or telegraph your Congressman and Senators Philip A. Hart and Robert P. Griffin in Washington to let them know how you feel about S. 1 and H. R. 5384.

Next week may be too late'

Two Charged with Violating Fireworks Act

Charged with violating the fireworks act Sunday in Clinton were Joseph D. Weaver 17, 2217 E. Monroe Rd. and Larry Dale Potrovish 21, 324 W. Brown.

Clinton State Police found them shooting fireworks in the village. They are to be arraigned before Justice Ernest Oliver within 10 days.

Monday Club Spends Day with Hobbies

Mrs. George Wright had charge of Hobby Day for members of the Monday Club March 6 at the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ben Mahrle of Clinton was the speaker and told of the history of Jack vases of which she has more than 30. They are antiques made between the years of 1820 and 1890 in most glass houses but not on a production basis.

They were usually made at the end of the day or after hours by glass blowers for their loved ones.

The vases vary in color and were designed to look like a Jack-in-the-Pulpit flower with the back of the vase turning up and the front down. The early ones were blown but some have been molded.

Mrs. Mahrle also showed a collection of old fashioned darners and a sewing bird.

Members answered roll call by displaying and telling of their hobbies, including state plates, bells, doll clothes, antique glass, hats, knitting, chair caning, service to others, politics, flowers, China painting, ceramics, weaving, tatting, reading and hunting.

Mrs. Joe Rice presided at the business session when Mrs. A. J. Todd was elected secretary for the coming year.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Criss, Mrs. Edwin McClain, Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. H. H. Hammel with Mrs. Hammel and Mrs. McClain pouring beverages.

A family night dinner meeting will be held March 20 at the Grange Hall.

Girl Scouts Looking for New Leaders

By LORI EGLI

The Tecumseh Neighborhood of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council needs volunteer leaders for Brownie level and Junior level Girl Scouts.

A special need on the Junior level for a woman to guide a troop of fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls in the Tecumseh Acres School area.

Mothers have contacted the Girl Scout neighborhood chairman saying their girls are interested and they would be happy to help a leader but could not themselves take on the leadership due to an outside job or a number of small children at home.

Usually one of the mothers of the interested Girl Scouts volunteers to take on the leadership with an assistant leader.

But women who either have grown families or women who have sons and no daughters may like to work with a group of girls in Girl Scouts.

MAIN REQUIREMENT for a Girl Scout leader are patience, a genuine liking for children and an interest in life and all that makes it an adventure.

Experience will be provided through a series of training courses. A leader does not have to do all the work because there are committee mothers, other leaders and the girls to take on responsibilities.

Anyone interested and liking more information may call Mrs. William Norris, 423-3509 or Mrs. Richard Egli, 423-4557.

Talented Speaker Will Be Featured at Church Program

Glen Holmquist, stewardship counselor for the North Central Region of the Lutheran Church in America, will be the guest speaker at a special program for members of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church March 18 at 7 p.m.

Mr. Holmquist, a member of Toastmasters International for 12 years, has been a high school teacher, an athletic coach and a field underwriter for the New York Life Insurance Company.

Recently, four members of Gloria Dei heard Mr. Holmquist speak in Dearborn. The meeting was inspirational, entertaining and stimulating. These members recommend Mr. Holmquist as a talented speaker and as a source of vast experience and conviction.

His coming to Tecumseh from Minnesota offers the local congregation an excellent opportunity for self-examination and self-evaluation.

Mr. Holmquist stated during the Dearborn workshop that the church is one generation away from extinction — unless Christians learn and share.

The purpose of Mr. Holmquist's visit will be to inspire learning and sharing within the church.

During the evening, parents may take their children into the educational room where colored cartoons will be shown.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by the LCW.

Council Candidates Keenly Aware of Civic Problems

Ten candidates for City Council will be on the ballot April 3.

Four will be elected.

Biographies of the men were prepared by Gary McCain, '26, of 609 Stacy St., who spent 25 hours on the job "because he wanted to know about them and hoped he would help others."

Of the 10, Lawrence Mohr, Gene Tuckey, George McCombs and Paul Burns are incumbents.

Lawrence Mohr, 57, has been an employee of Tecumseh Prodcts Co. for 27 years and is currently serving his second term on Council.

He and his wife, Velma, have been Tecumseh residents since 1949. Mr. Mohr has served three years as justice of the peace in Franklin Township and was acting treasure of Tecumseh Township when the city form of government was adopted.

Mr. Mohr stated his main interest was in the present and future development of the city. "We have some projects started I'd like to see through," he remarked.

Douglas Osworth, 31, is a tool maker, employed by Associated Spring of Ann Arbor. Mr. Osworth, his wife, Janet, and their two boys, Douglas and Jeffrey, have lived in Tecumseh for five years.

In addition to being a Jaycee, Mr. Osworth is program chairman for Herrick Park PTA. His comment on the requirement of a good council member: one who is interested in city government. He feels that in running for Council he demonstrates his interest.

Gene Tuckey, 36, lives at 416 E. Shawnee with his wife, Ann, and their children, Blair, Carey and Sarah.

A native of Tecumseh, Mr. Tuckey believes in the simple fact that one has to take part in his community. This thought, along with four years of past experience on the Council has prompted him to run for re-election.

He stated that he would like to see if something can be done to straighten out the problems in business and personal property taxes.

Richard Creswell, 31, has lived in Tecumseh since 1956 with his wife, Janice, and their children, Mike, Kathy, Mark and Kim.

Mr. Creswell is an IBM coordinator and active in the Jaycees and Cub Scouts.

His immediate proposal would be to have the secretary's minutes printed verbatim in the local newspaper and to have a quarterly report of the city's assets and liabilities printed.

He also expressed his ambition to, "See, in our community, a greater awareness of the city's problems and decisions. This, I feel, would help build a stronger community and greater utilization of existing and proposed facilities."

William Holmes, 39, his wife, Patricia, and their four children, Bill, Jr., Paula, Mary Pat and Martha reside at 410 Seminole St.

Having lived in Tecumseh since 1961, Mr. Holmes feels a responsibility to know what is going on in the city. He contends that the "people who are vitally involved in day-to-day business should be in politics."

His reasoning is that businessmen who fall into this category will talk with the people of the community and be more aware of what the people really want.

Dean Sheldon, 32, his wife, Jeanne, and their children, Sheryl, Lance, Julie and Jeff, reside at 202 Iroquois St.

Although he was born in Tecumseh, Mr. Sheldon lived for a time in Dundee and returned to Tecumseh two years ago.

He is employed by Abitibi Corp. of Birmingham as a salesman, is a member of the Jaycees and has previously served on the Council in Dundee.

"I would like to see the voters, in this election, vote for who they feel has the best qualities to serve as a councilman and not vote for personality."

Mr. Sheldon emphasizes the need for Tecumseh citizens to be informed of its government and the government to be informed of its people.

Raymond Puffer, 53, lives with his wife, Ruth, at 520 E. Logan St. They have two children, Raymond, III and Mirial.

He is a member of the Exchange Club and the Masonic Lodge and is employed by Tecumseh Products Co.

As an incumbent, he feels that Council must debate on the articles as they come along and do the best they can on them.

Mr. Puffer defined his personal gains from serving on the Council as, "The knowledge that I am doing the very best that I am able."

John Howell, 31, sales manager of Gray Manufacturing Dictation Systems, his wife, Carol, and their daughter, Karen, reside at 519 Seminole St.

Mr. Howell has lived in Tecumseh for the past three years. He is pleased to see so many candidates running for Council.

Basically, Mr. Howell decided to run because he has a strong interest in the governmental affairs of the community.

He desires to have the community become more aware of what is going on at the council meetings.

George McCombs, 62, and his wife Beulah, have three children, Isabelle, Bradley and Robert.

He is vice-president of Purpose Extrude and Aluminum Co. in Hudson. Mr. McCombs belongs to the Exchange Club and Masonic Lodge, is a recipient of the Masonic York Cross of Honor.

Having had approximately 15 years experience on Council he is keenly aware of the dedication to the community a councilman must have.

Paul Burns, 43, is a teacher of vocational agriculture at Tecumseh High School.

He, his wife, Grace and their sprouting family of 11 live at 905 River Acres Dr.

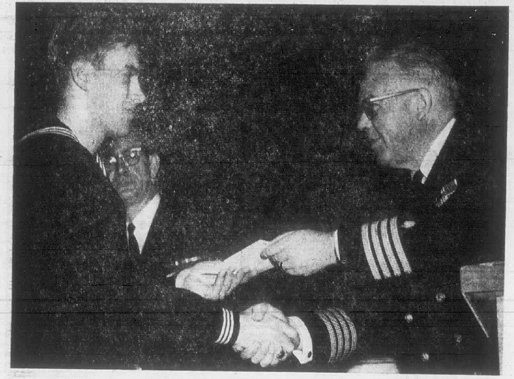
Children are Mary, Paul Jr., Greg, Joe, John, Margaret, Grace, Anne, Peter, Kathy and David.

Mr. Burns stated that he decided to run for re-election because he likes being a council member.

"You must be willing to give your time. It takes an awful lot of time."

He feels that it takes about a year to become familiar with council's proceedings and a man can benefit the community more during his second term.

Mr. Burns has taken several leadership courses and feels this helps him a great deal in making decisions that confront a councilman.



WINS HONORS — Donald Rudd was named "Sailor of the Month" at the Naval Hospital in Chelsea, Mass., by his commanding officer, Capt. Tracey Cutler. He was awarded a prize of $25, two days off, two tickets to a play, two dinners at the restaurant of his choice and a commendation in his service record. In addition to hospital duties, Donald is attending an Advanced School to learn EEG technique (electroensephalograph or brain tracings.) His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd, 506 Parkway Ct.

Spring Chores Begin

If lawn renovation is among your spring plans, now is the time to do it.

Reseeding in March is similar to nature's method of establishing plants. It is much easier and gives better results than following the traditional spring or fall seeding routines.

Seed applied between snowfalls works into the soil through the alternate freezing and thawing characteristic of early spring. When the temperature is right the seed will germinate and get off to a fast start before competition from older grasses and weeds is keen.

Waiting until the weather warms up means mechanical methods are needed to slightly bury the seed so it can germinate and become established. By the time the soil is dry enough to work and the seeding is completed, it may be necessary to water the seedlings until they become established.

If you seed in March and let nature take its course, the work is done until the ground surface dries suficiently to manage the mower.

Mowing the lawn short as soon as possible in the spring and keeping it short tends to make the surface soil warmer, which helps seedlings become established faster. Later, when the seedlings have a good start, increase mowing height.

Even with proper seeding and care, the luxurious lawn you visualize won't become reality with just any lawn seed. A high quality seed assures you that no weeds or coarse-textured material will be added to your lawn.

Don't apply your fertilizer when you seed in March. Fertilizer on frozen ground can injure both the new seedlings and the old turf.

Spreading a balanced lawn fertilizer when the frost goes out permits nutrients to work into the soil without damage. This early fertilizing helps develop a thick, hardy lawn with a deep penetrating root system and maximum resistance to summer heat and weeds.

Green Beer Is Free

Emphasis will be on the Irish at the St. Patrick's Day dinner dance at the Tecumseh Country Club Saturday, March 18, with a cocktail party from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Free green beer will be served and other drinks will be specially priced.

Corned beef and cabbage, Dinty Moore stew and other favorite Irish dishes will be served for dinner, "all you can eat."

Guests are invited by the committee to dress informally and a prize will be awarded for the best Irish costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Collins are chairmen of the event marking the grand opening of the Club for the season. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler, Mr. and Mrs. John Wanty, Mr. and Mrs. Robert May and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberts.

British Royalty and Fleet Were Going to the Caribbean

By TOM RIORDAN

ROOSEVELT ROADS, Puerto Rico — During the darkest day of World War II, a plan was made to evacuate the king and queen of England — plus the entire British fleet — to this Caribbean island, now the world's largest naval base.

An underground command post was constructed in a hill overlooking the vast harbor for the rulers and their close advisors.

In the bay, which offered a protected 10-mile-wide anchorage, there was plenty of room for every British ship.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was president then and he probably conceived the plan. In any event, the area, along the northeast side of Puerto Rico, is named in his honor.

As it turned out, the Allied war fortunes brightened and the evacuation plan for the British royalty and fleet never had to be put into action.

SO THERE WAS the USA, in 1943, with a start on a magnificent naval base, including a complete drydock, but with little apparent use. Over the next 14 years, Roosevelt Roads was little more than a dot on the military map.

But then several things happened. One was the adoption of the missile as a common weapon for ships and planes. Later the Cuban crisis came, threatening Guantanimo, the U. S. base on Cuba that had long served as a key base in the Caribbean area.

Roosy was deemed the perfect spot for an Atlantic Fleet Weapons Range. At first, everything was classified as secret. It was only until mid-1966 that the navy took the wraps off activities at Roosy.

The base area starts with 8,000 acres, populated by about 5,000 navy personnel, their dependents and civilian missile and data processing experts.

But that area is just the start. Add another 29,000 acres on 10 adjoining islands, plus 240,000 square miles of ocean, broken into two ranges for live firing.

ROOSY'S MAIN job revolves around the weapons range. To it come every kind of navy craft — under, on and above the water — to test and sharpen their gunnery talents with conventional weapons, plus the latest in rockets and missiles.

Missiles are fired surface-to-air, air-to-air, air-to-surface and surface-to-surface. Subs have special shooting ranges, can blast live torpedoes into an underwater wall of solid rock.

But it isn't just a matter of firing weapons. Experts with sophisticated devices can track everything and quickly analyze accuracy.

In the headquarters of the Fleet Range, now greatly expanded from the days of the possible British evacuation, a new Operations Control Center is being constructed. Batteries of computers hum nearby. Extensive microwave hookups bring in firing data and voice conversations from various sites on the 10 islands in the Roosy complex, which reaches into the Virgin Islands.

Top brass will soon gather in this control center during sea and air exercises and be able to watch the action on huge radar plot screens — even have instant playbacks like the ones television gives viewers in sports. This will allow intense study and help speed decisions for future chances in tactics.

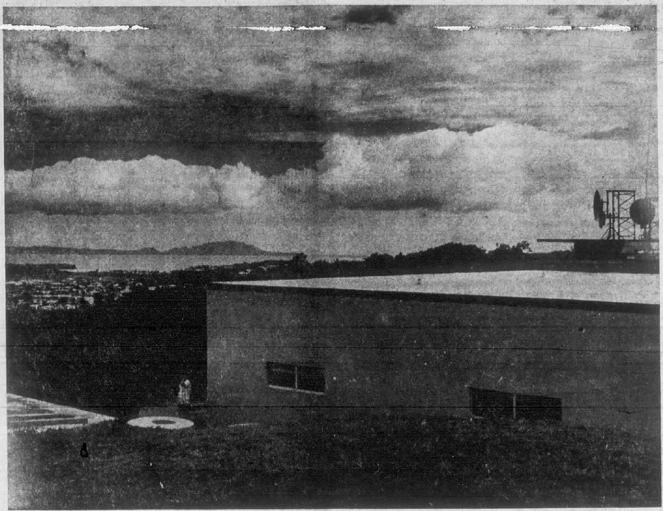
TO PROVIDE air targets, remote-controlled drones are flown over the ocean ranges and fired at with missiles, which are not equipped with explosives but rather sensitive electronic gear.

When the missiles pass close enough for what would be a kill, the data is sped to the control center. The $100,000 drone continues on its course, falling into the ocean for pickup — hopefully — by a helicopter so it can fly another day.

Roosy had an airstrip of 6,000 feet built during World War II. This was extended to 11,500 feet when the base was "re-discovered" and is capable of handling any military aircraft.

With near perfect weather conditions and calm seas, Roosevelt Roads is unsurpassed for Atlantic Fleet and NATO training. That's the story behind the annual Operation Springboard, which is held four months each winter and is a sort of graduation exercise for ships and crew to make them combat-ready.

Annually about 100,000 men in 90 ships and 19 air squadrons hit Roosy for Springboard between January and May. Few days pass when Roosy's two 200-by-600-mile ranges — dubbed Alpha and Bravo — are not "hot" with shells, missiles and rockets whizzing at targets as skippers drive their men through war-like exercises.



FIT FOR A QUEEN (AND KING) — Peeking above ground at right is portion of three-story underground command post which was built back in 1943 at Roosevelt Roads in Puerto Rico for possible evacuation of British royalty. In the distance is the giant Roosy harbor where English fleet would have been headquartered had Germany toppled Great Britain.

HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

TARGET DRONE — Built like a jet aircraft, this $100,000 jet drone is dropped from wing of P2V Neptune and then its flight is remotely controlled to fly over attack ships as missile shooting target. Examining it are Ens. Mark Thate of Ironwood, Mich., and Bob Taylor of Ryan Aeronautical Co., assistant base manager. Drones which can fly up to 90 minutes at 600 miles an hour, weigh 2,250 pounds.

Collision Injures 2

A collision occurred Saturday morning at the intersection of M-52 and US-12 west of Clinton, when Troy D. Hicks, 52, of 1296 Lakeview Dr., Tipton, failed to see the intersection.

The Hicks' car struck a car driven by Kenneth L. Hamlin, 46, of Ypsilanti, which was on US-12.

Hicks told Clinton State Police he was planning to make a right turn from M-52, but he didn't see the intersection or the other vehicle until they collided.

Mr. Hamlin had a cut lip and his wife, Marie Hamlin, 44, was bleeding from the mouth. They told officers they would drive themselves to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, for treatment.

Hicks received a summons for disregarding the stop sign.

"I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images."

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

Michigan must make mighty efforts to increase exports of farm and factory products. It means dollars. It means jobs. It means a stabilized economy.

Michigan can reasonably expect an export increase of $100,000,000 annually if properly promoted. This could mean 5,000 more jobs each year, more money in our pockets and more tax revenues for our state and local governments.

When we sell more abroad we diversify our markets. Thus we decrease our dependance upon those cyclical swings that accompany the auto industry's domestic sales. This means greater business stability.

AS CHAIRMAN of the State Senate's Committee on International Commerce during the past two years, I have made certain recommendations that are already helping us move in this direction. The Committee's report to the 1967 Legislature will shortly be presented.

But Michigan citizens should know what our rival, competitor states are doing in the area of foreign trade promotion. Some of them are way ahead of us in this highly-competitive field.

Let's consider overseas offices and state promoted trade missions — two areas where I have an abundance of specific facts.

New York, as a state, has done far and away the best job in overseas promotion. New York's International Commerce Department has an office in Brussels which it claims has participated in the writing of $250,000,000 in increased foreign sales.

Ohio also has recently opened an office in Brussels. California is opening one in Milan, Italy. Ontario has a three-story building — Ontario House — in London and branch trade promotion offices in Dusseldorf, Germany and Milan, Italy.

Also in Europe we find state port authorities and commissions with offices or local representatives; the New York Port Authority is in London and Zurich; Georgia's Authority has an office in Bonn, Germany; Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and the Gulf Ports have representation in Brussels; New Orleans is in Milan; Toledo, Cleveland and Chicago port officers make annual trips to Europe and the Far East where they have local representatives. Toledo, in particular, has done an outstanding job.

IN TOKYO we find New York, California and Alaska all have Commerce Department offices; Toledo, Long Beach, New York, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Oakland, Portland, Seattle, San Diego, San Francisco, Stockton, Virginia and Vancouver all have permanent port representation.

As a matter of fact every Canadian province has a trade promotion office overseas. All are in London and Quebec is also in Paris.

So much for overseas offices.

WHAT ARE these states doing in the area of trade missions? And here I stress the "industry-organized government - approved 12-man hard-sell trade mission which the U. S. Department of Commerce officially encourages.

Twenty-eight states will have had state-sponsored trade missions of this type by the end of 1967 — and Michigan is presently not scheduled to be one of them. Fourteen of these states will have found such missions so profitable that they will have sponsored at least two of them.

Here are some of the 1967 plans of our rival states: Ohio is sending a trade mission to the Far East in March; Indiana's second trade mission will be in London, Paris, Berlin, Munich, and Milan in April-May; Connecticut State Industries will be in Germany, Denmark, Holland, Spain and Yugoslavia in April-May; Fort Worth is sending a mission to Caracas, Bogota, Guayaquil and Lima next week; Mississippi is sending its fourth overseas trade mission to South America — it's there now; Arizona is sending a mission to Manila, Hongkong, Malaysia, Tokyo and Bangkok in March; Dallas is sending a trade mission to South America in April; Nebraska's second mission will be in the Far East in April; Jacksonville will have a mission in Central and South America in May; New Jersey's third state mission will be in Tokyo and Osaga in May; Miami's Chamber of Commerce will have a mission in South America in April;

Arkansas's second mission will be in Australia and the Far East in April-May; Texas State Industries trade missions will be in Australia and New Zealand in July and August; Virginia State Industries will be in West Europe in April; Minneapolis' Chamber of Commerce will be in the USSR and Warsaw in May and California's State Industries will be in the USSR in May-June.

MICHIGAN must wake up and compete. We presently are striving to get our State Commerce, Agriculture and Tourist Departments more fully involved with greater legislative support. We would like a goal of four Michigan industry-organized trade missions within the next fiscal year. Groundwork has been laid and this can be done.

Always bear in mind that Michigan's major exporters — our great industrial giants — are among the world's most sophisticated exporters. It's the small and medium-sized business in Michigan that has untapped sources of foreign sales awaiting.

I am fully committed to doing all in my power to promote greater Michigan participation in these overseas markets.

'Greater Love Hath No Man'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This Easter sermonette was prepared by the Christian Science Committee on Publication and submitted to The Herald by Mrs. Albert Neuman, 111 N. Union.

The meaning of the Easter event is renewed when we begin to discover in ourselves the capacity for that "greater love" of which Christ Jesus spoke.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," Jesus said (John 15:13). And his total willingness to do this opened to all mankind a new estimate of reality — brought resurrection, showed us a new and unending life.

Our readiness to learn what Jesus' words mean in our lives can begin to open to us this vast view.

His words are a call for the most penetrating kind of self-sacrifice — for a spiritual devotion that overcomes human pride, fear, and selfishness in a triumph of divine Love.

IT IS LITERALLY a call to be born again. Can the "average" person accept this call, this self-surrender?

It is really inevitable. And we know this in the first stirrings of our own deepest spiritual intuition.

It can happen in July on a city street, in a classroom, in an office. Easter comes when it happens in the heart.

Writing of the new birth, Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, said:

"It begins with moments, and goes on with years; moments of surrender to God, of childlike trust and joyful adoption of good; moments of self-abnegation, self-consecration, heaven-born hope, and spiritual love" [Miscellaneous Writings, p. 15).

OUR INTUITION grows into perception and understanding. Gradually, we gain the conviction that the lives of all men are ultimately bound together, in Truth.

Then we begin to find the courage, strength, and intelligence we need to lay down our lives for each other, day by day — to sacrifice whatever is self-satisfied or self-seeking in our hearts, to break through the barriers of mortal ego.

Then Easter comes. And then we begin to see ourselves — and each other — in this new light.

For this is where the "greater love" leads — to clearer views of what is actual, to resurrection, to a life that is new and to life that is endless.

Jesus said, "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it" (Matt. 10:39).

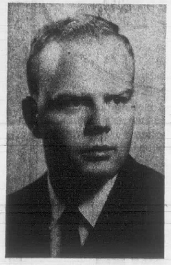
Barry Packard Gets Mention

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Barry Packard is one of four Adrian College alumni to be included in the 1967 edition of "Outstanding Young Men in America", an annual biographical compilation sponsored by the Jaycees organization.



BARRY PACKARD

A Tecumseh native, Mr. Packard is in Kenya East Africa under the Teachers for East Africa project sponsored by Columbia University.

He is the assistant headmaster in the Kijabe Boys School, African Inland Mission, 30 miles northeast of Nairobi.

He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Packard, 511 S. Evans, that this project is being phased out and will be replaced by the Peace Corps.

Doug Blankenship, past U. S. Jaycee president and chairman of the board which made the selections, said the men "have distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding."

Men chosen are between 21 and 35 and selection of those to be included in the book sponsored by the Montgomery, Ala., Jaycees was made by a 14-man national board of editors.

PACKARD IS expected to arrive back in the states in April and after a series of lectures in the eastern states, he will spend some time here with [illegible] and friends before returning to Africa. His plans could be interrupted by the draft, according to his mother.

Packard stated that he will not return to Africa under the Peace Corps but has joined the Mission. He feels that teachers who return or remain longer than two years better understand the people and their problems.

Recent letters from him tell of the "leaving service for Form IV," which compares to high school graduation in this county.

He wrote, "School finished last Saturday. Mr. Mboya gave a terrific speech of 50 minutes in beautiful English and then 20 in Swahili. He discussed what the country expected from the few who got to secondary school and the coming change in educational policy."

"More emphasis will be placed on the dignity of labour with compulsory courses in masonry, farming and carpentry."

(Mr. Mboya is second only to the head man of the country, like Vice President Hubert Humphrey here.)

"IN AFRICA students are required to take tests prepared for them in Cambridge, England. A teacher has to decide for himself just what might be included," explained Mrs. Packard.

Her son's letter written in Nov., 1966 included this paragraph: "Today I am extremely jubilant, for the fourth form had their lit. test today and out of the 12 questions they could write on, I had given them 10 in class by trying to guess what Cambridge would ask.

"The boys congratulated me and said that if they didn't do well, it wasn't my fault. It gave me a good opportunity to witness to them about the Lord by telling them I had asked for guidance and wisdom from Him and He gave it to me. I only hope their results will be good as a result."

Mr. Packard received his master of history degree from the University of Michigan in 1965.

[illegible] selected as one of the delegates to the International Congress of Writing and Teaching of African History by the Kenja Ministry of Education and was one of the committee concerned with the reorganization of the teaching of African history at the University and high school levels.

"TAKE IT FROM HERE" — Don Andrews points to a likely portion of the playbook juniors at Tecumseh High School are using in rehearsal for their upcoming production, "Ah, Wilderness." From left, others in the cast are Linda Steadly, Bob Prettyman, Miriam Puffer and Richard Hale. The comedy will be presented April 12, 13 and 14.

17-Year-Old Rebels

A transformation to the early 1900's is slowly occurring on the set at Tecumseh High School's Little Theatre in preparation for the Junior class production of "Ah, Wilderness!"

This comedy, written by Eugene O'Neill, deals with the problem of adolescence.

Richard, played by Reed Skinner, is the 17-year-old rebel righting his parents, played by Bob Murray and Sue Smith, and the world.

His entanglements such as with the college "tart," Belle, (Patrice Damone) prove both amusing and his undoing.

Mark Renfro is directing the production with Debbie Osburn and Irene Boltz assisting.

Others in cast are Chris Kenney, Linda Steadly, Don Andrews, Richard Hale, Miriam Puffer, Bob Prettyman, Janet Williams, Jamie McWilliams, Carol Kohler, Herb Bagby and Lynn Bradish.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Alcohol and Accidents

Almost half of all drivers involved in Michigan's 2,284 fatal traffic accidents in 1966 had been drinking and were driving too fast on two-lane roads at night within 25 miles of home.

They were in cars 3.2 years old with no mechanical defects and no seat belts.

Driver failure was primary cause of [illegible] of the deaths.

A recent study by the Automobile Club of Michigan revealed:

- The point system identifies bad drivers but does not protect the rest of society by taking them off the road.
- Fifty-five percent of the deaths occurred in 12 counties: Wayne, Oakland, Genesee, Macomb, Saginaw, Ingham, Lenawee, Calhoun, Kent, Livingston, Ottawa and Allegan.
- Even in Michigan's peak tourist months, the area within 25 miles of home is by far the most dangerous. Eighty-two per cent of the drivers involved were within 25 miles of home, not on vacation.
- Some basic law violation was involved in 89% of fatalities, with speed too fast for conditions most common.
- Many motorists misunderstand Michigan's basic "whatever is safe and proper" speed law, presuming incorrectly that they could safely go the statewide limit of 65 daytime, 55 at night, on any unposted two-lane county road.
- An even 20% of drivers at fault were between ages 16 and 20. Nearly 16% were between 16 and 18 — far out of proportion to the 8.9% of drivers it is estimated they represent. In addition, 50% of teenagers involved in fatalities had been drinking.
- Most dangerous hour was 6 p.m. with 10% of the accidents. Next was 1 a.m. with 9%, followed by 2 a.m. with 7%. Sunday was most dangerous day, followed by Saturday, Friday and Monday.
- At least half the accident reports were incomplete to some degree. Many lacked any information on drinking condition of the drivers.
- One out of 17 of the accidents involved motorized bikes or cycles, while they represent only one out of every 65 vehicles on Michigan roads. Vast majority of cycle drivers who died were under age 25. Average age was under 21, ranging from 14 to 31. Almost all occurred on weekends.

A Rose for Jessie

If there ever was a Gallant Lady Contest along Business Row in Tecumseh, we'd have to nominate Jessie Sluyter for the honor.

Jessie will probably crown us for putting this in print, but we think the world of her — as does just about every other business person in town. Multiply that number by a few thousand Sluyter customers and you have an idea of the affection for Jessie around these parts.

We got inspired to do this piece after dropping into Jessie's electrical shop last week to get a particular style lamp. We couldn't click on the lamp, but the idea of Jessie's determination and good nature struck us for the hundredth or so time.

Well, Friday is St. Patrick's and it has absolutely nothing to do with Jessie, but we're going to bring her a rose that day. Anyone care to join us?

PTA Learns Law Duties with Film

CLINTON — A wider dimension was revealed of the role of the nation's law enforcement officers to the PTA members, Monday, in a film shown by Sheriff Richard L. Germond.

The excellent 30-minute color movie was sponsored by the Optimist Club of Adrian, and narrated by Danny Thomas. The film went along with working policemen in the pursuit of their duties.

The rigorous training required of a policeman and the ways in which his training is utilized as he takes his life in his hands "all day, every day" was shown.

County Juvenile Officer, Deputy Howard Esterline, talked of the ways in which the county law enforcement agencies work together to provide an opportunity for the county juveniles to reach their potential citizenship, without achieving the stigma of a criminal record.

Sheriff Germond closed the program by urging citizens to stop in at the Sheriff's department, "see what you have in the way of facilities, including the jail."

Through My Window

A 30-MINUTE GOOD MEMORY

I am a collector of memories. They can be stored away ready for use whenever needed. The right memory is the ideal way to make a quiet few moments even nicer, to destroy a black mood or to erase a bit of loneliness.

One of the latest editions to my collection is neatly labeled "to use on a dark dreary afternoon." The battle between late winter and early spring always produces some dreadfully dreary days.

Cold gray days when the dampness will defy the warmest fires and the heaviest coats. The skies will be dark and gloomy, the moisture-laden heavy air will bring on all sorts of sinus troubles and the last remnants of the winter's heavy snowfall will be shrinking mounds of dirty black.

The yards will be mires of mud and full of dead-looking grass, half-decayed leaves and twigs and branches blown from the trees.

ON ONE of these particularly gloomy afternoons when we are just sure that the warm spring rains will never come, that the grass and trees will never start showing green, that perhaps even the sun will never shine again—on this kind of an afternoon I shall delve into my memory file.

While sipping a steaming hot cup of tea I shall think back to about 30 minutes of winter perfection. It was a grand and glorious experience.

It started about 1:30 in the afternoon. The sun was shining brightly and, spilling through the windows, it felt warm even though the wind was cold and the temperature readings were low.

The two days ago snowfall was still fresh and clean looking. The sky was a clear dazzling blue, almost a June blue.

SUDDENLY ALL of the freeloaders decided that it was time for lunch. The suet on the feeder nearest the window drew Mr. Up-side-down Nuthatch.

He was almost dainty as he used his long bill to nip off tiny pieces of suet. Duller - colored Mrs. Nuthatch contented herself by clinging to the underside of the same feeder and picking out the scratch feed which had sifted down into the crack between the floor and side of the tray.

Occasionally she righted herself to peek over to the suet but it was not until her "lord and master' left that she made a move toward suet-eating.

IN THE meantime, Papa and Mama Cardinal had discovered a sunflower head laying on the snow at the base of the new feeder. Cardinals, sunshine and snow — always a thrilling combination.

Liz and I watched and waited, would he select a seed and honor her, No, apparently the time for courting had not yet arrived.

Papa was not his mid-winter arrogant self, but he was not yet ready to feed his mate either.

A round, roly-poly junco joined the cardinals. His black and gray suit showed up well against the white snow, too. Scratch feed that had fallen from the feeder provided his lunch.

Inside the feeder itself a big handsome bluejay was greedily gobbling. Mourning doves were parked in the trees and across the creek a large flock of grackles were milling about.

Eating suet, which had been fastened to the trunk of the mulberry tree, was a gorgeous male hairy woodpecker. His red cap and black and white striped back almost glistened in the sunshine.

AND BOUNCING from trees to feeders to fence to ground were four pert little tufted titmice. Such busy-bodies. They hardly stopped any place long enough for anything but the quickest of snacks.

Their boundless high spirits could not be restricted to one yard for long though and when they trooped north, heading towards Dorothy's, everyone else followed.

We checked the clock and marveled at how much excitement had been packed into half an hour.

So it is that bring on the bad, discouraging afternoons — we are prepared to counteract them with a 30-minute good memory.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A lot is on the line in this fight by dairy farmers to get more money for their milk.

Few non-agriculture folks grasp the full extent of the National Farmers Organization's efforts to win price negotiating rights.

NFO wants a Super Milk Pool in 25 dairying states, similar to the current Detroit Pool and Toledo Pool. There all dairies agree to one set of prices, based on milk grades.

So for farmers here shipping to Toledo, no matter to whom they sell, the price is the same.

Of course, NFO also wants two cents more per quart paid to the producer. All this means a head-on confrontation with the present cooperative groups, like Michigan Milk Producers.

There are charges and countercharges from both sides being flung around, some with basis of fact, some that leave you wondering.

This all would be catalogued as the Big Picture, what we read in our daily newspapers, see on television, hear on radio.

But to me, the most absorbing story of the present situation is in the average dairyman of our area and the personal problems confronting them.

BY NATURE, a farmer is independent. He wants to do things his way. He likes his freedom and is willing to sacrifice many hours of back-breaking labor to get it.

Add to this thousands of dollars of investments for equipment.

This independence often hurts the farmer when it comes to selling his products. He is finding there has to be a sort of labor union approach if more return on investment is ever to be realized.

But it's really rough to accept the idea hook, line and sinker.

I sat in on Monday's NFO meeting at Tipton Grange with 125 farm people — many of whom I knew, honorable, diligent folks. The session went on until nearly midnight as various aspects of the milk-holding action were hashed over.

A FEW DAYS before, I had visited at the farm of one man who was attempting to make a decision on whether to sell or

His 420 gallon cooler was filled to the brim and his cows were ready for the night milking.

"I don't envy you in your decision," I told him.

Then up pulled the giant milk tanker. The driver had orders to do one of two things, take the milk if the farmer said to, if not to leave. He wasn't to get involved in the controversy.

But this fellow and his farm customer are friends and they chatted a few moments.

"How many held?" the dairyman asked.

"Just two. Six sold."

There was silence.

"OK, go ahead and take mine."

He explained to me that if the processor is able to get 60% of the farmers' milk the dairies can keep store shelves full. The other 40% is used for ice cream, cottage cheese and butter.

But the next two days, as more and more withheld milk this farmer, not an NFO member, decided to join in and he turned the spigot on his tank two days running.

Each time, it cost him about $100 in gross sales.

That's a mighty tough thing to do, believe me, especially when your entire income comes from dairy receipts.

At Monday's session, I spied the same man and we quietly chatted.

"I'm still straddling the fence," he said.

Not NFO, he could go his way, but being in the dairy business, he felt a tug at his heart for his fellows and his own future. However, he still wasn't certain if he'd go sled-length in the fight.

BEFORE THE meeting, Ralph Patterson of Rome Township, the Lenawee NFO milk committee chairman, gave me a couple of statistics.

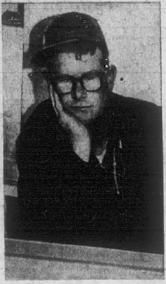
Between 1947 and 1951, he said, the average shop worker's salary was $55 a week. In that time, milk sold for $4.28 per cwt. on a national average.

In 1966, the shop income figure is $109.

At this same rate of increase, milk should be selling for $8.32. The market figure in Toledo at present is $5.40.

When you hear a farmer is dumping milk, don't be too hasty in your judgment.

Whether you are for or against NFO's fight, the guy who really is gambling with high stakes is Mr. Average Dairyman.



Dejected dairyman Dick Smith of Tipton stares into brimmingful milk tank before Tuesday dumping.

44 Lenawee County Dairy Farmers Join NFO Milk Battle

By TOM RIORDAN

Nearly 46% of milk being produced in Lenawee County — about half-a-million pounds a day — is being dumped.

That's what Ralph Patterson of Rome Township, National Farmers Organization milk committee chairman in Lenawee, said Tuesday evening in Onsted.

He's one of the local leaders in the NFO's current battle to gain price negotiating rights for dairymen with processors.

Of 143 dairy farmers in Lenawee, 44 are dumping their milk, according to Mr. Patterson. Most of these are the bigger producers.

NFO is staging nightly meetings to keep members and sympathizers posted. About 125 attended Monday's session in Tipton Grange. More than 160 were at Onsted High School Tuesday.

Wednesday the group was slated to meet in the Rome Grange Hall and for Thursday it will be Sand Creek High School.

"As long as the action holds, there'll be a meeting every night," explained Mrs. Roscoe Stubbins of Rome Township, secretary of NFO in Lenawee.

NFO wants two cents more per quart paid to dairymen, plus a Super Milk Pool (see Long & Short) for eventual national negotiations.

BEEF AND HOG feeders of NFO are pitching in with help.

They had contributed $2,431, as of Wednesday morning, to buy milk from non-NFO members and in stores. All of this will be dumped.

"Get milk off the market," is the NFO aim.

On Wednesday morning, the animal-feeder committee, headed by Alden Erlenbush of Onsted, made its first purchases. Hauler Harvey Ervin of Adrian volunteered the use of his tanker, which went to four non-member farms for milk.

Dumping was done on a farm in Madison Township with about 25 NFO'ers on hand.

VARIOUS dairymen explained how much in gross business it is costing them to destroy their milk:

- Richard Smith of Tipton — dumping 2,500 pounds daily, $138.
- Royce Baker of Clayton — dumping 4,700 pounds daily, $250.
- Ralph Patterson of Rome Township — 1,000 pounds daily, $54.

Two other men, who did not want their names used, are dumping 3,000 and 4,200 pounds daily, a total loss of $385.

Roscoe Stubbins said that through Monday he had dumped $665 worth of milk.

HARVEY WARRICK of the Production Credit Association in Adrian told the audience Monday that he knew "you have to have more for your products."

"You're on the right track — win or lose, you've made progress," he said.

"You've got to respect everyone's rights. Whether a neighbor holds or not, that's his business.

"If you go to violence, you'll lose respect. If anyone throws a rock, you all get branded," Mr. Warrick warned.

THE HERALD made a telephone survey Tuesday of nearby dairymen and of 15, eight were dumping and seven continuing to sell to processors.

NFO members took heart in the comment by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who in a Detroit talk "backed the rights of farmers to hold their products off the market in an effort to increase prices — providing they comply with the laws of the land."

FROM THE Michigan Milk Producers Association, which is fighting NFO, Glenn Lake, MMPA president, has lashed out saying,

"Milk dumping action interfered with the freedom that dairy farmers have to decide whether to ship their milk to market or hold it on their farms.

"MMPA has always respected the rights of its members and all farmers to make their own free choice whether to ship their milk to market, and still does.

"Price was never the issue in this matter. NFO never has shown any ability to market milk. They have never shown any attempt to bargain with dairies.

"It is simply and clearly that an irresponsible organization without the ability to market milk wants to force its will on Michigan dairy farmers," Mr. Lake concluded.

An NFO member said Monday that he expects the situation will be resolved by the end of the week.

"If we don't get it done by Thursday, you might as well all start selling," said Mr. Erlenbush.

Board OK's New School

By JIM LINCOLN

Attempting to keep pace with Tecumseh's growing elementary population, the School Board has approved construction of a new elementary school building on Sutton Rd.

This action Monday night undoubtedly will bring cheers to Sutton area families who have sought new facilities for a number of years.

The new building, probably a seven-classroom type, similar in size to the present Herrick Park building, will be built on a 10-acre site, just west of Lenawee Institute.

Whether the Intermediate School District, headed by County Supt. Milton Porter, joins with Tecumseh and requests additional rooms to the building for special education, has not yet been determined.

Costs of a seven-classroom building could run upwards of $300,000. If the Intermediate School District joins in the project, costs would then be increased for the total building.

School officials will meet with an educational specialist in school planning to discuss plans here in April.

How the building will be financed was not answered by the Board at Monday's session. The electorate could be asked to approve millage, or the Board could bond the entire district for the cost.

When the district approved Tecumseh as a Third Class District several years ago, it also gave the Board the right to bond the district up to 2 percent of the district's evaluation, minus any bond indebtedness.

Since the schools will be out of debt next year and with the district's evaluation at approximately $45 million, the Board could bond up to $920,000, without asking the electorate to approve it.

The method of financing will be decided at a future board meeting

The new elementary building is expected to be completed early in 1969. Construction may start next fall.

Mud Forces Sunrise Service into Church

Easter Sunrise Service will not — repeat NOT — be held at Hidden Lake Gardens as originally planned, because of the condition of the roads and grounds at the Gardens.

Instead, the First Presbyterian Church will be the scene for the program of Easter music and lessons with the sermon to be given by the Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor of the Nazarene Church.

The Madrigal singers of Tecumseh High School, under the direction of Frances Moran, will sing. Stephen Maples and Jamie McWilliams will play guitar for two selections from the "Folk Song Mass" by the Episcopal priest, Fr. Ian Douglas Mitchell.

Nomads Brag Up Weather

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby arrived home Friday from a two-week 3,000-mile tour of Florida. They report 80- and 90-degree temperatures. They called on a lot of Tecumseh and Britton friends while in the Southland.

City Budget Adds $9,000 for Repairs

Council learned Monday night that $9,000 will be added to the city's budget this year for street construction, repair and seal coating.

The increase hikes the planned expenditure from $38,000 to $47,000, with $25,000 allocated for bituminous concrete, or asphalt.

City Manager Cal Zorn says the city will do about twice the amount of seal coating usually undertaken and the $9,000 will foot the bill for about two miles of the topping.

He told officials that the breakup in streets here is one of the worst experienced by the street department.

Pet Dog Dies in Tuesday Fire That Causes $7,000 Damages

A soupbone left on the stove cost Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barrett of 601 Brook St., Tecumseh, an estimated $7,000 loss as fire swept through their tri-level home Tuesday.

A neighbor reported the fire at 11:45 a.m. to the Tecumseh Volunteer Fire Department which battled the blaze for an hour.

Mrs. Barrett had left home around 9:30 a.m. with her six children for Adrian. Mr. Barrett was at work for the Ford Motor Co., in Wayne at the time of the fire.

The kitchen is in the basement of the Barrett home and fire spread to the cupboards and from there throughout the basement.

The family dog was found dead in the bathroom.

"Everything is in a state of confusion," said Mr. Barrett.

When asked what his immediate future plans are he stated, "To fix it up and get back in it as soon as possible."

The Barrett family is now staying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Barrett of 504 N. Main, Britton.

Practice Tornado Warning Set for 6 p.m. on Thursday

There will be a practice tornado warning alert Thursday at 6 p.m., states fire chief Wallace MacGeorge.

A steady two-minute blast on the city's two fire sirens is the signal.

Residents should immediately go to a pre-arranged safe area, preferably the southwest corner of the basement. Chief MacGeorge notes that each family should carry a transistor radio, a flashlight and wrench, which can turn off the natural gas.

Both Lenawee County radio stations, WABJ-AM and WLEN-FM will broadcast the all-clear.

In an alert, people should not phone the police or fire numbers unless they have an emergency at their home or in the neighborhood. Lines of police and fire departments must be kept open to track tornados and other tragedies.

The tornado warning lasts two minutes and has no variance in pitch.

Designer Wins Total Victory

The battle is over and it's a total victory for Evel Garrido.

The tide turned from an April 2 deportation order to news from Washington that his status has been completely cleared and he will get a permanent visa.

Evel will now be able to stay in the country and also travel to Spain to buy fabrics for the successful designing firm he and Bill Heimerdinger started.

An editorial in Section C, page 6, explains the transformation.

Construction Brings Increase of City Valuation

New construction and new inventories have accounted for an overall increase in the city's evaluation, Larry Goddard, city tax assessor, announces.

In 1966, the evaluation was approximately $26,100,000, and for 1967, it will be about $27,500,000.

The new construction and inventories offset what amounted to a net loss in tax assessments sent to Tecumseh property owners last week.

"Some went up, but actually more went down than up," explained the assessor.

Last year, the city hiked tax assessments here to 50% of the actual evaluation. It meant an increase of an average 17% for most.

MILK DATA

"We have more influence on non-members if six or eight guys go together to buy milk," remarked one dairy farmer at the NFO meeting at Onsted School Tuesday night. He also pushed getting to the farms before the hauler.

"After the hauler gets there, the milk is gone and that's that," he urged his fellows in preparation for the next day's buying.

Not all the milk is being put down the drain, reported one fellow. His home freezer now contains 200 pounds of butter.

How did he churn it?

With an old-fashioned washing machine — after it had been thoroughly scrubbed up.

"They are already making hay from our misfortune," said one ruddy complexioned member as he told of retail stores in Toledo increasing the price of a gallon of milk to 85c from 77c since the holding began.

"A white stream crossed the field," my neighbor told me as our milk was dumped Monday, said a sad-faced, white-haired lady at Tuesday evenings meeting at Onsted.

"I don't know about you Holstein members but our Jersey Club has voted 100% with NFO," a younger dairyman reported midst a loud round of applause.

"I've got $80 and a hog and half-a-hog to buy more milk with," reported one, $96 came from another corner of the filled multipurpose room of the Onsted High School, $265 more in another area and on it went as the exuberant determined farm men reported the result of their day's effort to buy up milk and keep it off the market.

"Anyway, just so we destroy it," said the moderator as a conflict of opinion arose as to whether they should buy milk from retailers or direct from the farm.

It was decided that they would buy both ways with wives of the group going to the stores.

There are those "having a ball" as the NFO farmers sadly-but-persistently pour milk down the drains. The area will have the fattest cats in the world.

"Slu---rp, never had it so good," says Tabby on the farm.

A goodly number of NFO members from Hillsdale County were in attendance with some from Washtenaw. A Jonesville man reported good cooperation in that area.

Esch Blasts Dairy Imports

Dairy imports must be decreased before the present national dairy crisis can expect to be solved, Congressman Marvin L. Esch says.

"It is high time," Rep. Esch declared, "that the Johnson administration end its economic discrimination against the farm community" by permitting a 300 percent increase in foreign dairy import in one year.

Congressman called on the Administration to release to Congress and the public a secret Tariff Commission Report on the effect of dairy imports on the domestic markets.

"President Johnson has had that report on his desk for 10 months," Esch said, "and he still refuses to take action or make it public. While reports paid for by the taxpayers remain wrapped in secrecy, American dairymen are being driven out of business by the increasing imports."

The Congressman pledged his best efforts to secure fair treatment for the farmer and said, "We must establish effective and needed controls on imports of milk and dairy products in the near future in order that our farmers may have an opportunity to achieve parity prices for their milk and butterfat."

A Limited Number of Season Passes Are Still Available

There are 50 season football tickets to 1967 Indian games still for sale in the drive for bleachers.

Members of both the Rotary and Exchange Clubs urge citizens to "get behind" the compaign this week to wrap it up.

Members of the Tecumseh Varsity Club, Fan Club, Athletic Association and the Student Council also have tickets.

The entire cost of the ticket will be used for bleachers to increase the seating capacity at the Athletic Field from 1,200 to 1,700.

It is hoped that construction may start soon on the bleachers to be added to the south end of the existing ones.

Around 1,000 boys and girls take part in the fun each year.

The king-sized coloring bee will be staged Thursday night at the Eagles Hall. "Anyone who would like to give a hand will be welcomed," Earl Harrison said.

Assisting with the project are Harvey Creger, Russ Creger, Bill Spohr and Mrs. Kenneth Lyons.

Revenue Bonds Will Be Issued

CLINTON — A resolution calling for the issuance and sale of $9,800,000 in Industrial Development Revenue Bonds was signed recently by the Village Council and officials of the Budd Company.

Meeting in special session with the Council March 8, were Ray Wrona, Assistant Vice-president of Manufacturing, Budd Company, and George McKean, attorney for Budd Company and Melvin Smith, Village attorney.

The $9,800,000 bond issue is the largest issue of its kind in the state by any municipality.

The resolution authorizes and provides for the acquisition by the Village of Clinton of a site, an industrial building and machinery and equipment for use as an industrial plant for the manufacture of disc brake assemblies and components and the leasing of such plant to the Budd Company.

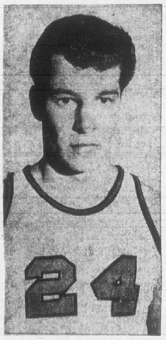
It also provides for a contract of lease and rent, the issuance and sale of $9,800,000 in Industrial Development Revenue Bonds, of the Village to finance such acquisition to provide for the retirement and security of the bonds.

The bonds shall be issued as coupon bonds or fully registered bonds, both in the denomination of $5,000 or a multiple thereof.

The resolution makes provision for additional bonds to finance other acquisitions and improvements to the site, in another series not to exceed $5,000,000.

The Council appointed Robert E. Ferdon of the law firm of Hawkins, Delafield and Wood as the attorney to represent the Village of Clinton before the U. S. Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service in regard to issuance of the Industrial Development Revenue Bonds.

BUTCH HOELZER



GENE BROWN

Hoelzer, Brown Get Basketball Honors

CLINTON — Butch Hoelzer accomplished the rare feat of being named to the All-State basketball team in his junior year.

Butch led the county scoring average with over 24 points per game and demonstrated his versatile athletic skill in every game he played.

Gene Brown, the Redskins' only senior starter and teammate, Butch Hoelzer, were placed on the All-League team.

As captain, Brown's leadership on the floor as a playmaker, when combined with his scoring and defensive ability, make him a hard boy to replace on next year's team, Coach Richard Content said.

Butch is the son of Mrs. Clinton Hoelzer. Gene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown.

Reading Given of Psalm Melody at Dorcas Circle

CLINTON — Mrs. Ralph Halladay read an article, "The Melody of the 23rd Psalm" for the meeting of the Methodist Dorcas Circle Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Scott.

168 Lot Subdivision Begins

CLINTON — The River Raisin Clinton Corporation has completed plans for an 168-lot subdivision on the former Chalmers Campbell farm property and a builder will soon begin construction of two model homes, across the road from the State Police Post on E. Michigan Ave.

The first two homes will be a colonial and a ranch type, featuring three bedrooms and two baths.

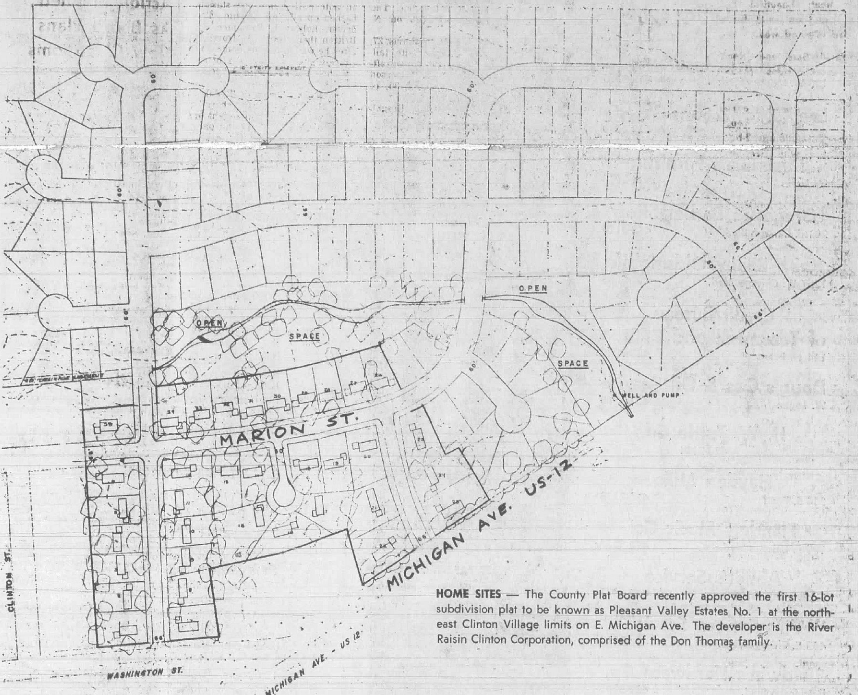
The developer, Don Thomas, explained he hopes to offer homes in the $19,000 to $23,500 range. Builders will be invited to construct homes on the properties with the lot costs deferred until the properties are sold,

Lots will be 75 to 100 feet in width and 175 feet depth.

Landscape architects from the University of Michigan supervised the platting. Provision is made for a seven-acre recreation park in the center of the development.

The developer said he expects to begin grading on the streets and construction of sewer and water mains as soon as the weather permits. The roads are to be asphalt with curb and gutter.

The first 16-lot subdivision plat which was recently approved begins on Washington St., extending north with a center street through the site of the former Campbell barn.



HOME SITES — The County Plat Board recently approved the first 16-lot subdivision plat to be known as Pleasant Valley Estates No. 1 at the northeast Clinton Village limits on E. Michigan Ave. The developer is the River Raisin Clinton Corporation, comprised of the Don Thomas family.

Sherry Whitt Marries Henry E. Schweinhager

CLINTON — Marriage vows were exchanged by Sherry Dianne Whitt and Airman Henry E. Schweinhager, Saturday at 7:30 p.m., in the Clinton Methodist Church.

The Rev. George Miller officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Whitt of Clinton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schweinhager of Defiance, O.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta and lace. The Sabrina neckline was edged with pearls and sequins and the fitted bodice had long sleeves. Multiple tiers of lace and net formed the bouffant skirt.

The bridal veil was held by a silk-petaled flower.

The maid of honor, Karen Harrison and bridesmaid, Carol Tolbert of Ypsilanti, wore long gowns in shades of blue.

Vick Drittler of Archbold, O., was the best man.

Guests were seated by Albert Schweinhager, brother of the bridegroom and Scott Whitt, brother of the bride.

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church social room.

Tri-Boards Meet To Contemplate Mutual Problems

School boards from Clinton and Britton will be invited to meet with the Tecumseh board here April 11 to discuss mutual problems.

Britton is seeking millage at the April 3 election and Clinton is seeking property for a new high school building.

Tecumseh already has announced plans for a new elementary building, has discussed selling the present Junior High building for a county vocational school, and predictions are that Tecumseh will need a new high school within a few years.

With all three schools building independently, a future problem could arise if the state forces the three school districts to consolidate.

The local board has not discussed consolidation, and it's not known that consolidation will be discussed here April 11.

Action Stymied As Board Plans New Classrooms

Two more portable classrooms are likely to be added by the Tecumseh schools for the 1967-68 terms.

The School Board Monday night requested that prices be secured, but took no action as to whether the units would be leased or purchased.

Two such buildings are now in use at the Sutton School and they cost $18,500 each, excluding costs for the foundation and utilities.

The schools plan to locate the two portable buildings on the grounds of the Herrick Park school and will transport third and fourth graders from Sutton.

This will allow grades one and two to continue in the portable units at Sutton and for the closing of the old Sutton school house.

Auto Accident Fatal to Youth

James Adamski, 22, 12751 Laird Rd., Brooklyn, was killed Tuesday morning in a collision with a car driven by Melvin G. Nelson, 38, of 134 E. Church St., Adrian.

The westbound Nelson car crossed the center line and struck Adamski's eastbound car just ahead of the door, tearing off the left side and pushing it 96 feet backward.

The Nelson car continued west 156 feet after the impact.

The collision occurred a few hundred feet east of the Washtenaw-Lenawee County line, on US-12 east of Clinton.

Duo Presents Songs, Comedy for Monday Club

Mrs. William Flanders and Mrs. James Mull presented a program of songs interspersed with comedy for 50 members and guests of the Monday Club March 20 at the Grange Hall.

Mary McWilliams gave the invocation preceding the dinner and also presented the program.

Mrs. George Wright and Mrs. A. J. Todd had charge of decorating the tables with Easter nests filled with rabbits and chickens and colored eggs made by members of the executive board.

Action Extended on Board's Plans To Improve Field

Additional action was taken Monday night by the School Board to improve the Tecumseh Indians' football field.

Bids are now being sought for top soil — for crowning the field — and for sod.

Some officials are afraid that seeding will not grow fast enough to provide an adequate field for next fall's games.

In other action by the board, approval was granted for the employment of an elementary art teacher and re-scheduling of April's regular meeting from the 17th to the 24th.

Police Dept. Accepts New Union Pact

Council authorized signing of a union contract with the police department Monday night, although officials were not completely in favor with all the details.

The new contract gives the department a 3 per cent hike in salary and additional fringe benefits, amounting to an overall increase of about 5 percent.

One of the contract features Council did not agree with was the establishment of permanent shifts for the officers.

Later at the Council Session, officials gave a first reading to an ordinance for minimum standards for employment of policemen. Zorn says such an ordinance will entitle Tecumseh to Federal aid for training new officers.

Methodist Church Holy Week Plans

The sacrament of the Holy Communion will be the first of several special services planned for the members of the Tecumseh Methodist Church.

Thursday at 7:15 p.m. the sanctuary will be patterned after a fourth century service of tenebrae and candles.

For persons unable to attend this service, the Rev. Donald Porteous is giving the sacraments at 10 a.m. Thursday morning in the sanctuary.

The congregation has been asked to participate in the Good Friday services being held at the Presbyterian Church during which the Rev. Porteous will give a meditation.

On Easter Sunday the church will hold one service in the sanctuary at 10 a.m. with the pastor's message being "Cross to Glory." Special Easter music is being prepared by the choir under the direction of Miles Cowdrey.

The Junior and Carol Choirs, with Mrs. Donald Bush directing will sing also. Sunday School will be held as usual at 11:10 a.m.

City Jaycees Hold M-Night

M-Night in Tecumseh is a program sponsored by the Michigan Jaycees to interest young men between the ages of 21 - 35 to membership in the Jaycees.

The organization is aimed towards leadership training through community development.

Men interested in joining the Tecumseh Jaycees may attend M-(for membership) Night March 30 at 8 p.m. in the Jaycee Club Room over Gaston and Son Jewelry.

Mitch Kehetian of Allen Park, editor of the Community and Tri-County News, will be the main speaker at the event.

Kehetian is the former editor of the Michigan Jaycees' official paper and is now director of the regular publications news letter. He has held several state Jaycee offices, been a national director and is [illegible] for the Jaycee presidency.

James Locke of Albion, National Director of the United States Jaycees, and Dave Schoonover of Tecumseh, vice-president of the Michigan Jaycees, will both be present.

The program is free of charge and refreshments will be served.

Call 423-3494 or 423-4097 for more information.

37 Residents Fail To Pay

Thirty-seven Tecumseh residents have failed to pay their first quarter refuse bills, Cal Zorn, city manager, told Council Monday night.

Although the city had indicated turning off water to the homes when it adopted compulsory refuse pickup last year, Zorn said no water mains had been turned off and there is apparently no intention of doing so.

There are 15 homes which do not have city water or sewer facilities.

According to law, the city must wait a year before adding the charges to the taxes and it's believed that this will be the city's method to collect for the refuse service.

No action was taken by Council on the problem.

Five New Courses

By LOIS HENRICKS

Five new courses have been announced for Tecumseh High School next year.

Journalism II, marketing, secretarial office practice, Spanish IV, and world cultures are the new offerings.

Journalism II is planned to provide additional practice in the application of everyday journalism.

Community news coverage, advertising and coverage of the arts, book reviews, plays, etc., plus responsibility for the publication of the school paper.

MARKETING is a new business course offered for seniors who are interested in sales promotion and advertising.

Stenographic office practice is planned by the business department in addition to the present clerical office practice. It will have shorthand as a pre-requisite and involve dictation, transcription, and office machines in addition to the material covered in clerical office practice. Stenographic office practice is also intended to make room in the clerical area for boys.

Spanish IV is intended to provide further experiences in literature, high drama, conversation and translation.

It will provide a first in a cadet teaching program in languages and student knowledge of the operation of the language laboratory. The class will be taught completely in Spanish.

WORLD cultures is the social studies department's contribution to the expanding curriculum. This is a course open to seniors of average achievement in world history.

The accent is intended to be on non-European cultures with an effort to understand the development of their customs, traditions and political backgrounds and more readily grasp our nation's view of present-day world problems.

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

Spring Is Here, whether old man winter likes it or not.

I had planned to start with the old cliche "As the snow melts away and the crocus pop into bloom," but since the white stuff was pouring out of the sky thick enough to be a spring fog while tapping this out Monday, will devote attention to the other true signs.

Spring is here because:

Everybody says, "This is the longest winter I've ever seen."

Daily walks into the garden to see how much the crocus and daffodils have grown and to watch the leaf buds grow fat.

The birds start to sing and are collecting scraps to build their nests. (Mrs. William Steele saw eight robins in her back yard Monday.)

The sun is shining at the breakfast table and the children can play outside after supper.

All of a sudden, the children have grown three inches, their dresses are too short and shoes pinch.

Beauty shop operators are swamped with appointments for short haircuts.

Everything is dirty as the bright sun beams into the drab house, curtains and windows need washing, cupboards need cleaning.

Guess I better take down the pine roping on the front porch.

Dig out the artificial daffodils to plant outside while waiting for the real ones to bloom.

Order grass seed and fertilizer.

The bicycles are hauled out of garages and basements, chrome polished and tires pumped up.

Start yelling at the kids to leave the back door open to let in some fresh air as they sneak out of the house without their boots on.

All the house plants look spindly, but the geraniums are blooming.

Sunday afternoon rides to nowhere begin.

Can't concentrate.

Fortunato Is Named Head

The 1967 educational and fund-raising crusade of the American Cancer Society in Lenawee County will be led by Joe Fortunato, director of employee benefits at Tecumseh Products Co.

Serving with Mr. Fortunato are:

- ► Mrs. Lloyd Stites for Tecumseh.
- ► Tim Neill, industrial chairman for Tecumseh.

Mr. Fortunato accepted the chairmanship of the 1967 crusade, which begins April 1, because of "his deep concern with the urgency of the cancer problem."

He pointed out that if present rates continue, "If Lenawee County is typical, one out of four of us now alive will develop cancer. Two out of three, at present rates, will die of the disease.

"There is a great potential for saving lives now through earlier cancer detection and even prevention than ever before," he said.

Mr. Fortunato is pledged "to help step up programs to reduce deaths from cancer now and to increase the funds needed for the society's vast nationwide research program."

Mr. Fortunato issued a call for volunteers to join with him in the crusade against cancer, declaring that "many people are needed if the job that needs doing is to be done."

Persons interested should call the Lenawee County units of the American Cancer Society, 263-2317.

Holy Week Will Climax Last 3 Days

Sharing with millions of Christians the last solemn three days of Holy Week, the congregation of St. Peter's Episcopal Church will begin the celebration with the Eucharist on Maunday Thursday evening at 8.

Services of Good Friday will be at 12:15 noon and the Easter Vigil on Holy Saturday at 10 p.m. with Communion at midnight.

Easter will see the Holy Communion with hymns at 8 a.m. and the festival choral Eucharist of the Resurrection at 10 a.m.

The choir of St. Peter's under the direction of Ennis Fruhauf will present special Easter liturgical music.

Climax of the Vigil are Easter baptisms and renewal of baptismal vows by members of the congregation.

Through My Window

THAT'S A GOLDFINCH!

Liz called my attention to the two little birds on the ear-by feeder. All winter we had trouble with a pair of ny sparrows, we could never decide for sure exactly who hey were.

The first thought was that the mall sparrow-like birds were the ystery twosome, but a second ok quickly changed that notion. When one of the birds hopped er to an unshaded part of the eder —

"That's a goldfinch!"

Such excitement. Imagine, two ld canarys free-loading at the rd feeder just outside our win- w. We could not tell what they ere eating, of course, but in the ixture of sunflower seeds and ratch feed there was apparently mething which took their fan- .

THEIR LITTLE light-colored lls did not appear overly strong, t cracking or cutting through metimes hard hulls did not em to be the least bit difficult. When lunch was finished, one the birds "paid for his meal" perching on the top of the car corn for a few moments. We d a marvelous look at him.

Appearance-wise, a cold weath- goldfinch is much different an a summer one. When win- comes, the male loses all ims to his wild canary nick- me.

Gone is that bright lemon yel- w color and some of the satiny black. In its place, however, a rather lovely and soft look- mixture of pale yellow, green d tan which turns out to be a licate greenish olive shade.

IN POOR light or at a distance, . Goldfinch would look dark d sparrowish. We had a good se-up look under near ideal hting conditions and were just azed at how pretty he was.

Even before noticing the color his head and body though, we saw his wings. Black with distinctive white markings. Oh, even in winter the male goldfinch is an elegant chap.

The women folk in this family wear much the same outfits all year long. It closely resembles the males' winter suit. They appear even more sparrow-like, however, because seldom are their wings as black.

Here in southern Michigan goldfinches are classified as year round residents. They do not migrate. It often seems as though they do but this, of course, is just due to the "change of clothes".

THE FLOCK of little wild canaries does not disappear, it simply changes into a little group of sparrows. Sparrows who, upon close inspection, are really goldfinches.

And in the spring, when the goldfinches return they are not coming back at all, but have only donned their new spring and summer yellow. I am making this confusing and it isn't — at least it shouldn't be.

We were overjoyed at having the goldfinches visit. Not only was it fun to have something different, but we hope it indicates a good goldfinch summer. Last year was perhaps the poorest for wild canarys that we have ever had.

We always count on seeing them in at least three types of performances. It is fun to watch them take splashing baths in the shallow water at the creek's edge; just as the trees are beginning to leaf out, and especially the elms; these little birds go into a frenzy of activity inspecting each and every new leaf.

THEN, LATER in the summer, the whole flock of goldfinches troop into the yard and dine royally on weed seeds. Old 1966 was not a good goldfinch year though. However, in just the past three weeks many reports of goldfinch sightings — let's hope they all add up to good things this spring and summer.

So it is that whether in the summer or winter we are always happy to exclaim, "That's a goldfinch!"

Auxiliary Seeks Prizes for Bingo at Nursing Home

Ladies of Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's Nursing Home Committee are looking for small gift items — talcum, cologne, jewelry or boxes of all-occasion cards for the women and tobacco and cigars for the men — to be used as Bingo prizes.

Last week the group sponsored its first game for the amusement of the Nursing Home patients and, judging from the reception given the idea, it's to become a monthly event.

Mrs. Neville Hart, Mrs. Charles Gross, Mrs. William MacBeth and Mrs. Charles Mensing were the Auxiliary members who presided at the Bingo wheel and served popcorn and jelly beans for refreshments afterward. Prizes are donated by members of the Auxiliary.

Next game is scheduled for Wednesday, April 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Donavin of Dearborn Heights were March 12 guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown and family.

Easter Is Portrayed in Music

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron chose "Easter" as her theme for the program of the Tecumseh Music Club March 14. at the home of Mrs. James Danforth.

Mrs. Leland Fogelsong was cohostess.

Solos, duets and trios musically portrayed the events of Holy Week for the 20 members and guests.

Mrs. Earl Mason, a new member of the club, sang "The Palms," accompanied by Mrs. Fred Oberlin at the piano.

Mrs. Robert Hart and daughter, Sherrie, sang, "O Stainless One," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Mrs. Danforth sang, "Open the Gates of the Temple" and joined her daughter, Jamie, to present "The Savior Liveth." Mrs. Oberlin accompained.

Mrs. Ashley Chase, Mrs. Lee Spohr and Mrs. Fogelsong sang three numbers as a trio: "He Became Poor, "Wounded for Me" and "Christ Arose." The latter was Mrs. Chase's own arrangement.

Mrs. Ray Sommers sang, "On a Rugged Hill" and Mrs. Louis Caterina, "Mary Alone."

Mrs. Norman Bailey, president, announced that the theme for National Music Week May 7 - 14 will be "Music Is for Everyone." Tecumseh Music Club is making plans to observe the week locally.

The next meeting will be April 11 at the home of Mrs. Brantingham. Helen Bendes will present the program, "The Pied Piper," using children of the Tecumseh elementary schools.

Four Hurt When Auto Rolls Over

Four persons received serious injuries at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, when their car ran off a curve on M-50 near Gilbert Hwy.

Admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital were the driver, Jerry R. Wilson, 27, of Tipton, and passengers, Julia Filson, 45, Robert Wilson, 19, and Ross Wilson, 16, all of Adrian.

The car ran off the curve and rolled over several times, Clinton State Police said.

National Defense Article Read at DAR

Mrs. M. R. McClain read an article on National Defense for 12 members present at the meeting of the Abi-Evans Chapter, DAR March 10 at the home of Mrs. Paul Keyser.

The article originally published in a navy magazine was written by Rear Admiral Hugh Walters, Jr.

It was entitled "Let Us Make the Ocean Our Defense."

Some thoughts from it are:

"Extensive research of the geological, chemical, and mineral content of the ocean, plus the space necessary to the defense of the country, has been an important subject of research by the Navy, as it affects every division.

"They have been working on it for years, the most extensive effort being reached during the peak of World War II.

"The ocean has a dynamic, ever changing surface (top 1,000-ft.) affecting the temperatures, waves and living creatures therein.

"There is an interaction between ocean and atmosphere. All of these factors play an important part in the daily operation on every branch of the Navy.

"The sea floor does not change greatly, therefore the study of the constant stability can be made a basis for the sonar reflections, and increases the accuracy of the work," he noted.

From these 10, one will be selected to go to Washington in April, the guest of the National Society.

This is the second consecutive year the Abi-Evans Chapter has had a girl among the 10 finalists. Sherry Squires was selected last year.

Mrs. Mensing plans to accompany Nancy Hawkins, and Kathy Hall, also candidates.

ALL THOSE REGENERATING
HEADACHES

Other automatic water softeners are recharged at pre-set times. But because household water usage varies, recharging can be too soon or too late. New Aqua Sensor keeps pace with your water demands — never lets you run out of soft water, yet never recharges needlessly.

HOW AQUA-SENSOR WORKS

There are two sensors at bottom of resin bed. When hard water reaches upper sensor, the lower sensor is still immersed in softened water. The sensors electronically detect the difference and signal the solid-state controller. At proper time, unit automatically recharges.

SAVE UP TO 41% ON SALT

. . . yes, it's possible to save up to 41% on salt usage . . . because the Aqua-Sensor only uses salt when it's needed. Saves salt and water . . . and provides unlimited soft water!

EASTER BONNET

Did You Ever Think of Getting Your Easter Bonnet From A&P?

We don't sell Easter bonnets but... we suspect many an Easter hat has been paid for with money saved by shopping A&P.

Are we implying that A&P has the lowest prices on all items all the time?
No!
There is no store that can make that claim.

What we are saying is:
if you're interested in your total food bill,
if you're looking for the best values for your food dollar, A&P is the store for you.

It's a little late for this year's Easter bonnet, but start shopping A&P this week, anyway.

It won't be long before somebody in the house will need a new pair of shoes.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

County Nurses Tour Training School Facilities

Members of the Lenawee County District Nurses Association toured clinic facilities of the Girls Training School March 16 conducted by Mrs. George Hatfield, supervisor of nurses at the school. She was assisted by other nurses of the staff.

The meeting was held in the Porter Building of the school.

There are 14 cottages on the "campus" — each accomodating from 14 to 30 girls. A housemother and a counselor or social worker work with the girls in each cottage. There are also Resident supervisors for each of the [illegible] They work with the counselors and housemothers from each cottage to determine the needs of the individual girls as well as the best ways to meet these needs.

The Training School has various programs to train the girls for a vocation whether it be housewife, mother, beautician or baker. Many are taking high school courses toward a diploma; they seem to be more aware of the need for at least this minimum education.

In addition to the counselors, there are psychologists, a psychiatrist, a priest and minister. Recently, some "housefathers" have been added to the staff in hopes of developing a more positive relationship betweet the girls and a "father figure".

The refreshments served to the nurses were made by the girls in the bakery program.

NEWS AND VIEWS

All officers, newly-elected to serve 4-H leaders at the District level in Lenawee County, are urged to attend a planning session March 29.

The session will emphasize programming at the district level and helps district-elected officers as they begin the task of building strong district programs, designed to strengthen the local 4-H program.

The 4-H Public Speaking Class will meet March 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Michigan Producer's Dairy Building.

Participants in the 4-H self-improvement class will be working on making effective presentation talks.

Clubs or groups interested in obtaining a 4-H Public Speaker to participate in your club's activity are asked to contact the Lenawee 4-H Office for more information.

Training begins July 1 for a 4-H Peace Corps project in Brazil.

Applications are now being accepted. The factor that is presently limiting the future development of 4-H Peace Corps projects is the extreme shortage of rural background applicants.

Printed materials are available on the Peace Corps at the Extension Office, along with information on local speakers with Peace Corps backgrounds.

Lenten Meditation

By The REV. THOMAS DROBENA
Pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church

Lent is synonymous with repentance. Repentance means changes. The most important change must be our attitudes.

A change of heart implies a change of attitudes. This requires a getting beneath the surface of our outward actions. Attitudes are harder to detect and more difficult to confess than those obviously wrong deeds. May we dare you to examine your attitude under the search-light of the Cross.

A common attitude is, "Nobody else cares, why should I?" This is not necessarily the attitude of the wicked. It is more often said by the "good guys."

We see this indifference all around us: in the world, our nation, the community and even in the Church. High ideals, deep convictions, even nationalism has died.

Kruschev said that Russia would bury America. We find these grave diggers in government, our undertakers in the Church, the pallbearers in higher education. Between the atheists and communists (who more often than not, are one and the same) we find ourselves waiting for our funeral so that they may bury us.

OFTEN WE TRY to justify ourselves by pointing at the average church goer, but this is really hauling down the standards. The Word of God never teaches us to do as the Joneses, but as God commands. The Bible holds up as our example people who did not say, "Nobody else cares, why should I?"

A distinguishing mark of the Old Testament prophets was that they cared because nobody else cared. They were alone and lonely in the battle to defend the honor of God against the popular beliefs and practices.

When we look at the greatest of the Prophets, we see, even His disciples forsook Him and fled. At the Jewish trial and the Roman hearings there was one false accusation after another made against Jesus, but not a single voice was raised in His defense.

A chorus of voices shouted, "Crucify Him, crucify Him." But not one said, "He is the Son of God." Not even one muffled, "He healed me," or, "He saved me." Finally He died suspended on a Cross between heaven and hell on an earth that forsook Him.

WHAT IF Jesus had been like us and His disciples and said, "Nobody else cares, why should I?" What if the indifference of the people had gotten Him down?

What if He could have been victimized by mob psychology, discouraged by apathy?

Nobody else cared, but Jesus did.

The loneliness of Christ in His suffering and death is the loneliness of God redeeming you from sin. It shows how much God cared for you, and how earnestly He desired your salvation, how low He stooped to save you.

This is the story of Lent, that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son" for a world that doesn't care. He cared for you who say that you believe and love and yet never show it.

God embraced the world with His love through the outstretched arms of the crucified Christ. How does God do it today? God wants to embrace the world through you, His children. God cares about people through you.

"COME, follow Me," said Jesus, The path marked by His footsteps is bound to be a lonely one. What God lays upon your heart to do is bound to be unpopular because it comes from a holy God and you must present it to unholy people.

In protest against prejudice, lovelessness, impurity, disease, sin and all the other vices practiced by and condoned by our society, you must first change your own attitude and then become a lone voice crying in the wilderness.

Speaking the truth may be a guaranteed way of losing friends and popularity, but Jesus said, "What if you gain the whole world and lose your own soul?"

The Christian dare not say, "Nobody else cares, why should I?"

William L. Bortel received his Master of Science degree in animal husbandry at Michigan State University at its winter term commencement March 12. Easter Cantata by Senior Choir Is Good Friday

BRITTON — The senior choir of the Congregational Christian Church will present its annual Easter cantata Good Friday evening, March 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the church sanctuary.

This year's presentation "Behold Your King" is one of the Singspiration series by the popular composer John W. Peterson of Grand Rapids who has written over a thousand gospel songs and hymns and whose collection of sacred cantatas has already passed the million mark in sales.

"Behold Your King" begins with the trial of Christ, continues on through the crucifixion and resurrection and is climaxed by a thrilling chorus centered in the theme of His ascension and expressing the hope of His promised return.

Several members of the 26-voice choir will be featured in special sections of the cantata. The role of Jesus will be sung by tenors Jim Brown and Larry Bush with baritones Larry Ash and William Raeburn singing the words of Pilate.

An especially stirring duet will feature Mrs. Joseph Hall, soprano and the Rev. G. O. Hannevik, tenor.

A soprano trio composed of Gail Lister, Mary Shepherd and Tammy Tucker will sing the "Glorious Calvary".

Richard Bruce will read the Scripture narration and Mrs. William Raeburn will direct and accompany the choir.

The public is cordially invited to share with the Britton congregation this musical presentation of events brought so vividly to mind during this Holy Week.

MRS. KENNETH C. EMERY

Madeline Brugger Weds Kenneth Emery

Madeline Brugger and Kenneth C. Emery were united in marriage March 12 in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Paul Brantingham at the Friends Church.

Seven branched lighted candelabra fronted with white gladioli and carnations and a cross of daisies and yellow daffodils with fern formed the setting for the wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. DeArle J. Brugger, 316 W. Cummins St. and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Emery of Springville.

Mrs. Loren Avery accompanied the soloist, Linda Sinkey.

Kenneth Brugger, brother of the bride, was the acolyte and seated the mother of the bride after 350 guests had been ushered into the sanctuary by Richard Logan, Ross Howard and Charles Emery, best man and brother of the groom.

On the arm of her father, the radiant bride entered the church wearing a gown of white organza and chantilly lace fashioned with sabrina neckline, tapered long sleeves and bouffant skirt with chapel train. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother, Emma Jacobs.

Her elbow length veil was secured to a crown of sequins and she wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Her bouquet was white orchids arranged with stephanotis.

The bride asked Patricia Emery, sister of the groom, to be maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Joyce Brugger and Mrs. Richard Logan, sisters of the bride.

Miss Emery wore a floor length sheath gown of yellow brocade and crepe styled with scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and a train attached to the waistline with a satin band. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a feathered cap matching her gown.

The bridesmaids were attired in green gowns and matching hats fashioned like the maid of honor. They carried daffodils and daisies with streamers.

Carolyn Sue Brugger, sister of the bride, was the flower girl in a dress of yellow lace and nylon and a crown of daisies in her hair. She carried daffodils and daisies. James Logan, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer carrying a white lace covered Bible and the rings.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the Tipton Grange Hall with Carol McClure, Sue Hammack, Nancy Bird, Sharon Dove, Jane Hartman and Mrs. Lee Spohr assisting with the serving.

Psychological Needs of Bereaved Is Topic

"Meeting the Psychological Needs of the Bereaved" will be the theme of a clergy-funeral director seminar at Hillsdale College Tuesday, April 4.

Clergy and funeral directors from the area will be attending, reports Doug Dunn.

The main address will be given by Dr. Edgar N. Jackson, pastor, author, and lecturer, from Corinth, Vermont.

Moderators for the program will be Robert C. Slater, professor and director of mortuary science at University of Minnesota.

Helping to meet the psychological needs of the bereaved poses a challenge and responsibility for both the clergyman and the funeral director. Studies have shown that much can be done during the critical period of bereavement that will assist the bereaved to realize and adjust to their loss.

This scheduled symposium will explore the funeral as an experience of value and the role of the clergyman and the funeral director in this experience.

What Should Lent Really Mean to You?

By The REV. KERMIT W. BOYCE

Does Lent just mean to you that you leave certain foods out of your diet? Or does it mean you deny yourself some pleasures for these certain weeks? Does it mean you actually strive to draw closer to the Lord Jesus Christ?

Does it mean to do this you are ready to deny yourself of pleasures and foods? Does it mean you will actually save the money these would cost you and give it into missions or some other work of the Lord?

Does it mean you are actually omitting self-gratifications because of your love for the Lord? Or is it merely being done because it is a ritual that everyone in the organization is obligated to carry out?

Some organizations are turning away from this practice, as too rigid to continue. The Church of the Nazarene has never held this position.

As members individually volunteer, we have prayer and fasting; the money saved from the meal goes to world missions. This, however, is only one facet of lenten.

True, to deny ourselves draws us closer to our Lord, only though if we are converted; a born again Christian. If not, self denial in the name of religion is a mockery to God. Jesus said, John 3:3, "Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God."

ONLY THOSE who by repentance and Godly sorrow for their sins, with a complete dedication of self can know this Love.

Sin must be entirely forsaken, I John 3-6: "Whosoever abideth in Him sinneth not"; and verse 8, "He that committeth sin is of the devil".

We cannot just believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, unless we have confessed our sins, with godly sorrow. Sorrow is emotion. There can be no repentance without emotion.

WHAT MAN and wife after a quarrel with bitter words, would think of renewing their love without first having some sorrow and confession of their ill feeling and harsh words?

Love could not be renewed without it. Neither can sinners approach God without love. In order to have it, their sins must be confessed, and they must be sorry for them or God will not hear them.

Psalms 66:18, "If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me."

Many people are misled at this point thinking that they can believe and be saved without repenting, which means confessing with sorrow, our sins, believing on Him with all our hearts and complete surrender of self to Him.

WE CANNOT love Him with ill feeling in our heart. We must confess it with sorrow and emotion if we are to ever have the emotion of love for Him.

In Mark 9:23-24: "The father of the child cried out with tears, Lord I believe, help thou mine unbelief."

This must be the prayer of the seeker today, not just believe, but "cry out with tears, Lord, I believe". This is the only Biblical standard of a broken and contrite heart.

Psalms 51:17, "The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise."

The word "lent" comes from the English word "lencten", which means springtime. Until about 800 AD Lent was observed for 36 days. During the reign of Charlemagne, four days were added, probably, to correspond to the 40-day fast of Jesus in the wilderness.

The Rev. Kermit W. Boyce has been pastor of the Ridgeway Church of the Nazarene since October, 1966. He came from the Detroit Street Church of the Nazarene in Flint where he pastored eight years and has served other churches in Detroit, Grand Blanc, Hillsdale and Argentine over the past 26 years. Rev. Boyce attended Flint Central High School and graduated from Owosso. He attended Owosso and Hillsdale Colleges and is an Ordained Elder in the Church of the Nazarene. He is married to the former Elsie Lois Robinson of Vanderbilt and the couple has four children.

Spring Sports Bring Turnout of 35 Students

BRITTON — Thirty-five boys have turned out for spring sports at Britton, reports baseball and track coach Don Morrill. Practice began this week.

"The first week we will concentrate on getting the boys in condition," stated Morrill. "We will be running and doing calisthenics and doing some throwing in the gym." He stated he was pleased with the turnout.

Thirteen River Raisin League baseball games are scheduled, beginning April 11, when Britton goes against Sand Creek.

The track enthusiasts will have seven meets, including the regional. The first track event is scheduled for April 14.

MR. GAMBER AND JOHNNY

Johnny Is a Champion

The whippet Bay-Star One Note owned by Mrs. Leonard Gamber, Tipton, completed the requirements for his show championship at the Genesee County Kennel Club at Flint March 19.

Johnny, as the dog is nicknamed, became a champion (pending American Kennel Club confirmation) by being awarded Winners Dog, Best of Winners for a major win, and Best of Breed. This was the dog's third major win.

Johnny's other wins on the road to his championship were at Toledo and Delaware, O., Lexington, Ky. and Monroe.

This is the third whippet champion for the Gambers. There have also been three beagle champions at their kennels.

Johnny was a birthday present for Mrs. Gamber as he was born on her birthday in 1965 at their former kennels in Belleville.

Announce Players in 'Tender Trap'

By LORI EGLI

Dr. Robert Murray, director of the next Tecumseh Players production, "The Tender Trap", announced the cast March 12 at the Players' regular meeting in the Community Center.

- Robert Moore of Adrian has won the lead of Charlie Reader, the happy-go-lucky bachelor in New York who "has it made" with a beautiful apartment, a good job and numerous lovely girls to keep him happy. Bob was seen on the Players' stage just last fall in "Everybody Loves Opal".
- John Raymond of Adrian will play Joe McCall, a friend of Charlie's who visits him in New York and becomes involved in his private life. John is also a veteran of "Everybody Loves Opal".
- Kathleen Franz of Adrian, a new face on the Tecumseh Players' stage, will play the part of Julie Gillis, the young determined girl who falls in love with Charlie, but has a mind of her own when it comes to planning the future.
- Betty Chorman also of Adrian, will portray Sylvia Crewes, the most level-headed of all of Charlie's girls. She is a concert violinist by trade, a well-groomed, stylish woman.
- Florine Purkey, well known in Tecumseh for her appearances on stage in many types of roles, will be Poppy Matson, another of Charlie's girl friends who is endeavoring to win him over with white fish and her house-cleaning ability.
- Suzanna O'Fario, Clinton, will play the part of Jessica, a southern career girl who dotes on Charlie and brightens the scene with her non-stop delivery southern accent. Suzanna just recently was seen in "Annie Get Your Gun" as the gal who offered to bake Frank Butler her special blueberry pie.
- Craig Collicott of Jackson will take the part of Earl, the impatient, jealous young research chemist who has his eye on Julie.
- Robert Whitman of Adrian will portray Sol, the odd-ball beatnik trombone player who spices up the after-the-party scene.

"The Tender Trap" will be presented April 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29 in the Glass Room of the Tecumseh Community Center.

A new and different staging plan has been chosen to give the audience a novel way to enjoy the play. The action of the play will take place on a two-level stage and the audience will be able to sit on three sides.

Mrs. Frank Dalton will be assistant director for this play. William Frownfelder is technical director.

Baby the Baby—THE WHOLE FAMILY TOO WITH MODERN ELECTRIC HEAT

Healthful, dependable electric heating is clean, quiet, and draft-free—hygienic enough for even the newborn. But that's only part of the electric heat story—there's a type to fit every home, new or old, and to fit the heating need of every room in the house.

5 WAYS YOU CAN HEAT ELECTRICALLY

1. Electic heating cables imbedded in ceiling, bathe the entire room in even, overall radiant warmth.
2. Wall panel electric heating units give a radiant warmth—are easily installed and space-saving.
3. Wall panel electric heating units that have fans for forced circulation of warm air.
4. Electric furnace, a compact central heating system, is easily combined with central air conditioning.
5. Electric baseboard units take the place of baseboards—are space-saving and attractive. Some heat by radiation, others have fans for warm air circulation.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Irish Hills Promoters Prepare For Big Summer

Irish Hills promoters are already getting fired up for another big summer season.

More than 40 met March 14 at Bauer Manor for dinner and a discussion of needs and conditions affecting the area.

Ivan Hunt presided at the meeting when Virgil Hane introduced Norman McCormick of Consumers Power Co., who is making a survey of the area to determine the probable placing of mercury vapor lighting.

Mr. McCormick stated that some of the benefits of good lighting are to reduce night-time accidents, prevent crime, boost business and stimulate community growth.

Ray Jackson, supervisor of Franklin Township, and Ronald Brown, supervisor of Cambridge Township, were present. Mr. Jackson stated that "anything taxpayers wanted and are willing to pay for they may have."

Bud Rogers led the discussion on the possibility of a rest area on US-12, with one ideal location between Hane's Service Station and The Mystery Hut.

Fred Bahlou spoke about the traffic congestion at the entrance to Hayes State Park on US-12.

Park Supervisor Murray Telesworth suggested that letters be sent to Lansing through his office concerning both the rest area and the entrance.

Mr. Telesworth said that there were 524,730 visitors at the park during the 1966 season and he expected a 15% increase this year. He said that camping sites will be doubled on a five-year plan, but no expansion for the day use area is planned. Presently there are 213 campsites. Incidents of rowdyism are expected to triple.

William Lowery of the Cambridge State Historial Park said that it is not expected the building formerly known as Walker Tavern will be opened until 1968. He said that much research has been done, but nothing pertinent has been discovered. He would appreciate any pictures of the building or data of the area concerning the period from 1838-1854. Restoration of the barn behind the building will begin soon.

Dorothy Grigg, representing The Tecumseh Herald, told of the annual summer distribution of 1,000 copies of the paper in the lakes area by special dispatch of two trucks and six carriers each Thursday morning.

Since 1963, Heralds have been placed on the door steps of every cottage and home on Sand, Evans, Wamplers, Allen and Wolf Lakes free of charge to the occupant. The program is underwritten by Tecumseh merchants who are anxious to have vacationers do their shopping here.

Many Helping Hands

Introduced at the Science Fair as "a man living on a jetstream," Congressman Marv Esch is coming to know the Tecumseh area better and better.

Flying in from Washington and then jetting back Sunday afternoon, the 2nd District representative was in town for two reasons.

There was the sixth annual display of student ingenuity in things scientific — always pretty amazing in its scope — at which Rep. Esch presented awards and gave a short talk.

During 45 minutes prior to his arrival at Tecumseh High School, he was huddled with two local businessmen in their Chicago Blvd. shop on an unusual problem. With his administrative assistant, Steve Stockmeyer, the Congressman conferred with Evel Garrido and Bill Heimerdinger, owners of Exclusives EvelDean.

Rep. Esch is lending his help in the problem Mr. Garrido faces as an alien who wishes to remain and work in the United States. Rep. Esch and Mr. Stockmeyer were greatly impressed with the custom clothing shop started by Evel and Bill.

At this time it appears as though Mr. Garrido's deportation orders, which said he must leave the country by April 2, will be rescinded and eventually work begun on a permanent resident visa for him.

Attorney John Zeigler has guided Evel through the treacherous trail of government forms and red tape, this despite the fact John underwent surgery early last week.

Joseph DeWeese, administrative assistant for Senator Robert Griffin, helped guide one set of papers through the mill, in such jig time that Alice Chambers from Rep. Esch's office dubbed it "top action."

DIRECTOR of Detroit's immigration office, Walter Sahli, said he received many expressions from people in Tecumseh and other areas concerning the Garrido case—and they're making an impact.

So, apparently, individual letters do carry weight with governmental officials.

Firm Plan for Quick Action

A lot of people will never forget 1965's Palm Sunday tornado which devastated much of Tipton, roared north of town and through Macon Township.

Until then twisters had been an occasional picture from Flint or Kansas, a television sweep through some far-away spot. But after tramping around Newburg corners and visiting Tipton, talking with victims who had a place to sleep the night before, but didn't know where they'd lay their head that evening was a heart-wrenching experience.

In reminiscing about the experience earlier this week, a Tecumseh man admitted that he cried when he visited Tipton the day after the twister hit. This certainly must have been a common experience.

The tornado season is about to arrive and we'd all be wise to prepare. Heaven help us if it hits again — and the odds are long — but it could happen.

Lenawee County has a unified warning and Thursday evening at 6 there will be a practice alert. When the city's fire sirens ring for two straight minutes, that's the time to take the action you would if a real tornado had been sighted.

It would be well to inventory needed emergency gear — particularly a transistor radio with fresh batteries, a flashlight in good working order. It wouldn't be a bad idea to carry some basic tools and a first aid kit.

Emergency instructions to each member of the family are also in order. Knowing what to do when disaster threatens is half the battle. Needless panic is averted if everyone quickly reports to the pre-arranged place in the home.

All-clear will be available only over WABJ and WLEN.

Thursday's warning will be a practice, but we'd better take it seriously.

If there is a steady, two-minute blast at any time other than Thursday at 6 p.m., you'll know a twister has been sighted and is heading into Lenawee County. Then you'll be glad to have a firm plan for quick action.

TRAGEDY TOUCHED TIPTON

Job Already Is Underway

With Michigan Week not due until May 21, we might think not much in the way of preparations will happen until about the second week in May.

But that sort of concluding is way off base.

Would you believe that Lenawee County chairman, Bob Webb, new personnel director at Fisher Body, is already whipping his team into action?

Community chairmen from all over Lenawee met with Bob last week and started to map preliminaries. Being brand, spanking new to the Wolverine State from Ohio, Mr. Webb seems extremely eager to learn all he can about his new state — and help fashion a top-notch Michigan Week.

We wish him well.

Judge Refuses To Move

He refused to move.

Probate Judge Boyd Baird of Otsego County was ordered to appear before another judge March 17 to explain his action in a contempt of court case there.

Judge Baird is the husband of the former Nancy Tingley, daughter of Mrs. Dale Tingley, 204 N. Pearl St.

The complicated legal maneuver began March 10 when Probate Court Judge Boyd Baird, 40, cited two members of the Board of Supervisors for contempt, ordered each fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Later that day, however, Circuit Court Judge Dennis O'Keefe rescinded the citation and ordered Baird to appear before him to show why the contempt proceedings should not be ended.

Baird's contempt action was directed against Stanley Magsig, chairman of the Otsego County Board of Supervisors and Robert Woods, chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee.

IT GREW out of the judge's displeasure at the temporary quarters assigned to the Probate Court in the Gaylord High School gymnasium.

ALL OFFICES in the courthouse were vacated two weeks ago so that demolition of the building could be started March 15.

A new courthouse will be constructed on the site.

Early in the week, however, Baird issued an order to Sheriff Ralph Holowinski to prevent interference with the probate court facilities.

Baird, declaring the space provided for his court in the high school gym was inadequate, said he would not move until the sheriff found quarters he considered suitable.

When Baird's office was moved despite his order, he took action against three members of the Board of Supervisors, issuing warrants for the arrest of Magsig, Woods and Alton McNett, chairman of the board's finance committee.

McNett was out of town, but Magsig and Woods were brought before the judge, found guilty of contempt and given a fine and jail sentence.

BAIRD ALSO ordered them to reinstate the probate court in its original quarters or in other quarters he felt suitable.

He then ordered another hearing for Monday, saying Magsig and Woods would be given the opportunity to declare their ability and willingness to purge themselves of the contempt.

Baird contended the court was obliged to maintain its independence and integrity and, if its orders were violated, the offenders would be compelled to answer contempt proceedings.

Before Baird's order could go into effect, however, the two defendants' attorney asked the Otsego County Circuit Court to issue a writ of supervisory control over the contempt proceedings.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A fellow could almost be called for treason uttering such an opinion, but here goes.

"Hello, Dolly!" is more ordinary than extra ordinary at least Tuesday night's performance at the Fisher Theatre was.

Gosh, I must really be getting old and crochety.

There were a couple of things that didn't help, like being seated way at the top of the upper balcony and having the curtain go up nearly 20 minutes late.

Carol Channing, who has done this show more than 1,500 times, was her charming self but at times she appeared maybe a mite tired, or was it just me?

The singing was excellent all the way around, especially the second female lead, Joanne Horne, who has a voice like a bird.

Gower Champion is Dolly's choreographer and his dance routines were striking. Minor players and the chorus were particularly delightful as they whirled around the stage.

But on the whole, I must have been way oversold on "Dolly" by all the advance praise.

It's a fine show, no question about that. But if I had my druthers, "Half A Six Pence" and "Fiddler On the Roof" would both rate above the Channing musical.

It's amazing how a show can vary from night to night. Actually, in thinking it over, I should probably conclude that Tuesday at the Fisher was one of those rare birds — a flat performance.

SO MUCH for the lighter side of life.

The NFO milk holding action, after 14 days, is beginning to make people realize the dairy farmer is still battling hard to get more for his efforts.

Thousands of pounds of milk are still going down the drain and into open fields daily, but maybe with somewhat less enthusiasm.

Picketing has been started at various dairies, adding one more burden to the poor farmer. He still must milk his cows morning and night, then toss out his product.

In between, he picks up a sign and trudges for hours in front of places like Producers Dairy in Adrian. This gives him time to think about the milk check he isn't getting, plus the mortgage and equipment payments he's going to have to meet.

In the evening, he heads for the daily NFO meeting.

Some life.

Lenawee County does have one distinction in the strike— more cash has been collected from non-dairy members of NFO to buy up milk for dumping than any county in the U. S.

The total by mid-week had reached $4,941, an amazing figure. It's too bad that there isn't some way the fellow dumping his own milk could be reimbursed from the kitty.

But they wouldn't accept it.

At one of the nightly NFO gatherings, this thought was brought on the floor by a beef feeder, who is helping raise the money.

"No, we don't want your money," shouted a dairy farmer.

From what we've heard, when a consumer gets the full facts, he has no objection to seeing the dairyman get 2c more per quart.

School Bell Award Goes to Herald

The Tecumseh Herald has been selected by the Michigan Education Association as recipient of one of the MEA School Bell Awards for 1967.

The Herald entry was cited for "strong and comprehensive 12-month coverage of public education".

Complete list of winners will be announced when awards are presented at the MEA Representative Assembly Friday, April 28 in Lansing.

Judges included representa tives of the Michigan Press Association, Michigan Association of Broadcasters, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Press-Radio-Television division of the National Education Association, and the president of the Michigan Education Association.

Longtime Britton Doctor Succumbs

Dr. Wilbert Claxton, Britton's physician for 39 years, succumbed to heart failure Tuesday at 3:45 p.m. in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had served other patients of this community for many years.

Dr. Claxton suffered a heart attack in 1961 and despite some recurrences, continued to care for his patients until about ten days ago.

On the staff of the hospital nearly from its founding, he served as chief of staff for four years during that time.

Born Jan. 10, 1897, in Columbia City, Ind., he was the son of Ira and Martha Zumbrun.

After graduation from Terre Haute, Ind., Teachers' College in 1915, he taught school for three years.

His marriage to Ethelyn Harger, Wauseon, O., took place March 28, 1927.

He served in the army during World War I and upon discharge attended classes at the University of Michigan, receiving his BA degree in 1923 and MD degree in 1926. He interned at Mercy Hospital, Jackson, and served as physician there one year before establishing his practice in Britton in 1928.

He has practiced there since with the exception of 4½ years in the army in World War II.

Dr. Claxton was a member of the Lenawee County and the Michigan Medical Societies, the American Medical Association and the Academy of General Practice.

He also was a member of the Tecumseh Chapter No. 69, F and AM and the Britton IOOF.

A testimonial dinner was held for the beloved doctor in April, 1963, with Britton residents and the hospital staff honoring him for his many years of dedicated unselfish service to his community.

A chapel room at the hospital arranged by the staff and the board of directors was dedicated at the same time.

Besides his wife, survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Martin Keasal, Tiffin, O., Mrs. Lloyd Cooley, Jr., of Britton, Mrs. Resat Demirtas, Edmonds, Wash., and Mrs. Richard Sundling, Bethlehem, Pa., and 11 grandchildren.

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Niblack Home For Funerals with the Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiating.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Friends who care to, may leave contributions for the Michigan Heart Association at the Funeral Home.

Eagle Award Goes to David Frownfelder

David Frownfelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frownfelder, 809 River Acres Dr., will be the recipient of the Boy Scout Eagle Award in ceremonies March 31.

The presentation will be made at a Court of Honor at the Community Center following a dinner and charter presentation.

Dinner will be served potluck style at 6 p.m.

Needed Now — Dads

After 10 years of well-organized play, Tecumseh's Cub League is in danger of folding.

Lack of interest by father is the reason.

More than 260 boys, 9 through 12, played in eight major and eight minor loop clubs last summer.

Commissioner Russ Hyatt, who wishes to retire after three years, told The Herald he can't get help to operate.

In fact, half of the uniforms from last year were never picked up when committee men in charge of this vital job didn't carry through.

FINANCES are no problem. The Cub League treasury contains nearly $2,000, which is for use to buy bats, ball, catching equipment and the maintenance of uniforms.

Team sponsors pay $50 per season and players hold an annual candy sale to raise needed cash.

The city recreation department furnishes umpires and keeps the diamonds in top condition.

Don Moffatt, director of recreation, says that his department cannot take over operation of the Cub activities.

NEED FOR help is immediate, states Mr. Hyatt. Registration of nine-year-old candidates for this year's play should be started in mid-April with tryouts in May.

A 15-game schedule is played by each team during summer months at diamonds near Tecumseh Acres School and Nelson Field, starting at 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Hyatt was among men who formed the junior baseball program in 1956. That summer about 110 youths took part.

WITH dedicated help by many men, like Stu Costigan Preston Caswell, Jan Kachur, Ben Gillies, Joe Dziachan, Harold Brion, Stan Rentschler, Wayne Hebb, Glenn Work, Tom Brooks and others, the program has flourished.

Dads, whose sons are taking part in the Cub League and who would like to help save the program should call Mr. Hyatt, 423-3223.

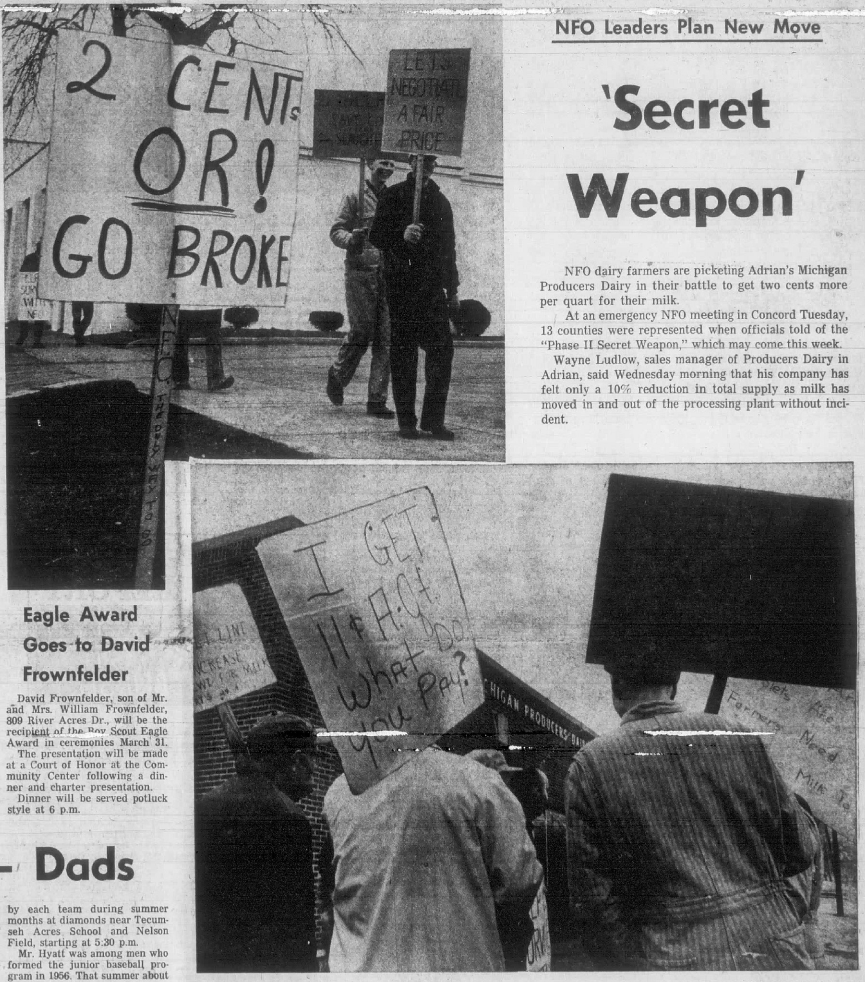
NFO Leaders Plan New Move

'Secret Weapon'

NFO dairy farmers are picketing Adrian's Michigan Producers Dairy in their battle to get two cents more per quart for their milk.

At an emergency NFO meeting in Concord Tuesday, 13 counties were represented when officials told of the "Phase II Secret Weapon," which may come this week.

Wayne Ludlow, sales manager of Producers Dairy in Adrian, said Wednesday morning that his company has felt only a 10% reduction in total supply as milk has moved in and out of the processing plant without incident.



HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

SLOGANS AND PICKETS — A wide variety of slogans dot the homemade posters carried by NFO Picketers in Adrian. "Help Save Cows From Slaughter," and "I Get 11c. What Do You Pay?" the old saw "Roses are Red" ended with "Farmers Need Money to Give Milk to You" on the placards. It's "Two Cents or Go Broke" and "Let's Negotiate a Fair Price" as far as the farmers are concerned.

Ronald Siwik Will Become Flight Surgeon

Ronald A. Siwik, husband of the former Rita Crosby and son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Siwik of Kalamazoo, is presently interning at Wayne County General Hospital. Upon completion of his internship in June, he will become a flight surgeon in the U.S. Air Force for two years.

He will enter the school of Aerospace Medicine, San Antonio, Texas and will later be stationed at Forbes AFB, Topeka, Kan.

Dr. Siwik received his bachelor of arts degree at Kalamazoo College and is a graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School.

He will report for duty July, 1967, accompanied by his wife and children, Steven and Julie.

A first lieutenant in the Reserves, he will be commissioned a captain upon entering active duty.

Lady Sparkplugs Action in Clinton

CLINTON — An idea and action follow in quick succession for Mrs. E. John Hoelzer.

Apparently, her philosophy is that the impossible only takes a few more telephone calls.

Two weeks ago she decided that something ought to be done about paneling the dining room in the United Church of Christ, since it was badly in need of redecoration.

The dining room is going to be used for several big events in the next month, for two church banquets, as well as for a Masonic dinner and a bridal gown revue by the women of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Hoelzer has been a member of the board of trustees of the church for several years and in January was named chairman of the board, so she felt a personal responsibility to see that the church building was in shape to receive guests.

So, the phone started ringing about town, and in just a few days she had accomplished the impossible — 45 wood panels have been pledged, and ordered, to be delivered Thursday.

A crew of women have volunteered to begin painting the trim. Skilled carpenters have agreed to donate time and supervision and church men are volunteering to apply the panels.

All this will be done before the April 8 deadline of the Masonic dinner, Alva says.

Girl Scouts, who have watched this feminine dynamo in action, at the area Day Camp for the past two years, will know Mrs. Hoelzer can do just about anything she decides to.

So, drive slowly when you pass the big white church on Tecumseh St. in Clinton, there will be a whirlwind in action there next week.

Visiting Parents

Pvt. Stephen Moore, after completing basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House. He will return to the same base for advanced training.

311 Tickets for Football Seats Sold

A total of 311 tickets have been sold in the drive for additional bleachers at the athletic field, 186 by the Rotary, 90 by the Exchange Club and 35 by other assisting school groups.

Clayton Greenwald of the Rotary Club said Wednesday morning, "Tecumsehites just haven't supported the drive as expected. We should have sold 250 tickets."

Rotary Club Safety Check To Be May 10

May 10 was the date set aside for Safety Check by the Tecumseh Rotary Club at the meeting Tuesday evening.

F. Stanley Johnson, Michigan coordinator of the Vehicle Safety Check program, will be a speaker at the meeting April 4.

He is loaned by the Buick Motor Car Co. for the program.

Hugh Walter suggested that girls who would like to participate in the Safety Queen contest should contact the automobile dealers soon.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Uncle Billy on the Linotype often confuses the make-up people by slugging this bit of nonsense as "In Front of Page Three." So in his honor we've decided to introduce some new artwork for spring . . . now isn't that a crying shame!!!

Golfers moan when they see it. Golf widows cheer. It's the front window display at Baldwin's Hardware. There sits a golf cart, bag, umbrella. The woods are in the proper compartment of the bag, but the other spaces are taken by a batch of garden tools. "Really a great set of irons," notes an accompanying sign.

Hoping for an increase over last year's attendance of approximately 350, members of Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary are urging advance purchase of tickets for the April 12 Salad Luncheon. In the Britton area, reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Walter Prill, 451-2635; in Tecumseh, Mrs. Jack Lundi, 423-3637, is handling ticket sales.

"She was really charging out," was the way the Rev. Ed. Pistole described a strange sight Thursday afternoon. A female deer came racing down Wyandotte St., past the Pistole home, heading for Chicago Blvd. Mr. Pistole leaped into his Volkswagen in hot pursuit, but the doe quickly disappeared after turning on the boulevard, sprinting west.

Rick Gartee, a student at Washtenaw Community College, has a new history textbook which states that, in 1837, Tecumseh was the fourth largest town in Michigan, exceded in size only by Monroe, Ann Arbor and Detroit. That means we were larger than cities like Flint, Ypsilanti and Grand Rapids. "Wot happened?" asks Rick.

Good Samaritan of the north end is Jim Shulters, 717 Seneca St., who regularly empties ashes from burning barrels of his neighbors.

Teenagers aren't going to horse around in Bob's Barber Shop anymore, we'd guess. When one lad got out of hand Monday, owner Bob Sturtevant tossed him right through the window in the door of his place.

"Mopsy" is the nickname residents on E. Logan have given to the shaggy black dog wandering around the neighborhood. The cross between a cocker and poodle is either lost or has been dumped, says Mrs. Al Caesar. She's found a home for him, "if I could catch him, but he's afraid of everyone," she says.

Tickets for the Junior Class production "Ah, Wilderness!" are now on sale at Sluyter Electric, Flanders Music Store and Gambles for $1 adults, 75c students. The play will be presented at the Tecumseh High School little theater April 12, 13 and 14 at 8 p.m.

With a window missing high up on the old Methodist Church, pigeons downtown have themselves a fine roosting place when they want to get under cover.

Rockwell - Standard Corporation and North American Aviation, Inc. are merging into a new corporation called North American Rockwell Corporation. Rockwell Standard sales were up $129 million over last year's total of $507 million. This strikes close to home because Al Meyer's pet plane is now a product of Aero Commander a division of Rockwell Standard.

Talks wax warmly on new school buildings. It might seem like an absolute impossibility, but that centralized high school for Britton, Clinton and Tecumseh has great potentials.

In Sunday's Detroit News the supplement This Week was devoted to a magnificent story, "God's Warriors," a history of the chaplain corps in our armed forces from the Revolution to Vietnam. Ask any ex-GI whom he held in the highest regard and chances are he'll name the chaplain of his outfit.

"Why, we even have seeds for the birds," grinned Joe Hayden, the Super Seed Salesman from Hayden Mills, as he bragged up his collection for garden, lawn, farm.

If you'd like to see some real pioneer-type tools, catch the display Earl Baldwin has at his hardware store. There are planes, screwdrivers, wooden mallets and other items, all belonging to his father-in-law, Roscoe Hewlett of Macon Rd.

Television brought us Cassius Clay and Lew Alcindor last week — and we're convinced. Clay's left hand goes as fast as his mouth, meaning he really can get off those jabs with lightning speed. Young Lew is tremendous around the hoop, even with three guys hanging on him. However, it should be quickly added that Lew has some fabulous teammates and they deserve plenty of praise for the year's successes.

$15 Million Goes to Research

More than one-third of all funds contributed to the American Cancer Society is invested in research — over $15 million in 1966.

By 1970, the society hopes to be able to "Close some of the critical gaps in cancer research" with "a minimum annual expenditure of $20 million for sound projects."

This estimate Joe Fortunato, crusade chairman of the Lenawee County unit of the society, said today, "Is based on experience in making research grants over a period of more than 20 years."

Each year, according to Mr. Fortunato, the society is faced with the problem of not having sufficient funds to support all research projects that scientific advisory committees approve and recommend.

The chairman said, "Critical gaps exist in the research attack on cancer at a time when promise is high. There is not only urgent need for the development and exploration of new ideas, but also need for more trained and qualified research scientists. We have been told by scientists who know the problem that researchers in many institutions are hindered by a chronic shortage in funds."

More funds are needed, he said, to find the answers to such questions as:

Why does an individual get cancer while another appears to be resistant?

Why do cancer patients lose weight and develop anemia?

What is the role of body defense mechanisms against cancer?

Is there a fundamental difference in cancers that strike people of different age?

What factors influence the spread of cancer?

THE AMERICAN Cancer Society is currently supporting more than 1,000 key scientists at home and abroad — at home through grants to individual scientists and research institutions; abroad through Eleanor Roosevelt International Fellowships administered by the International Union against Cancer.

Dr. Charles Glassick of Adrian College has been the recipient of grants from the American Cancer Society for research at our local institution.

The American Cancer Society's research effort is closely coordinated with reports of the government and other fund-granting groups.

INCREASED FEDERAL support does not diminish the need for the research program of the society which can be more flexible and imaginative with expenditures.

To avoid monopoly, to give researchers a choice and to spark the "risk" type of research, increased private funds are required for scientific investigation.

More important, however, is the fact that federal funds remain inadequate for support of all projects recommended. The work of voluntary agencies is vital to keeping interest high, activity alive and giving fresh air to the attack on cancer.

The society's fellowship and scholarship program for advanced training for young doctors and dentists is closely related to its research program. It is very important that every community have available the best qualified professional skill to translate research findings into clinical practice.

Of the millions spent on cancer research in the last 20 years, results have been very profitable, promises even greater. There have been breakthroughs.

Uterine cancer is almost 100% curable if detected at a very early stage and this early detection has been made possible by the development of the pap test.

Research has established that most lung cancers are caused by cigarette smoking and most skin cancers by frequent exposure to direct sunlight.

Additional advances must come through new research approaches or through new techniques applied to old approaches.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Committee activity is at its peak this week in the Legislature. At the same time action on fiscal reform is taking place both on the floor of the Senate and the floor of the House.

Unless the deadline for reporting bills out of committee is extended beyond Thursday, March 30, an estimated 800 Senate bills and 2,000 House bills will have been disposed of in some fashion by the end of this week. Under a schedule adopted earlier in the session, Thursday is the last day for committee action on bills in committees in the house where they were first introduced.

In the legislative process history has a way of repeating itself. If it does this week a great majority of bills will not be reported out of committees. Many of the bills are so inconsequential or so unnecessary that it takes but a glance of the committee members to determine that they do not warrent further consideration.

Others are so obviously important and well conceived that they draw quick committee approval for reporting to the floor.

BUT BETWEEN these two extremes are many which require extensive discussion and often several amendments before they are ready to be reported out.

The heaviest load of bills in the Senate has been before the Judiciary Committee, which listed 153 measures. This was followed by State Affairs with 137 bills and Taxation with 70.

The Committee on Agriculture and Economic Development has had only 18 bills but several of major importance including the "Metropolitan Transportation Authority" act which I am sponsoring. This bill will be fully discussed next week in this column.

But of all the bills before committees or on the floor, taxation and appropriation bills are of primary interest.

Uncertainty of the financial situation facing the state in the next few months pervades over all other pending legislation.

The principal topic of legislative discussion these days is whether the governor's fiscal reform package will ultimately pass the Legislature, if not in the regular session then in a special session later in the year.

The next regular meeting will be held May 16 with a Food Demonstration given by Una Iott, Home Economist, Consumer Power Company.

The meeting will be held at the Consumer Power Service Center in Adrian.

Imports Pose Dire Threat

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Dairy product imports are posing a real threat to Michigan dairy farmers, Michigan Milk Producers Association reports.

Manufacturing milk prices dropped 37c per hundredweight by December, due to dairy imports.

The estimated effect will be a reduction in income of over $600 per year for the average commercial dairyman in Michigan.

Quotas imposed on dairy imports in July, 1953 are being invaded by "evasion" such as the creation of a new name "Colby" for a cheese, to get around the control on an almost identical cheddar cheese.

LAST YEAR imports equalled 10% of the total U.S. ice cream market, due to the use of imported butterfat - sugar mixes, with the proportions altered just enough to evade any import restrictions.

In 1966, dairy imports equalled 2½ billion pounds of milk. The Department of Agriculture says that in 1967, imports should reach 3½ billion pounds of milk equivalent. This, while the quota level remains at less than 190 million pounds of milk equivalent.

More than 40 U.S. Senators, including Philip A. Hart of Michigan, are sponsoring a bill, S. 612, which would simply forbid the Secretary of Agriculture to allow any imports of butterfat or milk products, from anywhere, in any form, from coming into the United States in excess of the five year (1961 - 65) average.

Advise your Senator or Representative if you support this Dairy Import Act of 1967, urges Glenn Lake, president of MMPA.

Open Letter to the Consumer

WE MEMBERS OF the National Farmers Organization (NFO) would like to present some statistical facts concerning the present milk holding action. We feel that the public must be aware of the circumstances prompting this action. DOES THE CONSUMER REALIZE THAT:

1. Carbonated beverages are more expensive than milk?
2. Beer is more expensive than milk . . . by far?
3. Between 1947 and 1951 the average shop-worker's salary was $55 per week and at that time the farmer received 9.2 cents for a quart of milk. The 1966 shop income figure is $109. a week. At this same rate of increase the farmer should be getting 17½ cents per quart. The present price the farmer receives is 11 2/3 cents.
   From this price the farmer must pay for hauling his milk from his farm to the dairy. In addition to this the dairy farmer's income must cover the cost of feed, buildings, seed, land, fertilizer, machinery, hired labor, taxes, and if anything left, his living.

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that 3½ billion pounds of milk equivalent will be shipped into this country during 1967, which will further depress the price that the dairy farmer will receive for his product.

Now . . . for Our 'Two Cents Worth'

Conservatively speaking the dairy farmer's day starts at 5 a.m. and ends at 7:30 p.m. This is EVERY day, EVERY week, EVERY month, EVERY year . . . at the mercy of the elements . . . all for 47 cents per hour.

In this country the consumer spends 18.2 cents of each after-tax-dollar for food. In Russia the figure is 53 cents, in Italy 45 cents and in England 29 cents.

DO YOU HONESTLY THINK THAT THE TWO CENTS A QUART INCREASE IN MILK AT THE FARM LEVEL IS UNREASONABLE?

March 25 — Gary H. Dauber, 18, of 1296 E. Munger turned out of the parking lot onto N. Pearl, striking a parked car driven by Raymond D. Stuart of 716 Wenonah.

March 27 — Dennis Lee DeMille, 28, of Blissfield attempted to squeeze by a truck blocking the road on Russell Rd., striking it. The parked truck, driven by Boise E. Matheny, 28, of 706 Occidental, was backed against Wolf's Appliance with truck cab jackknifed on the road so the tractor part of it headed east in the westbound lane.

Audience Will View Deep Gorge

State Line Gem and Mineral Society meets Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Tecumseh Community Center.

The program will be conducted by Ellis W. Courter, president of the Midwest Mineralogical and Geological Societies.

He'll take the group on a trip, via color slides and narration, into the Grand Canyon to the Colorado River deep within the innermost gorge — a spot completely missed by most canyon visitors.

Guests are welcome.

Refreshments will be served following the program, and members are reminded to bring donations of rocks for the auction for the Rock Swap.

Job Opportunities Displayed at Penta

Job opportunities for those who are prepared will be the theme at the Open House and Technical Clinic at Penta Technical College and Vocational High School April 9 from 1 - 7 p.m.

Penta is located on Oregon Road just south of the Village of Northwood, O.

Students of all levels and interests, parents and friends as well as the general public are invited to attend.

Exhibits will be displayed by over 30 major companies in the Greater Toledo area and narrated color slides will also be presented.

The clinic will depict the kinds of job opportunities available to graduates of two-year technical colleges and vocational high schools.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

It has been said that the true measure of a society is how well it treats its elderly citizens.

Judged by this standard, we have reason to be proud of our state.

Through a series of programs, this Administration has made Michigan one of the leading states in the nation in assistance to the elderly. We have gone a long way toward making it possible for those who have helped build the state in the past to continue to live in dignity.

For example, we have removed from the old age assistance and the medical assistance programs provisions which had required the elderly to give a lien on their homes in order to get help.

In the same manner, the limit on the market value of an elderly person's home was eliminated from consideration in determining his eligibility for assistance.

Ceilings were removed from the amount of aid an elderly person could receive under the old age assistance program.

In addition, the Commission on Aging has helped 37 communities to establish councils on aging and has provided technical assistance to 31 comunities regarding housing for the elderly. The Commission also has funded 17 projects designed to provide services to the elderly.

TWO YEARS AGO, we obtained passage of legislation which provided tax exemptions on the homes of the elderly who are living on fixed, low-level incomes.

Last year, Michigan became one of the first states to take advantage of federal legislation which permitted establishment of state Medicaid programs.

Unfortunately, there has been a great deal of misunderstanding about the services available under this program.

THOSE MOST in need — old age assistance recipients, the blind, the disabled and dependent children — now are having their medical needs met by the programs.

Direct payments are made for hospitalization, nursing home care, drugs and medicines prescribed by a doctor, and the physician's services in a hospital, nursing home, a patient's home or the doctor's office.

As a result, about one quarter of a million Michigan citizens who are most in need are no longer faced with the distressing choice of using assistance payments for needed medical services or for other needed services, such as housing, food and utilities.

This is an enriched program. But it is not all we would like to do.

Unquestionably, other people living on restricted incomes need additional medical services.

However, the ability of the State to provide such services under existing revenues makes the issue not one of philosophy but of living within the state's income, just as the elderly are forced to live within their incomes.

If we are to provide services to additional persons — those designated as medically indigent — we will need additional revenues to pay for these services.

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

Ah, the joys of a good night's sleep.

Had a great time at our house on Spring's eve . . . no party but quite a time.

And every mother has been through it.

The schedule was:

6:30 p.m. — Supper when the kids pour into the house after rolling in the wet snow, screaming, "Oh boy, maybe there won't be any school tomorrow" (Panic).

8 p.m. — Brave the snow to attend meeting.

10:30 p.m. — Home from meeting in the rain, exhausted, take nice hot bath, catch up on daily news with Jim, run upstairs to check the sleeping angels.

11:15 p.m. — Watch Sonny Eliot to find out what weather will be like tomorrow. Give the five new week-old puppies and mother Precious a final goodnight pat.

11:30 p.m. — Hit the sack, Jim turns over and is asleep.

11:45 p.m. — Can't sleep, turn on light, start to thumb through book that have been meaning to read for several weeks . . . . always fall asleep during the first chapter.

Midnight — Precious barking, wake up Jim to see why . . . Just a dog outside.

2 a.m. — Finish book, getting sleepy, shut off light.

2:15 a.m. — zzzzz — Kerthunk! Jacqueline, who is sleeping in bottom bunk with Jennifer, falls out of bed. Dash upstairs and get her settled down. Jody, sleeping on top bunk with Jill, pops up her head and groans, "Mommy, Jill stinks and she's all wet."

Move Jody into other bedroom to sleep in Jacqueline's bed, change Jill and try to put her into own bed while she's yelling, "I want to sleep with Jody" Jody is moaning, "I hate to sleep with Jill."

2:45 a.m. — Back to bed.

3 a.m. — zzzzzz — Precious strolls into bedroom. What a cold nose! Get up and put her out.

3:10 a.m. — Let Precious in . . . back to bed.

3:15 a.m. — zzzzzz — Puppy starts to yelp. I think, "Quit sitting on your baby, you dumb dog."

3:30 a.m. — Puppy still crying. "Maybe it's stuck." Get up to see, puppy has crawled out of box and can't get back in. Precious, curled up in nest looks indignant, "How come you took so long?" Give each one a final goodnight.

3:30 a.m. — Back to bed.

4 a.m. — Can't sleep, eyeballs are falling out of my head. Go into living room and glassily stare out at the fog.

4:15 a.m. — My, this davenport is comfy, but my feet are cold. There's Jacqueline's slacks on the floor, I'll just slip them over . . . . zzzzzzz.

8 a.m. — Hey Mom, what are you doing with my slacks on your feet?

Holy Cats! Is it late! Hurry! Hurry! Hurry!

8:55 a.m. — Yelling at the kids to hurry up while cleaning off the car windshield. "Gee whiz Mom, I don't know how come you're so grumpy."

Millage Vote Is Monday

BRITTON — Voters in the Britton-Macon School District will decide Monday whether or not to accept a two-year proposed five-mill increase for the local school operation.

The increase is added onto the current five mills which expire this year, bringing the total millage question to 10 mills.

The election will be held April 3 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the school study hall.

The administration says present millage is inadequate for today's needs and the additional millage will offset decreased revenue and enable the board to meet the costs of remodeling and an expected increase in teachers' salaries.

According to the school board, teachers' salary schedule, which at $5,100, is the lowest in Lenawee County, will have to be raised in order for the school to compete with other schools in the area next fall.

The cafeteria was remodeled last year at a cost of over $15,000. Fire doors and new ceilings were installed to meet some of the requirements of the State Fire Marshal.

A new elementary teacher was added to eliminate combination rooms and to avoid crowded conditions.

German Pretzels Demonstrated at Hobby Club

TIPTON — The Franklin Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Ernst March 16. Mrs. Barbara Bailey made Easter tray favors for the nursing homes in Tecumseh and the shut-ins.

The hostess demonstrated the making of German pretzels and some were made.

Ceramics will be the topic for the April meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Richard Eisenminger.

Mrs. Florine Burns received the mystery gift. Ten members and two guests were present. Mrs. Raymond Stockinger helped with the pretzels.

Cards were sent to the sick and it was voted to make more baby garments for the Red Cross.

The hostess served refreshments of coffee, pretzels and birthday cake for two members whose birthdays are in March.

Poor Food Creates Wild Fawn Loss

EAST LANSING — Need for scientific deer management has been illustrated by recent research showing high fawn death rates and undernourished deer, according to a Michigan State University Extension wildlife specialist.

MSU's Charles Shick says that deer nutrition studies recently completed by Pennsylvania State University showed conditions similar to those found in Michigan.

Physical condition of white-tailed deer reflect the food supply of the area.

The most recent findings show that captive female does on well-balanced rations produce more fawns than wild does of the same age.

Losses of fawn in the wild may amount to 40% or more, the research reports, due to nutritional deficiencies in does and fawns in oversized herds.

Average weights of deer on good versus poor quality range show the effect of nutrition. Females 2 - 4 years old, fed well-balanced rations, weighed an average of 134 pounds in the fall. In comparison, wild does of the same age average about 98 pounds.

Antler development among bucks also reflect the quality and quantity of browse on a deer range. Low body weight and poor antler development, especially among yearling bucks, indicate poorly fed deer.

Sound deer management will produce the biggest deer, and more of them.

Eye and Hearing Tests Available for Pre-Schoolers

Vision and hearing screening are being made available again this year by the Lenawee County Medical Society, the Lenawee County Health Department and and the Michigan Department of Public Health for all children from three and one-half to preschool kindergarten. age.

The screening will help uncover eye and ear disorders which, after correction, will result in the children entering school better eqipped to handle their learning tasks.

A major aim of the program is to prevent one-eyed blindness. This condition, commonly referred to as "the lazy eye" can very often be corrected at the age of three or four years, but becomes a permanent blind eye at the age of seven or eight years.

It is estimated that over 5,000 children each year are destined to be blind in one eye in Michigan. Some will be found in Lenawee County.

Just as a child may not see well without being blind, he may not hear well without being deaf. One cannot detect a slight hearing loss by talking to a child. Only a special instrument (audiometer) can pick up the hearing loss when it is beginning, the time when treatment is most helpful.

The screening, free of charge to parents, will be conducted during the Months of April, May and June. Clinics will be set up in local areas throughout Lenawee County.

Mrs. Katheryn Condon, vision technician, and Mrs. Vivian Turnwald, hearing technician, will do the screening, Mrs. Esther Casterline is coordinating the program.

Application letters have been sent to the parents of eligible children and have also been distributed by all schools. The application forms are to be completed and returned to the local schools or mailed to the Lenawee County Health Department as soon as possible.

Past Chief's Club Meets

Mrs. Neva Jacobs and Mrs. Harry Schuch were the hostesses for the Tecumseh Past Chiefs' Club meeting at the Pythian Hall Thursday evening.

Mrs. Cecile Smith presided at the meeting when members decided to dispense with the April meeting in deference to the District Convention for the Pythian Sisters the same day.

Cards were signed to send to shut-in members.

Hostesses for May meeting will be Mrs. Harry Carney and Mrs. Walter Hizer.

Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Carney, Mrs. Lynn Hubbard and Mrs. Verdi Skinner.

Members were seated at a table decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's Day for refreshments served by the hostesses.

Original Designs Will Be Featured at Fashion Show

A complete showing of original designs by Exclusives EvelDean is being sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Tecumseh Methodist Church Monday, April 10 at 8 p.m. in the Products Union Hall.

The two young men responsible for these fashions have stated that this will be the only showing this year in the entire area from Monroe to Jackson and Albion and north to Ann Arbor.

Preparation for such an affair requires hours of work and coordination between the models, designers, musician and sponsoring group.

Tickets are now available at Flanders Music Store in Tecumseh or Nixon's Music Store in Adrian. Ticket chairmen, Mrs. Erwin Buss, 3-4515 and Mrs. Don Purkey, 3-2252 also are taking orders for tickets at a cost of $1.50.

The Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor of the Tecumseh Church of Nazarene, used as his subject, "Once Dead - Yet Alive Forevermore."

Steve VanValkenburg gave the call to worship and Elizabeth Fielder, the invocation.

Barbara Clark, assisted by Steve Van Valkenburg and Bob Murray Jr., led the hymns - sung by about 250 attending.

Steven Maples and Jamie McWilliams were the guitar players.

Richard Butler served as the adult advisor for the service arranged by the youth of Tecumseh area churches.

Easter Eggs Hatch Gift for Patients

Mrs. Arthur Sommers, 107 S. Maiden Lane, has a money order for $100, which she is sending to Bethseda Lutheran Home at Watertown, Wisc.

The home is for 650 mentally retarded and physically handicapped children and adults — and has a long waiting list.

For several years Mrs. Sommers has been making and decorating sugar molded Easter eggs to serve at the church Easter breakfast.

This year, she decided she could accomplish a more worthwhile purpose if she made and sold the eggs with the proceeds going to the Bethseda Lutheran Home.

Displayed in the American Legion Home, the VFW Hall, Marilyn's Beauty Shop and Denny's Tavern, some 230 eggs were sold, netting $100 for Mrs. Sommers' proect. She's grateful to all the folks who helped make it a success.

Mrs. Sommers reflected, "Isn't it wonderful what a little Christian togetherness can do and isn't it a pity the world isn't full of it?"

Washington Report by Congressman MARVIN L. ESCH

The first three months of the 90th Congress have been particularly challenging for me. The awesome experience and opportunity of being your U. S. Representative is one which my family and I will never forget.

Although the season has been relatively slow in getting off the ground a few significant pieces of legislation have been passed and others are under intensive study and preparation.

Noteworthy among those which have recently passed the House is a tax incentive for business in the form of investment tax credits and acceleration depreciation schedules.

Designed to simulate economic growth, this measure passed the House by a vote of 386-2 and was supported by the President. The 7% tax credit should encourage industry to modernize and expand production by stimulating investments in new machinery and equipment.

The purpose of accelerated depreciation is to spur a new business expansion by allowing higher tax deductions for depreciation in the early years of a building's life than are allowed in its later years.

Actually what we have done here amounts to a tax cut. This may come as a surprise to those who have been expecting the 6% tax increase as proposed by President Johnson. But, as I am rapidly discovering, Washington works in strange ways. Rationale for the advocation of both tax cut and tax increase has yet to come forth from the White House.

REGARDLESS of this inconsistency, sufficient support for a tax increase has not seemed to develop in Congress on either side of the isle. To give a tax break one day and take it back the next just does not make sense. In the meantime, we must continually be on our guard to eliminate non-essential federal spending.

Much of my time in the past three weeks has been spent in Education and Labor Committee hearings on the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1967.

Comprised mainly of amendments to the first such act passed in 1965 this measure purports to expand assistance for state and local educational planning and provide increased assistance for specialized educational programs such as that for the handicapped.

While the purposes for the most part are worthy, the administration of the act leaves much to be desired. Problems center around the adverse effects of late appropriations on local planning a maze of red tape and paper work required of local schoo boards and generally poor communications between the U.S Office of Education and loca boards.

The challenge before my committee is one of immediate improvement in these areas and a future report will describe the fruits of our efforts.

Local Deer Mix It Up with Autos

Area drivers became aware o the deer population in sad fashion Sunday.

Robert L. Jett, 19, of 1562 Wellwood Rd., Tipton, struck a deer as it dashed into the side of his car on M-52 south of US-1 at 2 a.m. Clinton State Police permitted him to keep the deer.

At 5:40 p.m., Lester L. Goodson, 74, of Toledo, was driving on M-50 near Gilbert Hwy., when his car struck a deer which darted in front of him.

Through My Window

A STAMP OF APPROVAL

The quick acceptance of the new feeder was encouraging. It came into the yard last fall and, almost as soon as feed was put on the feeding tray, the birds started investigating. Well, after a long hard winter of use — also winter of long hard use — I am happy to report that it has been a great success.

Had we kept a guest book, most of the winter's free-loaders would have signed in. The pert and cocky little tufted titmice, the up-side-down nuthatches, the obnoxious grackles and starlings, the downy woodpeckers and the bluejays all enjoyed indoor dining.

Although the cardinals did patronize the new feeder, they occasionally seemed a bit reluctant. Papa C. would sit on the oustide perch and carefully consider the situation before hopping up to the tray.

Mourning doves did not venture inside often but the hairy woodpeckers found it much to [illegible] as did the flickers. The sparrows of course mobbed it — don't they everything?

THIS WAS a marvelous winter for a covered feeding station — without protection it would have been almost impossible to keep ahead of the snow and rain.

Why say "would have", it was impossible.

Our old standby feeder, the one near the window which is so good for picture taking and close looking, is an uncovered tray. I will not even venture a guess as to how many inches of snow it held during the winter — it was a rough season.

Bluejays and cardinals did not seem to mind getting their faces in the snow and the juncos, what few we had, the tree sparrows and the song sparrows ate at the old feeder exclusively. Most of the birds, however, seemed grateful for a bit of shelter.

The new feeder has three sides of glass and thus we had easy viewing access to who was free-loading.

funniest customers were the squirrels. There had been some question as to whether these characters could shinny up the skinny pole and scramble into the feeder — well, they can! There was no trouble at all. No, I must amend that.

There is one poor squirrel who even now has not solved the problem. He struggles to the top of the pole and then, rather dejectedly, loosens his grip and slowly slides down. It is almost sad to see.

THIS NEW FEEDER has afforded some rather unexpected good looking. It leads a double life. In addition to being a marvelous and well-patronized banquet hall, it is a great weather vane.

The original intent of it being designed to swivel in the wind was, of course, to keep the open side away from the storms, thus keeping birds and food dry. We have, however, enjoyed keeping track of the wind direction.

And wow, what a winter it was for wind — howling gales raced through and many days the feeder twirled around like a whirling dervish.

So it is that we join the birds and squirrels in giving the covered feeding station a great big stamp of approval.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

Wildlife authorities have argued for years that Michigan, the Wolverine State, has never been the home of the Wolverine. They contend that the only wolverines ever found in Michigan were in the form of furs brought in by Canadian trappers.

The authorities are wrong on that one.

It was October 8, 1871, about a week before the famed Peshtigo fire in Wisconsin which burned 1,500 people, that a strange animal came splashing across the Menominee River into Michigan.

A 10-year-old lad, George Primo, was leaning on a stick as he stood on a knoll watching the parade of wildlife fleeing ahead of one of many uncontrolled fires in Wisconsin. Even at this early age he was familiar with most forms of wildlife but now he saw one he couldn't identify.

The peculiar animal came ashore, fairly well spent, then ambled up behind a French trapper's shack where the family dog was sleeping. Immediately the dog and the animal were battling and the trapper's wife saw the dog was getting far the worst of it.

SHE GRABBED a broom and went to the dog's aid. At the same time, George came running with his stick to enter the fracas and between them they finally killed the creature. Neither, however, was able to identify what it was they killed.

A few days later George went back and the trapper, who had returned by then, told him the animal was a "carcajou." This still meant nothing to him till years later when George entered a Marquette barbershop and saw an identical animal mounted on a shelf. The barber told him it was a wolverine.

George Primo, a French trapper and hunter, related his story to Ford Kellum in 1945 when the two men were neighbors in the little northern Michigan town of Amasa in Iron County. A keen student of nature, Kellum at that time wrote up an elaborate account of Primo's story for his own files.

WE FIRST read this factual account when Kellum was district game manager at Traverse City. He was later transferred to Gaylord by the Conservation Department when the Traverse City and Baldwin district offices were wiped out by ill-advised reorganization efforts.

Kellum's files also contain one other account of a wolverine once living in Michigan. A Milwaukee newspaper, in its March 20, 1860 edition, reported the trapping of a strange animal caught by a German trapper "at Marquette, near Lake Superior."

After reading this account, Dr. William Burt, mammologist at the University of Michigan, declared the animal, trapped February 15, 1860, could have been nothing but a wolverine.

Thus, it would appear that despite what other wildlife authorities might say, the wolverine did indeed once live in Michigan, the Wolverine State!

Mrs. McClain Tells Garden Club Story of Birds

Mrs. E. L. McClain spoke on "Our Feathered Friends" March 17 when 12 members of the Tecumseh Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Douglas Sisson.

Mrs. McClain presented a recording of bird calls and told about the habits of the Blue Jay, Cardinal, Evening Grosbeak, Cedar Waxwing and Mocking and Humming birds.

She told about offering nesting materials, string, grasses, wool yarn, etc., to the birds in wire sausages hung in trees and shrubs. She remarked that it is amusing to watch them pick and choose what they want.

Mrs. Archie Dunsmore presided at the meeting when members reported calling on shut-ins and hospitalized persons in keeping with the spring project of the club.

It was announced that two members, Mrs. Don Heesen and Mrs. Al Helzerman, are both patients at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Also announced was the 36th annual meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan and the Sixth State Flower Show in May at Dearborn Inn and the Henry Ford Museum.

Mrs. William Love served a salad topped with a tinted green sauce in keeping with St. Patricks Day.

Mary Robison Weds Donald Rentschler

Mary Lou Robison and Donald Alfred Rentschler were united in marriage Saturday evening by the Rev. Ronald Corl at the Macon Methodist Church.

White gladioli, lighted tapers and ferns enhanced the altar for the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Manley Edward Robison of Saline and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rentschler of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. James Thomas played nuptial music on the organ and accompanied the soloist Edward Clark.

The bride wore a bouffant gown of white organza and lace as she entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father.

Her veil of illusion was secured to a crown of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Richard Weisenreder was her sister's matron of honor in a turquoise brocade ensemble. She carried a pink camellia surrounded by pink gladioli and carnations.

Bernice Wenk and Bonnie Gaiser, both sisters of the bride, were her maids, attired as the matron of honor.

Diane Gaiser, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Brenda Rentschler, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid.

Austin Robison, brother of the bride, served as best man. The 250 guests were seated by Manley Robison, also a brother of the bride, Dennis Perkins and David Nabesk.

David Robison, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

A four-tiered heart-shaped cake made by the bride's mother, was featured in the refreshments served at the reception at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall for 450 guests.

Mrs. Manley Robison, Jr., and Mrs. Austin Robison assisted with the serving.

Both of the young people are graduates of Saline High School. They will live at 4541 W. Ellsworth Rd. after a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

The rehearsal dinner was held in the basement of the Macon Church.

VOICE of THE HERALD

A World of Difference

A bunch of business and professional men around Lenawee County are finding that being in good physical condition can make a world of difference — all to the good.

They're taking advantage of the new YMCA facilities by participating in a noon physical fitness program.

At times, there is some grumbling about the pace set by Walt Kerley, the Y's physical director who conducts the class, but when it's over, they sing Walt's praises.

A long-time expert in helping the middle-aged fellow get a new lease on life through exercise, Walt actually babies his charges along, gradually building up the tempo over a period of weeks.

The fellows report they feel great after a workout which, besides the exercises, also may include a little volleyball, some paddleball, a fast dip in the pool.

A case in point is Tecumseh's artist-in-residence, Russell Steinke, who reports that before he joined the course around the first of the year, he was flabby and uninspired. His output at the easel was nil. Inspiration was gone.

After a few workouts under the watchful eye of Mr. Kerley, there was Russ with a new spring in his walk and ample supplies of energy. His paint brushes have fairly been flying of late.

Mr. Kerley reports that, sometime in April, he will begin a series of cardio-vascular fitness tests for men taking regular exercises. He'll be checking pulse recovery capabilities with a "step test" — when the testee steps up and down off an 18" bench for a prescribed number of times and then has his pulse recorded to see how quickly it can return to normal.

He says that within a month's time, with regular exercise, a fellow can note definite improvement in his heart's ability to do its job.

Enter Synthetic Products

"Farmers must reduce the price to the consumer of milk," warned Ronald Barrett, University of Illinois economist, in the April issue of Farm Journal.

Mr. Barrett suggests that synthetic milk products are already in widespread use in the country, especially in California.

Housewives have become familiar with the whipping cream, butter and cheese substitutes available everywhere. Now, a milk substitute is said to taste just like "nature's almost perfect food" we grew up on, and it's cheaper.

Go one step farther and ask the man of the house if he's ready for the vegetable substitute for that juicy broiled steak he ordered for dinner. With enough seasoning he might not know the difference.

The American consumer has been the most fortunate in the world, until now, because the American farmer was willing to produce great surpluses of food for an ever-decreasing return.

If the farmer should suddenly decide he had to receive a living wage for his labors, the American consumer could well find all his foods were ersatz, at the same time his standard of living was the highest in the world, permitting him every other luxury for which he was willing to pay an inflated price.

Traffic Hazard Needs Attention

It doesn't take a traffic expert to realize that there's a problem and hazard Sunday morning on N. Union St. by St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

During services there, parishioners' cars clog both sides of the street, leaving a narrow avenue for passing vehicles. In winter months, when snow and ice prevented cars from being parked next to the curb, this avenue was even smaller.

This problem is aggravated further when church services are over. With no sidewalk on the east side, families and youngsters often flock to the street, in between and around the cars.

Motorists have to slow to a walking pace.

The problem was brought up at the last City Council meeting and Councilman Paul Burns, a member of St. Elizabeth's, said he would discuss it with church officials.

To correct the situation, there are several alternatives.

Elimination of parking on one side of Union St. is probably the first step. This would necessitate enlargement of the church parking lot — an expensive proposition.

The growth of St. Elizabeth parish over the past 25 years has been tremendous. It once was only a mission of Clinton's St. Dominic Church with a priest from there coming to Tecumseh for Sunday services. St. Elizabeth had a membership of about 50 people in the early 40's.

Today there are 1,200 attending the three Sunday masses. During each, both sides of Union St. are jammed with parked cars.

Remedies should be studied by both the church and the city with some action taken for improvements.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

In Tecumseh High School it is stipulated that certain stairs are for down only and when a student is caught going up this stairway they are let known that it is for down only, yet this stairway is constantly being used as an up stairway by faculty members. Aren't we all equal. If they are permitted to do this, why aren't we?

The principal is so intent on seeing that the public image is not destroyed that he carries on about our mode of apparel, he sees that our hair is not too long, he makes sure that the skirts are not too short, and the necklines are not too low.

Yet some students are allowed to congregate and smoke every morning and every night on the school grounds, which is supposed to be strictly against the rules. Is it too much to ask to have this stopped? In my opinion I believe that our school's reputation has been damaged more by this than any wearing of the so-called outlandish mod look.

Recently our Student Council adopted a new dress code of which a few of the students didn't approve, they demonstrated by wearing clothes that clashed. They were not only harassed by fellow students but they were also lectured to by the principal. In the United States the law provides that we may have the right to demonstrate peacefully. Will some person please tell me why we were called down for such action?

In conclusion what I am saying is that the students have some rights and these have been grossly violated. My wish is not to hinder but to help bring to light some of the more obvious violations.

Sincerely yours,
A Student.

TO THE EDITORS:

I want to take this opportunity to tell you how much I enjoy reading The Herald — so many new names and changes made. I'll be lost when I do make the trip back home.

I met Maxine Alpers who used to live at Brookside Farms. We both work for Butte County Maxine in the Recorder's Office and I in the Clerk's Office.

We didn't know each other when we lived in Tecumseh.

Please change my mailing address to P. O. Box 243. The vandals have been out in force. We have replaced our mail box twice so now we have a P. O. Box.

20 Pages — Ten Cents

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

One of the earliest influences on my newspaper career was a fellow named Marshall Dann.

He was a first-line sports writer for the Free Press when World War II got started.

This may surprise some present-day youths, but a lot of guys wanted in the action and Matty selected the navy.

Seeking a commission, he was told he needed a college degree to qualify. Matty had been a Michigan Stater for nearly four years, but neglected the sheepskin romp due to the opening at the Morning Friendly.

So Matty put a reverse twist on the drop-out act and quit his job to return to the classroom.

The college paper, The State News, had just lost its sports editor to the service and so Matty was drafted to handle this post while he wrapped up such things as psychology 404, editorial writing 441 and assorted others.

One of the starry-eyed rookie News sports reporters at the time was me.

MATTY PROVED a tough taskmaster and he almost drove me to a leap into the Red Cedar with a complete re-write of the first story I turned into him.

Well, after my initial sulk, I settled down to listen and learn. Imagine, working with a real live, big city sports writer!

Matty's term at State was soon up and he left. Not much later I was finding a new home with the army.

The years flew by and then Mr. Dann was back with the Free Press covering the Red Wings and major golf tournaments, which eventually led him to his present post as executive secretary for a national golfing association.

Our paths have crossed from time to time and once Matty cross-examined me about the magazine job I had in Detroit at the time.

"Are you learning anything?" was his blunt question.

After a few seconds of thought, I allowed as how I was.

"Fine," he shot back, "When you stop learning, it's time to get something else."

There is a real pearl of wisdom here and it can apply to everyone.

AM I learning something now? You bet.

The lessons are sometimes sweet, sometimes bitter.

This time around, it's pure joy, so to speak and I'm referring to the way four pages of the current edition developed.

They have to be called a Minor Miracle, those stories, pictures and ads about the beef feeder tour in section C.

The near-impossible project started a scant six days ago with a suggestion by Maxine Calhoun, our Clinton editor, whose husband, Harold, is a beef feeder, wondering if there couldn't be some in-depth and pictorial coverage of the annual Lenawee County event.

My philosophy on such extra projects has always been simple:

"OK, you opened your big mouth (said in friendly fashion), go ahead and start digging."

In quick order, Maxine had Billy Whiting, our junior photographer, in tow and they were flying around to farms on the tour, getting interesting facts and pictures.

TELEPHONE lines hummed with solicitations for advertising from businesses which cater to farm folks, especially cattle feeders.

Frankly, we were all genuinely amazed — and delighted — at the results.

The aim has been to fashion the material so it's interesting to all readers and Maxine has done a tremendous job.

Maybe I should close with a Memo to Matty:

"My lesson of the week: Miracles can happen, even on a weekly newspaper."

MADAME BUTTERFLY — Deborah Earling, a senior at Tecumseh High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Earling, has been employed by EvelDean since June as a seamstress. She is presently learning professional modeling from Evel and hopes to make fashion her field. Her gay Chinese silk print, made for Mrs. J. E. Layton of Chicago, is highlighted with a self belt which goes to the back to hold a great butterfly bow which falls from a low draped neckline.

GREAT SUCCESS — Janice Heimerdinger, a junior at Clinton High School and niece of co-partner Bill Heimerdinger in EvelDean [illegible] considering a fashion career. The daughter of C. J. Heimerdinger is taking model training under Evel's direction. She is wearing a gown called "Great Success," created for Noel Rogers' tour with the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra. The full length white crepe sheath with silver seed beads bordering the entire neckline features three panels flowing from the back neckline which may be draped as a tunic or worn as a dramatic scarf.

NFO Will Go After Romney

Lenawee County NFO members have instigated a March to Lansing to put dairy problems in the hands of Michigan's Governor George Romney.

Arrangements have been made to go to Lansing along with members from adjoining counties as soon as they are assured that they may meet with Mr. Romney.

Mrs. Roscoe Stubbins said Wednesday morning that Lenawee is ready to go on 24-hour notice but members will not make the trip until they are assured that Mr. Romney will be in the capitol.

Milk action is still on in Lenawee with several farmers sending their cows to market at Flint. Phase Two is still in effect but so far a plant for processing milk into butter, cheese and other products to be stored, has not been secured.

Lenawee members signed telegrams Tuesday evening at a meeting at the Deerfield High School to be sent to President Lyndon B. Johnson concerning the cost-price squeeze.

Leslie Calhoun was elected chairman of the dairy committee at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Eddy Is Serious After Car Mishap

Ordinance Could Eliminate Extra Police Paperwork

Council gave a traffic ordinance its first reading Tuesday night, the initial step towards eliminating considerable paper work for the local police department.

Another ordinance, relative to minimum requirements for becoming a police officer here, was given its second reading.

No Action Taken on Asphalt Paving Outfit Purchase

City Manager Cal Zorn and Street Superintendent Wes Haeussler proposed to Council Tuesday night the possibility of purchasing asphalt paving equipment for the city.

The equipment would cost approximately $17,000.

If the equipment were purchased, it would allow the street department to install bituminous concrete to the depth of four inches instead of the present two-inch depth.

Haeussler feels such construction would be a vast improvement.

Council took no action.

Bill Holmes Wins Spot on Council

Tecumseh voters returned two incumbents and elected two others, one a former councilman, to Council at Monday's election.

Ray Puffer and George McCombs were returned to their posts, and Gene Tuckey, ex-official, and William Holmes, a newcomer in public office, were chosen.

Incumbents losing were Paul Burns and Lawrence Mohr, who had served two terms. Mr. Burns was elected to a one-year term last year.

Puffer, who polled the largest number of votes at 392, and Tuckey and Holmes, were elected to two-year terms. McCombs won a one-year term.

DIRECTOR Robert Murray, with his assistant, Mrs. Frank Dalton, is in the middle of rehearsals now with the eight-member cast.

The story concerns Charlie Reader, a young bachelor in New York who's living the ideal life of a good job, an elegant apartment, and many attentive women eager to do his bidding and care for him.

Joe McCall, an old friend from Indianapolis, suddenly pops to offer Charlie a share in the millions he plans to make with a cold cure he has just discovered. Joe, taken with Charlie's set-up, becomes envious, even though he is a happily married man with a family of his own back in Indiana.

He meets Charlie's harem one by one, finds himself becoming interested in Sylvia Crewes, the most level-headed of Charlie's girls.

MEANWHILE, Charlie becomes more and more involved with Julie Gillis, a sweet young thing who has her entire life planned at the tender age of 22.

Julie falls in love with Charlie, but is determined he will follow her plans in life.

Poor Charlie can't make up his mind and becomes confused enough to become engaged to two girls at the same time.

One amusing scene after another results until he finally manages to make the right choice — thus gets caught in The Tender Trap."

Using the theme "concern for others," the Rev. William Wahl, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Jackson, will preach at the Gloria Dei Church Sunday.

The local pastor is preaching Sunday at the Christ Lutheran Church in Monroe.

Pastor Wahl served in Philadelphia as a member of the Board of Higher Education.

This switch of pulpits at Lutheran congregations is part of an exchange throughout southern Michigan congregations.

Some 30 pastors are involved, from St. Joseph to Temperance.

They are following the directive of the Lutheran Church in America, which is encouraging congregations to work with other community groups to "relieve misery, promote justice and reconcile the estranged."

flowers.

—by Louise Webert Sutton.

Certainly residents in the area are grateful for the wonderful rain over the weekend. Thanks from this writer go up to the Heavenly Father for His agreement that we needed a good cleansing and refreshing before the green things started to grow. And how they are growing. In just a few hours, lilacs seemed to thrust forth dainty green shoots.

Track Season Opens

Tecumseh Indians, long a track power in the Huron League, figures again to be a contender for the crown this spring.

"How we make out in the field events will have a lot to do in the outcome of our meets." Coach Tom Fagan explained in summing up the Indians' chances.

Tecumseh at least will be respectable in the shot put but the other three field events — pole vault, high jump and long jump —are question marks.

COACH FAGAN pictured the Indians as strong in the hurdles, half-mile, mile and two-mile events, the latter being run in Michigan for the first time by prep athletes.

Despite limited workouts — Monday was the first day the Indians ran on the track—Tecumseh's shuttle - hurdle relay team placed second in the Spartan Relays last week.

The hurdle team of Gary Fairbanks, Gus Bishop, Randy Robinson and Lee Hannibal finished second behind Oxford, but set a school record here of 30.3 seconds, ahead of some strong track teams like Ecorse, Willow Run and River Rouge.

Tecumseh opens the dual track season here Friday afternoon against Chelsea. First league meet is with Milan here, April 13.

ROSTER OF boys on the 1967 track sqad is:

Frozen, Stuffed Turkey Can Cause Bacterial Poisoning

Four kinds of bacterial food poisoning were studied by 10 members and three guests at the meeting of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club in the home of Mrs. Ed. Bailey.

Mrs. Robert Stone, Mrs. Doug Sherman and Mrs. Julio Trevina were the guests.

Mrs. Elmer Wilt and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce were the leaders presenting the lesson, "Safe Food Handling."

Members participated in a test preceding the lesson. Emphasis was placed on refrigerating meat while still warm, using a pressure cooker for canning corn, snap beans, etc. rather than the hot water bath method.

They were also advised not to purchase frozen stuffed turkeys because the dressing isn't completely cooked by the time the outside of the turkey is finished.

The leaders stated, too, that picnic foods such as potato salad are best if left separated and chilled until ready for use.

Foods needing extra special care to prevent bacterial growth are dressing, gravy, cream pies and squash.

ROLL CALL was answered by members reporting an experience of "eating out."

Mrs. Howard L. Furry and Mrs. Richard Gobba of the Little Garden Club presented slides of Tecumseh, before and after landscaping and a movie entitled, "No Time For Ugliness."

Mrs. Marvin Johnson will be the hostess for the next meeting.

Other equipment under consideration is a hose washer and dryer, estimated to cost between $800 and $900.

Purchase of an oxygen analyzer from Eberbach & Son Co. for $295 for the wastewater plant.

Purchase of an incubator for the wastewater plant from Matheson Scientific Co. for $515.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Sad News, Farmers

Newspapers in two Thumb communities — Lapeer and Brown City — had perceptive comments on the milk strike.

Bob Myers, publisher of the Lapeer County Press and from a farm family, sadly noted that the NFO action was doomed from the start. He said he has been watching efforts by dairy farmers to boost milk income for 25 years and all are pretty futile efforts.

It's like trying to move Mt. Everest with a spade.

Brown City Banner publisher Bob Warren, who once served as editor of this weekly, says dumping milk may be unfortunate, but "what other means can the dairy farmer use to call attention to his economic plight?"

Then Bob quotes some statistics from Orville Freeman's office:

- Today's farm prices are 9% less than they were in 1947.
- Farmers are the only group in the United States receiving less money for their labor now than they were 20 years ago.
- The dairy farmer still gets only eight to ten cents a quart for the milk he produces, but the housewife pays three times this much for that same quart of milk. "One result of these economic injustices probably can be found in the Feb. 1967 Crop and Livestock Reports by the United States Department of Agriculture," says Bob.
- The Jan. 1 inventory for all animal units was 5% less than in 1966.
- In Michigan there were a total of 1,547,000 head of cattle and calves Jan. 1, down 116,000 head from 1966.
- Of this total, milk cows two years old and over accounted for 565,000 head. Jan. 1, 1966, milk cows totaled 614,000 head.

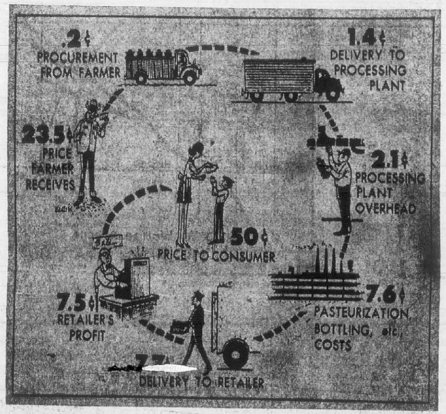
"This is a disappearance of 49,000 head of milk cows or 8% in 12 months' time," Publisher Warren notes.

"This is the lowest number of milk cows on hand Jan. 1 in the 20th century except for the year 1900."

"Milk heifers between one and two years old declined 7 % and other heifers between one and two years old dropped 19%. Heifer calves for milk cow replacements also dropped 7%.

"The future supply of replacement heifers seems to be somewhat bleak without large quantities of inshipments from other states which would indicate a continued decline in Michigan Dairying.

"Unless economic conditions improve for the farmer, and in particular the dairy farmer, this picture might get even worse. Then what will happen to our small rural towns?" asks Bob.



THIS IS WAY MILK COSTS BREAKS D OWN — GUESS WHO GETS TAKEN?

Oh, How We Goofed

We pulled a major goof last week — forgetting to mention Monday's City Council election.

Now, we're not trying to explain away our error. It was inexcusable. But when a mistake is discovered after the paper is "put to bed" and on the newsstands, there's little that can be done.

Although we are sure some people failed to vote because we didn't run a story in last week's paper, the turnout of 557 can still be considered good.

Prior to the election, we had published a complete resume of all candidates.

Young men in the community, mostly Jaycees, who signed up to make this a good race, are to be congratulated for sparking additional interest in a civic service that is often controversial and thankless.

With 11 men running and only four posts open, the election turned into a real race, with the heated contest resulting in choosing two incumbents, Ray Puffer and George McCombs, ex-councilman Gene Tuckey and newcomer, William Holmes.

Two incumbents, Paul Burns and Lawrence Mohr, were squeezed out by narrow margins.

With the growth of the city, the councilman's job has become more grilling. People in the community should become aware of what is involved in being a councilman.

We'd like to think the voter turnout would have been heavier if we hadn't goofed — power of the press and all that — but we were still delighted to see responsible reaction from both candidates and electors.

Warning to Merchants

Let this be an early warning to Business Row of Tecumseh.

Start getting ready, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, for a brand new slug of competition — which you probably knew was bound to come.

Underway on M-52, just north of Adrian, is a shopping center. Centering it will be a chain store — not one of the top line — with a 50,000-sq.-ft. layout.

From what we've seen of its operations in other Michigan cities, we'd rate this store a notch or two above Shoppers Fair, which, despite its location on the other side of Adrian, has made real inroads into Tecumseh spending power.

With a new center 10 minutes closer to our town by car, the current problem takes on thornier aspects.

But there is no need for panic, in fact we'd call the news a blessing in disguise. The first warning gives merchants here time to think and plot for the future.

We hate to hear newcomers to Tecumseh, like some of the folks who came here from much larger communities with new industry, tell us that merchants along our Main Street are way behind times.

This is not true with some stores — but with others, it's definitely the case, and they can drive traffic away from all places of business.

An organized approach, with all town storemen banding together to formulate a battle plan, seems the logical step.

This could mean the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce calling a session to brain-storm the future.

Auto Defects Found in Check Program

Michigan's new vehicle safety check program got under way in Lenawee County Friday.

First check point was set up in front of the Clinton State Police post on US-12.

There were 73 cars inspected the first day by a crew of five officers, headed by Sgt. Milo Thompson, 4th District Safety and Traffic Officer of Jackson.

Trooper John Shear of Clinton is on permanent assignment with the safety check crew and Cpl. Stanley Gibbard will be assisting occasionally.

CPL. GIBBARD reports that results of the first day's check in the county are pretty typical of the results in other areas—about 25% of the cars defective enough to require a summons.

- Cars that passed and received OK stickers — 39
- Cars that had defects — 34
- Drivers who received summons for defects — 18
- Summons for driving with revoked license — 1
- Loser of the day — one car, 23 defects

The Safety Check program will be continuing, with stations set up on various highways throughout the county from time to time.

An effort will be made to avoid a mass traffic tie-up. The five-man safety-check crew will probably cause only a seven-minute delay for each motorist.

The bulk of the traffic will proceed unchecked. Cars will be waved in by officers at their discretion.

The motorist will be asked to show a valid driver's license, registration and proof of paid-up insurance on the vehicle.

VEHICLES ARE checked for:

- Steering wheel play
- Muffler holes
- Window washer and wipers
- Mirrors
- Window glass
- Headlight alignment and intensity
- Tire tread measurement

If the car has only minor defects, the enforcement officer may give only a minor warning.

A serious defect in brakes or steering might involve taking the car off the highway completely.

Tickets will be issued for serious defects and lack of license, registration or proof of insurance and, it will be determined by the judge the amount of the fine, and traffic points.

STATE POLICE PLACE LIGHT ALIGNMENT TESTERS ON AUTO HEADLIGHTS TO EXAMINE BEAM.

'Safety' Champs

Stanley Johnson of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee in Washington spoke to Tecumseh Rotary Club Tuesday.

"The 1967 vehicles safety check program will be the largest ever conducted," he said. "Tecumseh as a 1966 national award winner is being watched by most of Michigan to see what you fellows here will do this year.

"From the enthusiasm I have seen shown so far, it appears that Tecumseh will repeat," he added.

Mr. Johnson is loaned from Buick Motor Division for the program.

Chuck Butler, local chairman, announced that all citizens are invited to participate in the May 10 and 11.

Girls wishing to be candidates for Queen should get in contact with their favorite auto dealer soon.

"If we are champions, we are going to act like champions," said Mr. Butler.

CALIFORNIA, HERE I COME — Sharon Fielder, 24, who for the past three years has been the pleasant voice on the switchboard at the Tecumseh Police Department, is leaving her post April 5. She will travel to sunny California in May, where she plans to find work and remain for an indefinite time.

Double Seats, Coal Stove

Editor's Note: Rhoda E. Kotts, a former Tecumseh resident who now lives at 18303 E. Subido St., Rowland Heights, Calif., started reminiscing about past years and sent the following article in for The Herald readers.

By RHODA E. KOTTS

First I remember going to school in Grosvenor School near Blissfield. It had double seats, a coal stove, a shelf to put our dinner pails on and a cloak room to hang our coats on nails.

The children would take turns to clean erasers. One time I had to sit under the teacher's desk on a narrow board about two inches wide for an hour just because I turned around in my seat to look at the person behind me.

When I got home I got a hard whipping. We sure were disciplined.

At home we had all kinds of outdoor work to do like blocking beets, cutting corn, husking corn when snow was on, shocking oats and wheat and setting out tomato plants and strawberries and picking them — besides other chores.

When I was about nine we moved to Tecumseh by horse and wagon - five loads and all five children.

My brothers and sister rode on top of the load and in October it was very cold and we had to get down and run behind the wagon to get warm.

We arrived at a farm three miles west of Tecumseh now known as Billington's Corner on the farm where Herb McClure lives.

We were cold when we arrived. A neighbor, Mrs. Bertha Hoag, now living in Tecumseh, had us go to her house on the corner where the cemetery is, to keep warm while the cook stove and coal stove was put up and my mother got supper.

The men who helped us move stayed all night and started back in the morning.

On the farm we raised more tomatoes and hauled them to Adrian to the cannery. My mother and I and three other children picked them while my father, Alfred Sallows, and my brother, Leon, delivered them. It was a days work for all of us.

WASHING was done on wash boards and we boiled white clothes in large copper boilers with Fels Naptha soap. Now we have detergent powders. Ironing was done with hand irons.

I remember how I used to handle one end of a cross cut saw to cut wood and then I split it with an ax for the kitchen stove. I had to get the kindle in every night and keep the box filled.

The cows had to be milked by hand and the milk was set in crocks for cream to rise. Then we churned for butter with a dashed churn of crockery.

We also had to lead the horses to water and clean the stables. The manure was hauled to the wagons and then pitched off and spread in the fields with forks.

The rag carpets on the floors had straw under them as did our things on the bed which had to be changed twice a year. The carpet had to be taken up twice a year and ripped apart and washed and then tacked down again.

It was washed by putting it in a large tub of suds and we children stamped it with our bare feet so that we got our feet clean as well as the carpet.

The oil lamps had to be filled every morning and the chimney washed - they had to shine.

Long heavy underwear was washed and hung out on a line summer and winter. It would be brought in stiff as a board and would finish drying inside.

WE WALKED a mile to school every day both summer and winter. We went into town every Saturday night. During the summer we went by surrey with two horses and during the winter we went by bob-sled with a box on it.

Handmade comforts off the bed were tucked around us and my dad always had to get in a horse race on the way home.

While husking corn out of the shocks when snow was on, our feet would get cold and my dad would take a cornstalk to us and run us up and down the rows to get warm. Then we would go back to husking on our knees with a few cornstalks under us.

I remember having corncob syrup for pancakes every morning for breakfast. Avery's Grocery Store was where we got our groceries which included five pounds of crackers out of a barrel which stood around the pot bellied stove to keep warm.

I remember Service's Furniture store about where Baldwin's now stands and the old Lilly State Bank and Templeton's coal place north of Main Street.

My dad always managed to have a lot of corn to hoe and when a circus came to town we would work hard to get it done so we could go.

I also remember the hitching posts and I used to ride my white pony into town. It was a thrill.

Touch of the Past

1857

A new map of Lenawee County has been compiled from original surveys and actual measurements. Addison Products Company has been presented the "Symbol of Excellence" for "outstanding performance in manufacturing superior quality products for Sears, Roebuck and Company during the past year".

The award is one of only 210 Sears is presenting this year to top suppliers from its more than 10,000 major merchandise sources.

In an award ceremony at Hillsdale College, Richard C. "This award is Sears' salute to Addison Products Company who, through their excellence, made great contributions to Sears' reputation for quality merchandise. It is also Sears' way of thanking each employee of Addison Products Company for his contribution to the superior performance of the plants," he said.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

QUICK CHANGE ARTIST

He came back again and my, what a difference 17 or 18 days can make. "He" is one of the two little goldfinches who visited the feeder early in March and the "difference" was in his appearance.

In full winter garb, which was the dress for the first visit, the birds were pretty, but in a subdued way. With the exception of their wings, they wore a soft greenish-buff color.

By the time of the second visit, little Mr. Goldfinch had started changing his clothes. His wings were the same satiny black with white markings, but everywhere else yellow was beginning to overshadow green.

On his head it was a matter of shading, he looked yellowish. However, when the wind ruffled the soft feathers on his shoulders, it exposed bright canary yellow underneath.

THIS SECOND visit was an exciting one. It was an all-day affair. A bouquet of sunflower heads hangs up-side-down from the metal arm of the awning.

They had been there for almost a week and the titmice, bluejays, nuthatches and cardinals had them almost picked clean.

There were apparently enough seeds left for the goldfinch though — and he spent the whole day there.

The hanging sunflower heads proved to be a great drawing card. Since his exciting second visit, the goldfinch has reappeared three or four times and always he comes to the sunflowers.

He seems to enjoy playing as much as eating — he climbs over and hangs up-side-down on them much as the chick-a-dees do. Each time he comes we marvel at the change of color, he is becoming yellower all the time.

THIS SWITCH from winter drab to springtime bright is an interesting thing and it is by no means exclusive with the goldfinches. Two other birds which do the same thing are the little indigo buntings and the beautiful scarlet tanagers.

Both of these birds, however, are migratory. By the time of their return in the spring, the color change has already been accomplished. With the goldfinches, we have the fun of watching them struggle into their "courting suits."

And this is exactly what the vivid plumage is for, attracting a mate. With all three of the above mentioned quick change artists, it is only the males who acquire this courting plumage.

The ladies wear the softer, less flamboyant and often duller costumes. Of course, even among the birds who are garbed the same throughout the year, cardinals, Baltimore orioles and nuthatches for example, the rule seems to be bright males and dull females. I am speaking color-wise, of course.

The outstanding exception to this is our belted kingfishers — she turns the tables on the men folk and flies out wearing the richer looking colors.

IT MIGHT BE just me, but I always find it a bit humorous to watch a gorgeous bright male bird grandly paying court to his drab little lady. And when it happens in the cardinal family, she sometimes leads him a merry chase — almost as if she were paying him back for his shabby treatment of her during the cold winter months.

But this is getting fanciful and straying away from the subject, Marda. Aside from attracting his lady love, the male uses his color for other things too, Most obvious is in helping protect the nest and its occupants. The females blend with the nest setting of course but the males, by being so easily seen, can draw the attention away from Mama and the youngsters.

So it is that there is purpose as well as fun behind the donning of bright spring clothes which is done by the quick change artists.

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

There's a young man in the area.
He's a gentleman.
He's thoughtful.
He's taught me a lesson.

In this day of seeming indifference to the other fellow's problems because we're all swept up in our own, we so often zip through the days without pausing to see if someone needs help.

I was in an automobile accident and in the confusion afterward, didn't know my left hand from my right, nor could I be sure of my actions prior to the collision.

This young man had just passed me and he saw the accident.

Now, as was possible, and I'm sure has been done many times, he could have driven on — not wanting to become involved in a dispute that had nothing to do directly with him.

But he didn't.

He came back — and told the police officer he was a witness.

I don't know what he said to the officer, except, for his statement, I may have been charged with being in the wrong — the driver of the other car was sure I was.

This witness was the key to my not being unjustly accused.

I thought I had my turn signal on, but, as often happens with a habit, I could not say positively.

He verified it.

So, young man, my thanks not just for getting me off the hook, but for being an example to follow.

That was six months ago.

Ever since, I have tried to increase my awareness of other individuals.

Each of us is a witness — not necessarily to an accident — but in daily life.

Let's all try to "care" a little more.

Volunteers Give 7½ Million Hours of Service to Patients

"Each hospitalized patient in the state last year received $9.50 worth of free care from volunteer workers."

So reported H. Allen Barth, executive director of the Michigan Hospital Association to 141 representatives of hospital auxiliaries March 29 at Michigan State University.

Mr. Barth said that hospital auxiliary volunteers gave 7½ million hours of work amounting to $11½ million last year.

The program was entitled American Hospital Package Institute on Volunteer Service.

Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, vice-president of the Southwest District of MAH, attended the meeting held in the Student Union.

F. K. Neuman, administrator of Lansing's Sparrow Hospital, was the principal speaker.

His subject was "Organizations Standards, Principals and Relationships of the Volunteer."

GOP Women Hear Reports of Conventions

Mrs. Ned Baldwin was the hostess for the meeting of the Shawnee Republican Women's Club March 28 when reports were given of county and state conventions.

Mrs. Helen Sisson presented a brief program on national and international affairs followed by a lively discussion on current events impending legislation.

The place of the April meeting will be announced. Anyone interested will be welcomed by the members.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Jaycee Auxiliary Will Have Social Bowling, Dinner

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary met March 22 at the Jaycee Club room with 13 members and four guests from Dexter, who presented the Auxiliary with the District Traveling Trophy.

Mrs. Gordon Gutowski reported on the bowling social to be held April 29, followed by a spaghetti dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Elwartowski.

Reports were given by Mrs. John Day on Helping Hands and Mrs. Gutowski on the Cancer Drive on behalf of Mrs. Gary McCain.

Steps are under way for the Jaycee Relay Refreshments Stand and the Auxiliary's Fifth Annual Baby Contest.

Three projects were approved to raise money for a Scholarship Fund for a Tecumseh High School student. They are bake sale, Artex party and style show. The scholarship will be presented in 1968.

The Auxiliary voted to have representation at the Council meetings.

Meeting was recessed to Kustom Kraft Draperies where Mrs. Douglas Hall demonstrated her fabrics and pointed out the do's and don't of decorating.

The group returned to the club rooms where refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Morgan.

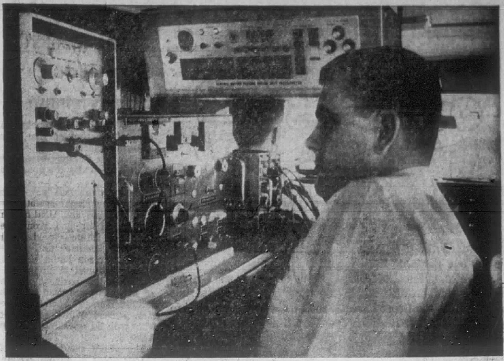
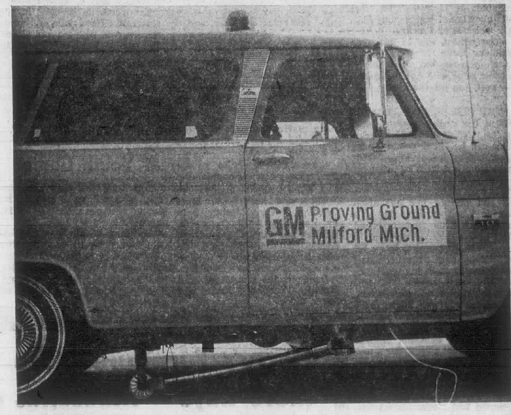
Median family income in Lenawee is $5,699. 18.1% of the families have an income under $3,000 and 11.4% have an income $10,000 and over. The state average income is $6,256.



EXTRA WHEELS — Precise measurement of road surface profiles is the purpose of the General Motors Proving Ground's new road profilometer. Consisting of a light truck modified to accommodate sophisticated electronic instrumentation and measuring equipment, the profilometer uses two trailing wheels (one on each side of the truck as shown in the top photo) to sense changes in the road's profile. Instrumentation in the truck (in lower photo) converts this information into a permanent record on magnetic tape or strip chart. GM engineers use the taped data as input for vehicle testing devices in the laboratory, simulating actual road surfaces. Highway engineers also find the data helpful in checking the effects of aging on road surfaces and in planning safer highways. The Texas State Highway Department has purchased a profilometer and several other highway agencies have expressed interest in using the new equipment.



Slow Dairy Imports

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has asked the President that action be taken to reduce the volume of dairy products being imported into the United States.

The Secretary is recommending that the president direct the Tariff Commission to undertake an investigation, looking to the establishment of import quotas on certain dairy products not now subject to quotas.

He pointed out that dairy product imports in 1966 totaled 2.7 billion pounds milk equivalent as compared with about .9 billion pounds in 1965.

Of this quantity Junex which is a mixture of butterfat and sugar, and Colby cheese made up about 1.8 billion pounds milk equivalent.

The secretary said this is a 300 percent increase in dairy imports which was largely accomplished through evasion of the current law. He said these imports are having an adverse effect upon price support program, and will hold down the income of American dairy farmers.

Financial status of the American farmer is still below that of all other parts of the economy. Even though average net farm income has increased over $2,000 since 1961, the farm family is currently earning only 65 percent of what the average non farm family earns annually.

Announcing Buick's new GS-340.

(The minipriced GS-400.)

If you read the papers, you know how great our now-famous GS-400 is. (It's the one in the background.)

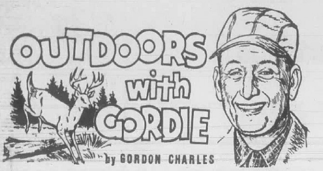
And you also know you don't get a GS-400 for peanuts. It's a great car. But it's just a little rich for some people.

So we set to work and designed the GS-340. It has a smaller engine (but the whole machine weighs less). Its interior is clean and simple and tasteful. And it has its own ornamentation, paint job (see the rally stripe and hood scoops?), and, of course, all the GM safety features.

So now you have a car that costs less than the GS-400, but one with its own special brand of excitement.

How can you beat that kind of a combination?

Schneider Chevrolet-Buick, Inc., 111 W. Chicago Blvd.



by GORDON CHARLES

Guard those nylons, gals! Trout season opened Saturday and that's no April foolin'.

We're talking, of course, about the early season for rainbow and brown trout in the lower reaches of streams flowing into the Great Lakes. Brook trout will continue safe till the regular trout season opens April 29 and all state waters are then open.

About those nylons, now. Inch-square pieces, cut from a sheer nylon stocking, are ideal material for using to tie up spawn bags for rainbow bait.

Most husbands are willing to settle for an old pair of nylons for this purpose but in the fever pitch of getting ready to go fishing, they have been known to make mistakes. Don't say we didn't warn you, gals.

Getting hold of some trout spawn or eggs poses quite a problem, unless a fisherman is farsighted. It is sort of like that old question of which came first, the chicken or the egg.

The easiest way to get some rainbow trout spawn is to first catch a trout, but since this is easiest done with spawn for bait — well, you get the idea.

THE FISHERMAN who thinks ahead has probably saved some spawn, frozen since last year. This can be either rainbow eggs from last spring or brown trout eggs from last fall's late season.

Anyhow, say you have the trout eggs and your wife has given you one of her old nylon stockings and you have tied up a bunch of little fingernail-sized bags of the stuff. What then?

Well, be prepared to lose a lot of terminal outfits because if you are going to catch big trout during the early season you will have to get right down on bottom.

And, as you well know, that's where the snags are.

If you don't lose 15 or 20 outfits the first weekend, chances are you are not getting down into the best trout territory.

To save your temper, tie up a bunch of spare outfits before you go fishing. If you are using 8 or 10-pound test monofilament line on your reel, tie two feet of lighter leader to the end of it.

This should contain your hook and enough split shots to make sure the bait will roll along bottom naturally when you let out slack.

If you get snagged up all you will lose will be the lighter leader. This way you can just tie on another ready-made one and be right back in business.

WHILE NATURAL spawn is the hottest spring-time bait, it isn't the only thing that will catch big trout.

Commercially-bottled salmon eggs, night crawlers, minnows, wigglers — all take big trout every spring. So do artificial baits like Flatfish, Mepps spinners and streamer flies.

Flies, in fact, are greatly under-rated but deadly in the hands of an expert during the early trout season. A friend of ours, Ken Bailey, proved this rather conclusively last year by taking a 13-pound rainbow on a streamer fly.

This early trout season is definitely not for the faint-hearted or the thin-blooded. It's mighty chilly fishing in early April.

Funny thing, though — once you get one of those silver-sided thunderbolts on the end of your line you couldn't care less about cold weather.

Danny Sommers Entertains 12 for His Birthday

An excited Danny Sommers welcomed 12 guests to his home for a birthday party March 29. He was five years old.

The group spent the afternoon playing games and eating the traditional birthday cake and ice cream.

Biggest feature of the day for the birthday boy was opening the pile of gaily wrapped presents.

Those who attended were Scott Coleman, Jeffrey Koeshne, Bobby Reynolds, April Carpenter, Bradley and Ann Marie Colson, Kenneth Judson, Susie Cole, Carolyn Brugger, Kimberly Anderson and Judy and Kent Sommers.

Danny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sommers, 1011 River Acres Drive.

James Meeks' Show Pictures from Vietnam

Mrs. Dean Moore opened the general meeting of the Macon Woman's Society of Christian Service last Tuesday evening by reading "Let Us Remember Jesus'.'

Mrs. Eugene Hill gave devotions, using Easter stories. Mrs. Ray Williams and Mrs. Edward Zick asked Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks of Clinton to show pictures of Vietnam and to tell about their son Louis, who is a doctor stationed in Vietnam.

During the business meeting an invitation was read from the Clinton Woman's Society to hear Mrs. Robert White of Adrian, who will be speaking Monday, April 3.

The group voted to pay half the expenses of anyone wishing to go to the Prayer Retreat at Waldenwoods May 19 and 20.

Half of the cost will be paid for those attending the School of Mission at the Adrian College in June.

The group has metal sponges for sale, Mrs. Russell Van Valkenburg and Mrs. Andrew Goodin may be contacted.

It was decided not to raise the pledge to missions. The Mother and Daughter Banquet will be Saturday, May 6.

Refreshments of cake in the shape of a cross, jello and mints were served with tea and coffee. The tables were centered with daffodils.

Antiques Show Is in Dearborn at Youth Center

DEARBORN — Dearborn Rotary Club will again sponsor its annual antiques show May 18, 19, 20 and 21.

To accommodate the anticipated attendance increase in this year's Rotary Antiques Show, the club will use larger facilities available in the Dearborn Youth Center, Michigan Avenue at Greenfield.

Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

The pause for Easter Recess brought about the usual flood of comment on the pace and relative effectiveness of Congress. The evidence tends to support those who pronounce the pace to be slow and the effectiveness weak.

At this early date reasons are hard to pinpoint. It is clear, however, that there is a definite lack of direction and few clear objectives; all of which stems from confusion in the White House and among members of the majority party.

Little "follow through" can be found for State of the Union proposals and the Congressional powers-that-be appear lost without powerful executive direction that was so evident during the last Congress.

Certain incongruities between what was said in January and what's actually being done now, continue to develop. The President's message proposed a merger of the Commerce and Labor Departments — an idea which apparently has been abandoned before Congress ever took a look at it.

Great Society programs were to be "made to work effectively," but so far indications point to a continuation of existing programs intact.

We heard about creating "a more effective partnership at all levels of American government," but nothing concrete has come forth. A proposed tax increase, while still supported by the White House, lost priority to what amounted to a tax cut for economic stimulation.

Priorities were mentioned, but none have been established.

THE LIST is long, but then the 90th Congress is still young and nobody can yet make firm value judgements and certain predictions.

On the more optimistic side, at least, three significant measures — expansion of the Head Start program, realistic social security enlargements and a committee on congressional standards and conduct — appear headed for success with Republican support and leadership.

ANOTHER optimistic prediction — that this Congress will be more frugal than its predecessors — might come true.

Recent action on the $7.5 billion Post Office — Treasury appropriation bill first saw $112 million knocked off in committee and then an additional $2.4 million cut on the floor.

While this fell short of the 5% across - the - board cut sought by my party, it is significant and may indicate a much needed and welcomed economy trend.

Your comments are extremely helpful to me in my work here in Washington.

If you have views on upcoming legislation or are experiencing difficulties with the Federal Government, be sure to write me % House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Ella McNeil Retires

Tecumseh's Ella McNeil, professor emeritus of the University of Michigan, School of Public Health, retired in January after 28 years on the University faculty.

She was a speaker at the school's recent 25th anniversary observance telling of the future of her field.

She said, "Mass media have made parents more aware of their children's nutritional needs, growth and development. Fathers participate more in their children's care. The attendance of husband and wife in pre-parenthood classes is 50-50."

"Except for babies with special problems, the emphasis has shifted to the elderly, a situation which will be magnified by medicare." (All persons over 65 will be entitled without charge to the home for public health nurses provide.)

"With the elderly, crippled, mentally retarded and other chronic conditions, our treatment has changed," Miss McNeil said. "We help the family accept the patient's limitations and work toward improvement instead of concentrating on keeping the patient in bed."

She told how the public health nurse sometimes takes the role of foster parent when a young wife of a service man expects a baby in a strange place. The nurse may fulfill the need for mother support and personalization.

"Personalization is the key word which tells the uniqueness of public health nursing. House calls give them the advantage of seeing and treating a patient within his home environment. The profession has not grown in proportion to the population, however," Miss McNeil continued, "acute illnesses such as childhood diseases are given less time and blindness, crippling and mental disorders receive more."

"Public health nursing is moving into the high risk areas where poverty, lack of play space for youngsters and a higher rate of disease and unwed motherhood are prevalent," continued Miss McNeil.

Miss McNeill is the daughter of the late Mrs. Albert Howard who lived where Mrs. Margaret Kidman does now at 215 W. Shawnee and later built the home immediately behind the Kidman house.

Miss McNeil had two brothers, Russell and Allen. She moved to Ann Arbor with her family after Russell's graduation from Tecumseh High School in 1915.

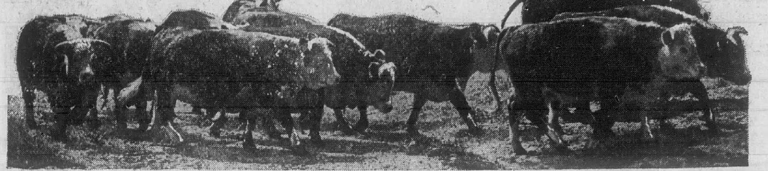
Beef Feeding—It's King Size Business



Did you realize that Lenawee ranks as Michigan's No. 1 county in fattening steers? Or that state's per capita average of beef consumption is a whopping 110 pounds per year, as against 99 pounds throughout rest of United States?

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Take a short jaunt around Tecumseh and one may see more than 20 beef cattle feeding farms. There are 406 beef farms in Lenawee County, feeding about 32,566 head.

If one visited them all, it is possible to find a dozen different systems in operation.

Farmers are pretty inventive and each usually develops a cattle feeding system which suits his own situation best.

Often, his barn is converted from some former use — such as dairy or storage. He uses what he can, buys what he can afford, then toggles up the remainder to serve the purpose.

Once in a while, a fellow starts from scratch and builds a complete feeding operation, the way he wants it. But this is pretty rare.

The Lenawee County 38th Annual Beef Cattle Tour, Wednesday, April 12, will feature five typical beef farms in the Tecumseh and Tipton area.

These layouts are not selected as "show places."

They're working farms and each one demonstrates a practical system for beef feeding with innovations that might be incorporated into other beef farm systems.

The rapidly decreasing farm labor supply has necessitated a constant search for labor-saving methods in beef-feeding operations.

The progressive farmer is constantly on the lookout for new ideas.

That's why more than 600 farmers attend the county cattle tours each spring in Lenawee County. The public is welcome. The tour is made by private cars and parking is expedited by the Sheriff's Patrol.

Arrangements for the event are made by John W. Comstock and Norman Bless of the County Extension Department, with the cooperation of Hugh Henderson, beef cattle specialist of Michigan State University.

On the following three pages the tour farms are described with route directions, plus Herald pictures taken at the layouts.

Converted from a dairy set-up three years ago, the family team now is feeding out 195 yearlings with a high moisture shell corn ration augered into outside, covered bunks.

WHAT'S SO SPECIAL about the NEW "BIG 10"*
C & B SILO?

It's the HYDRO-PRESSED Corrugated Concrete Stave — that's what! There are more C&B silos being built in Michigan than any other silo. Progress has always been the keynote of C&B, and in their effort to build better and better silos, C&B has now made a substantial investment in new machinery for the production of the HYDO-PRESSED Concrete Stave — strongest and most durable silo stave ever produced in the United States . . . staves are produced under many tons of hydraulic pressure using the perfect ratio of water and cement, never before possible in the dry tamped or wet cast process. Can you be satisfied to invest in any other silo?

ALSO, C&B now has a new and better financing plan which obsoletes present leasing plans. With cash discount and early-order discount for introductory orders, waste no more time — write, wire or phone.

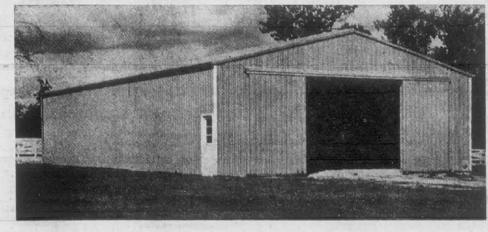
SMILEY Post Buildings



A Smiley post building can answer your needs. No matter what use you plan, you can have a good looking, practical, solid structure which will give you a lifetime of maintenance-free performance. Animals show more profit when they are housed and handled in a building which can provide a controllable environment with the minimum dollar expenditure. Exposed animals are costly in today's modern agri-business competitive market. A Smiley post building can provide a working structure which is designed with your profit picture in mind.

Housing represents only a small percentage of the total production costs in raising animals. Since this portion is relatively small, the long-time ownership of a quality Smiley building is considerably less expensive than with an improperly designed building.

Hayden Gives Coffee, Donuts

First Stop — Darish Farm at 9 a.m.

There'll be coffee and doughnuts, courtesy Hayden Mills, at 9 a.m. at the William Darish & Sons farm, northwest of Tecumseh, as the tour begins there at 9:30 a.m.

Located one-half mile north of the M-50 and M-52 junction on N. Adrian Hwy., the Darish farm is feeding 195 yearlings on a corn silage and high moisture corn program.

The Darish farm is a father and two sons operation. The father is also employed at Revco in Deerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Darish bought the farm three years ago. With sons, Dave, 20, and Jim, 24, who is married, the family converted the dairy barn into a loafing shed to house 200 feeder cattle.

FROM TWO upright concrete silos and a bulk feed storage bin, an auger carries corn silage, high moisture shell corn and supplement into a 60-foot feeder in a concrete paved open yard.

Another 23-foot feeder is hand-filled from a third smaller silo.

The Darishes have 195 yearlings bought in August and September at 634 pounds average.

They shopped for some of their cattle, directly from the feeders in southern Kentucky and Tennessee and bought others from an order buyer. The cattle are of assorted breeding and quality.

Weighing an average of 900 pounds each, the cattle will begin heading for market in a couple of weeks as each reach about 1,000 pounds.

RUNNING WITH the cattle are some 40 feeder pigs — which make inexpensive gains on the shell corn from the cattle, with added supplement feed.

As soon as the barns are emptied a new lot of feeders will be brought in and started on haylage, (chopped alfalfa.)

Plans call for the installation of eight farrowing stalls to permit an expanded hog finishing program.

During the past year, Jim built a white frame ranch house on a site nearby and moved into it in December, from the big white frame farmhouse which is home to the William Darish family.

Second Stop — Daniels Farm at 10 a.m.

Second stop will be at 10 a.m. at the Don Daniels farm, one-half mile north and one-half mile east of Tipton on Munger Rd. Mr. Daniels has 150 mixed yearlings on full slatted floors, liquid manure handling and no bedding.

This barn is the first in the county to utilize the slatted floor, all confinement beef barn system.

The 60x63 foot wooden barn was built entirely by Mr. Daniels and his son, Steve, 16, at an estimated savings of $5,000 to $7,000 under the cost of a contractor-built system.

"We never had even built so much as a dog house before," Mr. Daniels said.

DON DANIELS is employed full time as a buyer for Standard Beef in Detroit, and with his wife, son Steve, and two daughters, Darlene, 13, and Dawn, 10, reside at 3391 Monroe Rd., two miles from the 65-acre site of the barn.

The barn project was begun because the Daniels, who had grown up on farms felt their children were missing a lot by not having the experience of farm life.

The whole family got into the act as the building went up.

Trenches were dug first. Steel reinforced concrete was poured in forms for the pit walls before barn construction began. The two pits are each 50 x 16 x 6 ft., with a capacity of 35,000 gallons liquid manure. Later the dirt was backhoed out between the pit walls.

Using an especially thick seven-bag-mix, ready-mixed concrete Mr. Daniels and his son, Steve, poured 400 slats in place in the floor last summer. They were able to pour 1¼ yards of cement a day — 11 slats with Mrs. Daniels giving a hand with the troweling.

A portable vibrator was used on the cement slabs to insure smooth edges on the slotted sides, to permit the manure to slip through easily.

He'd go to 1½-inch slots another time, Mr. Daniels said.

His cattle stand on clean dry floor all the while, with no bedding necessary.

It took 110 man-hours to make the plywood rafters — a savings of some $500, Mr. Daniels estimates.

Steve says, "They're so solid that the 2x6's will break before the glued plywood joint will!"

THE WOOD frame barn has tip-out windows on three sides and is open at the eaves and has a full-length opening along the ridge row.

Very little rain or snow came in the roof opening, Mr. Daniels said, and ventilation proved satisfactory all winter.

Mr. Daniels buys his cattle at sales in Michigan and Indiana.

The barn will hold 150 head and the first lot were bought in December, weighing 849 pounds on an average. His cattle are on feed around 100 days and he expects a turn-over three times a year.

The capacity of the manure pits allows them to be cleaned only once as each lot of cattle is sold.

An agitator pumps the liquid manure out into the Daniels' homemade version of a "honey wagon." At a cost of only $250, compared to a conventional liquid manure tank wagon. The converted 1,000-gallon turkey water tank does the job "better than we had hoped for," Mr. Daniels says.

Tipped on an angle on a semi-axle, the tank has no moving parts, but the gravity force of the flow sprays over the fields as it splashes against a stationary disc wheel.

AS A CATTLE buyer, Mr. Daniels has learned that a beef animal may often be marketed with as much as 55 pounds of dirt clinging to his hide from a muddy barnyard, causing a serious discount in price.

That fact, and the shortage of bedding will speed up the trend to more confinement on slatted floors, Mr. Daniels predicts.

One day's hauling will clean the pits, and less than half an hour, three times a day is all that is needed to auger-feed the cattle, a considerable saving of labor over conventional systems.

Steve does the feeding each day and looks over the cattle for sick animals.

A second 30x45-ft. barn was recently built by a contractor to be used to house the cattle for the first three weeks, until they are free of disease contracted while being shipped.

THE WOOD-SIDED barns aren't painted yet.

"We're still having a family argument — I want white and the family wants red," said Mr. Daniels.

Steve says he's decided he'd like to be a carpenter — since his experience building the barn — but, he's not so enthusiastic about concrete work!

HE LOVES THESE — "These new-fangled slatted concrete floors are just great out here at the Don Daniels' new barn. And I don't have to get tangled up in a lot of wet old bedding," says one of the Daniels' white face steers. Don and his son, Steve, made the steel-reinforced concrete slabs and it proved quite a chore. Their farm is No. 2 on the April 12 tour.

3 Young Lenawee Farmers Make Study

LANSING — Thirty young farmers taking part in the Michigan State University Kellogg study program took a close-up look at state government last week.

Three were from Lenawee County and include:

- John Hawkins of rural Hudson.
- Ronald Jacob of Riga
- John Mowat, Jr., of rural Adrian.

The farmers met with legislators, Lieutenant Governor William J. Milliken, Attorney General Frank Kelley and Chief Justice John R. Dethmers in Lansing.

The group is participating in a state traveling seminar, part of a unique MSU program designed to train young farm leaders to take an active part in making public decisions.

THE PROJECT is financed by a grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. Participants agree to spend at least thirty days a year in study, meetings and travel for three years.

The farmers taking part in the state tour are in the second of three such groups. The first group toured Michigan last year, and returned two weeks ago from a national trip including visits to Washington, D. C., Tennessee and California.

The third group is yet to be named. Selection is based on three main criteria. Participants are successful farmers, between 25 and 35 years of age, and have demonstrated leadership potential.

Before their Lansing session, the young farmers visited Boyne Mountain, where they took part in educational meetings on Michigan's tourist, recreation and lumber industries.

While in Lansing, participants visited state departments of commerce, conservation, civil service, agriculture, corrections, education, treasury and the secretary of state.

The group spent two days in Detroit, where members toured the inner city area and visited social welfare agencies and organizations.

The Detroit visit also included a tour of the facilities of Kroger's.

REPRESENTING 24 Michigan counties, the farmers began training last December, meeting to discuss public affairs, economies and social problems. Preparation included study on the MSU campus, as well as plenty of "homework" assignments on state government and related topics.

Next year, the first group will take part in an international tour to countries in Latin America, Europe, Asia or Africa. The second group will take the national tour, and the group not yet selected will make the Michigan study tour.

Silage Stored Under Plastic

Third Stop — Gentz Farm at 11 a.m.

Third stop will be at one of two locations where Richard Gentz shares farms with Leland Hubbard, four miles west of Tipton on the south side of M-50. He has 285 southern calves and yearlings on high moisture ground ear corn, silage and he has a set of barn scales.

MANY A SLIP — The way it was supposed to be (below) showing a handy steer-holding chute on the Richard Gentz farm for inoculation, medication or de-horning with Raymond Gentz manning the gate. Right — the way it was when the steer lunged through and got wedged in the stanchion. Roger Gentz coaxes at its head, Harold Smith, Jr., tries a pry — and Mr. Gentz goes to the seat of the trouble in the pen.

Keeping silage under plastic has been a successful storage procedure for Mr. Gentz. Heaped up on the ground last fall and covered with a huge heavy-gauge plastic, the corn silage was blown up into an upright silo just last week.

MR. AND MRS. Gentz, who reside at the farm located at 6681 W. Monroe Rd., have been farming for 17 years, eight at the present location. They work 600 acres, with 380 acres in corn, the rest in wheat and alfalfa.

It's a family project there, too, with sons Roger, 16, Raymond, 14, and Royal, 11, giving a hand wherever needed. One-year-old Susan is Mrs. Gentz' excuse for keeping busy in the house.

Harold Smith, Jr., is a full-time employee.

The Gentz cattle were put in between July and October as mixed steer calves weighing 400-500 pounds and will be on feed about a year, selling at around 1,100 pounds.

Several handy inside sorting pens and loading chutes are a feature of the Hubbard barn.

As is customary when farm animals are involved — the unexpected always happens.

WHILE Mr. Gentz and his sons were attempting to get a steer into a holding pen for a photograph by The Herald, the frisky animal lunged forward before the stanchion could be slammed shut holding its head in place.

The steer became wedged in the narrow opening by his bulging hind quarters and efforts to free him provided more than a little action for half an hour, and made a better picture than the one we had planned.

Noon Meal at Harland Farm

Lunch will be served at the Tom Harland farm, two miles east and two miles south of Onsted on Shepherd Rd.

The Tom Harland farm has a new pole barn which replaced the barn completely destroyed by the tornado two years ago.

Mr. Harland is feeding 432 southern cattle with urea treated silage. His set-up includes a well-designed concrete lot.

Last Stop — Goetz Farm at 2 p.m.

The four will end at the Wesley Goetz farm on Shepherd Rd., three miles east of the Harland farm. The Goetz farm is feeding 220 Tennessee heifers put on feed in October.

Banquet — Blissfield High School at 6:30

To climax the day's events there will be a banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Blissfield High School.

Banquet tickets are limited to 400 and must be purchased early.

Tickets may be obtained from Association directors, including William K. Brown of Tecumseh and Walter Miller of Britton.

PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION is proud to be a part of the $16,644,000 livestock industry in Lenawee County, representing the major portion of the $29,000,000 income from all county agriculture production.

Agriculture is Lenawee County's largest single industry, which, in turn, is part of America's largest single industry, with $45 billion income from the sale of agricultural products.

American farms provide nearly 6.7 million jobs — three times more than any other single industry. Three out of every ten jobs in private employment are related to agriculture.

Productivity per U. S. farm worker increased over 6½% in the last 10 years, while productivity of non-agricultural workers increased only 2% per year.

Because of the American farmer's superior improvement in productivity—

ONLY 19% of disposable income is spent for food today compared to 24% in 1929!

This is why beef is such a very GOOD buy. (Get it?)

Beef Money Flows into Economy

By MAXINE CALHOUN

One-fourth of all feed cattle in Michigan — more than 32,000 — are located on Lenawee County farms.

Lenawee is the state's leading producer of both corn and beef.

"From a feed standpoint, Lenawee could handle an additional 65,000 head of cattle, if no cash corn were marketed, with a considerable increase in the agricultural economy," suggests John Comstock, county extension agricultural agent.

PERHAPS, the impact of the beef industry can be made plainer if a few statistics are quoted from the Telfarm accounting analysis for 1965:

▶ 29 large southern Michigan cattle feeding farms, in the range with assets over $100,000 sold an average of 338 cattle in 1965.

▶ One typical, large beef farm produced farm products valued at $58,216 at a production cost of $50,000.

▶ That $50,000 cost of farm production represents a flow of working dollars pouring into the surrounding commercial community for labor, machinery, improvements, seeds, feed, fertilizer, fuel, taxes and interest.

In 1965, the combined net income for management and operator's labor is shown to be $7,166.

In 1964, only $747 was realized that year — evidence of the widely fluctuating profit aspects of the beef feeding business.

These 29 beef farms required an average investment of $256,561.

The 1964 US Census data shows the value of all livestock and livestock products sold in Lenawee County totalled $16,644,000, with another $12,747,000 for all crops sold, making a grand total of all farm products sold — $29,409,000.

The dollar value of farm products sold per year has increased by 70% since 1950, while the number of Lenawee farms decreased by more than 1,000 — from 3,772 to 2,730.

HOWEVER, the capital investment of Lenawee farmers represented by the total dollar value of land and buildings has increased nearly 125% in the same time period.

This is representative of the cost-price squeeze which has been affecting farmers throughout the nation, and which has been hitting Michigan farmers particularly hard in recent years, states Michael Finn, in his report for the Lenawee County Planning Commission.

Each American farmer produces food for 39 others, here and around the globe. Everyone has a big stake in making it possible for him to stay on the job.

we care

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?
Basically, because "We Care."
Specifically, because we know these facts:
The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.
Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades…
NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.
The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.

So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends…
Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee.
A&P can and does.
Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Debt-Free Farm Status Is Doubtful

Debt - free farm status may be a dubious goal in today's economy thinks John Doneth, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

The day when a young man could start farming "from scratch" and turn over to his heirs a "debt-free" farm has become as possible as a corporation being without debt.

First, Doneth explains, it takes a lot more land at a greatly higher price an acre for today's successful family farm. "Eighty acres at $100 an acre adds up to considerably less than 400 to 500 acres at $300 to $600 an acre," the agricultural economist said.

"More modern machinery and equipment is necessary. A quarter century ago an investment of $12,000 in this equipment was considered adequate — maybe even high. Today one large tractor and necessary plows, planting and harvesting equipment may cost this much or even double this figure," Doneth related.

An analysis of Michigan State University's 1966 Tel-Farm records of "better than average" farms shows Michigan farmers have a machinery and equipment investment of more than $60 per tillable acre and an average real estate investment of $80 per acre and Doneth sees this constantly climbing.

The old boast, "I don't owe a red cent to anyone" of the veteran farmer of two generations ago is not heard often now. Most farmers use credit, leases and other credit methods to expand their operations and their earning capacities.

Although many young farmers are in debt for more than 50% of the value of their land, machinery and improvements, few farmers over 50 years of age are in such a position.

Increasing land values have helped many farmers get in a better net worth position in the last 20 years. Farm foreclosures today are rare, but 35 years ago they were numerous, Doneth reminded.

Few expansion-minded farmers, or those beginning farming today, can meet rising capital needs through earnings alone. This is why farm credit has become so important to agriculture today," Doneth concluded.

JANICE WHELAN

Cracks Alumni Magazine

Current edition of the "Michigan Alumnus" features an article by Janice Whelan, daughter of the Don E. Whelans of Tipton.

Miss Whelan, a junior at the University, will get her A. B. and a secondary teacher's certificate in English in 1968.

Before graduating from Tecumseh High School in 1964, she served as teen columnist for the Herald.

In a critical essay on "Our Michigan," a book of reminiscences by U-M alumni, Miss Whelan writes, in part:

"By sharing their experiences, these Michigan alumni helped me remember why I am here, and most of all, why I like it.

"To try to express this University's influence in one-thousand words proved a challenge that some of the contributors met better than others. The greatest tendency, when trying to express a very personal experience, is to overgeneralize . . . . .

"The problem is to bring a point of focus into the myriad of events that take place during one's stay . . . .

"The contributors' humorous retelling of campus pranks, and the nostalgic recall of past football glories and their heroes. . . . were interesting and enjoyable, but I was a bit disappointed that many of the contributors did not seem to find their real stimulation in the classroom or other acedemic activities . . . .

"Even though coeds now wear slacks to classes and most of the men do not wear ties (let alone socks), and even though many of the traditions recalled by the older writers have been lost somewhere today an exciting thing is taking place — perhaps in a classroom in Mason Hall, or in professor's book-strewn office . . . . . or somewhere among the stacks in the Undergraduate or General Library.

"Wrinkled foreheads and knitted brows smooth over, all tension sbsides in the ecstasy of intellectual discovery. This is what I hope I will be able to look back on as a precious part of my Michigan."

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

We, as interested and involved parties, are writing this letter in response to the letter concerning THS printed last week in The Herald.

We realize that the faculty of any educational institution must have a reasonable amount of authority and designated rights over the students in order to create and preserve a healthy atmosphere of conduct and learning in our educational system.

We would like to question, not the airthority of the faculty, but the way they themselves abide by the rules they have set down for everyone to follow.

How can we, the students, possibly behold the true significance of these rules if the faculty themselves do not fully recognize the regulations they have set down? Otherwise, why don't the faculty follow the rules they have set down which also includes themselves.

After all, they expect the students to completely obey the rules.

Another issue we would like to raise is the intensive concern by the faculty of THS's public image.

The question we would like to pose to the reader is: Why doesn't the faculty concentrate more on the inner morals and activities of the students of THS rather than concentrating on the outside public image as shown through the dress code?

We feel that if the faculty thinks and practices the above mentioned they would not have to be concerned with the public image of THS.

Two THS Students.

TO THE EDITORS:

I get The Herald every Thursday and since I'm a recent graduate of THS I'm always interested in the comments of the students.

In the March 30 edition in the Readers Write column was a letter from a student concerning the upstairs and downstairs.

I don't know if the student was there before they had these rules, but I was and you practically got "clobbered" when you wanted to climb stairs. I agree that teachers don't regard the rules and I agree that they should obey. As far as I know nothing has ever been said to the effect. So why don't the students talk to Mr. Hart or Mr. Brazee about it? They are really nice people!

Also when the student commented on the new rules about apparel and the demonstrations I was a little surprised that he wondered why they were called down. The demonstrations in the manner he describes sound very childish to me and as disreputable as smoking on the corners.

Are they trying to imitate some big city school that has a bad name for such "peaceful" demonstrations as going to court to make their school look ridiculous?

I think THS should try to keep their reputation as being a well dressed and mannerly school. I also think that Mr. Hart has a perfect right to call down the "peaceful" demonstrators. After all, he does have loyalty and the authority to keep my Alma Mater a decent school.

Sincerely,
Barbara Wood

Raisin Township Ends Fire Protection Pact with Tecumseh

By JIM LINCOLN

Fire protection for Raisin Township by the City of Tecumseh has been cancelled, effective May 15.

This decision was made at the township's annual meeting last week.

According to Supervisor James Mitchell, it was made at the open session by the people, not the board.

About 15 township residents attended with Richard Westgate of Black Hwy., making the motion for cancellation from the floor. He was seconded by John Escott of Billmyer Hwy.

Mr. Mitchell says the Holloway fire department will provide protection for the township, which covers about 36 square miles and includes two large industrial plants — Stauffer Chemical and Fisher Body.

Although City Manager Cal Zorn learned of the township's action last week, a letter confirming the cancellation from the township clerk, Suzanne Simon, was read to Council Monday night.

Council went on record and told one township resident, Raynor Sweet of Ives Rd., who was present, that the city would not respond to any fire calls in Raisin after May 15.

Whether Raisin is able to provide fire protection will depend on a non-manned fire station at Holloway and three pieces of equipment — a pumper and 1,000-gallon tanker, both of which are at least 15 years old, and a ¾-ton pickup, adapted for fighting grass fires.

Raisin has a volunteer department of

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

"I'm sorry, I can't hire you because you're a Mexican," the owner of a beauty shop in Adrian told the new cosmetology school graduate back in 1957.

Mrs. Lee Sanchez was heartbroken.

But not in despair.

"Maybe so-and-so- can use you," the lady added, mentioning the name of her sharpest competitor.

So off trudged Mary, determined to break into the beauty shop business — no matter what obstacles stood in her path.

She offered to work for shop No. 2 a week without pay, just to display her talents. The owner went along with this and at the end of the test period, agreed to hire Mary — at $15 per week.

Besides the usual chores as an operator, Mary reported at 7 a.m. to clean and mop the floor, put the shop in order.

MARY'S WORK was well received and the pay gradually crept up to $35 a week by the end of six months — with the janitorial duties still part of the arrangement.

"May I work on commission?" Mary asked the owner one day.

There was a moment of consideration.

"You know now you'll get a sure $35," the boss replied. "On commissions you might only earn $10."

"I'll take the chance," responded the pretty Mexican girl.

The next week her earnings hit $65.

From that point, Mary Sanchez was on her way. She eventually moved to another shop, then to The Beauty Center in Adrian, where she was manager for more than four years.

But Mary had her eye on even bigger things. In August, 1965, she opened her own five-chair salon in Adrian. Then on July 16, 1966, added an outlet with four chairs in Tecumseh.

This weekend marks another giant step in Mary's career as she moves her local shop into new spacious quarters once part of Osborne's Dept. Store, across from her present location.

Mary is holding an open house Sunday afternoon to show off the place, which will be staffed by five operators.

THE SAGA of Mary Sanchez could well be a chapter for a book like "Only In America."

Her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rodriguez, had settled in Cotulla, Texas, where Mary was born 32 years ago, and LBJ once taught school, she proudly reminds.

When Mary was four, in 1939, the family was contacted to come to the Britton area to harvest tomato and sugar beet crops. They would travel back and forth between Texas and Michigan each year, doing this until 1942.

Mary worked in the fields with the others and knows how back-breaking this labor can be.

At sugar beet time she and her younger sister, Sandy, would be assigned to pile up the topped vegetables. They'd inject some

Record Budget Jumps $140,000

A record-breaking budget and a proposal for a 1.4 mill increase were presented to Tecumseh's new Council Monday night.

The budget, which must be approved by May 8, is $847,850, about $140,000 higher than last year and twice the city's budget of 10 years ago.

City Manager Cal Zorn told Council that building and capital improvements account for most of the increase. Largest single expenditure will be for a $55,000 building at the Pit.

Also included in the budget is a 3% salary hike for all city employees.

LAST YEAR employees received increases averaging about 10%.

The millage increase from the current 11.6 mills to 13 was necessary to finance projects and operations for the fiscal year, July 1, 1967, through June 30, 1968.

30 Trees Will Be Planted

Thirty crab apple trees will be planted along N. Evans St. Saturday morning.

As part of a continuing city beautification program, the work is being done by Boy Scouts of Troop 73.

Don Moffatt, superintendent of parks and recreation, said the city is buying the trees, which cost between $3.60 to $4.40 each.

Twenty-five of the trees will go along the west side of Evans, from the A&P bridge to the north city limits.

The other five are slated for placement from the intersection of Evans and Macon Hwy. to the north. More trees are slated for this section at a later date, explains Mr. Moffatt.

Scouts will rendezvous at Airport Bowl about 9 a.m., under direction of Bill Frownfelder.

Baby Contest Profits Will Go for Dolls

Proceeds from the annual Baby Contest sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary for children up to age six will buy dolls for underprivileged little girls at Christmas.

A $10 gift certificate will be awarded to the king and queen and a $5 gift certificate to the runners-up.

Any picture up to 5" x 7" will be accepted. The back of the entry should list name, address, sex, color of eyes, color of hair, parents' name and address and phone number.

The pictures should be mailed to Mrs. Sid Adams, 503 N. Evans or Mrs. Dave Schoonover, 510 Seneca, by April 27.

Pictures will be placed on canisters and displayed in local stores, starting May 1. Shoppers may vote for their favorite little tyke.

Each vote will cost a penny. The winners will be notified by phone.

Annual Banquet Plans Completed by Church Laymen

Final plans for the Eighth Annual Tecumseh Area Church Layman's Banquet were completed at the meeting held Tuesday evening, with a committee headed by General Chairman, Meryln Downing and Program Chairman, Dr. George Burkhard.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., April 20 by the ladies of the First Methodist Church where the banquet is being held.

Guest speaker, W. B. Oakley, will be introduced by the master of ceremonies, Dr. William Adams.

Mr. Oakley of Detroit is secretary for Evangelism, Stewardship and Brotherhood for the Baptist State Convention.

Vocal numbers by William J. Mattison, Jr., will be accompanied by R. C. Morrow.

Richard Gartee will give the invocation and Charles Latham, III, the benediction.

All Tecumseh area church representatives should contact Merlyn Downing no later than April 17 in regard to ticket sales.

Oliphants Return

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant returned from Florida earlier than expected due to the illness of her father, caused by a fall.

Hike Proposed in Water Rates

A two-year study of Tecumseh's water system was presented to Council Monday night, including a proposal to hike water and sewage rates here.

The study, made by the city's engineering firm in Ann Arbor, call for a development of a new well field, just south of Staib Rd., between the railroad tracks and River Raisin, and the sale of $250,000 revenue bonds.

Water and sewage rates would be increased to pay off the bonds over a 20-year period, and would bring in an additional estimated $68,000 a year.

Examples in the report show that a present water bill of $5.50 would be hiked to $7.25, and sewage charges from $1.80 to $3.63. The last adjustment in the rates occurred in 1956 for water and 15 years ago for the sewage.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the sewage department has operated in the red for the past two years.

If Council approves the report and sells the bonds, the new rates would probably become effective late this summer or next fall.

The new well field would include four wells, three with 14-inch casings and each with a 1,200-gallon-per-minute pumping capacity.

The fourth well would include an eight-inch observation well, drilled recently for inspection of the field, with a pumping capacity of 500 gallons a minute.

Quality of the new water is rated softer than the city's current water and would be pumped directly to town from the site, supplementing Tecumseh's other sources of water.

SEATS PAID FOR — From left, Bob Moore, Rotary president and Orville Bishop, Exchange president, each present a check for $2,500 to Norval Bovee, assistant superintendent at Tecumseh Public Schools, to erect stands for football fans at Indian Stadium. Current capacity of 1,200 seats will be increased by 540 at a cost of $5,400 by Standard Steel of Three Rivers by Sept. 1. Greater part of the sum was raised with the sale of football season tickets.

Fashion Profit: $700

Style shows are great money makers.

Just ask members of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service.

They staged one Monday night, had a packed house of 550 attending at Products Union Hall.

Profit: $700.

Shown were 50 gowns — from casual to exotic — custom made by Exclusives EvelDean

They were modeled by 14 women, many of whom were showing their own garb.

Cash earned by the show will go towards numerous mission projects aided by WSCS.

In addition, a portion has been allocated to David Porteous, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Don Porteous, for his upcoming trip to Africa under the "Operations Crossroads" program.

Following Monday's showing, designers Evel Garrido and Dean Heimerdinger, owners of the shop, expressed their delight with the large attendance and warm reception of this work.

Raisin Ends Pact

24 men, some of whom live in the vicinity of Holloway. Fire calls may be made through the Palmyra fire station or directly to Holloway.

The cancellation ends a prolonged squabble between the township and city over fire calls, rates and other matters. Tecumseh fire protection rates are $300 per run, with a yearly minimum of $600.

The squabble included delinquent payments by the township, Tecumseh's response to fires which the township described as minor. The climax was reached three years ago when the city installed a sewer in township property to Tecumseh's new Fisher Body Plant.

Although township officials had originally approved the sewer and agreed to pay for part of it, they backed out and attempted to stop construction through court action.

Some city officials have expressed relief that their business relationship with the township is coming to an end, but expressed concern for the residents and property owners regarding future fire protection.

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

It's an intense love affair.

After waiting all these years it's happened and I want to shout about it to the world, I love 'm, I love 'm.

Judging from the turnout at Monday night's style show by EvelDean, most women feel the same way.

It's time to revolt — against a revoltin' development — or perhaps the term "lack of development" is more appropriate.

I am disgusted with the "sick" fashion designers (they should be hung by their toes from the nearest clothes rack) who push the string bean "Twiggy" shape as the rage.

Being ladies, most of us have tried to be civil about the whole mess, but underneath (literally) we are tired of being pinched, squeezed, stuffed and compressed into tubes, funnels and pipestems that ignore the obvious.

Women are not [illegible] boys — and I've yet to hear a man complain.

BELIEVE IT or not, men, we dress to please you. The torture we endure to make your favorite pasttime (girlwatching) enjoyable would blanch the stoutest male.

It's gotten to the point where even the perfect female figure, the statue of the goddess Venus, would look like a stuffed turkey in today's dictates.

We have to lie about our weight, measurements, dress size.

Above the waist, anything under 36 inches is a sin.

Below the waist, anything over 36 inches is sheer tragedy.

Doggone it — some of us couldn't hit 36-inch hips if we whacked off skin and muscles — our skeleton is bigger than that.

Incidentally, for the record (and a little morale boosting, girls), the Venus figure is 5 ft., 8 in. tall, weighs 140 lbs., and, among other notable quotables, has 37" bust, 23" waist and 39" hips.

HA!

Now, the perfect female figure we don't necessarily need, but unlike Venus, since we are no longer living in caves, we do need clothes.

Nothing is more demoralizing than to go shopping and overlap everything we try on.

That's why so many of us are home seamstresses — we adjust for the bulges.

Modern artists — please note — woman is not square, straight, triangular or rectangular.

Woman is circles, curves, curls, rolls, waves and ripples.

We need clothes to fit us — not clothes that we must fit to.

THAT'S WHY I love Evel and Dean.

Their designs are for women.

They don't ignore the curves and bulges, but streamline them — hide the worst and emphasize the best.

Clothes — with freedom of movement, neatness, delicate lines — create the feminine mystique.

In short, their creations look good, like a woman should.

ORIENTATION — Sue Illeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Illeck, represents 10 Tecumseh members of the Future Teachers Club attending the Orientation Day at Siena Heights College April 8. She is pictured with Larry Crittenden, Tecumseh Education Association president and Tecumseh Future Teachers advisor. Others attending from here were Anne Curran, Garna Gove, Marie Geisenhaver, Debbie Lavender, Jill Holden, Sandra Steadley, Pam Eggleston, Margaret Barrett and Marilyn Morden. Mrs. Gordon Garlick was the promoter for Tecumseh Area Schools. Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Robert Kelty and Mrs. Russell Schultz assisted with the hostessing.

Fishing Is Fun

PUBLIC FISHING SITE
MICHIGAN FISHING LICENSE

When a Michigan angler puts down his money for a fishing license, including a trout stamp, he is making a real buy. Besides getting an "in" to a four-season sport, he draws many benefits that fishing license fees have only partly paid for over the years. Counted among these benefits are a bold new anadromous fish program highlighting steelheads and recently introduced salmon (upper left), and a going and growing warm-water fish management plan tied to lake treatments, development of pike spawning marshes (upper right), and other efforts. Other dividends include some 700 developed water access sites and more than 400 specially managed trout lakes (lower right). In short, this state's fishermen are getting much more than their license fees pay for. Although Michigan's fishing fees have stayed the same for 10 years, spending under the Conservation Department's dynamic fish management and research program has doubled in the last three years. In a move to have fishermen pay a fairer share for these expanded activities, the Department is seeking legislation this year which would upgrade Michigan's fishing license structure. --Mich. Comedy Opens April 21

By LORI EGLI

Know how to catch a squirrel? Climb a tree and act like a nut. Know how to catch a man? Set a tender trap.

To see how it's done, there's the Tecumseh Players' next production, "The Tender Trap" a fun-filled show which opens Friday, April 21, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Bringing the play to life are eight talented people under the direction of Dr. Robert Murray and Mrs. Frank Dalton.

Robert Moore of Adrian, portrays the goodlooking, playboy bachelor, Charlie Reader. Bob has appeared briefly on the Tecumseh Players stage this past fall as the police officer in "Everybody Loves Opal."

A graduate of Michigan State University with a bachelor in speech education, Bob teaches at the Lenawee County Youth Home.

John Raymond, who also was seen in "Everybody Loves Opal," shares the spotlight with Bob as Joe McCall, a research chemist and friend of Charlie Reader. John also hails from Adrian and is a disc jockey on WLEN radio.

Betty Chorman plays the part of Sylvia Crewes, one of the more important of Charlie's girlfriends. Betty has previously appeared with the Lenawee Theatre Guild in a number of plays including "Solid Gold Cadillac" "Mr. Barry's Etchings" and their production of "The Tender Trap" in which she portrayed the same character.

When not rehearsing for the play she divides her time between her job as secretary to the plant manager at Fisher Body and her hobbies which include oil painting and music.

KATHLEEN FRANZ, who is a senior in Adrian High School, portrays the determined young Julie Gillis who also has her eye on Charlie.

Kathleen has been active in thespians for the past three years in school and took part in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" besides being active in the children's theatre.

Next year Kathleen will be minoring in dramatics at Michigan State University.

J. Craig Collicott commutes from Jackson to take the part of Earl Lindquist, the jealous, impatient lab research chemist who is interested in Julie.

Craig is a corrections officer at Jackson Prison. However, he has found enough time to be active in little theatre in Jackson, Clark Lake and now in Tecumseh.

He has played roles in "Oklahoma", "Shot in the Dark" and "Springtime for Henry" and numerous others.

Bob Whitman portrays the character, Sol Schwartz, the way-out beatnik trombone player who comes to the engagement party. Bob, a resident of Adrian, is an interior designer for the Lenawee County area.

He was on stage with the Port Huron Little Theatre, appearing in such productions as "Pajama Game", "Call Me Madam", "The Shriek," and "Kiss Me Kate."

SUZANNE OFIARO, a native of Clinton, will play the part of Jessica, the southern career girl who is after Charlie.

Suzanne was seen recently in "Annie Get Your Gun," as the girlfriend of Frank Butler's who baked a blueberry pie. Previously Suzanne had taken part in dramatics in both high school and at MSU. Presently she is attending modeling school in Detroit.

Florine Purkey, a Tecumsehite, will portray Poppy Matson, one of Charlie's more affectionate girl friends. She will be remembered for her delightful performances for the Players in "Pajama Game," "Girl Crazy" and "The Music Man."

"THE TENDER TRAP" will be presented for five nights, Friday, April 21, Saturday, April 22 and Thursday, April 27 through Saturday, April 29 in the Glass Room.

Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Tickets are now available at Wright's Pharmacy and Flanders Music.

Washington Report
by Congressman
MARVIN L. ESCH

No one need be reminded that this is that dreadful time of the year when income taxes come due. Across the country Americans are going through that annual ritual of realizing how much of their income Washington demands and subsequently complaining about our nation's fiscal policies.

Perhaps if such protests lasted the year around rather than just on April 15 there would be enough sentiment to force a halt to non-essential spending.

Nevertheless, income tax time does present an opportunity to reflect on fiscal policy and the huge demands on the U.S. Treasury. The last time we had a balanced budget was in 1960 — in fact there was even a surplus that year.

Since that time the nation has experienced continued deficits ranging from a low of $2.3 billion in 1966 to a high of $9.7 billion estimated for this year. The national debt has increased $46 billion since 1960 to an all time high of $332.5 billion at present.

ONE OF THE FIRST actions of this new Congress was to increase the national debt limit from $330 billion to $336 billion — an action which I opposed. It is expected that the President will ask for an even further increase later in the year.

Of course, a good deal of the problem stems from the cost of the Vietnam War — an expense which must be met. At the same time, however, while defense expenditures have risen $29.1 billion since 1961, non-defense spending has risen by $43.8 billion.

And unfortunately there are no indications from the administration that this upward trend will be reversed or even halted.

SURELY GOVERNMENT must provide and pay for the basic services to meet an ever-expanding population and economy. Yet we must not continually look to government to solve all our problems.

There are those of us who believe that there must be an increased utilization of the private sector's responsibility in meeting the needs of our changing communities.

Those of you burning the midnight oil to meet the April 15 deadline can be assured that there are those of us here who constantly question current fiscal policies, who feel a mandate to cut non-essential spending and who are attempting to involve the private sector in solving our nation's ills.

Individual Freedom Is Protected

Carl Cohen, Professor of Philosophy at the University of Michigan, spoke on the American Civil Liberties Union at the meeting of the Exchange Club Monday.

Introduced by program chairman, Dwight Hodges, Professor Cohen described the many elements of the personal liberties of the American citizen. He said the emphasis of the American Civil Liberties Union is very strong in protecting the individual's freedom, even if his ideas do not conform to the society's.

Guests of the club were 35 members of the Political Science class of Tecumseh High School.

Gordon Bogart, District Director of the Michigan Exchange, of Jackson, gave a short resume of Exchange progress in Michigan.

The Michigan District Bowling Tournament was announced for April 22 and 23 in the Lenawee Recreation Lanes, Adrian.

Indians Trip Onsted, 6-3

By KATHY HALL

Tecumseh High's varsity baseball team walked home with its first victory of the season by defeating Onsted, 6-3, last Friday at the American Legion field.

The Wildcats lost the contest from the mound. Pitcher Ed Perry walked a total of 13, five in the first inning.

He was able to strike out only six Indians.

Veteran Dean Hebb took the pitching chores for Tecumseh, fanning ten, giving up only two hits and two walks. Scott Edwards, also a letterman, relieved Hebb in the seventh.

While the Indian nine showed fine fielding talents, they were not too strong in the hitting department.

They had only two hits, both singles, one from Gerald Slick in the first and by Jim Hunt in the last.

THE INDIANS are looking forward to improving their 8-9 record of a year ago, with 10 returning lettermen.

Coach Carl Hale, who is beginning his sixth year of coaching baseball at THS, was pleased with Friday's win.

"However," stated Coach Hale, "we have some minor problems that will be worked out with time. We should have a respectable season."

Huron League Track Meets

Tecumseh Indians, winners of their first two track meets this spring, opens the Huron League schedule this Thursday afternoon on the local track.

Last Friday, Coach Tom Fagan's tracksters trimmed Chelsea here, 72-46, winning eight of the 13 events. On Tuesday, the Indians thumped Saline there, 86-32, copping 10 firsts in the meet.

Double winner in both meets was Lee Hannibal in the 120-yard and 180-yard hurdle events.

Joe Vargo had good marks at both meets in the shot putting here against Chelsea with 48'3" toss and 46'4" at Saline.

The track here in the Chelsea meet was extremely slow, accounting to a great extent for slow times in the running events.

Golf Clubs, Balls Needed at THS for New Class

Anyone have golf clubs and balls you're not using?

Tecumseh High School's physical education department is seeking links equipment.

Plans call for teaching golf during phys ed class periods, explains Mrs. Richard Wells.

But to get started, donations of links gear are needed. Those wishing to give may drop off equipment at the THS gymnasium during school hours.

If donors are not able to deliver their gifts, Mrs. Wells will pick up equipment. Call her at 423-2337.

THE IDEA for giving high school students instructions in golf came from a clinic Mrs. Wells attended at Eastern Michigan University, sponsored jointly by EMU and the Lifetime Sports Organization.

LSO is promoting the idea that youths should be well versed in "carry-over" sports — golf, tennis, bowling — which they can enjoy all their lives.

Clinic instructors pointed out the cost can be minimal to include golf on the high school phys ed level. Practice can even be held in gyms, with carpet remnants used as turf and plastic balls to hit.

Of course, outdoor workouts are important and Tecumseh has an ideal setup with the north practice football field, where young people can take full swings at real balls.

Mrs. Wells is even looking to the day when she can take classes for nine-hole rounds at the Macon course.

State Committee Hunts for Young Chiropractors

Dr. Sidney E. Adams has been named to the College Liaison Committee of the Michigan State Chiropractic Association as part of the state association's efforts to attract young chiropractors to Michigan.

The Committee, composed of Association members from each of the eight leading Chiropractic colleges, will visit these accredited institutions during the year to encourage graduates to practice in Michigan and to work with the colleges on a training program through state and national alumni associations.

It is estimated that 800 more Chiropractors will be needed in Michigan by 1975.

Dr. Adams, a 1966 graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic, has been a resident of this community for a year, with offices at 503 North Evans.

Ths MSCA College Liaison Committee is chaired by Dr. John A. Bleeker of Ludington.

Farmers Fight Dairy Imports

EAST LANSING — Michigan dairy farmers plan to intensify their drive to win Congressional approval of the Dairy Import Act of 1967.

More sponsors of the measure are needed, although nearly 50 U.S. Senators and scores of House members are already backing the bill, including Sen. Philip A. Hart and Rep. Marvin Esch.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman only recently asked President Johnson to arrange for a study of import controls under existing law.

Glenn Lake, a dairy farmer in North Branch and President of the Michigan Milk Producers Association as well as the National Milk Producers Federation said that imports pose a greater threat to American markets for milk produced here than any other single factor.

Lake said the National Milk Producers Federation developed the Dairy Import Act of 1967 and is working to have it passed in Congress because 2.7 billion pounds milk equivalent came into this country from abroad last year. Estimates are that 3½ billion pounds will come in during 1967 unless the Import Act is passed and enforced.

Imports totaled 10% of the ice cream market last year.

Much of the imported dairy products are in the form of butterfat-sugar mixes used for ice cream. There is doubt that the imported products are produced under adequate standards of sanitation and there is no really effective inspection system on the imports.

The Dairy Import Act of 1967 would limit dairy product imports to the average level of the five years 1961 through 1965.

Farm Bureau Gives Members Insurance

The Lenawee County Farm Bureau board of directors took action recently to provide at no cost to members, a new "accidental death and dismemberment" insurance coverage, in effect April 1.

Lump sum payments for a lengthy schedule of losses is included in the protection, ranging from the loss of a finger through loss of life.

County president, Ivan Hunt, explained, "We recognize that many serious accidents involving Lenawee county farmers occur elsewhere than on the farm, and for this reason have selected a protection which will move with the farmers in all his day-to-day affairs, on the farm, highway, or in a distant city."

Tentative approval for the new members service has been granted by the State Insurance Bureau.

Confined to members of the organization, the new protection is to be county-wide for each "named member" only.

MURPHY CONCENTRATES

produce 100 lbs. of beef for $13.75 total feed cost

Lot after lot — Murphy feeders report their feed costs at $13.75 per CWT of beef, or less! And that's total feed costs — including their own grain and forage. No wonder they call it MURPHY Mi-T Beef Concentrate!

What puts the mighty in MURPHY Mi-T Beef?

HIGH P. I. — High Potency Ingredients that provide more concentrated nutrition. So much more that you need to feed only ¾ lb. per steer per day.

You buy less MURPHY Mi-T Beef. That's your first big step toward low cost gains. Your second follows, naturally — when you find your own feeds go further because they are more fully fortified. Better feed means better beef. Top dollar beef. That figures.

Ask us to show you how to bank an extra margin of profit per CWT on your beef, too.

MURPHY Mi-T Beef is available with Stilbestrol for still better gains.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

Some of those federal safety standards for automobiles might be okay. But what good will it do a fisherman to drive safely to his favorite trout stream only to be exposed to the dangers of modern-day fishing equipment?

What we really need are federal safety standards to protect fishermen!

Just take a pair of innocent-looking waders for an example. No matter how they are constructed or what brand-name they might carry, all have built-in dangers.

Safety experts worrying about skid-proof tire treads might also show concern with the soles of waders which can, without a moment's warning, send a fisherman into an uncontrollable skid. The most obvious solution to this is to legalize the use of metal studs into the wader treads.

Unfortunately, this suggestion is said to be opposed by persons within the Conservation Department who feel that the constant use of metal studs in wader treads will wear out the bottom of trout streams.

Fear has also been expressed by some that fishermen, hurrying at top speed to get into a trout stream, may kick loose a certain number of metal studs. Other anglers following close behind may be struck and injured by these, they argue.

AS A SOLUTION to the problems of stream-bottom damage, it has been suggested that metal studs in wader treads be allowed only during the period from November 1 to May 1 each year. This, they say would save the stream bottoms from being worn out since few fishermen are wading the streams then.

Opponents, however, argue that anglers who want to fish in the warm weather months, from May 1 till Nov. 1, would have to use waders without the protective metal studs. This would make it necessary to own two sets of waders, one with metal studs and one without, which hardly seems fair.

A new book, called "Unsafe At Any Stream,"' is said to call for federal safety standards for not only waders and hip boots but other items of fishing tackle.

CHAPTERS OF the book are said to "deal with landing nets which stretch out on elastic cords and thump innocent fishermen in the skull with deadly accuracy; reel handles which can skin an angler"s knuckles when a big fish is hooked; and flies and other lures which persist in getting tangled in tree tops; an unsafe height above the water.

It is rumored that this author may even demand that sharp points be removed from all fish hooks to prevent injury to careless fishermen, though this seems to be going a little too far.

We wouldn't be a bit surprised, however, to see both state and federal lawmakers jumping into the controversy at any moment. Certainly no angler should be expected to face such dangers while he is fishing. What we need most is another new law!

J. Bartenslager Receives Award for Suggestion

Joseph Bartenslager, 9103 N. Union St., recently became the first winner of the diamond tie bar when F. W. vanWestrenen and Duane Carpenter, Joe's foreman, presented him with his fifth suggestion award at Fisher Body Tecumseh plant.

Mr. van Westrenen, plant manager, announced the results of the first quarter of Suggestion Plan Activity for 1967 saying that $4,349.31 was paid in awards for 156 ideas to improve quality, safety, housekeeping, working conditions or save labor or materials.

Mr. Bartenslager's job consists of receiving, inspection and operating the measurematic, a machine to verify the length of roll goods.

His accepted suggestions involved ideas on more quickly identifying drawings improving safety of the operation of the measurematic and increasing the efficiency of the operation.

This is the 25th anniversary of the Suggestion Plan at General Motors and effort is being made to encourage participation.

Silver anniversary tie bars and bracelets are given employees upon the adoption of their suggestions in addition to monetary awards.

News From Boysville

Scholarships have been awarded to three Boysville seniors, Rick Currie of Detroit, Paul DeWaelsche of Milford and Mike Gaudreau of Taylor as a result of the statewide competitive examination.

Out of 25,000 students participating in the scholarship examination, 9,000 received scholarship awards.

The three seniors from Boysville took their exam at Clinton High School.

It was later announced that all three had been chosen along with 14,000 other students to take a second exam that would determine the 9,000 finalists.

Rick Currie has been accepted by the University of Detroit. Paul DeWaelsche and Mike Gaudreau were both accepted by Eastern University. All three seniors received monetary scholarships.

Millions of dollars were lost and won at Boysville. The campus gymnasium was turned into "Little Las Vegas" so the students could dabble with the different games of chance.

$50,000 in play money was given to each student. He in turn could then multiply his money at bingo, car racing, black jack, chuck-a-luck, or many of the other standard games of chance. The house was run by the student council.

At the end of the evening, a general auction was held with Brother Thomas Friel acting as auctioneer. Several things were up for bidding; a cue stick went for $400,000 to Sterling Poage and combs went for $10,000.

A broken hip put a new freshman student in hospital for 12 weeks. Steve Lanham slipped on the ice on his way to school from physical education class. Steve was one of the new second semester students. He is continuing his classes at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Marie H. Reynolds, mother of sophomore Clifford Reynolds, died after a long illness of a backbone disease. Mrs. Reynolds was buried at Mt. Olivet.

Everything is back to normal after a long Easter vacation. If you have wondered where the Boysville column has been the last two issues, it's because only the Brothers were on campus. All the students left Boyville for their Easter vacation Friday, March 17 and did not return until Sunday, April 2.

While the students were on vacation the Brothers went on their annual six-day retreat during Holy Week. This year the Brothers from Monroe Catholic Central joined the Boysville faculty in the retreat. Father John Dohrety from the Holy Cross Mission and Notre Dame conducted the retreat.

Prom season finds several invitations from St. Joseph Academy in Adrian to the Knights at Boysville. Larry Heibel, Rick Currie, Richard Greathouse, Greg Quinn, Willie Dozier, Pat McGovern, Marvin Boht, Dwayne Brooks, George Gutte, Sterling Poage, Sam Kirkland, Dave LaVean, Max Phelps, Jerry Poe, John Yankoski, Alex Jarvis, Dave Rockwell, Bob Bonczowski, Dave Fassone, Chris Kurtz and Jerry Burchacki all attended "Pink Fantasia" decorated with small trees spun with pink angel hair and pink flowers. The music for the Academy prom was provided by The Symphony in Swing.

Washington D.C. will find the Boysville senior class touring its National sights May 28 to June 1. The seniors have made reservations at the Pick-Lee House. The canteen fund-raising project more than paid for the trip's expenses. The seniors are presently working the canteen to profit enough money to buy glass bank boards as their school gift.

Mrs. Larry Kanous To Research Area for Women's Pageant

Where was Grandma's place in history?

Mrs. Larry Kanous, 604 Orchard Lane, might well ask you just such a question.

Mrs. Kanous currently is researching the place of women and families in the Lenawee area for a special program at Michigan State University next summer.

Mrs. Kanous was asked by the Cooperative Extension Service at MSU to help research and write a script for a special historical pageant to be presented at MSU's College Week for Women, July 25-28. The pageant will be the July 27 highlight of the week's study concentrating on Michigan and Michigan history.

Women from all parts of Michigan will contribute to the pageant. A pantomime, complete with authentic, historical costumes, the pageant will be narrated with background music provided by a state homemakers chorus.

College Week for Women is an annual event at Michigan State University sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, Mrs. Kanous said. It's open to all Michigan homemakers who are interested in informal additional education.

The pageant, prepared as a cooperative effort of MSU staff and Michigan homemakers, is just one aspect of the College Week program. According to Mrs. Kanous the week offers an extensive choice of specially arranged classes at MSU during the week.

Sponsored by the Tri Town Extension group in Tecumseh, Mrs. Kanous is now serving as County Secretary and Treasurer of Lenawee County Council.

She is also a representative of Lenawee County serving a Cooperative Extension Area council which serves Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties.

School Site Borders Village

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — The board of education recently announced it planned to accept the option to purchase real estate owned by the Maude M. Halladay Estate located at the north edge of the Village of Clinton as the future site for a new high schol building program.

The announcement climaxed many months of study relative to desirable locations for an educational facility. Originally eight sites were under serious consideration, located on all four adjacent sides of the village.

The board consulted with resource personnel at the University of Michigan, Bureau of School Services, the Jahr-Anderson architectural firm and other school site experts, as well as board members and interested citizens of the community.

Factors considered included zoning regulations, industrial development areas, topography, water levels, highway and traffic factors, site development costs including earth moving and grading.

The 95-acre site is made up of about 30 acres of level land, 14 of which are located within the village limits, 20 acres of undeveloped rolling woodland, with a natural stream running through the center, and some 30 acres of rather hilly, yet fertile farm land at the extreme north end.

The rest of the land extends out into the River Raisin and Millpond.

There is just over 2/5 of a mile of frontage on Jackson St., and a similar shoreline on the River Raisin.

The total purchase price of the farm was established at $125,000, with a $1,500 option price for one year, $1,000 of which will apply on the purchase price when the option is exercised.

According to the option agreement, the site, as described, is restricted to educational and park development purposes for a period of 25 years from the date that the option is exercised.

A further consideration in the option states that the optionees agree that when a part of this land is created into a park and beautified, it will be dedicated in memory of the late Ralph A. Halladay.

Life of a Marine in Phu Bai

Editor's Note: Pfc. Bradley L. Bruce has written to The Herald about his mission as a Marine stationed in Phu Bai, South Vietnam. His address is:

Pfc. Bradley L. Bruce.
2285442 USMC
2nd Battalion, 9th Marines
"F" Company
FPO San Francisco 96602.

First of Two Parts

I have been reading with much interest of servicemen stationed in and out of the United States concerning their duties and locations.

Since I am a Marine and stationed in Phu Bai, South Vietnam, I thought perhaps your readers (especially any former Marines) might appreciate learning a little bit about the Marines' mission and duties here in Vietnam.

Presently I am attached to and serving with "F" Company, 2d Battalion, 9th Marines, 3d Marine Division which is an Infantry Battalion and was among the first to land in Vietnam in 1965.

Phu Bai is located about seven miles south of Hue', which is a holy city filled with much ancient history concerning Vietnam.

Our mission at present involves constant patrols around local villages and outlying areas in defense of the South Vietnamese people.

WE ARE APT to make contact with the elusive "Charlie" at any time and any place as there are no clearly defined fronts in this conflict.

However, we are well-trained prior to departing the United States and for the most part we keep "Victor Charlie" well in check.

These patrols that we run day and night are broken only when large scale or Battalion-sized operations take place such as the recent "Hastings" and part one of Operation "Prairie," along the DMZ.

A normal day for an infantryman in Vietnam is actually never-ending due to the patrols, line duty (Camp perimeters) and operations.

We do find time to catch some sleep, write home and enjoy a few cold beers, when available.

Speaking of beer brings to mind our chow here. Considering the distance involved in re-supplying units in Vietnam we do not fare too badly in this department.

In fact, a real hard effort is going full time to see that we get three squares a day. Of course, there are times when chow hall food has to be supplemented with the old reliable "C"-rations or "K" rations as they used to be called.

Names have changed but I'll bet that ham and limas are still in some veterans' minds. "C"-rations fill the gap though and there are numerous times when a can of "C" looks as good as a T-bone!

IN ALL SERIOUSNESS though, servicemen in this war-torn country can look forward to hot chow and showers in the established rear areas.

Life was hard to adjust to for me and I'm sure countless others serving here.

But, you find ways of bearing the drudgery and seemingly endless inconveniences found here. You never really "get used" to things here, but more or less put up with and make do with what you have.

War never was designed for comfort as I'm sure some of you can attest to, but still you would be amazed at the "contraptions" that are rigged up in order to bring a little pleasure and comfort into the infantryman's life.

Permanent living quarters and chow halls are only enjoyed occassionally by Marine Rifle Companies due to the fact that we are constantly on the move to new areas of deployment.

However, shower rigs, folding chairs and cots follow us wherever we go to become a part of our new area.

Crisses Enjoy Busman's Holiday on Pick Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. David Criss and three children left Friday morning and returned Sunday evening from Columbus, Ohio, where they enjoyed their Albert Pick weekend awarded to Mrs. Criss last fall.

Mr. Criss said that they swam in the outdoor pool covered by a dome for winter at the National Inn. They took a 'busman's" holiday by touring two nice funeral homes, Schoedlinger's in business since 1855 with five places and plans for two more and the Criss Bros. Funeral Home in Newark, Ohio. By coincidence, the home was founded by a David S. Criss, a possible distant relative of the visitors.

Property Valuation Increases

Tecumseh's total assessed valuation is $27,551,925 according to figures released to Council Monday night by Larry Goddard, city assessor.

Of the total, $9,956,150 is personal property and $17,595,775 for real estate.

The Board of Review met March 13-14 to set the valuations and met again March 27 to hear petitions from 11 property owners.

The 1966 valuation totalled $26,100,00, showing an increase of $1,451,925 this year.

The city's increase comes largely from personal property.

Science Discovers God's Natural Law

By KAY STEELE

Speaking on "Science and My Religion," R. C. Crippen, a research chemist at Stauffer Chemical Company, in a talk given last week to the Woman's Society of the Tecumseh Methodist Church, said, "Much of my interest in science is in discovering God's natural laws."

He continued with the explanation that in a scientific life every day something new is discovered.

Mr. Crippen acknowledged that many persons in the science field become so engrossed in their work that they are unaware of much about them. A truly interested researcher must be interested in every element of living.

In describing his personal background and interests it was evident that Mr. Crippen has this wide spread interest so essential to the scientist who believes in God's creation.

But the owners are a strange mixture of descendants of Count Dracula and Frankenstein and have their own man-made monster, Model S.

Wait until you see what a shocking experience it is for the group of young people to actually live through. The monster family even tries to get Buddy, who is engaged to Barbara, to marry their daughter Dirga.

Local FFA Record Wins Top Ratings

By RON ELDRED, Chapter Reporter

BRITTON — Mr. Walter Rowe and four FFA members of the local chapter attended a DeKalb Corn Awards Banquet in Jackson last week.

The banquet honored the Vo-Ag students with DeKalb corn projects who had made the best record on a corn growing analysis sheet supplied by DeKalb.

Attending from Britton were Les Rowe, John Rowe, Ron Eldred and Tom Houseman.

Tom Houseman, Les Rowe and John Rowe all received a score of 100% and were awarded a special wall plaque.

There were also 13 boys who received pins and certificates for adequate records.

All members of the Britton chapter who completed the project had a score above 90%.

At the awards banquet, 16 schools from the general area were represented. Britton-Macon was the top school, based on the over-all record of all of its entries.

This was the second consecutive year that Britton-Macon has been the top school.

The DeKalb corn contest includes over 1,000 schools in the top corn growing states. It has been in operation for 11 years.

The top three students and the reporter of the Britton chapter will be interviewed over WPAG on April 15 at 12:45 p.m.

THE LANSING REPORT

FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

So many persons have written me on specific legislative subjects that I will comment briefly on some.

DAYLIGHT vs. STANDARD Time — Although a bill has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the governor keeping us on standard time there is a Constitutional provision which can delay the effectiveness of this act which may come into play.

It provides for a referendum on a law when a specified number of citizens sign petitions within 90 days of the close of the legislative session. This action is being undertaken by supporters of Daylight Time who are out to gather 125,000 signatures.

If such signatures are obtained and certified by the State Board of Canvassers, Michigan will be on daylight time this summer and next summer, awaiting result of the public vote in November, 1968.

U.S. CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION — Efforts are being made to invoke a heretofore unused provision, the United States Constitution to call a national constitutional convention on the basis of resolutions adopted by three-fourths of the state legislatures.

Purpose of the convention would be to permit one house of a state legislature to be apportioned on other than population factors. Thirty-two states have already taken such action.

Apart from the merits of the proposal there are some grave dangers inherent in the calling of such a convention. There is apparently no provision limiting the subjects that could be covered at such a convention. I would hate to see the whole United States Constitution opened up to possible revision — particularly since there is no provision as to how the delegates to the convention would be chosen, etc. Any decisions adopted would, of course, still be subject to ratification by ¾ of the states.

CIVIL SERVICE PAY RAISE — Thousands of state civil service workers have been worried about legislative action that might nullify the pay raise approved for them by the State Civil Service Commission. I think I can reassure such persons that no action will interfere with their suggested pay raise. An attempt in the House of Representatives fell far short of the necessary ⅔ vote.

METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY — This legislation, which I am sponsoring, will enable counties that are classified as standard metropolitan districts to create transportation authorities. Specifically it will create such an authority for Southeastern Michigan — to include Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe. I am hoping to get the bill out of committee this week.

TAXES and the STATE BUDGET — The House of Representatives will probably be voting on a state fiscal reform program this week. The Senate is considering new proposals within the Senate Tax Committee.

The State Budget Director meanwhile has prepared an austerity budget that will call for cuts in school aid and various health services in the event no added revenues are voted. During the coming weeks this situation will have been thoroughly debated.

First Baptist Church Deacons Arrange Program

Deacons of the church headed by Art George arranged the program for the father-son banquet at the First Baptist Church March 30.

Orville Bishop served as toastmaster. Mike Murphy gave the toast to the fathers with his father, Duaine Murphy, responding.

Dennis Bryan led the singing. The youngest "man" present was Scott Douglas, son of Mr. and Joseph Laslo. D. B. Finch was the eldest gentleman present.

Milton Porter, Lenawee County School Superintendent, was the guest speaker showing pictures and telling of his trip to Russia.

Bunnies hopping about the tables as decorations were provided by Mrs. Fred Bryan, Mrs. Henry Howard and Mrs. George Burkhard.

There were 138 place settings for the dinner prepared and served by ladies of the church.

College Day for Area Women Offers 11 Topics

Women in Lenawee County are invited to participate in the annual Area College Day for Women, Thursday, April 20, at the Zion Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor.

The 9:30 to 2:30 program will feature classes on various topics — wills, insurance, medicare, color in the home, a clean house with modern methods, your market basket - today and tomorrow, family camping and child guidance techniques.

Pre-registration is necessary of these free classes. Write or phone the Cooperative Extension Office, 265-5108, in Adrian for the registration form.

Nine Youth Will Attend Conference

Those who will be going are Judy Wilson, Elizabeth Fielder, Elizabeth Vogel, Sheryl Rickard, Gary Spohr, Dan, Steve and Philip Van Valkenburg and George Fielder.

Mrs. Don Stevens Is Honored Guest at Cradle Shower

Mrs. Don Stevens was complimented with a recent cradle shower given by Mrs. Ray Freshcorn and Mrs. W. McCollum of Tipton.

Games were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Henry Karl Smith, Mrs. Alfred Dotson, Mrs. John Klanke, Mrs. David Klanke, Mrs. Stan Senkweitz, and Mrs. Paul Klanke.

They were presented to Mrs. Stevens.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Dilemma for Raisin Residents

How would you like to awaken some night and discover your house is on fire?

A dreadful thought, but it could happen. Take it one step further, how would you like to depend on Raisin Township's fire department to save your home?

After May 15, this is the dilemma that all Raisin property owners face — including those who adjoin the city along Russell Rd., some within a mile of Tecumseh's fire station.

Cancellation of a fire protection plan has been given, and city officials are going to abide by the township's request — no help whatsoever will be given, including emergency runs with the city's resuscitator.

The city cannot be held responsible for any future tragedy. This will have to be faced by those in the township who OKed cancellation of the agreement.

A fire department which takes up to a half an hour to respond to a fire, is not providing adequate protection. Raisin's department is known to have arrived at fires 30 minutes after receiving the alarm.

We urge township officials, residents and property owners to reconsider and renew a fire protection agreement with Tecumseh. It's for the benefit of Raisin residents.

If this fails, we suggest those living adjacent to the city to petition for annexation. You might not like city taxes, but we're sure you'll like the services — including fire protection.

That Wasn't Our Intent

"You gave the Tecumseh shopping center a black eye," was the concensus of remarks from merchants following last week's editorial on Business Row.

That certainly wasn't our intent.

We were warning of a future competitive situation.

One storeman said, tongue-in-cheek, "business people are up in arms and ready to tar and feather someone." Then he added, "You can be sure everyone is reading your editorials."

We hope they stick with us on this one — and don't read into it things which are not there.

For starters, The Herald is a consistent booster of Tecumseh and most people realize this. But we're not simply the town cheerleader. We take our responsibilities as a newspaper to all the people most seriously. Our aim is to help build a better Tecumseh in every aspect of community living.

Maybe we stated last week's case too strongly.

In any event, the editorial prompted several long discussions with merchants and from these some interesting items evolved.

Topping the list is the fact that Tecumseh businessmen are dedicated to and proud of all the city's shopping facilities.

The wife of one merchant told us The Herald should be urging newcomers to Try Tecumseh First, to see what stores here have to offer. She has a definite point. The merchants themselves might also do the same thing with cooperative advertising programs, continually pointing out the benefits offered by shopping in our town.

One man brought out the strong points of Business Row, mentioning the vast changes made in just the past five years, the enlargements, remodel jobs, the greater depth in inventories.

We're certainly conscious of these, can name a number of shining examples of individual progress — Green's Clothing, Cal's Tog Shop, Van-Mers, Osborne's, Wright's, Lamb's, Holmes and the present improvements at Ken-Ray.

Of equal importance, we think, has been the vast accomplishments in the off-street parking situation. A continuing program to buy up meter bonds will eventually allow free parking. That's real progress.

Another storeman said that the biggest mistake made in Tecumseh during recent years was to dump a paid Chamber of Commerce secretary. With this, we'll readily agree.

A city the size of ours needs an active, aggressive Chamber — and we'll only get it with a full-time man on the job to coordinate and lead.

WE'D LIKE TO OFFER several recommendations for the future:

1. Expand the Chamber to include a full-time secretary with emphasis on the city's retail district.
2. Conduct a shopper-habit survey to determine what people like about buying in Tecumseh and what they think might be added or improved. This would have to be done on a scientific basis, with personal interviews in about 300 homes scattered throughout the Tecumseh trade area to obtain concrete and valid statistical data.
3. Investigate what other cities our size have done (see editorial below.)

Gaylord's Unique Program

Have you been down Gaylord's main street in the past year?

We saw it last summer and were greatly impressed with the uniform and attractive store fronts, all done in the same Swiss Alpine motiff.

A merchant program there climaxed in 1966 and has pumped new life and vigor into the economy of that Otsego County community of 2,568.

Bob Benedict, publisher of the weekly in Gaylord, is going to provide us with pictures and stories of the transformation.

Bob told us on the phone last week that in 1958, Gaylord's main drag had 15 empty stores. Today the place is booming and prospective businesses are continually scouting for locations there.

The community banker has been a driving force in the Gaylord program and he'll drive any place in Michigan to show a collection of slides he has of Gaylord's downtown, before and after, plus telling about the transformation.

Letters to the Editor

Wants Original Implied Consent Law

TO THE EDITORS:

Senator Bursley and Representative Stites each have received a copy of the enclosed letter regarding the implied consent law.

I firmly believe there is a need for this bill and hope you do, too. Therefore, I would encourage you to promote the passage of this bill by whatever means you deem possible.

I want to encourage you to support and vote for House Bill 2038. I personally think the implied consent law is a much-needed tool for our safety and law enforcement officials.

Allowing people to drive under the influence of alcohol makes no more sense than allowing a baby to play with a loaded gun. He not only endangers his own life but the lives of others.

Too many innocent people are killed or injured because of drunk drivers. It is not logical for the law to protect a man who has put your life and my life in danger.

And yet, if the implied consent bill is not passed as it was originally presented to the House floor on March 10, 1967, the House of Representatives will be doing no more than encouraging and protecting those who drink and drive.

I am very strongly in favor of this bill and want to know what else I can do to see its passage come about.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph P. Hayden

Are Youths Interested?

TO THE EDITORS:

I am writing to you in regard to Education Day of Michigan Week. I would like to know if your city would be interested in sending any senior students to Adrian to participate in our county government day.

If you are interested, please call my office by April 14.

Cities will be allotted equal numbers of students for county positions. The higher positions in years to come will be given on a rotating basis so that all areas will be given a chance to eventually have their city represented in the higher positions.

The way this day has functioned in the past is to begin by meeting at the court house with Judge Martin who spends one-half hour explaining the duties and functions of the offices. The students then meet the person whose position they are going to represent for the day.

They will spend the morning with this person, performing the functions of his job. At lunch time they have been guests of one of the service clubs in town. The afternoon is spent performing the functions of each particular office.

We have found in the past that this has been a very enlightening experience for the student in actually participating in the function of the government for one day.

I hope that we shall have students representing your city for this occasion.

Sincerely,
Lawrence K. Cox, II, D.D.S.

Mother of Twins Club Learns How to Resuscitate

Mouth to mouth resuscitation methods demonstrated by Deputy Sheriff Richard Germond provided the program for the meeting of the Mothers of Twins Club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. James Hite.

He answered questions from the members.

Plans were made for a smorgasbord dinner May 6 with husbands attending, to be followed by a card party. Arrangements are to be made at a restaurant for the dinner.

A candy booth to be sponsored at the State Convention in Port Huron May 20 and 21 was discussed.

An auction of baked goods provided a diversion after refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. James Hubbard of Onsted.

Six members were present and four guests, Mrs. Walter Hochrein, Mrs. Jerry Cutler, Mrs. Marvin Vallad and Mrs. Ed Froelich.

Planning to attend the spring board meeting in Detroit Thursday at the home of Mrs. Andree Sanders were Mrs. Franklin Sandoff, Mrs. Kenneth Koons and Mrs. Richard Upell.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS OF SPRING

By golly, I do believe that we might just make it! For a long time I was dubious and even laughed at the optimist who predicted better things. Now, however, I am overjoyed at being able to say that I was wrong. Things are looking better every day and I do believe that spring is happening.

Using weather, birds and kids as indicators, I am really most encouraged about springtime. Of course, none of them are foolproof — it has been known to snow in April; we did see some of the neighborhood kids roller-skating when there was still ice and snow on the ground, and the birds can be the trickiest of all.

Take the stupid grackles as an example, instead of going south for the winter as they should have, a large flock of them spent the long and dreary cold months here. Most of the time they were right on our feeders, too.

But if weather, birds and kids cannot be trusted individually, mix their actions together and they give a fairly good hint of what is happening.

MOST OF THE early migrators returned about on schedule. Since the Friday before Easter, robins have been overrunning everything. They are big and fat and so brightly-colored — such joys.

The General's Lady reports their woods full of singing birds and the roadside ditches alive with redwing blackbirds.

Ducks and geese have been on the pond for a long time now and tho kingfishers are dining royally on the little shiners in the creek. Martins and bluebirds are also happy springtime returnees.

One of the great pleasures of this time of year is the early morning bird chorus. I have never been one who makes the transition from asleep to awake gracefully, it's a struggle and a battle each and every day.

These mornings, however, the birds sound so gloriously happy, so thankful to be alive and so full of enthusiasm for what the day might bring that their high spirits are contagious.

The cardinals are our favorite singers, their loud and clear whistles are easily recognized. The cheery chatter of the robin also stands out.

LATER IN THE day, exactly how much later is determined by the school hours, the bird chorus gives way to kid noise.

There are screams, shrieks, hollors, giggles, squeals, shouts and one character can sound exactly like the blooper siren on the sheriff's car.

In addition to the voice noises there is the thump of a basketball hitting the backboard, the grating swish of roller skates, the splash of rocks being thrown in the creek and the crunch of bicycle tires on the loose gravel in the road.

The grown-ups get into the act, too, for weeks now our neighbor over on the boulevard has been rototilling his garden.

BASEBALL was slow in coming to the neighborhood this year. Croquet has been a good game and every spring finds lots of little boy fishermen lining the creek.

A sign of the times: the older boys do not just fish anymore, they have casting outfits and, what is more, before venturing near the water, they spend much time practicing.

As we watched them perfect their techniques, polishing up on overcasts and under-arm throws — well, I do believe that there are more bushes and trees caught in back yards than fish caught in the creek. But they have fun.

So it is that we enjoy and are encouraged by the wonderful sights and sounds of spring.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

For several weeks, this race track story has been filtering through the area as rumor, innuendo and question.

So many people knew about it that you'd think someone had gone to a lot of trouble to call or send letters to everyone in the northwest part of Lenawee County.

Unfortunately, that wasn't the case.

What information was garnered — and bits of gossip really fly — came from hither and yon.

Chuck Goodacre, my next door neighbor, gave me the first inkling more than two weeks ago. He over-heard a Cambridge Township man in a store saying that he had been asked to attend a special meeting and the subject was to be a giant race course.

We managed to find the fellow, but he clammed right up.

So it went — all the way to the fellow doing the promoting, Lawrence H. LoPatin, with whom I talked by telephone last Wednesday.

He asked The Herald, as did others involved in the plan, to keep the story out of print until the zoning meeting had been held April 28.

True, the township had run a series of legal notices in the Telegram, jammed together with a bunch of others on the classified page, all set in tiny type.

The legal said a change in zoning was sought to allow "stock car racing," which if seen by residents could lead to a lot of misunderstanding.

MY OPINION has always been a fellow should lay his cards on the table and explain fully what his program envolves.

It's only fair to the people directly effected — in this case, all the folks residing in Cambridge Township, and in fact, with a promotion the magnitude of this one, people throughout the area.

From all we've heard, this track has great potential.

It could be a tremendous boon to the general economy.

Along with many others, I'll be looking forward to the decision of Cambridge Township officials a week from Friday.

Cambridge Considers $3 Million Track

Big-time sports car racing may settle in Cambridge Township on a 600-acre site, just north of the junction of M-50 and US-12.

To be valued at $3 million, the layout would include a two-mile oval for high-powered racing cars, plus a smaller track for European-type competition.

There would be permanent grandstands to handle upwards of 75,000 fans.

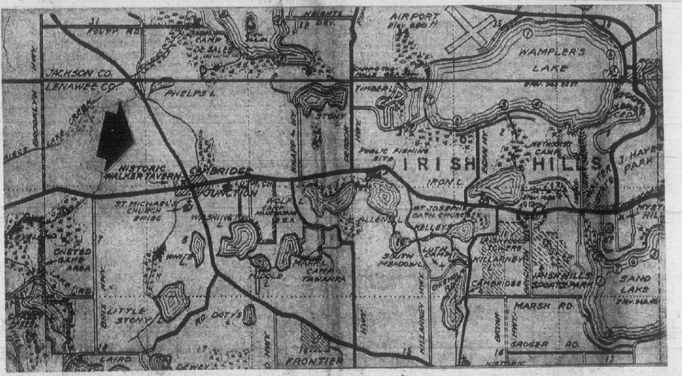
Options on much of the property involved have been obtained for the track promoter, Lawrence H. LoPatin of Detroit, who played a key role in development of the highly-successful Windsor Raceway.

Cambridge Township will consider a change in zoning for the area, from residential to commercial, at a special meeting Friday, April 28.

An OK would clear the way for the track.

However, there is another factor. The LoPatin group also has under consideration a site in VanBuren Township of Wayne County, where the board of supervisors last week approved the necessary change in zoning.

One fact gives Cambridge Township an edge and that's the reasonably flat contour of the site, which would mean less preparation work.



ARROW PINPOINTS SITE OF PROPOSED BIG- TIME RACE TRACK IN CAMBRIDGE TOWNSHIP

THS Gym To Become Night Club

Tecumseh High School's symphonic band will present "Variations in Music" May 11 and 12 at 8 p.m.

The gymnasium will be converted into the only night club in Indian country for this two-night stand.

Again this year, the 101-piece Dance Band will be accompanied by the fantastic high-kicking chorus line.

The band will feature salutes to Duke Ellington, Henry Mancini, and the Tijuana Brass.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50c for students and may be obtained from Tecumseh Senior High bandsmen or at the door.

Refreshments will be served at a minimum charge.

Council Favors Water, Sewage Rate Increase

Council went on record Monday night in favor of a recent water study and a proposed water and sewage rate increase — but tabled any action.

John Seeley, representative of an Ann Arbor engineering firm, explained the water study, including plans for a new well field and proposed rate increases.

The new well field will be located just south of Staib Rd., between River Raisin and the railroad tracks. Unfortunately, the area is tied up in a land option and may have to be condemned for the city to acquire it.

Blade Staffer Father and Son Banquet Speaker

Annual father and son banquet of the First Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh will be held in Fellowship Hall on Thursday evening, April 27, at 6:30 p.m.

Phil Jackson of the Toledo Blade will be the speaker.

Tickets are available from Paul Henning and at the Presbyterian Church office.

Commercial Franchise Cancelled

Commercial trash accounts with Modern Disposal, formerly Dependable Garbage of Napoleon, now have the opportunity of lining up their own haulers.

Council, Monday night, cancelled Modern's commercial franchise on the recommendation of Cal Zorn, city manager.

He told officials that he had received too many criticisms and urged them to allow merchants the freedom of hiring any hauler they wish.

Mr. Zorn said he felt that Modern Disposal was doing a pretty good job in the residential sections, citing only a few complaints.

Modern will keep its residential franchise and continue its regular pickups.

Lewis Lamm of Tecumseh has accepted a top executive post with American Motors as director of manufacturing engineering. He came to Tecumseh as Fisher Body's first plant manager, climaxing a 33-year career with General Motors, then joined Tecumseh Products Co. for a stint as chief executive. He and his wife reside at 1009 Red Mill Dr.

Some Favor Proposed Track, Others Oppose It

Editor's note — "What do you think about the proposed race track?" This was the question asked Tuesday night around Cambridge Township by Herald writer Dorothy Grigg. There were both pro and con reactions, with most unfavorable comments coming from people living closely to the site.

Mrs. Kenneth May, owner of Cambridge Junction Inn — "I think it would be wonderful. I'd be really happy if it is located here, but I'm afraid it might go to another place. All of us feel it would be a marvelous thing for (property) valuation. It's quite a talked-over affair in our restaurant."

George Elliott, 204 S. Evans St., who owns property in Cambridge Township — "I'm not in favor of it and I didn't favor making Walker Tavern into an historic site. I hear they're going to make a public fishing area on Wolf Creek, too."

Ernie Swift, 10510 US-12 — "That would be great. I hadn't heard much about it, though."

Mrs. Allen Boganwright, 11624 M-50, — "The man that owns our place will never sell this farm. He loves it and though they are offering $500 and $600 an acre, I know we won't have to move."

Mrs. Arnold Graves, owner of a Centennial farm across from the proposed site on US-12 — "God created a beautiful stretch of country here, why can't we leave it that way? It's an old community where people have feelings. They don't wait to be solicited, they give a hand when needed. My husband loves this place, it's been in the family almost 110 years. This is a scenic highway and a race track will destroy that. It isn't going to add a thing to the community."

Charles Brighton, 9500 US-12— "The businessmen are enthused about it. A few have questioned about the noise. We will know more about it after the public hearing."

Buck Mohr, owner of Onsted barber shop — "There is only one dissenter and he's against everything. He said it would bring a lot of hoodlums, but with $50,000 cars on a track, I don't see how there will be many hoodlums. They can't afford it."

Mrs. Hugh Drake, 10951 Brix Hwy. — "They have options on the land on the north side of US-12 and we are told that within three years the proposed raceway will accommodate 100,000 people. We are circulating petitions against it. They said only six big races and two premiers each year, but people forget that there are two weeks of time trials for each race. All they think of is how much money it's going to bring to the area. Water will have to be re-routed because it's the head water for Lake Adrian."

Mrs. Ed Johnson, 11900 Kilarney Rd. — "It will certainly help the businesses, the gas stations, restaurants, motels, etc."

Mrs. Homer Bittinger, 56 E. Onsted Hwy. — "There are enough gangsters traveling 12 as it is. I don't like the idea. There are too many people in this little community in the summer time anyway and it would be even worse."

Ivan Hunt, owner of Frontier City on M-50 — "I can't see any objection. The Irish Hills Tourist Association thought it was for the betterment of the area. Cambridge Township officials, the township zoning board, a couple of other interested parties and me, representing the Tourist Association, met with the promoter about a month ago. They wanted us to go back and talk to folks, but they didn't want the papers to know it until a certain time.

"People have asked about the noise, but we were told that quite an elite type are interested and those that have been to Daytona and Indianapolis, I haven't been either place, say that people on adjoining properties are not bothered.

"It's not hot rod stuff. I've been told that some of those cars are worth $40,000 and not only that, but there is only one school for the drivers in the world. That is in England. One of the men at that meeting is an Englishman and had been a driver in his younger days. He said that it takes young men to drive and they usually don't have too much money. Takes about all they can get together to get over there. Plans of the promoters include a driving school here.

"Property owners in the proposed area can't help but be concerned. They don't want their property values knocked into a 'cocked hat', but I can't see that it would do that. We are told that the track would be situated back from the highways and it has the blessing of the state.

"I wondered with the raceway on two sides of the historical park, seems that it would be two extremes as far as facilities go, but the township officials contacted the Conservation Department and they said that the raceway would be back from the road and wouldn't detract from the effect of the park.

"Besides that, with frontage on US-12, M-50 and Brooklyn Hwy., they should be able to develop adequate facilities to handle the traffic. They will be 50 to 100 people employed year around and about 600 on race days."

PRIDE IN CITY TAKES WORK

Everyone Can Help Beautify

A lot of people who live in Tecumseh and are proud of the fact will be making it easier for their neighbors to be proud too.

These are folks who think there is "No Time for Ugliness." Instead of just talking about keeping America beautiful, they will be putting their hands and money to work.

Buying and planting trees and shrubs, improving the city's parks and straightening up their own homes, yards and business places are immediate objectives.

Most of the work will be done by May 20, state-wide Community Pride Day and the start of Michigan Week.

Coordinating efforts is the Little Garden Club with the cooperation of city and school officials, Michigan Week workers and dozens of civic, fraternal, social and youth groups.

Garden club members have visited all these groups, showing the film on beautifying cities. "No Time for Ugliness," prepared by the American Institute of Architects. Color slides illustrating Tecumseh's good and bad points have also been screened.

With Spring housecleaning and the annual "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" promotions also underway, the city will help by having special trash pickups between now and Michigan Week. Dates will be announced later.

Among the projects suggested for donations or work crews:

- ► Replacing trees
- ► Planting shrubbery
- ► Cleaning park grounds of leaves and fallen branches
- ► Developing roadside picnic areas
- ► Improving recreation and park facilities at The Pit.

Groups or individuals wishing to help are asked to contact Don Moffatt, city parks and recreation director, or this writer, coordinator of the Little Garden Club program.

Prompt Action in Area Calms Storm Danger

By TOM RIORDAN

Area residents acted calmly and quickly in response to Friday night's tornado threat.

All reports indicated complete compliance with emergency procedures, as people took to basements, listening to radio WABJ and WLEN for information and the all-clear.

At three public gatherings — in Tecumseh High School, Junior High and the Community Center — crowds were moved to safe areas in the buildings.

Only one incident marred the excellent response and this came as a result of Adrian High School officials evacuating the auditorium there during a program attended by about 500 youths, including a group from Tecumseh. (See editorial, back page of last section.)

THIS IS THE log of the Friday night warning.

8:25 — Twister sighted, heading for Lenawee, two-minute warning sirens sounded throughout the county.

8:35 — Funnel reported to have touched down in field near Springville and "headed for Tipton", according to Gene Baril of WABJ.

8:45 — High winds in Tipton.

8:50 — Twister reported to have hit in Chelsea area.

8:59 — Temperature 62 degrees, winds gusting up to 20 miles per hour.

9:10 — Severe winds six miles west of Deerfield, utility lines down on US-223 near Rome Center.

9:30 — Storm has passed over Tecumseh.

9:46 — All-clear is announced on WLEN and WABJ.

Basement Singalong with Jamie

By CARYL RIORDAN

". . . and we hope you will enjoy the show."

That was the way the Tecumseh High School junior class version of "Ah, Wilderness" opened a three-night stand last weekend.

Friday's performance didn't get too far beyond that.

As the actors went through their paces, the two-minute tornado warning blew.

Bob Murray, one of the leads, was in the middle of a line when he stopped, then announced, "Folks, I guess that's the tornado siren. We'd better head for the basement."

There was an orderly exit as about 80 actors and spectators hustled to the THS boiler room.

Jamie McWilliams brought along his guitar and soon the cramped quarters rang with lyrics of "Kumbya," "House of the Rising Sun" and "Amen."

There was complete calm and order, although most of those present were frightened.

The group was released to go home when the dangers had passed — and invited back for a special performance Monday.

Patients Go Under Beds at Hospital

By MAXINE CALHOUN

It took about 15 minutes to get all 65 patients at Herrick Memorial Hospital under their beds when the tornado warning came Friday night, reports Administrator William R. Groover.

Night Supervisor Mrs. Mary Lou Coury confirmed the warning with the State Police at Clinton, then her afternoon staff went into action.

Blankets were placed on the floor to make the patients as comfortable as possible and each was given his wash basin to place over his head for protection against falling debris. Then the beds were rolled back in place over each patient.

"It is a difficult decision in each case," Mr. Groover said, "To determine which constitutes the most danger—to move a surgical patient or the potential danger from the tornado."

Mrs. William Warner was one of the most serious surgical patients. She had undergone surgery for the removal of a kidney Friday morning and was still receiving transfusions when placed on a mattress on the floor. She came through the ordeal without ill effects.

An amusing sideline was when one old gentleman refused to stay on the floor. Nurses had to put him back there three times before the all clear sounded around 9:30 p.m.

While patients were being moved, other nurses were hastily assembling wheel chairs, stretchers, blankets and equipment in the emergency area to be prepared for possible casualties from the community.

"Despite the inconveniences, everything went very well," Mr. Groover concluded.

He expressed his gratitude to the several visitors who stayed around to give assistance in getting patients back into bed.

Melinna Trefry, 9, received recognition Monday in The Detroit Free Press, with her picture and a poem printed in the column devoted to "Michigan This Morning."

Melinna and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trefry, are former Tecumseh residents. Her father was employed as a pharmacist at Wright's Drug Store about 11 years ago.

Melinna's poem is a whimsical ode to the purple and blue gentians that grow in profusion along the damp, rocky shores of the Les Cheneaux Islands of the Upper Peninsula near her home at Cedarville.

PURPLE GENTIANS

A purple carpet
Stretching soft and wide,
Purple Gentians greet the sky.

The Gentians with purple petals
And long green stem
Never say, "A-hem."

The golden sunshine helps them grow.
Oh no, they never say no,
They belong in a purple palace,
Never in a cow named Alice!

Tornado Sidebars

The tension downtown Friday afternoon and evening was obvious, with shoppers running from store to store and car tires squealing as people scurried through their errands in haste to get home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin kept their Gambles store open until 10 p.m. Friday because their basement was full of about 50 customers.

The husband scooted around the house opening all the doors to prevent a vacuum if the tornado struck, while his wife followed him, closing them so it wouldn't rain in.

Harry and Nancy Teets reacted to Friday's tornado siren. She dashed into the basement without a thought. He stopped in the kitchen to pick up beverage, salami, crackers and cheese to make the duration bearable.

"It seemed like the nurses had practiced for that tornado warning 100 times — they were so efficient," exclaimed Wynn Matteson, who was a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital Friday.

He and roommate Buck Maynard marveled as, within a minute after the siren they were put on blankets under their beds.

One of the nurse's aides suggested if four or five civil defense volunteersmen were able to give a hand at the hospital in such emergencies, it would be helpful.

Without help Mr. Matteson said, all the patients were under their beds in six minutes flat.

Although under beds for almost an hour, they said they were not uncomfortable.

They received frequent reports as news became available of the funnel sighting in Springville and damage near Deerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Bishop, chaperoning at the Teen Club Friday night, sent 12 young people, along with the band, to the basement of the building during the tornado warning.

Mrs. R. D. Moore, advisor for the group, also checked to see that proper precaution had been taken.

Mrs. Bishop spoke appreciatively of police notifying them when the warning was over since the transistor radio that one of the teenagers happened to have did not function too well.

She suggested that a transistor should be available in public buildings.

They did not hear the siren, but were notified by some of The Players in another part of the building two or three minutes later.

The youngsters went in an orderly manner to basement and remained for more than 45 minutes.

Medal Awarded Woman Who Save Ken Geiger's Life

Virginia M. Girdley of Warren, repair service supervisor for Michigan Bell, was awarded the Bronze Vail Medal Tuesday in Detroit.

Mrs. Girdley was visiting at Evans Lake near Clinton on June 26, 1966, when she heard a commotion near the water's edge.

She found Clinton teenagers, Dennis Kime and Terry Schuler, trying unsuccessfully to revive their employer, Kenneth Geiger, 37, of Clinton, who had apparently drowned.

Mrs. Girdley applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. After about 10 minutes, Mr. Geiger revived.

Mrs. Girdley was awarded the medal for her excellent judgment in not moving the victim and for her skillful application of first aid treatment.

NEFFS FROM WEST AFRICA — The Rev. and Mrs. Dale Neff help their son, Philip, model some of the apparel worn by the tribe of Fulanis with whom they work in Nigeria. Marian Neff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Comfort. Her twin sister, Norma, Mrs. Charles Anderson, lives in Columbus, Ohio.

Manager Gets Special Jersey

Tecumseh High School athletes were feted at the first All-Sports Banquet of the Indian Fan Club at Products Workers' Union Hall Saturday night.

Thirty-five members of the Girls Athletic Association served as waitresses for 340 seated for the dinner.

The Rev. Kurt Koenlin was introduced as toastmaster by Don Brazee, assistant principal.

Wally Weber, long-time sports figure of the University of Michigan, was cordially received by the audience and appreciated for his inimitable vocabulary and amusing anectodes.

EACH OF THE varsity coaches were presented and took the opportunity to introduce seniors on their respective squads, reviewing the accomplishments of each.

Coach Tom Fagan who handled football and track programs, presented his assisting coaches, Val Spangler, Vic Lawson, Walt Korican and Ted Todd.

Coach Fagan cited Henry Mensing for exemplifying the spirit of determination shown by all seniors.

He said that although they did not win a championship, he was proud of this team because of its attitude.

In speaking of track accomplishments, he singled out Lee Hannibal.

In a meet with Chelsea, Hannibal stumbled at the second hurdle and was considered hopelessly out of the race. Coach Fagan stated that though he picked up "a ton of cinders", Hannibal ran like he never had before and nipped the boy running third at the wire. He received a standing ovation.

VIC LAWSON pointed out that five of his starters are members of the National Honors Society, completely destroying the old cliche that "athletes are synonymous with heads full of concrete".

He remarked that next year's team will sorely miss seniors Charles Thomas, Dean Hebb, David Kennel, Doug Bugbee, Scott Edwards and Dick Gerten.

He also cited as an example of courage and determination Scott Edwards, who suffered a broken leg in the Grosse Ile football game, but was in the gym every day even on crutches.

At tournament time, he was playing, a feat the coach considered unusual.

COACH CARL HALE noted that his all-veteran squad should be quite respected in the league.

Golf and cross country squads were presented by Coach Robert Keibler.

Two special awards were presented by the football players. One to Keith Schmidt, the diminutive manager of varsity sports for the past four years, for his efficient work over the past four years and his assistant, Charles Gurtzweiler, for the past year.

Every coach took the opportunity to mention the good work done by Schmidt, a senior, and bemoaned the fact he didn't have another year or so.

Gurtzweiler was cited by basketball players as one who took their teasing in good humor and always served with a ready smile.

THE UNDEFEATED freshman football team presented a trophy to their coach, Ted Todd, in appreciation of his services.

Senior football and track letterman, Roger Young, gave the invocation.

The front is green "Go", symbolic of the offensive team, whose slogan is "Hustle." For the defensive side of Keith, turn to next page.

African Story

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The Rev. Dale R. Neff and his wife, the former Marion Comfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Comfort, will speak and show colored slides of their missionary work in Nigeria, W. Africa, at the Tecumseh Friends Church Sunday. The morning service is at 10 a.m. and the evening service at 7:30 p.m.

They have been working under the Oriental Missionary Society for the past ten years since their marriage in 1955.

He spent two years in Japan as a single missionary prior to the wedding.

The Rev. Neff is a native of Wadsworth, Ohio. He a graduate, as is his wife, of Cleveland Bible College, Cleveland, Ohio and studied one year at Marion College, Marion, Ind.

He first dedicated his life to God in 1946 and even then felt that work on the foreign mission field was what he wanted to do.

The slides the Rev. Neff will show are primarily of the largest tribe in W. Africa, the Fulani.

The couple has been working with these people for a year and a half using a trade language as a bridge into the Fulani tongue.

When queried about the method they used for learning the language, The Rev. Neff said, "Well, that's a good question."

He continued, "Mostly we find someone who hasn't too much to do and we talk with him and try to analyze what he says."

THE FULANIS, a migratory tribe, are cattle herders.

The Neffs are the first missionaries to work with them in their own language. Numbering about 3,080,000, the tribe is the fourth largest in Nigeria. Moslem by religion, they are found in 14 or 15 different countries in W. Africa. Another missionary conservatively estimates that the total number is probably about 10 million.

Malaria is the number one killer of people there, but the Neffs do not fear it due to the immediate response from drugs now in use to counteract the disease.

The Neff family does experience some difficulty in adjusting to the climate here when home on furlough. Their oldest son, Philip, 5 has been troubled with ear infection while they have been in this country for the past year and a half. Having grown up in Africa, he likes life there especially since his health is so much better, his father said.

THE FAMILY has remained here longer than usual this time, expecting to leave again in July so future furloughs can be arranged when climatic conditions will be less of a shock to the family.

The children were all born in the United States, Philip was five weeks old when they left for their mission field the last time. He has a sister, Marcia Joy, 1 and a brother Ronald, six weeks.

"WHILE HERE," the Rev Neff said, "I have not been twiddling my thumbs. I have traveled 45,000 miles mostly in the eastern and southern states conducting meetings in churches of various denominations to tell of the work and raise support for the interdenominational faith society specializing in direct evangelism."

"Individuals and groups of individuals send regular monthly contributions to support the work," Rev. Neff continued.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham, pastor of the Friends Church, invites the public to attend the services Sunday to hear the Neffs and see their pictures.

Let's Change Mail Setup

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has proposed that the Post Office Department be removed from the President's Cabinet and be converted into a Nonprofit Government Corporation.

"I know my proposal is far reaching," he said. "In fact, it has to be the most extensive proposal ever made in the history of the American Postal Service. But, I am firmly convinced, this is the only way to achieve the superlative Postal Service President Johnson has mandated, Postal Service worthy of the American standard."

Mr. O'Brien said that the Postal Service:

- ► Should cease to be part of the President's Cabinet:
- ► Should become a Nonprofit Government Corporation, rendering essential public service:
- ► Should provide Postal Service authorized by the Congress:
- ► Should be operated by a Board of Directors, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Congress:
- ► Should be managed by a professional executive appointed by the Board:
- ► Should be given a clear mandate on the percentage of cost coverage for Postal Services, so that further revisions in rates — should they be necessary — would be on a fixed formula basis.

"AND IN ADDITION, management and employees alike should be paid according to standards of comparable industries and employees should be offered more incentive and scope as well as a wider area for collective bargaining, "Mr. O'Brien said.

Mr. O'Brien said progress in improving postal service is "painful and difficult" because of "the restrictive jungle of legislation and custom that has grown up around the Post Office Department in the 138 years" that it has been part of the President's Cabinet.

"But Congress has often initiated and always supported our efforts to modernize, mechanize and plan for the future," he said.

"The conclusion I have reached has fully taken into account the partnership between the Executive Branch and the Congress. The relationships are excellent but together we occupy a vehicle no longer able to respond to the demands of the times."

Mr. O'Brien concluded, "The United States is perhaps the most ingenious nation ever to appear in the history of the world. I think it is about time that we devote considerably more of that ingenuity to the vital area of Postal communications."

Kind to Animals Week Stresses Good Pet Care

Be kind to Animals Week will be observed May 7 to 13, announces Mrs. Glenn H. Peck of the Lenawee County Humane Society.

The purpose of the Society is to protect animals from injury on the streets and highways, from dognappers, humans who dislike them., unstable children and adults who drop them on the highways to avoid the small charge to register them at a shelter.

The aim of the Society is to locate animals with masters who will care for them properly.

"We seek the help of the public," said Mrs. Peck.

—o—

While Lenawee County shrank in population from 77,789 to 76,500 between 1960 and 1964, Tecumseh increased from 7,045 to 7,300, the only community to show a gain in population. Population projections published recently for all counties by the Michigan Department of Commerce show this county will grow to 81,510 by 1980.

"If I'da knowed that you'da wanted to go,
I'da seed that you'da got to get ta go. In fact,

That ended it, in a gale of laughter. What more could be said about the persecution of the English language. Marian Cornell's bit of humor epitomized what the group had been saying about double negatives, infinitives, etc.

It's a good language. Why do we murder it so?

Bikes, Bands Are in Parade on May 10

Rotary's Motor Vehicle Safety Check is about to roll.

At first it was thought because of the new State Police checking law, it would not be necessary to have the event this year.

But Rotarians were told that more than ever they should inspect in 1967.

Blessings were given by:

- ► National Vehicle Safety Check
- ► Michigan State Safety Commission
- ► Michigan State Police
- ► Michigan State Auto Dealer's Association

The 12th annual event will begin with a parade, bigger than ever," May 10 at 5:30 p.m.

Rotary invites every possible walking or riding unit to join the parade — Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, veterans, junior baseballers, decorated bikes, scooters, antique cars, stage coaches or whatever is available.

There will be marching bands, and celebrities acting as judges to select the Safety Queen and King. The Jaycee Auxiliary's Baby King and Queen will be crowned.

TEEN AGE queen candidates should see their favorite auto dealer in Tecumseh or Clinton for entry blanks. Candidates must be a student in the Tecumseh High School.

Rotary will pick the Safety King.

Charlie Butler says, "If we are to be the best in the nation, let's prove that we are worthy of it. If we are champs, let's act like it."

School art classes will make window placards and paint murals on merchants' windows.

Sad Report Sent to GI from Sister

Editor's note — Bonnie Flanders, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Flanders, recently wrote to her brother, Van, a serviceman in Korea, about the day her dog, Pepe, was killed by a car.

Dear Van,

This has been the worst day of my life. I mean it too, not a thing good has happened today. This morning at 7:15 Pepe was killed by a car on North Union Street and the Man didn't even stop!

That's what gets me. I was late to school cause I couldn't stop crying.

He was breathing when they brought him in. We carried him to the truck to take him to the vets. We were going to take off when Dad said he was dead.

It's been raining and gloomy out, so quiet I can even hear the pen on this paper. I can't even play my piano today, its so crumby, I'm pretty good at playing now.

The puppies are fine. Your dog Susie is fine too. She keeps looking for Pepe. When they carried Pepe in Sue was marching right along, she knew something had happened.

Wish me luck for better days!
Hurry home!

Bye Now!!

Yes, We Are Aware of This

April, May and June are months of maximum tornado danger in Michigan, according to the Michigan Weather Service, which keeps tornado records and plots the paths of expected danger.

No tornadoes have ever been recorded in November, December or January according to the weather service, which is operated in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

A highly accurate forecasting system generally gives three to five hours of warning. By tracking winds aloft with radar-equipped balloons, the path of tornadoes can be predicted with 90 per cent accuracy.

Tornadoes occur when cold and violent winds of the upper atmosphere, sometimes up to 200 miles per hour or more, cross the path of warm, moisture-laden winds near the earth's surface.

Drastic differences of air pressure at the intersection cause a whirling vortex, the tornado funnel.

A house or building near the funnel may literally explode outward, due to the vacuum created as air rushes upward in the core of the tornado funnel.

Around the funnel, for as much as a quarter of a mile, swirling winds may reach ground velocities of up to 300 miles per hour. All the while, the funnel skips across the land at speeds upwards of 20 miles per hour.

While modern records seem to indicate a growing frequency of tornadoes, weather service officials point out that this is probably due to better reporting, rather than any great increase in tornado activity.

New Apartment Building Has Been Started

Construction of a third, large new apartment building has been started in the Marlboro Apartment area, along Evans Creek, west of N. Evans St.

When completed this summer, it will increase the number of units there to 58.

Frank Richter, Jackson owner, started the project here two years ago with construction of two buildings. The third building is being located north of the present two.

It will be similar in architecture but the one-and two-bedroom apartments are expected to have more deluxe items.

Renters there also will have a new, 20x40-foot heated swimming pool to enjoy this summer. Construction of the pool is expected to start this week.

Robert Richter, son of the owner, has assisted his father in this project and has shown plans of the Marlboro Apartment site to Tecumseh's Planning Commission.

Mrs. Joan Lundahl, manager of the apartments for her father, says only five of the present 35 apartments are not rented.

G & R Construction of Jackson is general contractor.

The Junior High fellowship will provide a musical program for the guests at the Herrick Nursing Home Sunday at 4:45 p.m. as a service project. Members are planning a trip to Cedar Point, Ohio early in the summer.

Both fellowships are sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meads.

He Really Toots

By KATHRYN SOMMERS

Dan Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush of Britton, is the recipient of the first scholarship in music to be awarded by music clubs of Tecumseh.

Impressed by his mastery of the cornet, judges selected Dan to receive the sum of $75 in a local competition held early in April.

THE SCHOLARSHIP is a joint project of the Music Makers and the Tecumseh Music Club, both members of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. Dan has applied for admission to Interlochen National Music Camp for the summer.

Music has been Dan's interest for a long time. He is a sophomore at Britton - Macon High School and has played first chair cornet in the band for four years.

He began his study of the instrument six years ago and was one of the last students to study with Clare Camburn. Dan has also studied privately with George Barryman, director of the Britton - Macon High School Band.

This talented young person played in the All-County Band the past two years and is in the Pep Band at his high school. This year he served as secretary-treasurer of the Music Makers and is the president-elect for the coming year.

MAYBE DAN is best known musically as a member of the "Basic Five Plus group. The name means "five members of the Bush family plus their friends." The total ranges from 9 to 14 musicians.

"It's definitely not a rock and roll group," says Dan's mother. "They do play fast music, but mostly they play music made famous by such bands as the Dorsey brothers, light classical numbers and hymns."

Don't get the impression that Dan is one-sided. Not all his time is spent with the cornet. He's an active member of the Walther League of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Britton and sings baritone or bass in the church choir.

He's also a 4-H club member, working on such projects as sheep, conservation, cooking and being a Junior Leader in crops with the Britton-Macon Community 4-H Club.

Definitely cooking. Dan aspires to be a chef and allows himself to dream that he'll one day have his own restaurant.

HIS MOTHER declares him the "best baker" and says he can cook anything — even goose. He often takes over the Bush household in the cooking department.

Dan Bush seems like a sure winner: in the future, diners at some post restaurant can enjoy excellent cuisine and then relax while the chef himself provides the after-dinner music.

Reservations, anyone?

Indian '9' Drops First

By KATHY HALL

Excellent pitching by sophomore Wendell Petty in the opening innings Friday failed to pay off, as the Indians bowed to Gibraltar Carlson, 4-1.

Petty, a transfer from Taylor Center, fanned 14, nine in the first three innings, and allowed only four hits.

After giving up one run in the fifth and three in the seventh, he was relieved by Dean Hebb.

The Indians had trouble at bat, getting only six hits and letting seven men die on base.

Sophomore Denny Lewis and junior Buddy Work each singled, while senior Bob Cunningham had two one-baggers and Hebb added a stand-up double.

Only two Indians walked.

Cunningham accounted for Tecumseh's only stolen base, while Charlie Thomas batted in the Indians' only run.

The loss was Tecumseh's first in two outings. The contest with Hudson, scheduled for last Thursday was moved to Saturday, and then cancelled because of the wet field.

After a four-hour workout and batting practice last Saturday, the team should be ready for two big ones this week — Adrian Thursday and Airport Friday. Both games are at 4 p.m. on the high school diamond.

Tecumseh Clips Michigan Center

Rolling to its fourth straight win, Tecumseh clipped Michigan Center here Tuesday on the local track, 77-41.

The Indians polled 11 firsts and six seconds with Gary Fairbanks being the only double winner.

Fairbanks won the broad jump with a mark of 18'7½" and the 180-yard low hurdles, in 21:08.5.

The visitors nearly kept pace with the Indians in the field events but fell far behind in the running events, losing first and second places in the hurdle events and failing to score in either the 880 or mile relay events.

Gary Hannibal Top Scorer in Two Junior High Meets

The Tecumseh Junior High School track team opened its 1967 season by splitting two meets.

The thinclads whipped Dundee, 60-45, in the opener and then dropped a 57-51 decision to Saline in their second meet.

Gary Hannibal was top Tecumseh winner, taking both the high and low hurdles, plus a second in the long jump in each of the first two meets.

Ken Humphries in the shot put and the Little Indians' 440-yard relay team — Dave Gurtzweiler, Corky Hunt, Scott Dalton and Frank Geisenhaver — picked up easy victories in both meets.

AGAINST Dundee, other Tecumseh wins were picked up by Tony Lisenbee (75-yd. dash), Rich Schuyler (440-yd. dash), Frank Geisenhaver (100-yd. dash) and Craig Smith (220-yd. dash).

Scott Dalton picked up a victory in the 60-yd. dash against Saline. Fine performances were turned in by Craig Brown in the pole vault, Craig Smith in the high jump, Gary Hall in the hurdles, and Frank Geisenhaver in the 100-yd. dash.

The little Indians travel to Adrian for a meet Friday.

THS Sparkles in Victory Over Milan

By KATHY HALL

Huron League title hopes are high for the Tecumseh Indian nine.

THS toppled the Milan Reds, 3-0, Tuesday in a sparkling team effort.

The Indians put out a total of 12 Reds on base and made the season's first double-play.

Milan's Les Viets grounded to shortstop Dean Hebb, who tossed the ball to Bob Cunningham at second. Cunningham completed the play with a throw to Gerald Slick at first.

A pair of sophomores, Jim Hunt and Denny Lewis, made up Tecumseh's battery.

Hunt did a fine job from the mound, fanning six and walking only four, while Lewis performed equally well behind the plate.

Hebb was the game's leading hitter with a single and a double in three attempts. Hunt and Buddy Work each contributed a single.

The Indians' only tallies were the first three batters that Milan pitcher Paul Prichard faced. Prichard took the loss for the Reds, going all seven frames, striking out nine and walking four.

It's time for a trouble-free Toro!

Milk Action Made Impact

Editor's note — Mrs. Roscoe Stubbins, secretary of the Lenawee County National Farmers Organization, sends along a letter which appeared in The Farmers Advance. She says it nicely sums up the NFO's feelings regarding the recent milk holding.

I would like to relate the American dairy farmers' present position in his fight for higher milk prices, led by NFO. The recent milk holding action has shook the dairy industry from top to bottom.

The big buyers of milk never thought the dairy farmers would have the 'guts' to demand a fair price and back it up with holding the milk on the farm. They know now they will.

"This in itself will gain some benefits for the dairyman. Almost all co-ops and dairy processors have come out with an assurance that fluid milk prices will stay at their present levels until August. This is unusual because normally at this time of year milk prices begin to sag.

"The present bill in Congress to curb dairy imports, which jumped 300% last year, will probably be passed as a direct result of the milk holding action.

Hearings, covering all milk areas have been set up to consider raising dairy support prices.

Only an emergency could get Washington to move this fast. The milk holding action is responsible, and will probably bring about a support price rise for milk.

"Many groups will try to take credit for these crumbs about to be tossed to the dairy producers, but the milk holding action has set the wheels in motion.

"Another result of the milk holding action is: the American people are now aware of the present situation and the plight of the dairy farmer, and they are basically in sympathy with our demands for a fair and decent price.

Differences between NFO members and non - members should be forgotten at this time, and farmers present a united effort to fight for their rights. Now is the time for all members to give complete support to their organization. Now is the time for non-members to join and support our efforts.

OPEN LETTER TO JOHN Q. PUBLIC

"Get the Safety Habit"

Listen, my friend, you and I are going to have to get our motor vehicles (cars and trucks) in shape and keep them that way from now on. You say why? Already Michigan laws allow State Police to stop you anytime or place and give your vehicle a check-over. We're told a compulsory Vehicle Safety Check Law of some kind will be passed before the year is over.

When this day comes, we better be "Inspection Ready" for we will not only pay for an inspection, but maybe, draw a fine, lose our driving privileges — have them suspended — maybe lose some precious points from the possible 12, and probably have to do this more than once a year.

So you and I better keep our vehicles Inspection Ready.

We can do this very easily during the Tecumseh 12th Annual Free Volunteer Vehicle Safety Check, May 8 to 13. Inspections will be done by experienced, friendly neighbors of ours, who have our best interests at heart. They guarantee no arrests or embarrassments during inspections, in fact they say if your vehicle fails to pass the first time, and you get it fixed and come back and get OKed, you are eligible for a prize drawing.

There can be positively no doubt about the ability to do this job, because these loyal and dedicated neighbors have had 11 years experience, won many awards for it and were determined to be the best in the whole nation last year.

So, we better get our vehicles Inspection Ready — sort of a dress rehearsal, so we will be ready if our car or truck is tapped for a check by State Police.

Every one of us should get into this free inspection business and see to it that all vehicles are Safety Checked this year. Yes sir, we should help them make it 100%. We should back up these dedicated, loyal citizens who have voluntarily given these free inspections in years past and are offering it again this May 8 to 13. Let's prove to the whole nation that we in Tecumseh are worthy of the honor bestowed upon us.

If we are National Champions — Let's Act like it.

If you would like and have time to help in this project, call or see someone on the committees.

Sincerely yours,
Citizen Interested in Safety.

THS Tracksters Swamp Milan Squad, 101 to 17

Tecumseh opened its Huron League schedule here last Thursday afternoon on a wet, rainy day — but on a winning note.

The Indians clobbered a weak Milan squad, 101-17, winning all but two events and taking seconds in all but one.

Coach Tom Fagan's tracksters swept the shot put, high jump, mile run, both hurdle events and the 880 and mile relay events.

Flat Rock comes here Thursday afternoon and is expected to provide sterner competition.

Results of the Milan meet are:

Shot put — Vargo (T), Parros (T), Allen (T). 47'7".

Broad jump — Bishop (T), Fairbanks (T), Keith (M). 18' 8½".

High jump — Dalton (T), Boldon (T), Anderson (T), 5'6".

Pole vault — Collins (T), Lopez (T), Betts (M). 10'3".

880 relay — Tecumseh, 1:39.5.

Mile run — Goddard (T), Johnston (T), Laidlaw (T). 5:03.3.

120 high hurdles — Hannibal (T), Robinson (T), Fairbanks (T). 16.0.

880 run — Keith (M), Ruffner (T), Boldon (T). 2:07.7.

440 — Keith (M), Dixon (T), Anderson (T). 57.3.

100 — Young (T), Bishop (T), Adams (M). 10.8.

180 low hurdles — Fairbanks (T), Robinson (T), Hannibal (T). 22.2.

220 — Young (T), Adams (M), Bishop (T). 24.3.

Mile relay — Tecumseh, 3:51.6.

Two-mile run — Kennedy (T), Graft (T), Philip (M). 10:50.6.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD
LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

APRIL 20, 1967

WARM-UP — At the beginning of the Lenawee County Cattle Feeders' Tour, April 1, brisk weather made free coffee and donuts, provided by Hayden Mills, doubly welcome. Free copies of The Tecumseh Herald with the Beef Special were distributed to several hundred cattlemen who inspected the William Darish & Sons cattle feeding operation.

Famed Musical Comedy

ADRIAN — That masterpiece of musicals, "My Fair Lady," will be presented by the Adrian College Players and Music Department at Dawson Auditorium April 27 to 29.

Wednesday, April 26, it will be presented to visiting area high school students.

Curtain time for Thursday and Friday evening performances will be 8 p.m. The Saturday evening performance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the Dawson Auditorium box office from 1-5 p.m. April 17-24 and from 1-8 p.m. April 25-29, or reservations may be made by calling 265-5161, ext. 227.

Admission is $1.50.

Henry Higgins, a peevish diction expert, will be portrayed by Joe Balsanek of New Buffalo. Sandra Solce of Warren, as Eliza Doolittle, is the Cockney-tipped laboratory specimen he transforms from a drab flower girl to being a belle of high society.

Alan Rust of Solon, O., will portray Alfred Doolittle as the flower girl's roistering father who will sing the disarming songs "With A Little Bit of Luck" and "Get Me To the Church on Time."

"My Fair Lady" is the three-hour blend of melody and laughter that has enthralled audiences all around the world.

Advertised unblushingly as "the world's greatest musical" without anyone's ever raising an eyebrow over such a blatant superlative, "My Fair Lady" is based on Bernard Shaw's 1914 comedy, "Pygmalion."

Medical Treatment Is Tops

Editor's Note: Pfc. Bradley L. Bruce has written to The Herald about his mission as a Marine stationed in Phu Bai, South Vietnam. His address is:

Pfc. Bradley L. Bruce
2285442 USMC
2nd Battalion, 9th Marines
"F" Company
FPO San Francisco 96602.

Second of Two Parts

In regards to medical treatment, I believe that this is one area where there is little room for improvement. When I first arrived in Vietnam last October, I joined my present outfit which was in the process of moving out on Operation "Prairie".

We were in a battalion-sized sweep covering a recently-discovered infiltration trail being used by "Charlie" for resupply across the DMZ.

Our mission was to follow this trail which actually had steps and hand rails built along the way for use in night time resupply to North Vietnamese regulars who had crossed the DMZ.

We had just resumed tactical movement down the trail at about 5:30 a.m. when we were ambushed from a small waterfall overlooking the trail.

AFTER THE SMOKE had cleared and we had broken the ambus[illegible] what we'd do about our casualties. I hadn't even taken the M-60 machine gun out of my shoulder when overhead, very low, jets began to make passes over our area high in the mountains.

This was a very comforting feeling at a time like this but still didn't answer my question.

However, it was but a matter of moments that I heard my platoon commander screaming LZ (landing zone) security up!

As I slithered down the side of the hill I was on, with my machine gun cradled in my arms, overhead I could hear the "jolly green giants" furiously churning the air preparing for the helicopter medivac which had been called in by radio the instant we took our first casualty!

WHAT A SIGHT those choppers were to see!

It was not too long after that, that every wounded man was hoisted out and on his way to top rate medical treatment.

I have seen many medivacs since then and all are executed with the same fast, precise movements.

Infantrymen sometimes think that they are fighting this war all by themselves but it's rather obvious that there are many men behind each Marine, Soldier, Airman on the so-called front lines.

HOPEFULLY this letter may give you some insight on what we Infantry boys are doing over here. I have not intended to take away anything from the supply, medical, communication, motor transport and air wing boys as they are as vital to us as we are to them.

I merely have tried to point out a few things I've experienced so far in my first six months in Vietnam.

I would also like to thank the many fine organizations in the States that are behind us over here. The many fine boxes of goodies arrive daily from the States and are all so appreciated.

That, along with the ever-precious mail helps tremendously to keep morale up high where it is right now.

HOMETOWN newspapers rate high on the "morale building list".

Michigan is well represented in my outfit which brings many hometown newspapers for "readin' and tradin'."

In closing, I'm proud to be serving my country and the United States Marine Corps. Many thanks for taking the time to read a "note" that turned out to be much more than that I'm afraid.

Medicare Kits Being Distributed

Medicare kits are available from the Jackson Social Security office for anyone enrolled in the voluntary medical insurance portion of Social Security health insurance.

The folder kits are designed to be used for recording medical expenses and have filing pockets.

Under medical insurance there is no payment by the government for the first $50 of medical expenses each year. The kit can be used to keep track of this deductible amount.

After $50 a claim should be made for additional expenses.

Included in the folder is a "Request for Payment" form for the first claim and brief leaflets explaining the $50 medical insurance deductible and the methods of payment.

The kits are distributed at the time of enrollment in the medical insurance program. They also may be obtained from the office at 536 N. Jackson St., Jackson.

Gay Follies Coming

CLINTON — Ivan McKenna and Karen Scoviac will team up as masters of ceremonies for the star-spangled band show, "A Salute to Freedom," this week.

Reserved tickets may be obtained from band students for the three performances, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 8 p.m., in the high school.

Precision dancing by the chorus girls in original costumes is being directed by Mrs. Karl Wirt and Kris Humble.

Featured numbers will include Charles Wilder singing "Exodus", a washtub band with a comedy version of "Winchester Cathedral," folk singing, Sailors' Hornpipe dance and music by the high school dance band.

The entire show with a patriotic flair is being directed by Karl Wirt.

PIE FACE — "Shorty" Jean Deming lets "Tiny" Janna Lee Welch have it in the face in a comedy routine at the Band Show, "Salute to Freedom" in Clinton High School, April 20, 21 and 22 at 8 p.m.

Bridal Fashions of Past 100 Years Will Be Modeled

CLINTON — The Episcopal Church Women learned the truth of the familiar saying, "Everyone loves a bride," five years ago when they staged their first Bridal Gown Revue.

The event was a complete sellout and their Lyster Hall was filled to capacity.

That's why this year's event, May 6, will be staged in the dining room of the United Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets at $1 are limited to 200, early reservations may be made with Mrs. Leslie Pierce, 456-4910.

Wedding fashions have changed a lot in 100 years and 25 gowns will be modeled depicting some of the most unusual styles from before 1900 up to 1966.

A brown and red striped gown worn by Anna Beach when she married William Walker in 1897 will be modeled by her great-grandaughter, Diane Vogel.

Mrs. Walker's sister, Mazzie Beach married Patrick Egan in 1899 wearing a lustrous black satin gown. The quality of the satin was a subject for remark in its day—and it has retained its beauty admirably. Mrs. Egan's great-niece, Nancy Vogel, will wear her dress.

An 1878 gown, worn by Mrs. Hattie Barnard, mother-in-law of Mrs. Hazel Barnard, will be modeled by Jane Hause.

A HANDSOMELY styled pale blue gown with an "hour glass" cummerbund was made by Mrs. Carrie Taylor McDermott for her wedding in LaGrange, Ind. in 1910 and modeled by Mrs. Jerry Freeburn.

A "Roaring Twenties" gown of 1920 was worn by Olga Berdelin Ramsey of Ann Arbor. Its original pale pink hue was dyed blue during the depression, when another dress was needed. It will be worn by Linda Smith.

Mrs. Bruce Winder will model the wedding gown worn by Bernice Walker for her marriage to Ben Mahrle II in 1940. The weather that Feb. 3 was so mild the wedding party was comfortable outside without wraps for snapshots.

The Rev. O. E. Priest performed the ceremony that united Margaret Morden and Theodore Greenfield in 1952, as he did for all six of the Clyde Greenfield's children.

Mrs. Clyde Greenfield Sr. says, "Rev. Priest must do a good job, because the knots have all stayed tied!"

Niece, Linda Corwin will model Mrs. Greenfield's gown.

WHEN MARY Van DeMark married Robert Way in 1955, she wore a gown recreated by her mother in the fashion of the bridal gown worn by Mary's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Van DeMark. The 50-year-old lace from the original gown added to its charm.

Rare, indeed, is the woman who can model her own wedding gown after 12 years, as Mrs. Way does.

Mrs. Lewis Slusher and Mrs. James Akers will complete the nostalgic revue with the modeling of their own modern bridal finery.

Mrs. Paul McKenna, wife of the pastor of the host church, has been invited to be the narrator for the revue.

The central committee includes Mrs. Thomas Carleton, Mrs. David Van Tuyle, Mrs. Donald Houghton, Mrs. Richard Gage and Mrs. John Mabry.

Mrs. Robert Winder is arranging the music and Mrs. Anna Mae Waterman is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Patriotic Mood Is Father-Son Banquet Theme

CLINTON — A patriotic red, white and blue theme was used in decorations for the Father and Son Banquet in the United Church of Christ Saturday night.

Seventy men and boys were seated at tables centered with American and Christian flags and accented with red and blue streamers on the white covers. Decorations were by the Philathea class.

Charles Greenfield of Adrian was the toastmaster and gave the toast to sons.

Appropriately, Mr. Greenfield's son, Chester Clyde "Chips", named for his two grandfathers, Chester Baker and Clyde Greenfield, Sr., gave the toast to grandfathers and younger brother, Robert, gave the toast to fathers.

The toasts were cleverly done in original verse composed by the Greenfield family.

A surprise feature on the program was a vocal solo, "Scarlet Ribbons", by Bill Heimerdinger for his father, Clarence Heimerdinger, Sr. He was accompanied by Mrs. John Fox.

The highlight of the program was the presentation by John Jansen of colored movies he had taken in California at Disneyland and Marineland.

For those who wished to remain longer, John showed his Rose Parade pictures taken when MSU played there in 1965.

The Swiss steak dinner was prepared by the Mary - Martha Class and served by the members of the Priscilla Class.

Snake Wins Tree Climb

CLINTON — Robert Olsen, 22, of Detroit told Clinton State Police he was target shooting Saturday when he spotted a snake climbing a tree.

He chased the snake up the tree and lost his balance, falling to the ground.

What he thought was an injury from a tree limb turned out to be a puncture from a discharged 22-shot through his cheek. He was admitted to University Medical Center, Ann Arbor.

The mishap occurred at a cabin on Mulvaney Rd. near Manchester.

Bonnie Mattern Wed to Ronald Thomas

CLINTON — Marriage vows were exchanged by Bonnie Lee Mattern and Ronald Thomas in Ann Arbor, Saturday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kendall Cowing in the First Methodist Church at 7 p.m. before the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mattern, 2751 Platt Rd., Ann Arbor, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thomas, 4655 Clinton-Macon Rd.

The bride's daytime length dress was styled on princess lines of white chiffon over crepe with a high rolled collar, short sleeves and a white velvet bow accenting the back neckline.

A shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a white satin pill box. The bride carried a nosegay of daisies and carnations.

MAID OF HONOR, Nancy Thomas, sister of the bridegroom, wore a yellow chiffon dress styled identically to the bride's.

She carried a nosegay of yellow and white daisies.

Richard Thomas, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception attended by the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Ann Arbor High School and is employed at Bendix Aerospace Systems Division, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Thomas, a 1960 graduate of Clinton High School, attended Eastern Michigan University and Adrian College. He served two years in the Army with 16 months in Germany. He is employed by Zick Trucking, Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are residing at 111 Marlboro Court, Tecumseh.

Stuart Novel Is Reviewed

CLINTON — "God's Oddling," Jesse Stuart's story of family life in the hills of Greenup County, Ky., was the book reviewed by Mrs. Agnes Geiger for the spring luncheon meeting of the Clinton Woman's Club Wednesday.

She related how Jesse Stuart's father, Mick, though uneducated himself, was determined that his five children would attend school and become teachers.

The luncheon was served to 37 by the women of the Methodist Church.

The tables were covered with yellow tablecloths centered with sunny arrangements of daffodils and yellow chrysanthemums.

Corsages of daffodils and eucalyptus leaves were presented to the officers and the speaker.

THE LUNCHEON committee included Mrs. Jerry Jaqua, chairman, Mrs. John Mabry, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Louis Roumell and Mrs. Harlan Ruhl.

Piano selections were played by Mrs. Ralph Halladay before the luncheon and Mrs. Miller gave the invocation.

After the luncheon, the president, Mrs. Daniel Reilly, introduced the new officers, recognized a past president and honorary member, Mrs. Linn Weaver and welcomed the guests, Mrs. Dow Jaqua and Mrs. Al Vandegriff of Onsted, Mrs. Lee Lincoln of Jackson, Mrs. John Wintersteen of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Ina Basham, Mrs. Clara Conner, Mrs. Daniel Goodman, Jr., and Mrs. Richard Sager of Clinton.

Announcement was made of a series of card parties in May to raise money for the proposed high scholarship fund. The first, May 5 will be at Mrs. John Hoelzer's home and the second, May 8 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Reed with others to be announced.

Future High School Students' Parents Briefed on Curricula

CLINTON — Parents of about half the eighth grade students met with Principal Jack Miller and Guidance Counselor Dan Schindler for an orientation session Thursday night.

The 35 parents were briefed on the curriculum choices the eighth graders are to make now for their four years in Clinton High School.

Mr. Miller outlined the required subjects for each year and suggested the various elective courses to be offered.

The curricula is divided into three general categories — college prep, general and vocational.

The latter, vocational, will receive increased emphasis in coming years, Mr. Miller indicated, with the addition of the Lenawee County Vocational program, which will continue to be expanded.

ALSO OFFERED in this area are agriculture, commercial and home economics courses for those who do not desire the college prep program.

Mr. Schindler described the purposes of the numerous testing programs in which the school participates.

Through these tests, he is able to counsel the youth into the direction their talents will permit them to continue their education.

He explained the many college scholarships which are available to high school graduates, sponsored by local, state and college organizations.

MR. SCHINDLER reminded parents that many youth who were qualified for the scholarships would be unable to receive them simply because the parents did not take the trouble to fill out the lengthy financial statements of need which are required.

In conclusion, Mr. Schindler asked each eighth grader's parent to make a half-hour appointment with him by Friday, April 28, when final curriculum choices are to be determined with his assistance.

The students will be released from class to attend these conferences with the guidance counselor.

Those unable to attend the meeting are asked to call the high school office for an appointment.

Comprehensive displays of the various departments, science lab, commercial and agriculture were in the cafeteria for viewing by the parents while coffee and cookies were served.

McLoughlins Visit Follises

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McLoughlin and her father, Paul Schulz, of Detroit, were callers Saturday of Mrs. Clarence Follis. They also visited Mr. Follis, who remains a patient in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Vocational Education Is Studied

CLINTON — The board of education heard at the meeting last Wednesday, the report on the Vocational Education Study Committee.

Tentative budget plans were made for the acquisition of basic machines in industrial arts.

Vocational education needs for the 1967-68 school year were discussed in detail.

All members of the Clinton Village Council were present for a joint discussion of the Board of Education's plans in building and site development.

The resolution was passed to hold the annual school election of the qualified electors of the district in the Clinton Township Hall, Monday, June 12. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

All district residents are to take note that the last day on which persons may register with the appropriate village and township clerks in order to be eligible to vote at the annual school election is Monday, May 15.

A special session was scheduled for April 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Indian Boy's Sponsors Get Appreciation

CLINTON — The Episcopal Church Women's group have received a certificate of appreciation from the Christian Children's Fund organization for their sponsorship of an adopted Indian boy, Norman Fuson, in Oklahoma.

The certificate, displayed at the meeting Wednesday, will be hung in St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Dwight Service was hostess for the meeting attended by 12 members.

It was voted to postpone the April 20 card party until October.

Rehearsal for the Bridal Gown Revue was announced for Friday, May 5, in the United Church of Christ.

A sum of $5 was voted to the Cancer Fund.

Mrs. Clyde Miller will be hostess for the May 10 meeting.

Know Fescues Before Buying Seed for Lawn

When seeding your lawn this spring, don't confuse your fescues.

Some make attractive, fine-leaved lawns; others look more like tough, hardy clumps suitable for roadsides, but not for front lawns.

C. M. Harrison, Michigan State University crop specialist, points out that the preferred fescues are members of the "creeping red" species. Any one of its improved varities is a worthy ingredient in a lawn seed mixture.

Harrison says the varieties to look for include "Chewings," "Illahee," "Pennlawn" and "Rainier," all excellent companions for Kentucky bluegrass and noted for persistence on poor, droughty or shaded areas.

But the MSU crop scientist warns home owners to beware of the less favorable coarse, bunchy, "tall fescue." This includes "Alta" or "Kentucky-31" which are not suitable for attractive lawns.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

Space-age equipment and a bit of the old Wild West are both playing important parts in game research being carried on in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Bears are being trapped in used guided missile tubes while "necktie parties" are staged for deer.

In the case of the bears, they are live-trapped and hauled away from areas where they have been making nuisances of themselves. In the past, traps used by the Conservation Department were made of heavy steel culverts, which are quite expensive. Since the federal government has offered the used missile tubes, they are being revamped and work just as well. Besides, you can hardly beat the price of something free.

The missile tube traps, when remodeled, are eight feet long and almost a yard in diameter. One end is blocked, while the other is outfitted with a heavy door with grating. When a bear enters the trap and pulls the bait, the door slams shut and locks.

GAME MEN check the traps every day. When a bear is caught the guided missile is guided to a distant release site by means of a set of trailer wheels fastened to the tube. Once pulled there, the bear is "shot" with a dart containing sodium penathol to put it to sleep, then biologists go to work.

The bear is hauled out of the trap and weighed, blood samples are taken and identification tags are clamped to its ears. If the bear is shot later on by a hunter or is trapped again, this provides valuable research data on bear movements and growth rates.

THOSE NECKTIE parties for deer are no more popular with the whitetails than they were with the Wild West "bad guys," only these modern-day ones have much happier results for the deer than they did for the outlaws.

Game men working this deer research project have been successful in putting bright-colored collars on something like 1,000 Michigan deer over the years. Department personnel merely rig up nooses of wire which have a plastic band at one end.

When a deer comes walking down a runway and pokes its head through the circle it tightens up to the plastic, which locks together.

At this point the deer jumps in fright and the wire breaks away cleanly, leaving just the fancy collar around the deer's neck. Color of the "neckties" varies according to the area, in order to make it easier to spot movements of deer from one area to another.

Hunters killing a deer with a collar are asked to report it to the nearest conservation officer to aid research.

While the collars are said to be harmless to the deer, we have been unable to get a statement from a whitetail saying exactly what they might think about this research project. Deer without the neckties are not apt to be jealous over deer that do have them.

In fact, we would guess that deer who haven't run into one of these research deals would figure that "no noose is good news."

Freshcorn, who also had lacerations, was ticketed by Clinton State Police for no operators license, failure to report an accident and violation of the basic speed law.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendershot of Brooklyn were Sunday callers on Mrs. Ray Smith and daughter.

Conference Will Feature Vatican, Church Changes

A weekend conference May 6 and 7 titled "Response to Vatican II", will be held at Cobo Hall in Detroit for the five diocese of Michigan.

The Most Rev. John F. Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, said the conference, open to the public, is being offered "to increase the understanding of the people so they see themselves not as spectators, but as participants in the whole process of renewal of the Vatican Council."

Eleven speakers will be featured in general sessions and workshops.

"It is the first time in the history of the Province of Michigan such an important number of the world's great thinkers will be brought together at an open conference," said Mrs. Jane Wolford, executive director of the Institute for Continuing Education, which is coordinating arrangements.

Topics will include, "Peace", "The Church", "Eastern Religions", "Political Community", "Renewal of the Religious Life", "Religious Freedom", "Sin", "Communication" and "Development of Peoples".

Registration for both days is $12, for one day $7 and banquet tickets are $8. Advance registrations are suggested from Institute for Continuing Education, 305 Michigan Ave, Detroit 48226.

EMU Makes Plans To Accept Gifts To Expand Theatre

YPSILANTI — Regents of Eastern Michigan University approved a plan to accept gifts and grants to expand the University's summer drama and theatre program.

The move, token in response to a request from the Directors of the Ypsilanti Greek Theatre, will make it possible for the University to conduct a summer theatre program that could include the Greek Theatre concept if public support is adequate.

President Harold E. Sponberg said that the expanded program at the University might include the Greek Theatre concept, but that the decision would be left to the University and would reflect the amount of support indicated between now and October, 1967.

If sufficient funds are not received by October to finance the 1958 summer theatre program, funds earmarked for the program will be returned to the donors.

THE # LANSING REPORT FROM senator
GIL BURSLEY

Recently I initiated a regular newsletter to servicemen in Vietnam from Washtenaw and Lenawee Counties. I have about 150 names on the list now but am certainly missing many.

Please send me the names and addresses of servicemen (and women) you know of in Vietnam.

(Editor's note — The Herald sent a list of 20 to Senator Bursley, all those men on our mailing list.)

There have been a dozen replies from the first newsletter. Some of the boys wanted information on specific subjects, including schools. One wanted a Michigan flag. Several had good suggestions.

From a sergeant in the 60th Infantry Division: "From what I've read about the draft lottery system in school and newspapers I'd say it would be a better system than the one now in use.

"If at all possible I'd like some information on a business college in the area to help me better myself for the job awaiting me at (An Ann Arbor Company)".

FROM A NAVY man on the USS Enterprise: "I think it was very thoughtful of you to establish such a newsletter as I very rarely see even a newspaper . . .

"I agree with the policies of the present administration and I hope that the attacks on North Vietnam will be stepped up. I have two reasons for this: (1) Hopefully the conflict would be ended sooner and we could go home (2) Also, our service on this ship would most likely be extended for a few months and we would see some snow and Christmas again. Several men haven't seen Christmas for three and four years because of being transferred from one ship to another.

"I would be most interested in any information you have available concerning jobs in the cooking profession.

"Before I joined the Navy, I worked at the (an Ypsilanti) restaurant as a cook and I'm having trouble trying to decide if I should return there or if I should go elsewhere."

FROM THE First Battalion of the 18th Infantry: "I would like to see a bill passed making all men 17 years or older who drop out of school serve at least two years or more in service, or find something to get them off the street and out of trouble . . .

"I don't think these people who always protest know what they are talking about . . . I wish they could be sent over here to serve a tour, then maybe they would keep quiet for a while . . . I have been told that I am a fool for extending my time, but I believe there is a cause over here."

FROM THE Second Battalion, 22nd Infantry: "First I'd like to say that you are the only one from the government of Michigan writing and letting us from Michigan know what is going on.

"There are quite a few guys here from Michigan and for news from home we can only rely on our wives and parents to tell us what is happening.

"Does the state still have the veterans' bonus in effect? A few of the guys from other states have mentioned that their state governments are giving a sum of money to them for serving and coming over here for a year."

FROM THE 9th Infantry Division: "I only wish that the people could really see what our men here in Vietnam have to go through each day. I feel the reason the kids at home are so much against our effort here is because so many do not know how we have to fight and what life is like for the Vietnamese people.

"I, myself, have lost a lot of friends during the time I have been in Vietnam and there was a reason for their death and they died proud that they were fighting in a way for our country but more so for a country too weak to fight off a large communist country which has been supplying North Vietnam throughout this conflict."

"There are also a lot of young men that have been exempt from the service only because of a slight record with the police — and are walking the streets the same as those with driving records. I feel the NCOs and officers in the service could make men of these guys and make them appreciate the truly great world we are living in today."

"Probation After Death" is the subject of this Sunday's Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science Churches.

Chief Cites Bad Water

Unhealthy water and sewage-soaked ground have become a problem in Lenawee County according to Dr. Tom Hamilton, Director of the Lenawee County Health Department.

For this reason, the health department will increase surveillance of septic systems and well installations throughout the county after May 1.

Most of the difficulty stems from inadequate installations coupled with intensified residential development. Frequently, a 50-acre farm that could soak up all the rain and snow that it received cannot hold the watery wastes from fifty homes.

The failure of any water or sewage disposal system threatens the health of the user, his friends and neighbors, and often people far downstream or downhill.

If everyone who buys or builds a home, or has his system changed, or is unsure of the system would consult the health department, safe water and sewage disposal could become a reality.

A county sanitation code has been in effect since 1961 which places responsibility for the proper installation, operation and maintenance of septic system and water supply upon the property owner.

The code also requires issuance of a permit by the County Health Department before construction or repair begins, again placing responsibility with the homeowner.

The code was created because a problem existed, but due to widespread non-compliance the problem has worsened. When a system fails or is improperly constructed, the homeowner usually must spend his money to correct the situation.

The requiring of permits is part of the system to advise while insuring that minimum standards are maintained.

The health department's prime function is to provide advice that will protect the residents of this county but nothing is gained if the advice is never sought or is ignored.

Dr. Hamilton urges all residents to use the services of the health department in an effort to alleviate the sanitation problems common to us all.

Russia Keeps War Going, Says Magazine Story

National defense was the topic presented by Mrs. Cecil Smith to DAR members at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Whelan Friday.

Mrs. Smith quoted David Lawrence from a recent issue of the DAR publication, "Peace could come overnight in Vietnam if Russia would agree. The support needed to keep the Viet Cong going is being directly financed and equipped by 'our ally', Russia.

"Billions of dollars are being spent in materials by Russia, and she is being aided by friendly nations to permit the fastest possible delivery thereof."

Mrs. Frank Vanderlinden described a tour which began in Phoenix, Ariz., and included a visit to a dude ranch, sites of ancient Indian habitation.

The 15 members attending spent the social hour comparing their own trips without concern for the tornado warning.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Purnell Osborn poured as jelly roll slices were served. Red Emperor tulips made a colorful decoration for the tea table.

ABOUT DOVES

Mourning doves have not been discussed in this column lately, have they? I am not just sure why, probably it is a case of simply taking that which is common or plentiful for granted. (We shouldn't do that, of course, it is never right but, oh, aren't we all guilty?)

I am afraid that we tend to think of mourning doves as ordinary, certainly they are common place.

A large flock spent the winter in the neighborhood. Some days it seemed that our whole bird population consisted of nothing but doves.

Now, of course, the large flock has disappeared or broken up and the birds are beginning to pair off.

Speaking of the doves who wintered here where Logan Street meets Evans Creek, brings to mind a question.

Were these birds the same ones we see now; are mourning doves true year round residents or do they migrate slightly? According to "Familiar Garden Birds Of America the latter is the case.

They claim that there is a little shifting southward in the fall — our summer doves move out but are replaced by ones who move in from the north.

Therefore, even though we have mourning doves with us 12 months of the year, they are not necessarily the same ones all the time. I have heard the same things said about bluejays.

HOW MUCH truth there is to this theory I do not know. It would be interesting sometime to check it out, wouldn't it?

However, since I am not about to become involved with banding or marking — and that large sigh of relief was from Mom, Dad and Liz — we shall leave the scientific experiments to others.

But regardless of where the doves we see now spent their winter, they have other things on their minds these days.

We are approaching family raising time and the birds are busily looking each other over, sizing each other up, selecting mates.

Just the other afternoon we chuckled at two of these birds in the yard. The smaller, presumably the female, was quietly standing at the top of the creek bank paying no particular attention to anything.

In front of her a male was reaching deep into his bag of tricks and trying everything to make himself attractive.

He strutted, fanned out his tail, puffed up his throat and ruffled his feathers. It was quite a show — we enjoyed it but she seemed unimpressed.

MOURNING DOVES are such neat appearing birds, their tannish-gray feathers are always sleekly in place, that it always comes as a shock to realize such trim characters build such shoddy nests.

They are terrible affairs. To say that they build their nest at the Y of a horizontal limb is almost a compliment — oh, they show great preference for such limbs but the nest itself is just sort of thrown together.

A few sticks are jammed together or laid crosswise and that is it. Crude and untidy. Unsafe, too — it is not at all uncommon for the nest to be so poorly constructed that the eggs fall right through the floor.

This happened last year, the loose tangle of sticks was on a branch that reached over the creek and two of the white eggs plopped down into the water.

SINCE THERE are always mourning doves around, it is quite obvious that some eggs are hatched and that some baby birds manage to grow up in their flimsy homes.

However, if these birds flunk out as construction engineers, they certainly rank high as devoted parents. They both share the tedious jobs of incubating the eggs and, after hatching, feeding the youngsters.

The feeding is interesting — instead of stuffing wriggly bugs down the babies' throats, they are fed on "pigeon's milk". Both males and females secrete this rich nourishing substance and regurgitate it into the babies' mouths.

The baby pokes his hill into the adult's mouth, a few pumping movements and it's dinnertime!

So it is that although there is still much to say, we must wind up this article about doves.

Fellowship Hour Will Welcome New Members

A fellowship hour will be held in the Tecumseh Methodist Church hall sunday morning following worship services.

Approximately 14 new members will be received by the Rev. Donald Porteous into the fellowship.

Mrs. Robert Bonner is planning the coffee hour at which time members of the various church organizations will be introduced to newcomers.

Wednesday, April 26, the finance committee will meet at 7 p.m. followed by the meeting of the official board at 8 p.m.

New Alphabet for Beginners

Sister John Louis will discuss the Initial Teaching Alphabet (ITA) at the meeting of the Herrick Park PTO, Wednesday April 26 at 8 p.m.

For a number of years, Sister John Louis was a reading consultant for both the Archdiocese of Chicago and Diocese Oakland, Calif.

She conducted research in listening and reading, secondary reading and study skills and a pilot study in first grade reading.

The Initial Teaching Alphabet, composed of 44 symbols, was developed by Sir James Pitman of Great Britian and was tried on groups of English children of kindergarten age in 1961.

Since their rapid advancement in reading was noted, more British Schools and many in the United States are trying the ITA.

Dr. Durrell of Boston University, a well known reading specialist, says, "The ITA people assume that children's chief reading difficulties come from our language's variations on spelling and sound. Reading problems can grow from hundreds of causes."

A reading consultant reporting on use of the ITA in a first grade in Bethlehem, Pa., says, "The lowest scoring ITA youngster has done better than the highest scoring child from the traditional classes."

Anita Metzger, a reading teacher in Ventnor, N.J. said, "Most children so far have made the switch from ITA to the standard alphabet with surprising ease."

The meeting is open to the public.

The engagement of Janice Kay Whelan to Jay T. Osburn is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whelan, 3940 Whelan Rd., Tipton. The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Michigan and will receive her bachelor of arts degree and teaching certificate in December. Her fiance is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. A July wedding is planned.

A&P a lot of your neighbors have stopped baking pies!

Maybe it's because they discovered Jane Parker Pies... thousands have.

But...you say, "No thanks, there is nothing like a good home-baked pie." We agree...they're great."

But would you believe it if we told you our Jane Parker Pies taste home-baked? Probably not...until you've tried one.

Then you'd discover the crust is short and flaky like your own.

You'd discover the fruit is the kind you'd use... the best...juicy, not stiff with starch.

And if you popped a Jane Parker Pie into the oven and warmed it before serving, you'd discover a pie you'd be proud to call your own.

Are Jane Parker Pies a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

BUSINESS GETTING BETTER — Bernard M. Conboy (second from right) explains to 10 weekly publishers that Michigan's economy is now back on the upswing after a slow six-month period. Session took place in the office of Lt. Gov. William Milliken (seated center), who arranged the background news session. (See editorial at right).

VOICE of THE HERALD

Don't Call Fire Department

Although the tornado emergency went by in orderly fashion, there still are a couple of points needing clarification.

- A Tornado Watch means conditions are ripe and people are to be on the alert.
- A Tornado Warning means a twister has actually been sighted and is heading into the area. This is when the two-minute warning will be sounded on the fire siren.
- Do not call the fire station or police — unless there is an emergency in your home or neighborhood. These lines must be kept open.
- The all-clear will come on radio WABJ and WLEN.

Tecumseh's fire department has a well-organized plan in a tornado warning. First, each volunteer checks the safety of his family, then heads for the station.

Three trucks are dispatched to strategic positions to scan the skies for possible twisters. One goes to the hill along M-50 just west of Billington's Corners, another to the junction of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. and Allen Rd., the third to Russell Rd. and S. Evans St.

Two men are in each truck, reporting by radio to headquarters anything they might see.

Other volunteers throughout the county are doing the same thing, with all incidents channeled to the sheriff's office, where the two radio stations will in turn report to the general public.

When the Tornado Warning is sounded, people in public places should be immediately settled in the safest part of the building. In this regard, Tecumseh rates high for action taken Friday.

But we're afraid a mistake in judgment was made in Adrian.

School activities here were halted when the siren blew and youngsters moved quickly to pre-designated emergency areas. However, during a Pan-American Festival, attended by nearly 500 in Adrian High's auditorium, the program was halted and the building ordered evacuated.

Adrian Principal Robert Hayden was not on hand and could not pinpoint the time of the evacuation.

As it turned out apparently, the busloads of young people were rolling over county roadways at nearly the same time the tornado had been spotted en route to Lenawee.

If this were the case, the building should never have been emptied.

MRS. BEN GILLIES, who was one of the chaperons at the Junior High dance reported she "never saw such a bunch of good kids." They spent nearly two hours in the downstairs hallway, never complaining.

"Some were scared to death," she noted, a few of the youngsters at the dance having been through the Tipton tornado two years ago. But there was no hysteria.

Radio newsmen Gene Baril of WABJ and John Raymond of WLEN did excellent jobs of keeping people appraised of the situation during the entire period of more than one hour.

Industries Wondering

Cancellation of fire protection for Raisin Township from Tecumseh was completed Monday night by Council's acceptance of the township's wishes.

As of May 15, the city will no longer provide such protection for any property owner in the township.

A question, pertaining to protection for Fisher Body Plant and Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt and Paving Company, arose at the Council session when City Manager Cal Zorn told officials that he had received calls from the two companies wanting protection.

James Beardsley, city attorney, questioned the legality of Tecumseh sending fire equipment and providing protection for any township property owner, as of May 15.

Both Fisher Body and Ayling-Cunningham want protection by Tecumseh as do numerous township residents who have voiced their objections.

Last week's news item and editorial about the township concelling its fire protection with Tecumseh certainly served its purpose well.

Almost immediately, folks in Raisin Township started talking, asking questions and wondering if proper action had been taken.

This is what The Herald wanted — and accomplished.

We're interested in Raisin, its welfare and prominence as an adjacent governmental body to Tecumseh. More important, we're interested in its residents, their welfare and preservance as families and friends.

Fire rates for Raisin Township, as charged by the city, are the same as for Franklin and Macon, $600 per year with the first two runs free. Each additional run costs $300.

Adrian Township's rate is higher, $800 per year with each additional fire run costing $400.

Tecumseh Township, which is about a half a township since much of it is within city limits, pays a flat rate of $2,000 a year.

The price for Tecumseh's fire protection is small. We can't conceive Raisin ignoring its fire protection service.

With present equipment and arrangements, we know that Raisin's fire department at Holloway can not cope with fires throughout the township.

We know it — but do the residents?

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITORS:

About that dilemma for Raisin residents; why don't you up-date your facts? Richard Westgate is a thoughtful, responsible young man who has not lived on Black Hwy. for a year.

He is buying a brand new home and is not about to leave it at the mercy of a chicken-plucking outfit in case of a fire any more than the rest of us.

You imply that the Fisher Body plant will be left with nothing to protect it but a rig outfit only for grass fires. For shame! You know this plant is protected by a modern fire alarm system complete with sprinkler coverage; inplant trained fire brigade and there are three water tanks holding 1,500,000 gallons of water. I'm sure Stauffer Chemical has taken a few such precautions.

It is possible that your story may scare some people enough that they might petition for annexation. Is that what your story was supposed to do? If not, why don't you check out a few things for yourself and report the whole story?

When Montgomery Ward was afire the Adrian Fire Dept. called several other fire departments for assistance and this is a very common practice. Your article sounds dreadfully sure Tecumseh would not respond in a like manner. If we need help will we have to call Adrian, Hudson or something further?

Is it true Tecumseh has collected $300 for a very small fire our township is well able to take care of? With that much money saved by taking care of our own fires wouldn't we be able to put the money in more fire fighting equipment?

So we have a tanker and a pumper at least 15 years old. How many times in a year do you think they are on the road? And while I'm on that subject isn't it true that one of the Tecumseh fire trucks stalled on a recent fire call and several minutes spent under the hood to get it started? And while you are reporting what we have, how come you didn't mention our resuscitator, which is very near the same as Tecumseh's?

Fire calls do not go through Palmyra, they are taken through the Sheriff's fire dept, the same as other fire calls, that's why there are two numbers, one is direct to Holloway.

There have been two fires this winter, one on Blood Rd. and one on Russell Rd. and in both cases the Raisin Township Fire Dept. was alert and called Tecumseh an offer of assistance and in both cases they were told they were not needed.

Our township would not have collected for this act of good will. The fire on Russell Rd. was on a bitter night with wind to match, and precious minutes lost because other fire departments were called from further away.

You ask how we'd like our house on fire? How would you like your house on fire?

By strange coincidence we have property in the Irish Hills protected by the Sand Lake Fire Dept., and I understand Tecumseh is out-of-sorts with this department, too. You didn't mention this in your paper.

Since your news story about the fire department has been printed, I have come to the conclusion the Tecumseh Fire Dept. can do no wrong it is backed up by the city; and one-sided publicity and if this letter seems like a hot potato I'm sorry as I haven't enjoyed writing it; but I don't like my neighbors to be alarmed over a distorted news story either.

Mrs. E. Fritz

Money Problems Everywhere

No matter how the situation is regarded, Michigan has a real money problem.

This, with a current treasury of nearly $167 million. But that cushion is real deceptive.

The Herald was on hand last Thursday for a briefing in the state capitol, with 10 other newspapers, at the invitation of Lt. Gov. William Milliken.

Money reared its head at every turn.

Director of Budget Glenn S. Allen layed out the framework, noting that if the state merely continued its present services, costs would be up $94 million next year, due to increased population.

This would be a stand-still budget —. and if there is no added revenue would run the year in the red by $147 million. That would clear out most of the present surplus. Go another year on the same basis and Michigan's treasury would be bare, with red figures all over the ledger.

Shades of Soapy's payless paydays.

Mr. Allen noted that to meet the proposed budget (not the austerity version), with additional services, there should be $181 million fresh money.

The editors conferred with Gov. Romney for half an hour, with emphasis again being money.

Explained the chief executive, there are three prime sources of tax revenue:

- Property
- Sales tax
- Income tax

He said a state should not limit itself to just two.

But everyone under the capitol dome agrees the prospect of adding No. 3 to the list in Michigan is indeed slim.

Mr. Allen told the editors that there has not been any tax increase during the past five years in Michigan. He also noted 37 states now have income taxes.

Gov. Romney said he could have re-relaxed, ordering cuts all over the place. This would enhance him as a national figure.

However, the governor said he ran on fiscal reform for Michigan and he was going to work towards it, come what may. Income tax is his answer. To help get support for the idea, the governor had Mr. Allen also prepare an austerity budget, with 16% cut. This plan would go into effect if no new tax money is produced.

Gov. Romney refuses to authorize spending when there isn't revenue to cover it.

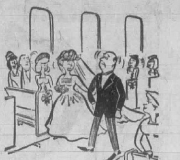
THERE WAS ONE pleasant note offered by Bernard Conboy, director of Economic Expansion. He said the total business outlook in the state is far better than last November. The past six months have been "slow," but damage to the economy was "absolutely minimal", he added.

In a question-and-answer session, Mr. Conboy was queried about the beef feeder business and he said the potential in Michigan is great. One critical need is getting feeder calves. On the long-haul basis, the state needs modern meat processing plants, plus facilities to handle all types of agricultural products.

State Police Col. Fred Davids told the editors that his teams of auto checkers were inspecting 700 vehicles daily — and finding only 40% able to qualify for OK stickers.

Troopers manning the check lanes are seeing some drivers U-turn when they spy the setup. As good police officers should, they immediately take up chase and stop such motorists. What they're finding are people driving without licenses or even in stolen cars.



"Daddy—did Dick ever bring up a honeymoon loan?"

Arbor Week Replaces Old 1-Day Effort

Arbor Week will be April 23-29 — instead of Arbor Day.

Breaking with tradition to promote an extended salute to trees in Michigan, Governor Romney last year, at the request of the Michigan Association of Nurserymen, signed a proclamation calling for a week's observance rather than one or two days as in the past.

Last year's Arbor Week was so popular that it was repeated this year.

"Because of the increased interest in, and the importance of, the state-wide 'Keep Michigan Beautiful' program, one or two days do not afford enough time and opportunity for a full and proper observance of Arbor Day," Governor Romney explained.

As in the past the Governor will plant a tree on the State Capitol lawn furnished by the nurserymen, who will also, as in the past, place a potted evergreen tree on the desk of each member of the legislature and state official during Arbor Week.

The Michigan Education Association suggests to all school superintendents to hold tree planting programs on their school grounds.

Municipalities, service organizations and other groups are asked to participate.

Girl Scouts To Discuss Ideas

Ideas.

That is the focal point of next month's color Wheel of the Creative Arts, a day-long program of exhibits, demonstrations and workshops that is expected to draw more than 10,000 visitors to Jackson and its Parkside High School next month.

Many of the ideas will come from some 5,000 girls 7 to 17 years old who are members of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council.

Each of the 300 troops of the council's tri-county area is expected to display an exhibit in the arts.

THERE ALSO will be about 100 adults on hand, each an expert in his field, demonstrating his specialty in the arts to the passing crowd in Parkside's acre of domed fieldhouse.

But for the girls, the May 20 color wheel of the creative arts will be more than a come-see-and-go-home affair. It also will be a day of learning.

Part of the purpose of the day's activities is to broaden interests and experiences in the wide-spectrum of the arts. Thus, each troop will attend one of more than 65 workshops being conducted throughout the day in Parkside classrooms.

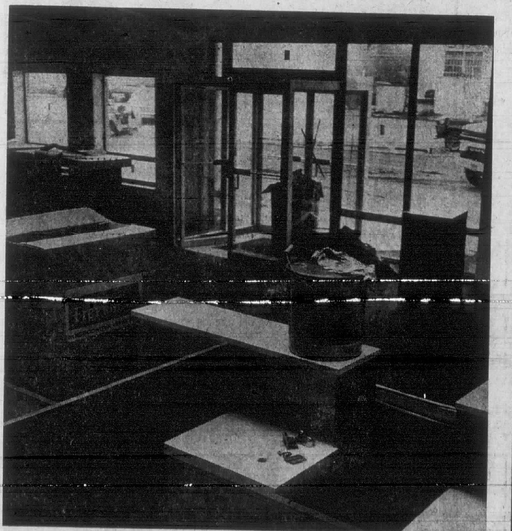
AMONG THE arts Brownies will explore are potato printing, paper flowers scrap printing, wire sculpture, stenciling, string printing, water color painting and design, puppet heads



Looks kinda messy now--- but we'll be ready May 1

This is our new Herrick Park branch and right now things, frankly, are a mess. But we're assured everything will be in apple pie order by May 1. Our open house will be May 3 and we're telling you now so you can circle your calendar.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Staging a teen-age dance is quite an undertaking.

Take it from me.

The Riordans are currently enmeshed in such a shindig, which climaxes Friday, May 5, at The Community Center.

If you think this is a plug, you're right.

Like most families, I suppose, when one of the kids gets enthused about a project, the whole clan clammers aboard the bandwagon.

Daughter Caryl (that's how she spells her name now, despite the fact we had been under the impression it was Carol, just like on her birth certificate) started the ball rolling.

At 15, she is showing distressing signs of a promoter.

With a group of friends, it was decided a rock-and-roll session would be delightful.

Caryl started by phoning Don Moffatt, city recreation director, to see when the Center was available.

Naturally, being a devoted father, I eavesdropped on the conversation and heard her explain all about the plans, then settle on the May 5 date.

"Yes, we'll have plenty of chaperons," she told Don, "My dad is in charge of that." Here was when I first learned of my part in the deal.

THE KIDS had heard of a slick group called The Englishmen, which played a date at the YMCA, and quickly signed them up for $50. The Center rental was $25.

"Now, we'll need some nice printed tickets," Caryl was telling me. Being associated with a printing business sometimes has distinct disadvantages.

That was about the same time that the poster barrage began. If The Herald's inventory of 22" x 28" 6-ply is low these days, there's ample reason.

Caryl was wielding marking pencils for hours on end.

"Ally Ooop wouldn't miss The Englishmen," screamed one with a caricature of the comic strip character.

Then there were friends of Charlie Brown. "Go see Snoopy while you hear . . . etc."

On and on they went.

If you haven't viewed a sign around town advertising the dance in the past week, you really haven't been trying.

LIKE MANY promotions, this one had a mighty scarey moment.

Caryl: "Dad, we're going to have The Englishmen come over for a picture. Be at the office at 1 p.m. Saturday."

Naturally, I was, knowing an order when I get it. The only trouble was that the band never showed.

Caryl furrowed her brow — kinda like her mother does — and snatched up the telephone, dialing the No. 1 Englishman, who also is known as Tommy Aldrich, a mop-topped freshman at Adrian High School. She wanted to know where they were.

Well, it seemed the group had decided to break up.

Caryl grew indignant. She allowed as how they'd better get back together again and get over for a publicity picture.

The crisis was met and defeated.

When The Englishmen arrived and found out all the fuss being made over their Tecumseh debut, got into the swing of things. Spying the neatly-printed orange tickets, they wondered if they could sell some to friends in Adrian.

Faster than my brother can produce a second golf ball on the tee for a Mulligan shot, Caryl had her notebook out and was jotting down 10 tickets each for The Englishmen.

"What if they give them away?" was my innocent question.

"We'll just deduct the cost from their fee," Caryl shot back.

WITH THE Big Deal only a week away, I've been working hard on my chaperon list. Several understanding couples have so far agreed, but I think we should have more. The question is, can an adult take electric guitars, organ and drums, all screeching out at top volume, from 8 to 11:30?

It would seem appropriate to have a changing of the guards from time to time.

Bob Sage keyed me in on this. When I asked him and Gin to help supervise, he replied, "Well, we'll come. But I can't say how long we'll stay."

HE'LL MANAGE BRANCH — Journey Stoner, a vice-president of the United Savings Bank, will manage the new Herrick Park branch, which opens Monday. A 1938 graduate of Clinton High School, Mr. Stoner earned an Associate in Science Accounting degree from Cleary College in 1946. His wife, June, is a registered nurse at Herrick Memorial Hospital and their eldest son, Paul, is a freshman at the University of Michigan. Two other sons, Glenn and Dale, both attend Tecumseh High School. The Stoners reside at 739 N. Union St.

Branch Features Carpeted Lobby, Drive-up Window

United Savings Bank's new Herrick Park branch opens for business Monday morning at 9:30.

On Wednesday, May 3, there'll be a festive open house from 3 to 8 p.m. with refreshments, gifts and prizes.

Vice-president Journey Stoner, who joined United Savings in 1948, has been named manager of the new branch.

His staff will include Mrs. Hugh Fowler, head teller; Mrs. Ivan Maynard, Mrs. Donald Steiner and Mrs. Howard Ladd.

The Herrick Park branch is going to have special hours — Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Thursdays and Saturdays, 9:30 a.m. to noon.

WITH A lushly carpeted lobby that is nearly one-third larger than the bank's main office, the Herrick Park layout has stations for six tellers, plus a conference room and large office space for Mr. Stoner.

For those who wish to bank from their cars, the new branch has a drive-up window on the north side.

Full banking services, including safe deposit facilities, night depository and all types of loans, are to be offered at the newest branch, which is surrounded by ample customer parking spaces.

With a total of 2,300-square-feet of floor space, the branch is finished in Indiana limestone. The interior decor features exposed walnut finished beams and walnut paneling on some walls.

GROWTH OF United Savings' assets and services has been enormous in the past 10 years.

Deposits of $14,284,692 in 1957 have climbed to $26,805,368. Capital and surplus rose from $850,000 to $1,950,000. Loans, discounts and mortgages shot up from $5,391,529 to $12,574,245.

Total assets in that 10-year period have increased from $15,851,641 to $29,517,484, making United Savings the largest financial institution in Lenawee County.

The bank's long years of service to the community reach back to Jan. 20, 1933 when it was reorganized in the depths of the depression.

Dr. E. E. Hendershot was named president. His fellow directors included George U. Smith, Guy E. Belding, William E. Swick, Ernie Campbell, Karl M. Schneider and John R. Nyland. Mr. Campbell is the only one of these men still living.

John R. Thompson was hired as cashier and completed his staff with Glenn Vandenbergh as assistant cashier and Mrs. Harry Duncan, who is still with the bank, now as a vice-president.

Lester Rogers, who later became a director, was active in the reorganization.

THERE WERE 95 original stockholders with 500 shares between them. Today there are 100,000 shares spread among 225.

Mr. Thompson played a key role in the early development of the bank, rising to president and board chairman. He retired in March of 1962.

J. Wayne (Pat) Meadows of Ann Arbor was then named president and swiftly introduced a building program, which saw a branch erected on Sutton Rd. two years ago, followed by the new Herrick Park satellite.

Current directors, besides Mr. Meadows, include board chairman Robert H. Moore, James Beardsley, Rollo Conlin, Merlyn Downing, Kenneth Herrick, Lee Hubbard, Don R. Martin, Karl Schneider (son of the late Karl M.), Mills Swick (son of the late William E.) and John J. Walper.

Bank officers and boardmen will be on hand for the new branch's ribbon-cutting ceremony Monday.

Fire Destroys Maynard Kays' Home at Tipton

Tecumseh's Fire Department pumper truck and six city firemen and the Raisin Township Fire Department assisted Madison Department Saturday night at a fire which destroyed the two-story frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Kay at 6850 Tipton Hwy.

The Madison Township department was alerted at 9:10 by Elwood Muck, television repairman on a service call, who saw the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay, who had left home about 6:30 p.m. to attend the Jerome Hines concert at Adrian College, were notified of the fire during the concert.

The house was a complete loss.

No one was at home and or injured, Madison Fire Chief Roger Van Valkenburg reported.

Tecumseh firemen remained at the scene from 9:30 to midnight.

Union Is Recognized

Local 547, IU of OE, a union affiliate of the AFL-CIO for the school custodians and maintenance employees was recognized by the Tecumseh School Board Monday night.

The employees had voted for union affiliation last month.

Cafe Sold to Weakly

Harry Weakly, popular chef and club manager here for approximately 20 years, has purchased Pearl's Cafe on N. Evans St. from Mrs. Pearl Meyers.

The transaction was completed Tuesday with the new owner taking over Harry's Cafe May 1.

The sale ends 33 years in the restaurant business for Mrs. Meyers, who was chef at the Clinton Hotel for nine years. She lacks just one week of operating here for six years.

Mr. Weakly takes over a restaurant which was remodeled by Mrs. Meyers less than five years ago. It has a paneled dining room seating 68, plus additional booths and tables for serving a total of 100 people.

He contemplates no changes at the present, and hopes to cater to groups and parties in the future.

His experience as a chef also includes the Clinton Hotel, plus Cap Horn's restaurant in the Irish Hills, Florida and at a local club.

Mr. Weakly says a grand opening for the restaurant will be held in the near future.

Rena Fitzpatrick, Clinton realtor, handled the sales transaction.

$25,000 Increase for Improvement of Local Streets

Tecumseh will receive an additional $25,000 for improvement of streets as a result of increased gas and weight taxes and changes in distributing motor vehicle highway funds.

Bills passed recently in Lansing, co-sponsored by Senator Gilbert E. Bursley will give Lenawee County $130,000 more, including $5,000 to Clinton and $2,000 to Britton.

Sutton Road Branch Hours Are Extended

Extended hours for the Sutton Road Branch of the United Savings Bank take effect Monday.

It will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

On Thursdays and Saturdays, Sutton is in operation from 9:30 to noon.

$45 Million Evaluation

State equalized evaluation for the Tecumseh school district is expected to top $45,400,000, according to figures released by Norval Bovee, assistant school superintendent.

The figure is an increase of about $1.5 million, or about the same amount in which city evaluations went up.

The hike would have been considerable if the government had not taken personal property for farmers off the tax rolls.

Townships in the district which have increased evaluations are: Raisin, $400,000; Ridgeway, $16,000 and Tecumseh Township, $150,000.

Exact figures will not be known until May when the supervisors file their report. Another increase may come from Raisin after the state re-evaluates property there.

Township evaluations which dropped include Adrian, Clinton, Macon and Franklin, the latter township lopped approximately $600,000 off, largely due to farmers' personal property exemptions.

Non-conforming Construction Is OKed by Board

Tecumseh's Board of Appeals ruled in favor of residents last week in allowing non-conforming construction in residential districts.

Both James Beardsley and Shelva Yeary had been turned down by the city's building inspector Larry Goddard.

Mr. Beardsley sought approval in adapting a barn into an apartment at his home at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Union St.

Mr. Yeary asked that he be given approval to construct a garage closer to a lot line than allowed by zoning regulations.

The Board's decisions allow both to proceed with their plans. A report on the hearing is expected to be filed with Naomi Sallows, city clerk, within the next few days.

Petitions Can Be Picked Up for 3 Openings

Petitions for the School Board may now be taken out by property owners in the district at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd.

Each petition must have at least 20 signatures from qualified voters and not more than 37. Filing deadline is Saturday, May 13 at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Donald Cobb and William Brown, incumbents, have announced intentions of seeking reelection for the two four-year terms and Dr. Harold Ocamb will run for the single one-year term.

The election will be held in June.

Cambridge Ponders Re-zoning for Track

Cambridge Township residents will discuss a proposed zoning change at a special meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in Onsted.

Six hundred acres of residential land at US-12 and M-50 are being considered for a change to commercial.

A switch in zoning classification would clear the way for a big-time race track, currently being proposed by a Detroit combine, Michigan Motor Speedway, Inc. (See editorial, Section C, page 6.)

Rabies Clinic Is May 4th

A rabies Vaccination Clinic will be held next Thursday, May 4, from 3 to 5, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Pet Watchers Club with the hopes that owners of dogs will have their animals inoculated against rabies at a minimal fee.

Residents who have not yet purchased a license for their dog also will be given the opportunity to buy the license without a penalty charge.

Normally, after March 1, owners are assessed a penalty for purchasing a license after the deadline.

According to surveys and statistics, less than half of the dogs in Tecumseh have licenses, and probably no rabies vaccinations.

SCHOOLS SAVE $25,000 FOR PERMANENT STRUCTURE

Portable Units Are Too Expensive

Faced with an investment of over $25,000 in portable class rooms, the Tecumseh School Board waived purchase of portable units for permanent construction Monday night.

Warren Holmes & Company, a Lansing architectural firm specializing in the school construction, was hired not only to expedite plans for a new Sutton elementary school but also for a master building plan and future construction.

School officials are hoping that plans, bids and construction progress develop rapidly enough to have a new elementary school at Sutton for opening of the 1968-69 fall term.

Ways of financing the new school were not discussed, but the Board has two alternatives: placing millage before the electorate, or assessing the school district, as allowed by law, since Tecumseh is a third class district.

The new building will run upwards of $350,000 or more, and will include classrooms for kindergarten through the sixth grade, plus a library and multi-purpose room.

It will be located on a 10-acre site on Sutton Rd., just east of Occidental. If the Intermediate School District, administered by County Supt. Milton Porter, decides to participate in the construction, the total school building will be larger and used in portion by the ISD.

Monday's action came after a lengthy discussion, delving into the advantages and disadvantages of portable classrooms and classroom needs for the 1967-68 school term.

THE DECISION for permanent construction over portable units will necessitate use of the old Sutton school for another year. The Board had planned originally to close it for good this June.

Patriotism Prevails

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — A serious mood of patriotism prevailed in the Band Show, "A Salute to Freedom," staged at Clinton High School last weekend.

Appearing before large audiences each night, Ivan McKenna and Karen Scoviac, the poised and lucid masters of ceremonies, recalled the nation's historic battles for freedom as they introduced the war-time music of past years up to the present.

The swinging dance band's authentic rendition of Glenn Miller's familiar melodies gave a nostalgic twinge to middle-aged ears.

The band's Tijuana Brass playing "It Was a Very Good Year" made pleasant the sound of a modern tune.

Accomplished trumpet soloists Jerry Porter and Dave Hawkins and Gene Krupa's rival drummer Don Osgood drew frequent applause with their professional performances.

Minota Fox sang a sparkling version of "The Happy Song."

FOLK SONGS "Do" and "Universal Soldier" by Melissa Mattis and Jeannie Lancaster were deeply moving.

Chuck Wilder, who has had the lead in recent school operettas, sang the difficult 'Exodus" with authority.

The chorus of 16 precision dancers stopped the show each time they appeared in their eye-catching costumes.

Some of the bits of comedy didn't quite come off, but John Steffens and Debbie Gibbard's Super Trooper act demonstrated a fine flair for comedy. With a fright wig he would have been a perfect Phyllis Diller because he had all her mannerisms down pat.

Each year we marvel at how Clinton is able to keep coming up with a steady supply of excellent musicians.

Much credit must go to director Karl Wirt for his ability to stimulate enthusiasm and interest in music as shown in this production.

FOLK BEAT — Jeannie Lancaster, with tambourine, and Melissa Mattis, with guitar, accompany their poignant folk tunes, "Universal Soldier," and "Do," at the Clinton High School band show. "A Salute to Freedom."

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITORS:

Between 15 or 20 years ago a family lost their home and furniture in a fire at Holloway.

Because they did not have a fire department and the closest one was six or seven miles away.

So an anonymous donor gave them a sum of money so they could get a fire truck, so they could get help quicker.

Now the people of northwest Raisin Township are faced with the same problem, without the help of Tecumseh.

It doesn't seem to me the $300 a call as in Tecumseh and Holloway agreement was too much to pay, when the people of the northwest township could lose about $500 to $1500 and more in a fire even with insurance.

KAREN SCOVIAC WAS FOLLIES MISTRESS OF CEREMONIES

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

Anyone looking for kicks in a novel should not read "The Art of Loving" by Dr. Erich Fromm, psychoanalyst.

It's not a bedtime story, in fact it's not a story — and from my own experience — should not be tackled when a person is tired.

I have finally closed the back cover of the 118-page paperback after trying for over a year to read the book, which was lent to me.

I never could get absorbed enough to stick with it (my favorite sleep-inducer).

One lazy Sunday afternoon recently, being at a loss for reading material, I tried again.

This time, it hit. Sleep was lost.

In fact, I couldn't put it down.

Cooking supper with one hand wasn't bad, but the print was awfully soggy to read when it fell off its makeshift prop into the suds while I was doing the dishes.

AS THE TITLE implies, the author believes in love, calling it the only satisfactory answer to the problem of human existence.

In our society, love is often thought of only as romantic, which puts people on the spot if they refer to it in any other way.

LOVE — compounded of maturity, self-knowledge and courage — in all its aspects is discussed.

He says, "Learning to love, like other arts, demands practice and concentration. Even more than any other art, it demands genuine insight."

He calls love an active power in man and outlines certain basic elements common to all forms of love — including care, responsibility, respect and knowledge — and explains how they are interdependent.

"MAN IS LIFE being aware of itself," he explains the many types of love.

Reasons for its disintegration in contemporary western society are given.

In the final chapter, he switches from theory to offer practical application of "The Art of Loving."

As the Doctor says, "Anyone who approaches this last chapter expecting to be taught HOW to love will be gravely disappointed.

"The steps toward the goal can be practiced only by oneself and discussion ends before the decisive step is taken."

Love, contrary to popular theory, is not something one falls into — it is something one lives.

As with any art, for mastery, it has many requirements.

Charles Wise and Sue Matych in the starring roles of the musical "The King and I" at Siena Heights carried the action throughout with ease and delighted the audience Thursday evening. They were supported by a cast of fine performers including the most enchanting children.

Stomping about in his bare feet and leaping upon his monarch's hassock were executed so ably by Mr. Wise that one would think that he always seated himself cross-legged on a pillow.

The evening was delightfully entertaining and left the audience with strains of "Whistle a Happy Tune" running through their heads.

MRS. THOMAS DEAN WEGNER

Nancy Lewis Is Wed to Thomas D. Wegner

Nancy Ann Lewis became the bride of Thomas Dean Wegner in a ceremony performed Saturday evening by the Rev. Daniel Mathes at the North Blissfield Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Charles Lewis, 501 Herrick Park Dr., and the late Mrs. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wegner of Wellesville, Hwy., Blissfield.

Gladioli and chrysanthemums filled the vases on the altar and satin bows in shades of blue marked the pews.

Carol Seager presented nuptial music at the organ.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father. She wore an empire styled gown of white organza with rounded neckline and accented at the back with a chapel train.

Her double tiered veil was secured to a crown of pearls and she carried a crescent shaped arrangement of cymbidium orchids, white sweetheart roses and stephanotis on a white Bible. The Bible was given to the bride by the groom's mother.

The bride wore a gold cross with diamond setting, gift of the groom.

SHARLETTE WEGNER, cousin of the groom, was the maid of honor in a floor-length gown of turquoise imported organza with long, chiffon sleeves, trimmed at the cuffs and waist with rose garlands.

Linda Wegner, sister of the groom and Darlene Wegner were the bridesmaids in light blue gowns fashioned like the maid of honor's.

All the attendants wore forward caps with brief veils to match their dresses and carried miniature lavendar chrysanthemums and carnations.

Fred Wegner served as his brother's best man and the 300 guests were seated by Cpl. James Garwood and Jerry Marks, cousins of the groom and Dennis and Stanley Lewis, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held for the 300 guests at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wegner and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith as hosts.

Doll cakes to represent the bride and her attendants were featured at the refreshment table.

THE BRIDE was graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1965 and attended Patricia Stevens School for Fashion Merchandising. She is employed at Van-Mers Department Store.

Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Blissfield High School and is employed at the Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening in the church basement by the groom's parents.

The newly married couple will live at 3845 Loveless Dr. after April 29 when they will return from a wedding trip to Canada.

Frances Allison and Dr. Joseph Bachman Married

Frances Allison and Dr. Joseph Bachman were united in marriage April 1 at St. Mary's Catholic Chapel in Ann Arbor.

The nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Roman Theisen, Mary Knoll Missioner, presently on home leave from his parish in Inchon, Korea. Father Theisen and Dr. Bachman are personal friends, having first met during the latter's U. S. Army tour in Korea.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Allison of Carthage, Tex., was escorted by her father.

Her gown was of white textured silk fashioned in a full-length A-line princess style, the skirt shaping to form a slight drape in back. An elegant decorative touch was Bruges lace which edged the bell sleeves as well as yoke and neckline of the gown.

The bride's fingertip wedding veil was also of the handmade Belgian lace, which had been sent to the bride by Madame Marcelle Guequier of Bruges in whose home Miss Allison stayed while living in that city several years ago.

A gold bracelet which belonged to her mother was the bride's only jewelry. She carried a lace handkerchief which had belonged to her Grandmother Allison. The bridal bouquet was of white tulips.

Mrs. James Gouseff of Ypsilanti was matron of honor. She wore a costume also of textured silk and carried a bouquet of yellow tulips and wore a small circular veil edged in lace.

Serving Dr. Bachman as best man was Dr. Richard Schacht of Menominee. Peter Feiler, uncle of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Organ music preceding the ceremony was played by Daniel Politoske of Ann Arbor.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Allison were hosts for a luncheon for the wedding party and guests at Weber's Town and Country Room.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bachman of Birmingham, the bride's parents, her sister, Mrs. Robert Turk, Dr. Turk's children, Luke, Anne, Dan, Tom and Alice, her brother, Dr. Horace Allison, Jr., Mrs. Allison and children, Orpheus, Ewen and Piper of Presque Isle, Ma., and Dr. Alan Gibb of Dundee, Angus, Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bachman were hosts for dinner at "The Lord Fox" in Ann Arbor Friday evening following the wedding rehearsal.

After their wedding trip to London, Belgium and Switzerland, Dr. and Mrs. Bachman will be at home at 200 Marlboro Ct.

Gray Haze Is Second in Nation

CLINTON — Haze is the second best dog in the nation.

The silver poodle, Jade Hope's Gray Haze, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kiebler, was rated Second Highest Scoring Dog in the nation for 1966 by "Chips" the National Obedience Club magazine.

For the first time, winning records from all American Kennel Club official shows were compiled by the publication.

Haze was rated top dog in the non-sporting classification, then captured second place in overall scoring of five other classifications.

"When you're in second place you just try harder," laughed Mrs. Kiebler.

Haze scored over the nation's number one dog — a Golden Retriever from Cincinnati — in the Dayton Kennel Club Show at Shiloh, Ohio, April 5, earning Haze a highest scoring dog in trial award with 198½ score.

Haze's nose has been a bit out of joint since the recent arrival on the home scene of his daughter, a puppy named Gay Haze.

The little pup is a "holy terror" reports its mistress and gets only a tolerant glance from her father, who is still quite jealous.

The Kieblers will be taking their canine "family" to the obedience show in Toledo this weekend and Canton, Ohio the following week.

Washington Report

by Congressman

MARVIN L. ESCH

Every Congressman has two primary jobs in Washington.

The first, and the one with which you are most familiar, is the job of representing you in my votes on important national legislation.

My second job, however, is equally important — representing you before the agencies of government.

It is a most satisfying task to assist our citizens who are having problems. The following are only a few of those I have been able to assist:

► An elderly gentleman came to see me because he hadn't received any Social Security checks since his retirement: Two weeks later checks totaling $1525.50 were on their way.

► A young man entered the United States from Spain. He started a small business here, only to find that he had entered illegally and was to be deported: Three weeks later he received his permanent resident visa and has begun to work toward U.S. citizenship. His new business is thriving and bringing jobs to his town.

► A soldier called me in desperation. His only brother was killed in an automobile accident in December. A month later his father died. There was no one but him to take care of his mother and their farm. He needed a discharge from the Army. A short time later he received his discharge.

► A young girl called me. Her wedding was scheduled for Sunday. The Tuesday before, her fiance discovered he had no leave coming to him and would not be able to get home for the wedding. We called — and he not only got home for the wedding, but had leave for a short honeymoon as well.

► I have worked with community leaders throughout the district — on a sewer project for a township, an elderly citizens project for a city, a beautification project for a highway and procurement of excess federal property for a city to turn into parks and recreational area.

My office stands ready at all times to assist citizens and communities in any way that we legitimately can. As your Congressman, I cannot force any governmental agency to take favorable action on your request.

However, I can assure you that it does not get lost in a shuffle of paperwork.

Contact me either by letter or phone through my office in Ann Arbor (200 East Huron, 665-0618) or Washington (1421 House Office Building, 202/225-4401), if you have a problem.

Parents Must Warn Children of Molestation

The dangers of child molestation are being stressed by Sgt. Carl Anderson of Clinton State Police post, who advises parents and guardians to caution their youngsters against going for walks or rides with strangers.

Molestings already have been reported this spring, one tragically involving a slaying.

Hundreds of sex offenses are committed each year, most frequently in spring and summer when youngsters are outdoors.

Any incidents should be promptly reported to police for investigation.

Reluctance only gives molesters the opportunity to continue their criminal activities. Names are not made public unless abduction or murder is involved.

GUIDELINES are:

► Instruct youngsters to reject any stranger's offer of candy, money or gifts as a lure for walks or rides.

► Insist that youngsters be with other children, never alone, where there is no adult supervision.

► Use protective discretion when having children run errands in the daytime. Never send a child alone on an errand at night.

► Be concerned for safety of all children. Cooperate with other parents in the neighborhood in safeguarding the welfare of youngsters.

► Demand the children keep you informed of their whereabouts when at play. See they have permission first for any unusual trips.

► Urge youngsters to report any questions regarding their safety to parents, teachers or police.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

Fiscal reform was defeated in the first round in the Senate by a vote of 23-14. I was one of the 14 — all Republicans — voting for Governor Romney's program.

Six Republicans voted against it. Some of them campaigned last fall against an income tax. I respect their beliefs. Some were afraid of what voters would say and do unless they voted against taxes.

All 17 Democratic senators voted against fiscal reform. Again some are sincerely opposed to a state income tax. Others — perhaps most — are partially motivated in not wanting to give Romney credit for a major victory.

But some Democrats do recognize the need for a more equitable tax structure and hopefully will vote for a fiscal reform program incorporating some of their ideas.

THE NEXT ROUND will obviously be a bipartisan try if it is to get off the ground.

If no tax action is taken there will be at least a 15% cutback in services including school aid and this will precipitate a crisis at local level.

I feel that those legislators who voted for increased spending last year — mostly Democrats — and thereby used up the surplus and created the present fiscal crisis should now be man enough to vote for the necessary taxes.

PERSONALLY I did support increased school aid last year as well as the general appropriation bills. I felt some of these programs, besides being necessary, would shift some of the tax burden from the local property tax rolls. And I did vote for the Romney tax program to pay the bills.

There are doubtless ways to improve the tax proposals presently before the Legislature. I am still confident that we will work out a constructive solution.

Michigan cannot afford the payless payday atmosphere of 1959. Nor can we fail to meet the reasonable requirements of our school children, the sick and the needy. Our population is still increasing rapidly and conditions and needs do change.

The Legislature has a continuing responsibility to ensure that no special interest groups gain unfair advantage at the expense of the taxpayers and that our citizens get the maximum value out of every tax dollar collected.

GOSPEL RECORDING ARTISTS — Harbor Lights Quartet of Battle Creek will appear at the Church of the Nazarene, 807 Sunset, Saturday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 30, at 9:45 and 11 a.m.

WAS TECUMSEH EVER A NATIONAL CHAMPION BEFORE?

Well, sir, she is now.
Sounds good — doesn't it?
That makes you and I champions, right?
Want to help uphold that honor?
Well, it is easy —
Won't cost you a penny —
In fact, it might save you plenty.

Here's all you have to do:

HELP US "SAFETY CHECK" EVERY MOTOR VEHICLE IN OUR COMMUNITY. YES, SIR: Tecumseh's Vehicle Safety Check Committee is going all out for a 100% check.

Again this year, our 12th annual, you will be invited to have your motor vehicle SAFETY CHECKED — probably for the last time by us.

The slogan is: GET YOUR MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION-READY

Checking will go on at SAFETY LANE, (S. Pearl St.), at all of the factories, schools, business places — WHEREVER YOU ARE.

Our large manufacturers will have their own inspection lanes. Roving teams of inspectors will check wherever needed.

THE WEEK OF MAY 8 TO 13 HAS BEEN DECLARED 'SAFETY WEEK.' The greater than ever parade will be held Wednesday, May 10, at 5 p.m.

Get in it and get "put" to see it.

Let friendly neighbors inspect your motor vehicles.
(They guarantee no embarrassment or reprisals.)

KNOW THAT YOUR MOTOR VEHICLE IS "INSPECTION-READY."

You know that there is a law now that allows the State Police to stop and inspect your vehicle. It is expected that Michigan, like most other states, will have a yearly or semi-annual Compulsory Inspection Law. They say there are some 200 safety law proposals in the State Legislative agendas.

S-O-O WHEN "JOHN LAW" CHECKS YOU, BE INSPECTION-READY.

—By a Friend of Safety.

Track Team in 6th Win

Although Coach Tom Fagan's senior trackmen are on a senior trip to Washington, D. C., their sophomore and junior teammates were able to run away from Dexter, 76-42.

The sixth victory of the season in dual competition not only keeps the record unblemished, but also indicates the strength of this year's squad.

Scoring in 13 out of 14 track and field events, the Indians captured every point in five of them, broad jump, pole vault, 880 relay and both hurdles.

Dexter racked up 29 points out of a possible 32 in the dashes and mile relay.

Leading Indian scorer was Gary Fairbanks, who broadjumped the best leap, 19' 1¾", in the past two seasons and led the pack in the 120 highs with his best effort of the season, 15.9 sec.

Fairbanks repeated in the 180 lows with 22 seconds flat and ran anchor on the winning 880 relay team.

Bill Goddard set a new school record in the grueling two-mile run with 10 minutes, 44.6 seconds.

Other Tecumseh winners were Steve Dalton in high jump with 5'7", Jim Collins in pole vault, with 9'6" and John Kennedy in the mile with 4 minutes, 58.6 seconds.

Thursday the "seniorless" Indians will run against Addison.

Gridiron Will Get New Sod

Tecumseh School Board authorized $5,000 Monday night for improving the high school athletic field.

Officials hope that the expenditure will cover 900 cubic yards of top soil, grading, sodding and an adequate sprinkler system.

Dr. Fred Freeman told fellow board members that officials at Michigan State University did not recommend seeding, saying the school was taking a risk that the field would be ready for fall.

MSU has given the school assistance, even as to the type of grass which should be used.

In order to cut expenses, the school board discussed the possibility of the football team working together to lay the sod under supervision.

Proposed School To Be Discussed At Clinton PTA

Karla Koeplin, 16, sophomore at Michigan Lutheran Seminary in Saginaw, placed third in the Regional Michigan High School Forensics Contest.

In Extemporaneous Division, Miss Koeplin was asked to speak on three subjects during the day-long event:

- ► Discuss the implications of the note exchange between President Johnson and Ho Chi Minh.
- ► Should the networks be allowed to use re-runs to break a performer's strike?
- ► Should union funds be used in legal defense of union officers.

The competition was held Saturday at the General Motors Institute, Flint.

Karla's father, the Rev. Kurt Koeplin attended the event.

Terry Morden Wins Diploma with Army Exam

A high school diploma was approved for Terry Morden Monday night by the School Board, after the youth passed an Army examination accepted by the local schools.

Morden, with over 15 credits in high school, dropped out during his senior year to enlist in the service.

Don Wayne Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Becker, 9541 Tipton Hwy., received a bachelor degree in business administration recently at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. He has enlisted in army intelligence and expects to leave May 7 for Fort Knox, Ky., and then five months' study in Maryland.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

In 1960, the nation was issued a noble challenge by the late President John F. Kennedy.

In his inaugural speech, President Kennedy said: "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

That challenge reflected a principle which long has guided my actions, the principle that whenever possible the people should solve their problems themselves through voluntary cooperation or private organizations.

UNFORTUNATELY, many persons, eager to respond to the challenge, never obtained an answer to their question of what they could do for their country.

I believe Michigan should be proud of the fact that it has one of the best programs in the country in providing answers to that question.

The Michigan Human Resources Council was created specifically to coordinate the efforts of volunteer groups seeking to help in solving the problems of their communities and their state.

The Council has been particularly successful in giving guidance to the restless energies of the youth of our state.

The Student Volunteer Movement in Michigan is the largest, fastest growing and most successful in the country. A recent survey by the Human Resources Council estimated that 7,500 students on 35 campuses in Michigan were participating in the movement.

by these volunteers now is at a rate of 500,000 a year.

What these volunteers are showing is that committed personal attention is the essential, irreplaceable breakthrough element in bettering the lot of mankind.

BOTH IN MICHIGAN and in the nation as a whole, this independent, volunteer sector of our institutions available for problem-solving has been growing.

But it has not kept pace with the growth of the federal government, despite the fact that it often is much more efficient than government.

We are all proud of the Peace Corps. It is a federal program that is well managed and works well. But it consists of only 10-000 volunteers to serve the whole world while we have 7,500 student volunteers at work in Michigan alone.

There are 33,000 Americans doing similar work in 146 countries under sponsorship of volunteer organizations.

And while it costs $8,000 to train a Peace Corpsman, the Society of Friends needs only $3,500 to train each of the volunteers it sends abroad for essentially the same job as the government sends a Peace Corpsman.

WHY THEN has our emphasis on volunteer associations failed to keep pace with the federal government?

Part of the reason, I believe, is that too many people have come to believe the problems are too big and no individual alone can make a real difference.

And isn't part of the problem that too many of us are counting on hired "Samaritans" to give help we should give ourselves?

Here in Michigan, I believe, we are pointing the way to strengthening the role played by the individual through volunteer cooperation and private associations.

Board Approves Camp for 65 Local Students

Forty boys and 25 girls, mostly from the Tecumseh remedial reading program, will be sent to YMCA camps this summer for 26 days at the expense of the Federal government.

The Federal program, which also includes dental work for lads at Boysville, will cost $28,000.

The boys will attend the Y Camp at Mystic Lake near Clare and the girls will go to Camp Cavell near Lexington on Lake Huron.

Ted Todd and Larry Crittenden, teachers here, are project directors.

School Board member Dr. Harold Ocamb chided the government for its role in spending tax monies and expressed a view that Federal expenditures could be cut, particularly in this field, if all schools would decline the grants.

It was pointed out that if Tecumseh failed to use the Federal funds, they would merely be offered to another school and some schools have already accepted the Federal gift.

Subdivisions Springing Up Outside City

Subdivisions outside the city are continuing this spring with the opening of Dillingham Acres, just north of Tecumseh on the Clinton-Tecumseh Rd.

Leo Robinson, owner, has an approved plat for 79 acres with initial plans for 24 homes. One street, which will be blacktopped, already has been cut into the subdivision.

William Powell, real estate agent handling lot sales for Mr. Robinson, will lated develop an adjoining subdivision, to be known as Dillingham Woods.

Names for both subdivisions were taken from Dillingham Creek, which runs through the properties.

Powell is also developing on Green Hwy. south of Tecumseh with six homes already built. This development will be known as Gateview Subdivision and comprises 24 acres for 42 homes.

North Central Colleges Give THS Approval

Tecumseh High School has been inspected by North Central Colleges for accreditation and has been fully approved.

Supt. James McDowell reported to the School Board Monday night that there were no warnings, the first time in many years.

Beth Curtiss Wins Contest

Beth Curtiss won first prize in the poppy poster contest recently conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary. She is a sixth grade student at Patterson School.

Stephanie Slick, fifth grade at Ridgeway School, won second and John Warner, fourth grade at Herrick Park School, won third.

Honorable mention was given to Jean Lemanski and Teresa Bough, sixth grade students at St. Elizabeth, Barbara Henning and Ann Lundahl, both fourth grade students at Herrick Park.

Mrs. Robert Smith, chairman, sent the winning posters to the district contest.

Judges were Mrs. Al Curtis, Mrs. Terrence Griffin and Mrs. Smith.

The event emphasizes the sale of poppies in May by the Auxiliary for the benefit of veterans and their families.

Cancer Crusade Research Funds Badly Needed

American Cancer Society's 1967 educational and fund-raising crusade in Lenawee County is in its last week.

Joe Fortunato, chairman, reports that $4,100 of the $16,000 goal has been reached and he hopes all volunteer workers throughout the county will follow through to make sure every family has the opportunity to contribute.

Mr. Fortunato stressed "The need for a substantial increase in funds to help support and enlarge the unprecedented research attack on cancer now under way in most of the major medical research centers in the country."

The Local Unit at 204 N. Broad St., Adrian will assist with dressings, items from the loan closet and educational programs.

"Help us War Against Juvenile Delinquency!" was the theme of a program given to the students at Boysville by seven inmates from Milan Federal Penitentiary. Each of the inmates told his own story of how he got into trouble, which had the lesson of learning from others' mistakes.

The talks were broken up by folk songs sung by two inmates. After the program, the inmates came into the audience to talk and answer questions.

Dress rehearsal of "The Tender Trap" was enjoyed by 80 students from Boysville. The comedy, directed by a face well known to the students, Dr. Robert Murray, was unmistakably just that. The play had the students in stitches all evening. Boysville is sorry to see the season end but is grateful for all the invitations to see the Tecumseh Players perform.

St. Joseph Academy and Boysville joined together again for an evening of dancing at Boysville. Mike O'Dea and Larry Heibel provided records for music and Skipper was the welcoming committee. Skipper is Brother Donald's green parrot who was used as part of the hall's tropical decor.

University of Detroit's chorus presented a concert for the staff and students of Boysville. Each spring the mixed choir under the direction of Don Large thrills the campus with their program of songs. RN Stresses Orientation by Employer

Mrs. Lacy Dixon, R. N., addressed the Lenawee District Nurses' Association April 20 at Bixby Hospital.

Her topic, "Orientation: An Effective Launching Pad," reminded nurses of the importance of completely introducing R. N.'s to their new job.

If this is done, the nurse will be a more effective employee with knowledge about her job and her place of employment.

The employer, in turn, will learn a lot about the nurse — information that will benefit both.

As an example of a good orientation program in practice, Mrs. Dixon described the program at Northville State Hospital where she is the associate director of Nursing Education and Service.

Mrs. Dixon also reflected on her own progress from committees at the local district level to the state and national offices she has held. "The district is the first step on this ladder — it is here the nurse can learn to serve on committees and hopefully proceed to use this knowledge on a state and national basis," she said.

Forty-four Lenawee nurses heard Mrs. Dixon.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Lavern Moll reported that arrangements for the Shock Workshop are nearing completion.

Installation of officers will be held May 18 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Moll at Holloway. Nurses will wear a muu-muu or shift to the meeting.

"We never have been able to keep bedding on hand and now the need is most pressing," Mrs. Dickinson continued.

Lenawee's 'Soil' Week Opens May 1

"Private citizens own three-quarters of the nation's land and must assume major responsibility for its sound management," said Donald Gust, of Ottawa Lake, chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District in announcing the 1967 Soil Stewardship Week observance.

This year's theme is "Three-Fourths of Our Land."

"As the pressures of high living standards, increased population, and world influence mount, the landowning citizen must be more careful of his stewardship of God's possessions," Mr. Gust added.

Soil Stewardship Week, April 30 to May 7, is a time to re-evaluate responsibility and purpose.

People now demand more of a wider variety of things than ever before. There are more people now than ever.

Half of the world's people live in Asia, which also has the highest rate of malnutrition and the highest rate of population gain.

Vast expanse of soil and water resources will feel the pull of these people abroad as well as the push of expanding cities in America.

Through My Window

LOOKING, LOOKING, LOOKING

Wow, what a wonderful, wonderful time of year this is! Things happen so fast that it is impossible to keep up to date. The grass is getting greener by the minute; every day we think it has reached its peak but there always seems to be one more shade of brightness to surprise us in the morning.

The trees are competing with the grass in the race for green—buds are swelling and the little new leaves are exploding so fast that we can almost see them grow. Daffodils and tulips are opening and oh, there are birds-birds-birds everywhere!

THE ONLY trouble with all of this thrilling springtime activity is that I have trouble doing anything except watching it. I am so afraid of missing something — at the end of each day I try to think back and account for the time only to find out that I have spent most of it just looking.

Even days which in the fall and winter would be absolute gloomsville are, here in April, apt to be bursting and bubbling over with excitement.

The other day, for instance, was dark and cloudy and by afternoon the steady morning's mist had turned to rain.

It was also foggy and whatever happened to that old saying about it not raining when there was fog?

But who cared about the weather, there was so much bird activity that who had time to even notice it? It, meaning the bad weather, of course.

THE BLACK squirrel started our afternoon with a wild and frantic race as he ran at breakneck speed through the tree tops. Lass, the collie next door, followed him on the ground. It is a quite-frequently-played game and we were happy that once again the squirrel won.

Bird-wise, sparrows and grackles were everywhere. Robins were busy, too; fighting and carrying mud from a creek bank seemed to be the most popular activities.

Suddenly, out of the corner of my eye, I noticed a splash in the creek. A kingfisher! Rocketing out of the water — and I really suppose that there was not much resemblance to a Polaris missile, but our kingfisher did come out of the water fast and he did create quite a spray.

He flew to a near-by limb and Liz flew for the binoculars. We both had a good look at his pretty blue back and white collar, his tousled head and that large bill.

What a wonderful character. And what a patient fisherman. We clocked him once and it was 7 long minutes between dives. I say long because I dared not turn my head for fear of missing the action and in 7 minutes of holding still, a neck can start to become stiff.

WHEN THE fog started rolling in, the kingfisher watching faded out. Ooops, I do not mean that we were socked in that much, it just happened that the bird flew upstream as the clouds settled down.

A bright and handsome male cardinal was not bothered a bit by the fog and rain; in fact, it offered a contrast and made him appear just that much more brilliant.

He came from across the creek, perched on a little branch of a tree which grows on the bank and proceeded to look the yard over. Spotting his little lady, who was on the ground beneath the new feeder, he quickly flew to her side. Oh, springtime love — he fed her! While this was going on, a round little song sparrow scratched for an early dinner. She was not at all interested in coming up to the feeding tray, too much had been spilled to the ground, I guess.

So it is that each and every day now brings more than its full quota of exciting happenings and we are doing nothing much more than looking, looking, looking.

NEXT WEEK:
"We Grow 'Em Big"

Safety Week Is May 8-13 in Tecumseh

Vehicles will also be checked at the factories, either by their own teams or by volunteer traveling teams.

Murell Clark, parade director, says, "Call me for a position in the big parade."

Farm Workers Aided by New Senate-Passed Bill

LANSING — Lenawee County farmers and farm workers will greatly benefit from a bill passed by the senate Monday night, Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley said today.

The bill, passed by a 21 to 12 vote despite strong Democrat opposition, would phase farm employes in under the state workman's compensation law.

"Because of uncertain insurance cost factors, farm workers will be gradually eased under workman's compensation over a four-year period," said Sen. Bursley.

They will be eligible for one-third of the full benefit the first year, one-half the second year, two-thirds the third year and full benefits the fourth year and thereafter.

The measure applies to all agricultural employers of three or more regular employes paid hourly wages or salaries, and not paid on a piecework basis, who are employed 35 or more hours a week by one employer for 13 or more weeks during the preceding year.

"It provides protection for the worker and at the same time gives the farmer a chance to participate on a gradual basis. It will hold down his costs originally and give the insurance companies time to study costs. By the time the fourth year is up, the companies will have had an opportunity to get statistics on which to base their rates," the senator said.

Tot Picture Deadline Is April 27

History Comes Alive

Editor's note — History comes alive in Tecumseh through a letter Clara Waldron received from the great-great-granddaughter of Musgrove Evans. Avidly studying the life and activity of the founding fathers of Tecumseh for years, Miss Waldron was thrilled to read the letter from Mrs. Thelma Evans Reddell of Abilene, Texas. She shares it with Herald readers. In answering Mrs. Reddell's letter, the Tecumseh historian told her of the graves of Abi Evans and two of her children here in Brookside Cemetery. Miss Waldron hopes to learn more about the life of Musgrove Evans in Texas by corresponding with his great-great-granddaughter. (Mrs. Reddell has a son, William F., living at 17443 Leslie St., in Allen Park.)

By MRS. THELMA EVANS REDDELL

ABILENE, Texas — My great-great-grandfather, Musgrove Evans, was born in Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17, 1785. His family migrated to New York in 1799 and settled near Brownsville, Jefferson County.

He married Abi Brown, sister of Gen. Jacob Brown for whom Brownsville was named. The date of the marriage is 1811.

Musgrove Evans was a surveyor by occupation. Later he moved to Michigan and surveyed roads, etc., throughout the northeast and around the Great Lakes.

He finally settled his family at Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, in 1824, became one of the founding fathers of the town. He was also the first postmaster and the first judge of the Probate Court of Lenawee County.

He and Abi had five children living at the time of her death, March 4, 1832. Their names:

Samuel Brown Evans, killed at the Alamo in Texas and who was never married.

Vincent L. Evans, married Emma Brookfield. They were my great-grandparents.

Hannah Mariah Evans married Judge Sealy of Austin, Tex.

William M. married Ann E. Maul, who with their nine children, lived in Big Bend, Tex.

All of the men in the Evans family and also Brookfield that were in the wars lost their lives.

Most of them were surveyors, first families of Texas and America. I would like to find out if my great-great-grandmother and two or three of her children are buried in Tecumseh.

The children's names were:

Pamela Evans, born Jan. 17, 1815, died Sept. 4, 1825.

Charles Evans born Aug. 24, 1823, drowned July 30, 1825.

George Safford, born Aug. 1827.

Oh, yes, Gen. Jacob Brown was in Michigan in the War of 1812.

Thank you so very much if you could do this for me. I will always be grateful.

If you find the Brown name, I would like them also.

Musgrove Evans enlisted in the army to avenge the death of his son, Samuel, after the Alamo. He served from April 1 to July 14, 1836 and is listed as one of the heroes in the battle of San Jacinto which lasted only 18 minutes but was the one that won independence for Texas.

Musgrove is buried at La-Grange, Tex., in Fayette County. He married a second wife, Catherine Richardson, in 1840. They had no children.

Editors Note — Wilfred Waldron placed the huge boulder (see back portion of picture) on the grave of Abi Brown Evans in Brookside Cemetery for the Tecumseh Monday Club years ago. His only help was that of his late daughter, Joyce, who was four years old at the time. The boulder had been on the Waldron farm. Moving it was a feat of brawn and brains. A plaque marks the grave of the wife of the city's founder.

Nursery Center Plans for Future

Mrs. Warren Puffer, director of the Tecumseh Nursery Center, announced Friday that fall registrations will be accepted at the Center any weekday morning during the month of May. Mrs. Puffer's phone number is 423-4018.

Children are divided into two groups of three and four year olds, attending the school three days a week and those attending two days a week.

The school is located in the Presbyterian Fellowship Center, entered by the east door.

The registration fee is due at the time of registration.

Mrs. Puffer said that the experiences a child has at the school are beneficial to his physical, mental and social growth.

Mrs. Claude Sebring is the assistant teacher.

Mrs. Puffer and Mrs. Sebring will accompany the children on a visit to Patterson School kindergarten Thursday and Friday of this week. Seventeen children will go each day to the classes taught by Mrs. William Powell.

Later in May a trip to the post office is planned.

HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

DIAMOND MENTOR KEEPS BUSY — Tecumseh High School baseball coach, Carl Hale, is constantly on the alert as he guides his Indian crew each spring. In the first picture, Coach Hale eyes the playing field to plan his strategy, then in No. 2, he yelps for his runner to get back to first on an attempted pick-off. Indian players must keep a constant eye on their coach for signs, which tell them to "take" a pitch, steal, hit-and-run. Fans may think the baseball chief has a bad case of nerves, but he's just going through the age-old ritual of signaling strategy. In the right-hand pic, Gerald Slick's yelps help keep the THS bench lively.

Let's try a little experiment.

Lay your hand out flat and spread your fingers apart. Now, imagine that someone cut off all of your fingers. Your hand wouldn't be very useful, would it?

We have used this to illustrate a very real problem that is happening too often all over northern Michigan. Only thing, it isn't with hands and fingers but concerns trout streams and their tributary creeks.

Those tributaries are the places where trout spawn; they will also be all-important if newly-introduced salmon are to spawn successfully. These are the nurseries of a highly-important Michigan fishery.

Michigan's water laws are, unfortunately, very lax and this has allowed dam building on these tributaries at an almost uncontrolled rate. Hundreds of these watery "fingers" are being cut off each year by dams which are being built for one purpose or another. The main streams just cannot carry the fish-producing load alone.

IN ADDITION, every time another dam is built and waters are backed up, the actual water quality undergoes changes when it is eventually allowed to flow on downstream.

A dam slows up the current and prevents the "flushing action" of high spring flow which scours out stream bottoms and exposes spawning gravel. A slow-moving stream is a muddy stream and has warmer water.

A bill (S.259) has been introduced into the Michigan Legislature to provide for the issuance of permits before any dam may be built on any Michigan stream.

The Conservation Department would be charged with responsibility to make careful inspections of the proposed site to determine whether fisheries resources might be damaged by such construction.

REALIZING THAT landowners frequently have need for small ponds, plans would be provided which would allow by-passing of part of the water into a pond on one side, while keeping the main stream flow uninterrupted. Thus, both landowners and fishermen would get a real break.

The State Soil Conservation Committee and the State Department of Agriculture both aided the Conservation Department in drafting this particular bill.

It has been carefully thought out and, with the addition of a few short amendments could be a real boon in place of a growing menace to our state waters.

Every fisherman and other conservation-minded individual in Michigan should get behind this particular bill and be heard. Write your Senator and Representative in Lansing today to let him know you are interested in passage of Senate Bill 259.

If you don't, all you stand to lose is a vital portion of our Water Wonderland which is disappearing at an alarming rate!

Pythian Sisters Are Initiated

Six were installed at the recent meeting of Pythian Sisters by the Josephine H. Hall Temple, assisted by the degree staff and pianist of the Minnehaha Temple of Tipton.

Initiated were Mrs. [illegible] Brock, Mrs. David Criss, Mrs. Arthur George, Mrs. Guy Nixon, Mrs. Grace Rehberg and Mrs. Merlin Schultz.

Ten additional members for Tipton were also guests.

The charter was draped for the Past Supreme Chief Bird Sandlin of Oklahoma.

District Deputy Mrs. Lyle Whelan was presented and given honors.

Mrs. Whelan and Mrs. Harry Carney presided at the lace-covered refreshment table centered with a floral bouquet.

Mrs. Erwin Buss won the bouquet in a drawing.

The committee was Mrs. Harry Schuch, Mrs. Neva Jacobs, Mrs. Duncan Oliphant, Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Elmer Wilt.

Another meeting will be held April 26 at 8 p.m. at the Temple.

Farm Bureau Addition Bid Let to Schultz

The board of directors of the Lenawee County Farm Bureau accepted the bid of Schultz Builders, Adrian, for a 30' x 50' addition to its office and meeting room building located on M-52 at Madison Center.

The cost of the addition will be $13,984 and will be located at the rear of the present building, permitting expanded room for the Farm Bureau Insurance offices and an enlarged meeting room area.

Work is to be started immediately.

The action was taken at a special meeting April 18.

New Stamp Marks National Grange Centennial Year

Last week was National Grange Week, commemorating the centennial year of the country's oldest farm organization.

The occasion is being marked by a handsome tribute from Uncle Sam as the Post Office issues a new 5c commemorative stamp honoring the National Grange.

H. Dean Moore, 7002 E. Monroe Rd., is Master of the Tecumseh Grange which plans to present centennial editions of the National Grange history to the Tecumseh Public Library when they come from the press later this year.

The family fraternity was conceived by Oliver H. Kelley in 1867, as a means for aggrieved farmers to collectively strive for remedial action and form a community-service organization.

It mushroomed into a mammoth organization which, at its peak, numbered 800,000 members. Today, the Grange has more than 620,000 members from 7,000 local Granges.

Although basically interested in fostering the welfare of the farmer and farm-oriented people, the Grange has always integrated its program into a community-wide concept that includes civic, youth and women's activities.

With 100 years of non-partisan, national legislative accomplishments behind it, the National Grange is moving swiftly into its second century with new legislative goals for rural America and the entire country, its leaders state.

It's not the cost of feed that counts...

It's lowest cost per CWT of milk

Prove it with MURPHY Mi-T Dairy Concentrate

Cheap feed never made cheap milk! The two just can't go together. Chances are production costs will be higher, you'll ship less milk, and your cows may be much the worse for it.

Murphy Mi-T Dairy Concentrate is made to make money — for you! How? By increasing the profit spread between your feed costs and your milk checks. Two ways: 1. More milk. 2. At lowest cost per CWT. Lower than $1.75 per CWT for total feed costs, many Murphy Dairymen report.

HIGH P. I. — High Potency Ingredients give you the greatest economy, too. Takes only 1¼ lbs. per cow per day! If you like to make money — let us show you how Murphy Dairymen do it.

House Gutted by Fire

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — "The piece of formica I was getting ready to paste down just exploded in my hands," said Mrs. George Bancroft, who miraculously escaped injury in an explosion which destroyed her one-story frame home in minutes Thursday afternoon.

Apparently, the fumes were ignited by the pilot light on the gas stove.

The home is two miles north of Clinton on Clinton Rd., near the intersection of Fisk Rd.

Mrs. Bancroft tried to dial the operator on her phone, but when the kitchen ceiling burst into flames, she ran to a nearby house to call the fire department.

"The phone rang and rang before I could get through," she said.

BY THE TIME she ran back to her house, she couldn't get inside to get her car keys in her purse — so their year-old car, parked in the garage, also burned up.

Charles Curtis, working a few hundred yards away on a tractor in his field, saw the first smoke and before he could reach the house the entire roof was caved in.

Clinton Fire Chief, Arthur Schuler, reported that the fire could be seen rolling out of the house roof as the fire trucks neared the scene a few minutes later.

He immediately called for the assistance of the Manchester Fire Department.

By 3:30 p.m. firemen were rolling up their hoses — the blaze was out.

Little was left besides charred timbers.

Mr. Bancroft, who had been called home from work at Tecumseh Products Company, could be seen tearfully kicking through the scorched remains of the kitchen looking for anything that remained.

He found a charred typewriter and tossed it through the gaping hole where the wall of his house had been — an hour and a half before.

The couple's children, Georgia, 12, and Edward, 11, both sixth graders, were attending school in Clinton.

Their belongings were water-soaked in the basement bedrooms, but most of them could be salvaged.

WHILE FRIENDS helped carry away the few pieces of soaked living room furniture, Mrs. Bancroft's mother, Mrs. Rudolf Pratt, recalled how the young couple had built the house themselves, starting with just a windowless shell 10 years ago.

"Nadine did a lot of the building herself — even crawled up on the roof to put on the shingles," Mrs. Pratt recalled.

"There's a little insurance — but not enough," Mrs. Bancroft said.

CLINTON FIREMEN were recalled to the scene at 5:30 p.m. when smoke was seen escaping from a wall section.

The Bancrofts are remaining with relatives until they can move a house trailer onto their lot — and begin rebuilding.

Relatives, friends, the United Church of Christ and the Community Chest Fund are all giving them emergency assistance.

Election of officers will be held.

Mrs. Marilyn Vogel will present the study material and Mrs. Nora Beach will lead devotions.

Refreshment committee is Mrs. Milton Grossman and Mrs. Glen Bihlmeyer.

William Sage, a 1964 graduate of Clinton High School, is one of two men at the University of Michigan who belong to three honorary fraternities. The son of former Clinton residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sage of Ann Arbor, he was recently initiated into the Tribe of Michigauma, the oldest honorary fraternity awarded to 20 senior men for excellence in school activities. Williams has also been elected executive vice-president of the Inter-Fraternity Council for the coming year. Upon graduation he plans to enter law school.

Backers Seek Permit for Mobile Home Park

CLINTON — River Raisin Clinton Corporation will seek a permit from the Clinton Village Council May 3 to develop a 23-acre Mobile Home Park at Clinton's west village limits, at an estimated cost of $750,000.

When filled with mobile homes, it will exceed $2 million valuation.

The riverview area will be developed to accommodate 144 mobile home units on large lots and will include a beach and boating access on the 100-acre lake.

Entrance to the site is on W. Michigan Ave.

The Corporation announced the purchase of the land and water rights from Paul Hoyt and described the plan to dam the millrace section and fill it in. The land is bordered along the west side by the River Raisin. The natural beauty of the area will be retained with as many trees and shrubs as possible.

PLANS CALL for the mobile home units to be restricted to the upper price range. Black-top streets and large parking areas will be provided, with all utilities underground.

A community building, swimming pool, tennis court, recreation area and tot-lot will add to the community facilities for both young families and retirees.

"This will be one of the most beautifully designed mobile home parks in Michigan and when completed, it will add as much as $2 million to the village tax base," a Corporation spokesman said.

GOSPEL SINGERS — The Toney Brothers of Detroit will present a musical program in the Clinton Baptist Church Sunday at 2:30 p.m., which is open to the public.

Mrs. Jackson told Clinton State Police she was attempting to make a right turn from Michigan Ave. and did not see the truck on her right. She was given a summons for making a right turn from the wrong lane.

Mrs. Jackson, her daughter, Lynette, 17, and sister, Mrs. Donald Corwin, of Clinton, were shaken up and the car was extensively damaged.

Play Is Delightful

By CHRISTINE STEGER

Tecumseh Players are delighting audiences with their production of "The Tender Trap," a comedy directed by Dr. Bob Murray and assistant Joy Dalton.

Written by Max Schulman and Robert Paul Smith, "The Tender Trap" centers around bachelor Charlie Reader, portrayed by Robert Moore, and his New York apartment which seems to be forever filled with eligible girls.

Charlie has quite a life, though. The girls chase him. That is, until the "trap" is set by the determined Julie Gillis (Kathleen Franz) and the sophisticated Sylvia Crewes (Betty Chorman).

Already enmeshed in married life is Charlie's boyhood friend, Joe McCall, played by John Raymond. Good ole' Joe is in New York on a business trip and moves in with Charlie, all agog over the perfect bachelor life that Charlie leads.

John Raymond as Joe was outstanding. With naturalness and with that look of dreaming disbelief, Mr. Raymond interpreted an excellent portrait of the married man envying the bachelor.

Betty Chorman as the talented career girl seemed perfect for the part and created a fine characterization of a girl determined to find a man. Kathleen Franz was a cute Julie Gillis, the gal who knew what she wanted — a husband.

In the role of Charlie Reader, Robert Moore was adequate, though perhaps a little too young for the character.

Craig Collicott as the impatient scientist made an impressive performance as he stormed through his lines and battered his hat. The audience responded warmly to his humorous interpretation.

As "cool" Sol Schwartz, Robert Whitman prompted a round of applause for his unusual "entrance."

Completing the cast were Florine Purkey as Poppy Matson, and Susana Ofiaro as Jessica Collins, two more of Charlie's charming girlfriends.

SET AND PROP crews did fine jobs. So much so that the audience chuckled over the unique preparations for the last act.

Director Murray is to be complimented for an entertaining production.

Additional performances for "The Tender Trap" are set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Glass Room of the Tecumseh Community Center.

Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Cambridge Residents Ponder

Township board meetings seldom attract anyone but elected officials.

The exception to that rule-of-thumb probably will come Friday in Cambridge Township when a vital question is to be decided:

Do residents want a $3 million super speedway located near the Junction of US-12 and M-50?

The topic has been getting a thorough airing around the township and we'll wager quite a few folks are going to be on hand Friday to express their opinion.

Cambridge's town hall is located in Onsted with the session slated to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Actual mechanics of the situation is to consider a change in zoning from residential to commercial for about 600 acres of land. If OKed, this would open the door for the raceway.

However, a mere zoning switch doesn't automatically signal the start of construction. Michigan Motor Speedway, Inc., already has one ace up its sleeve — prior approval from VanBuren Township for the same track. Obviously, it's not going to be at both locations.

But even so, Cambridge residents would do well to consider carefully all facets of the proposed raceway at Friday's gathering — and then express their minds on the issue.

'Through Air Like Leaves'

A week ago, we made quite a fuss concerning students being evacuated from Adrian High School about the time a tornado was heading into Lenawee County.

They were told to leave, boarded school buses and headed home — at precisely the peak of the danger period.

Seven days passed and the nation was struck once more by twisters, with great damage inflicted in the Chicago area.

In the news reports of that disaster we were particularly struck by this portion:

> "Nine victims at Belvidere were students. The twister hit there as students boarded school buses at Belvidere High School. Some victims were elementary school students who had been picked up earlier by the buses.
> "Buses were sent through the air like leaves. Others were bounced across the ground and flattened. One bus was carried more than a mile from the school.

Thus, we'll repeat once again the disaster plan worked out by folks who know. Don't leave public buildings during a tornado warning, but proceed to the safest area in it and wait until there's an all-clear.

If you're in a vehicle on the highway, pull over, get out and lay in a ditch, preferably near a concrete culvert. One school bus driver in the Illinois tragedy probably saved his 30 riders last week when he did just this. All the young people survived, while the bus was twisted to shreds.

The best advice we can offer is to stay close to home when there is a tornado watch, which means conditions are ripe for trouble.

Should We Vote on It?

Does Lenawee need a city-county building at this time?

One of Tecumseh representatives on the board of supervisors, Mayor Harold Easton, doesn't think so. Franklin Township's Ray Jackson agrees.

Mayor Easton opines that the county's full resources are needed now on the new county medical facility, which will be located on US-223, west of Adrian.

It's his feeling — and that of probably 15 supervisors — that the residents of Lenawee should decide the fate of the city-county structure by ballot.

Mr. Jackson tried unsuccessfully last week to get supervisors to have the question on the ballot at the next general election, which will be in 1968. Those favoring the city-county structure balked at this and had the votes in a show-down to have their way.

However, there is still the possibility of a special election, at an earlier date. This will mean petitions to be signed and a date set. Assistant prosecutor Irving Shaw is digging up the necessary data at present.

Everyone Should Act

TO THE EDITORS:

Why not light a candle rather than curse the darkness surrounding tax reform?

I have attended numerous discussions regarding the need for tax reform to meet our educational and other state needs. The consensus is that the reform (an income tax) is essential if we are to adequately provide for our future needs.

However, it is obvious that Mister and Missus Individual Citizen is much more interested in whether he or she is going to have an extra hour of daylight after work, than whether (A.) this would cause our school children to have an extra hour of darkness when they go to school in the morning or (B.) whether our children and students are going to have a great deal more intellectual darkness as a result of the inadequate financing of education at all levels.

PTA's, school boards and teachers passed resolutions and made one pass at the legislators some weeks ago, but since then, they and most others connected with education have been sitting around wringing their hands and cursing the darkness.

Tax reform and the adequate financing of education and other state services is slowly being strangled to death in the legislature by members of both parties for many reasons, including political ones. However, just saying this accomplishes absolutely nothing.

If we are to have tax reform the time is now and the place is the legislature in Lansing. Unless Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, Mr. and Mrs. Educator, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Student and also, Mr. and Mrs. Newspaper, immediately confront their respective state senators (particularly) and representatives with this need, they will be just as guilty of the death of tax reform as the legislators they elected who are currently opposing it.

They will also be just as guilty as those citizens who stood by, in recent incidents when a fellow citizen was being beaten or attacked, and did nothing.

Without tax reform or increased revenue, education will receive $402,737,000 less than the State Board of Education recommended last December, $166,874,000 less than the governor originally recommended, and $20 million less than are being provided this year and in the face of increasing enrollments.

What can and should be done? Every person, organization and newspaper that is really concerned with fiscal reform should contact their respective state senator (particularly) and representative and,

A. Acquaint him with the need for tax reform now!, and

B. Get answers to the following questions:

1. Are you for tax reform?

1a. If not, how do you propose to meet the future needs of education and the state?

2. Will you support the governor's recommendations?

2a. If not, what are your recommendations generally, and specifically regarding the items in the governor's tax reform proposal?

3. Acquaint your legislator with the fact that his vote in this matter will be significant in your evaluation of his qualifications as your legislator.

4. Keep contacting him and having your friends and fellow constituents contact him.

The legislators are waiting to hear the voice of the voters — will your voice be heard or will you continue to wring your hands and to curse the darkness?

Sincerely,

James F. O'Neil, Member
State Board of Education

Wake Up, Freedom

TO THE EDITORS:

We as American citizens and living in what is called "A free country" had better wake up to the fact that our country is no longer free. Slowly, but surely, all our freedoms are being taken from us.

The Piggott Banner (Piggott, Ark.) had in last week's paper, front page, an article taken from the Chattanooga, Tenn., News-Free Press this article stated that the Supreme Court says a school system CAN NOT refuse to hire a Communist party member to teach our children in the United States Schools.

Now let me ask this: If a Communist is allowed to live here in the United States (which they do) and if they also are allowed to teach in public schools, then why are our boys in Vietnam fighting against Communist aggression? When we allow them to live among our children in the United States, to hold jobs and be allowed among our children in schools?

For what are our boys fighting and dying for? If we as Americans must allow 5 out of 9 men tell us what to do. Then for what reason do we have to go into another country, and tell them you can or can't bind this on some of your people when the very thing we are fighting against is being bound on us, and the very men that made the ruling are not voted into office "by the people" but appointed by the president.

I, for one, do not want to see my sons (and I have 3) die for something that is a lost cause. When the country they are fighting for says that we can have Communist aggression here, but you go fight against it in some other country.

Yes, it's time we, as Americans, put up a "Battle Cry" that will awaken the whole world.

Let the men in Washington know how you feel. Write to Congress, write to the Senate, and Supreme Court, but first write to the President and let him know how you feel.

But if you don't care about your boys then sleep on. Let them die for something we no longer believe in ourselves (Communist Aggression). It's here! You better believe it!

Rep. Stites Co-Sponsors Land Bill

Rep. Robert C. Stites of Lenawee County said a bill he co-sponsored to sell certain lands in Lenawee County has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Rep. Stites said the bill allows the state administrative board to sell a parcel of land in Adrian Township to Lenawee County.

The land consists of some 11 acres and is located just outside the north city limits. The Girls' Training School is located across the highway from the land.

Monies received from the sale of this land will be deposited in the general fund of the state treasury.

Rep. Stites said sale of the land was important because of its potential for construction of government buildings.

TRACK WILL COST $3½ MILLION

Super Speedway Gets OK

Big-time auto competition is coming to Lenawee County.

A $3½ million layout — being called the Houston Astrodome of racing — is slated to be built in Cambridge Township at US-12 and M-50.

Called Michigan International Speedway, the layout is going to include a two-mile oval, plus a Grand Prix road course. Permanent seating will handle 25,000.

Groundbreaking is scheduled for late spring.

Lawrence H. LoPatin, of Detroit, president of the Speedway group, said in Detroit Wednesday, "This facility will bring an entirely new concept to the world of international motorsport."

"It will not be a dust bowl located off the beaten track. Our track will become the yardstick by which every other circuit in the world will be gauged," he added.

Final obstacle to the track being situated in Cambridge dissolved when township officials, first the zoning commission and then the board of supervisors, agreed to change classification of 600 acres from residential to commercial.

Besides easy access and exit from several major arteries, the auto race fans will have modern grandstands from which to view the races. They'll have a clear uncluttered view of everything going on. At most road courses (featuring left and right hand curves), too often the race fan sees but a few hundred yards of track.

Noted race track designer, Charles Moneypenny of Daytona, Fla., in designing the infield road race course, used the services of former British driving ace Stirling Moss, to ensure the twisting circuit would provide the Taking sturdy gavel in hand, Charles Brighton looked out at 350 upturned faces and called the meeting to order.

Thus started the fiery public gathering in Onsted last week.

Cambridge Township's zoning commission, of which Mr. Brighton is chairman, was asking residents for their views on the proposed race track.

For nearly three hours, comments rose like surf, rolling back and forth across the room, sometimes breaking gently at the table where zoning committeemen sat, sometimes crashing with gusto.

PICTURE PAGE 2

Through it all, Mr. Brighton's gavel got a rugged workout. Occasionally three or four voices would be raised at one time and the chairman would have to pound for order.

In view of the strong feelings — both pro and con — the gathering came off in orderly fashion.

A viewer couldn't help but think of the old fashioned New England town meetings where people regularly sound off on current issues affecting their communities.

Sometimes the talk is salty and biting.

AFTER track promoter Larry LoPatin of Detroit outlined what his group had in mind, namely a layout that would rival the one in Daytona, Fla., and be completely self-contained with police and fire protection, the questions started to fly.

How about noise? Traffic? Undesirables? Taxes?

Answers were offered, but sometimes the people asking weren't quite satisfied.

For everyone obviously not wanting the track, there were spokesmen in favor of bringing a Super Speedway to Cambridge.

Finally, things narrowed down to feelings expressed by Arnold Graves, whose family settled along US-12 more than 100 years ago.

He demanded that the names of all persons whose property was under option be made public.

It was explained that the gathering was merely to decide if two sections of lands would be rezoned from residential to commercial for purposes of allowing racing there.

Mr. Graves was adamant.

But the zoning commission held firm and no individual parcels were revealed.

$3 Million Clinton School Plan Unveiled

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — A $3 million school building and remodeling program which would likely increase education taxes here by 10.3 mills, is being considered by the board of education.

Supt. Richard Wegner described the proposed plan — which would include a new high school — and the steps taken to pick a building site to PTA members Monday night.

Six spots for the high school were considered and rejected before the 95-acre Halladay property north of the village got an OK. Mr. Wegner explained others were either too small, too low, too rolling or too high-priced.

THE HALLADAY land would cost $125,000, but it could prove a better buy if it qualifies for the new Federal Green Spaces program, a 50/50 matching plan on purchase of land not actually used for buildings.

A minimum of 20 acres for "open spaces" is required and it can be used for school athletic fields, recreation, park or woodland.

Mrs. Edwin Wight, board secretary, stated, "If we don't get this Federal Aid, we can't swing this site."

Federal funds could make the 95 acres less expensive per acre than one of the smaller sites, which couldn't qualify for as much aid.

"A QUALITY school building plan is based on the assumption that Clinton is going to grow much faster than in the past," Mr. Wegner noted.

Tentative consideration is being given by the Board to a

THS Seniors Punished

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh School Board and officials met at a special session Monday night and approved penalties for 64 high school seniors who admitted drinking on last week's senior trip to Washington, D. C.

Punishment ranged from three to five-day suspensions from classes and all students were barred from participation in extra-curricular activities.

Suspension from classes also includes a failure mark in each class for daily work.

Some of the students returned home from the trip early and others admitted drinking after the tour was completed. Seniors who confessed after the trip were penalized with five-day suspensions.

Quantity of drinking has been exaggerated and in many cases only a sip of beer was consumed. Whether a student drank a whole bottle or took one sip, punishment was the same.

Students, parents and school officials have expressed regrets over the incident and, although a rule was violated, considerable sympathy has been shown the students.

The School Board discussed having the next senior trip in the fall when there are not so many other high school students in Washington and possibly ending senior trips in the future.

The present Junior Class has saved approximately $3,000 for its trip and will be allowed the excursion.

Teen Tours of Toledo were in charge of last week's trip and provided three chaperons. Its director was responsible for sending the youngsters home.

Tecumseh schools had six chaperons on the trip.

Auto Wash Being Built on West Side

Joe's Market, Marchese Barber Shop and a parcel of land just west for a new automatic car wash were annexed to Tecumseh by Council Monday night.

The property, owned by Bart and Anna Badalucco, 230 Park St. had been released for annexation by the Tecumseh Township Board last month.

Ground has already been broken for the new car wash, to be called "Sudzy Duz It Auto Wash." It will have one fully automatic wash lane and two regular wash lanes, where patrons can wash their own cars.

A corporation has been formed with Lowell Selders, president; Merlyn French, treasurer; and Walter Slusarski, secretary.

Completion is scheduled for early this summer.

New Sirens Will Warn Everyone

The shrill warning of fires or tornadoes will be heard by all Tecumseh residents before May ends.

After hearing about complaints by people who were not able to distinguish present tornado alerts, Gray Manufacturing Company has ordered a new siren, which will be donated to the city.

The three-horse, three-phase whistle will be installed at the corner of N. Evans and Brown Sts. as soon as it arrives.

The siren will blow simultaneously with the main siren. A second new siren, which may be purchased by the Tecumseh Jaycees, will be installed near Tecumseh Acres School.

sort of challenge international Grand Prix drivers are used to, while combining the best possible viewing.

The combined high-speed track and infield road circuit will measure nearly three miles, considered ideal for the big Class-7 Sports Racing machines, which use American Ford, Chevrolet and Chrysler engines, in events such as the annual fall classic Canadian-American Series Challenge Cup Races.

In competition, Michigan International Speedway will host men and machines from around the world. In United States Auto Club Stock Car and Indianapolis championship car races, names such as Parnelli Jones, Mario Andretti and A. J. Foyt will become as commonplace in the state as Gordie Howe and Al Kaline.

Besides the four USAC races — two stock car, two Indy roadster events and at least two sports car road races — Michigan International Speedway will also fill a long sought need of the Motor City.

Strategically located 50 minutes from Detroit, the facilities will provide a test arena for the auto manufacturers.

At present the car makers are forced to travel to tracks, often hundreds of miles away, to try out components, as well as the finished products and prototype experimental models, in their safety and performance programs.

Accessory companies as well — tire manufacturers, shock absorber firms, to mention but a few — also will find the modern facilities of Michigan International Speedway tailor-made for test purposes.

Ever since the first "Tin Lizzie" of Henry Ford chugged into life over 60 years ago, Michigan people have done everything concerning automobiles, in the design and building fields.

it took 20 minutes to get out the family driveway onto US-12.

Someone noted they'd listened to diesel trucks on 50 and 12 for years and nobody seemed to complain about that noise.

Mr. LoPatin explained the track would be carved out of the ground in the shape of a bowl and what with sound rising most noise would simply go straight up.

When everyone had had a chance to speak, Chairman Brighton, whose own farm is on US-12, about three miles west of the track site, ruled adjournment and the commission went into executive session.

As everyone knows by now, the zoning folks ruled in favor of allowing the track, their decision being later upheld by the township board.

There is still the possibility of opposing forces passing a petition to put the question on the ballot.

Based on what I heard last week at the public hearing, I'd wager such a vote — if held — would concur with board action.

Mrs. Charles Manley entertained 16 members of the Friendly Class of the Friends Church Tuesday evening at her home.

Mrs. Harry Creger read interesting Mother's Day thoughts for the devotional period.

"A Look Into the Past" was the program presented by Mrs. Emma Day. Topics such as dressmaking fashions, home furnishings, games, etc., were distributed among the members who spoke on the subjects from memory as far back as they could go.

Mrs. Jessie Brown, who taught the class for many years until illness beset her, was able to be present and told the group of a dress form from years ago that she had used and has in her possession.

She said patterns were not available, so one simply adjusted the form to the measurements of the one desiring a new dress and worked from there.

Tecumseh Tracksters Triumphant

The meet was triangular, with the opposition provided by Addison and Boysville.

The result was the sixth victory for Coach Tom Fagan's speedsters as they romped past the Panthers and the Knights — Tecumseh, 79, Addison, 41, Boysville, 28.

The Indians scored in every track and field event copping firsts in eight contests.

Gary Fairbanks led the Indians garnering 15 points with first in the broad jump and taking both the 120-yard high and 180-yard low hurdles. His leap of 19'1¾" in the long jump equalled his best season's effort and he ran the highs in 16.1 and lows in 22 seconds.

BOB GRAFF set a new school record in the two-mile run with 10:43.5, bettering Bill Goddard's record by 1.1 seconds.

Other Indian winners were Jim Collins in the pole vault with 10'3" and LaMarr Ruffner in the mile run with 4:56.7. The relay teams took firsts in the mile with 3:41.1 and the 880 in 1:40.

BOYSVILLE'S Dave Rockwell won both dash events, the 100-yard in 11:1 and 220-yard in 24:2. Dick Kayl was the other Knight winner in the high jump with 5'9".

Addison winners were Jerry Chatfield in the shot put, Phil Smith in the 880 and Marty Ruoff in the 440.

Thursday in their third Huron League clash, the Indians will meet Grosse Ile Red Devils, with Adrian and Blissfield contests next.

POOR CASHUS — Cheryl Bihlmeyer is one of the neighborhood children that give affection to puppy, Cashus, who loves to romp with all the kids, but wishes he had a home. Owner of his dalmation mother is James Fielder.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

And we think we have weather problems.

Vi Snedecor, 125 W. Brown St., received a letter from her nephew's wife, Mrs. Don Snedecor of Chinook, Montana, —that's Alvin Brazee's country—telling of that state's worst spring storm in history.

They have had a mild winter until April 20 arrived with 14 below zero temperatures and 18 inches of heavy wet snow and wind.

Cattle ranchers were up nearly 24 hours trying to save their calves, difficult work when only four-wheel drive vehicles could move in the belated white precipitation.

Mrs. Snedecor's letters tells the most interesting and heartrending incidents about migrating birds caught in the storm. She said "the highway is lined with dead birds of every kind."

At least Tecumseh didn't get that even though we do have to diligently watch the skies for those frightful funnels.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sisson and family recently moved from 1979 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton, to 9103 N. Union, Tecumseh.

Mrs. Bert Warren has returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schomberg returned Thursday from Venice, Fla., where they spent the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wolf of Clinton, Roberta Hunt and Charles Anderson of Ypsilanti flew to New York City to spend the weekend.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, is Government Day.

$3 MILLION

high school building costing an estimated $2,000,000, for grades eight through 12.

The old high school building, built in 1907, was described by Philip Hansen, accreditation consultant, in his March report as, "old, flammable, educationally unsafe structure."

It would be dismantled and remodeling, to accommodate grades five through seven, and would cost an estimated $250,000.

Present elementary building would be used for kindergarten through fourth grades.

There is $545,000 still outstanding on the elementary building debt.

Combining all these factors, including the present bonded debt, might exceed $3,000,000, the board estimates.

PRESENT STATE equalized valuation of over $15 million is expected to increase to near $20 million with industrial and housing development already announced.

Board president James Woodward explained the board is planning to request an additional four mills for operating at the school election in June. Presently the operating millage is 15.4.

A millage proposal of 7 to 10 mills would be required for the new building, including the present debt. This would be a grand total of 30 mills — an increase of 10.3 mills over the present rate paid by Clinton District residents.

Target dates are tentatively set at September 1969, "if all goes as planned," was the concluding statement by Mr. Wegner.

Six daily and seven weekly newspapers were cited for "strong and comprehensive twelve-month coverage of public education" and/or "outstanding features and editorials" on educational trends, specific school problems, classroom innovations, etc.

Want to Improve Driving Program

Spurred by sweeping traffic safety legislation and pressure from the courts, law enforcement agencies and insurance companies, the administration and driver education staff at Tecumseh High School have been working to improve the quality of the local summer program.

This summer four cars and two classroom sessions will be used to instruct 224 new students (an increase of 24 over last year), plus 40 repeaters.

Questions about the program should be directed to Charles Gross, director of driver education.

REGULATIONS based on Michigan State Driver Education Law are:

► A driver education course must be successfully completed before a driver's license may be issued to a youth between the ages of 16 and 18.

► Driver education courses shall be conducted by local school districts and enrollment in such courses shall be open to high school students attending private or parochial schools in the public school district.

► Schools shall make driver education available to the student at or near the licensing age of 16.

► Driver education will consist of 30 clock hours of classroom instruction and six hours of behind-the-wheel instruction.

Students are placed in our program on the basis of age only, starting with the oldest student wishing to take driver education and proceeding down the list by age until 224 are signed up.

Students must take both classroom and car training at Tecumseh High School.

One-fourth credit will be granted to pupils who pass. No credit will be given for driver education courses taken in other than the THS program.

The administration, driver education instructors and guidance department will not sign recommendations for a student to take driver education at another school because they do not wish to take the responsibility of placing them in a program which may not meet the state's new requirements.

Drive the cost of living down, without giving up all this.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

Arrange Flowers

Forty-three members and guests of the Little Garden Club gathered at the First Presbyterian Church April 25 to see Mrs. C. E. Hutchins demonstrate her skill in co-ordinating floral arrangements with interior decorating.

Mrs. Hutchins, state radio and television chairman, is member and past president of the Lansing Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

As chairman of the State Judges Council, she is eligible to judge anywhere in the United States.

Mrs. Hutchins, immediate past president of the Amateur Judges Association, teaches classes in floral arranging and some of the members of the Little Garden Club have taken lessons from her.

In arranging Mrs. Hutchins stressed three points — height, width and depth, and said to be sure the arrangement blends with the occasion and its site.

Color harmonizing adds charm to an arrangement, she said, emphasizing that superior accessories can help an inferior design but never vice versa.

Six principles of good design are balance, proportion, contrast, rhythm, predominance and scale.

LIGHTING can affect an arrangement and its accessories.

Brighter colors in the evening should be tested under day and night light when designing to see which will best blend with the decor and coloring to be achieved.

She stressed the use of straw flowers and how they last and add color harmony in a room.

"By spray painting you can achieve any color you would like," she said. "By blending more than one color, charm is added to the decoration."

Discoverer of the month, Design and Exhibit committee comprised of Mrs. Carson House, Mrs. Jerry Eggleston and Mrs. Earl Mason was in charge of the evening's program.

Mrs. Wilbur Andrews was hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Adam and Mrs. Charles Gross.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

The current rash of strikes and strike threats throughout the nation is a direct result of a fundamental flaw in our labor laws.

In violation of the basic principle of competition in our economic system, our labor laws encourage the growth of giant collective bargaining monopolies — giants whose self-interested struggles skim the cream off our economic progress and too often leave little or nothing for the customers.

More and more, their power struggles are shutting down vital industries and facilities so that the federal government keeps stepping in to make more and more of the basic wage, price, and other economic decisions in this country.

And each time we have a national crisis in collective bargaining the situation escalates a little further.

IT STARTED out with White House intervention and arm twisting. Now the White House is using Congress as a collective bargaining tool on a day-to-day basis.

A resolution to keep the railroads running with a mandatory 20-day bargaining extension had to be acted on with as little debate and consideration in this important fields as the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution received in the more important and vital base of Vietnam.

Even after passing that resolution, Congress has been speaking darkly of enacting a second measure requiring compulsory arbitration to keep the railroads running and of seizing the railroads for the government.

And the railroads are only one of the areas in which we are facing showdowns between giants in labor and industry. They are similar situations in the rubber, copper, trucking and many other industries.

The implications these strike situations have for the economy of our state and the nation as a whole are obvious.

We cannot tolerate labor-management disputes which jeopardize the economy and the health and welfare of the nation. Something must be done to protect the interests of the consumer in these struggles.

But the answer isn't to create new federal agencies, nor to enact new laws to cover special situations, nor to extend federal power.

If our laws vested the consumer with the balance of power between business and labor, we wouldn't be in this mess.

THE ANSWER is to correct the basic monopolistic flaw in our labor laws, to restore the competitive principle, and then to rely on competitive discipline.

I learned by experience when I was in the automobile industry that a relatively small company can make a place for itself, even in an industry largely dominated by giants.

It can do this by giving the people a product they want at a price they are willing to pay — by sharing progress first with customers and then with workers and stockholders.

And labor-management teamwork — which we must encourage for the principal benefit of customers — is possible in this area.

Only by strengthening America's basic economic principles of competition and cooperation can we fulfill America's economic promise.

Only then can we have sound and adequate economic growth, greater abundance, more jobs and the economic muscle to play our proper role in world economic development and peace.

2 Million Now Serve Hospitals

By CAROL HOWELL

Nearly 2,000,000 Americans work in "cities of care" — our nation's 7,000 registered hospitals.

Of this number 200 are employed by Herrick Memorial Hospital, performing services that provide patients with high quality care.

Because of rapid advances in technology during the last few years, the hospital field has become one of the most exciting areas from which to select a lifetime career.

Complicated equipment demands the services of teams of highly skilled, technically trained men and women.

For a person with a high school diploma, additional on-the-job training will prepare for such jobs as nursing aides, electrocardiograph technician, food service supervisor, dietary aide, lab technician, psychiatric aide or surgical technical aide.

National Hospital Week May 7-13

College graduates can find rewarding careers in purchasing, hospital engineering, public relations or personnel work.

Those with post-graduate training can qualify as occupational therapists, physical therapists, medical social workers, hospital administrators, health science librarians or speech pathologists. And, of course, there are unlimited opportunities for those who want to enter medicine or nursing.

During National Hospital Week, May 7-13, explore the diverse careers that exists in hospitals.

Mohr Appointed

Three members of the Planning Commission were re-appointed to new terms Monday night by Council, who then elected a fourth member, former Councilman Lawrence Mohr.

Seaman Recruit Wayne R. Brooks, 19, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn William Brooks of 2154 East Monroe Rd., has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here. In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station. In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

by GORDON CHARLES

Out for a ride in your car you munch on a candy bar or finish up a pack of cigarettes or maybe you take care of a kid's leaky nose with a tissue. So what do you do with the paper debris?

Throw it in the waste basket.

"The what?" you ask.

Well, maybe you are one of those people who didn't have the foresight to put one of those little litter buckets astride of that floor hump in front. And maybe you didn't think to hang a plastic litter-bag on one of the door handles or to bring along a paper sack to stuff under the seat.

OKAY, LET'S try another one. What did you do when you finished smoking that lung cancer stick?

"That's easy," you answer. "I ground it out in one of the car ash trays. Wouldn't want to start a fire by tossing it out the car window."

Credit for putting ash trays in all automobiles as standard equipment has to be given to a character known as Smokey Bear who made our entire nation fire-conscious. No auto manufacturer would have gone to the extra expense to include ash trays if the public hadn't demanded it first.

Maybe the time has come to begin demanding waste baskets in cars, too, as standard equipment. It stands to reason that the motorist is going to have a certain amount of disposable trash almost every time he drives his car.

Why shouldn't he have a place to put it — one that he knows is there so he can form the habit of putting trash there?

WE ARE firmly convinced that the average American is as proud of his car as he is of his home. Offhand, we can't think of anybody who makes a habit of throwing trash on the floor at home.

That's why we have wastebaskets.

We are just as firmly convinced that a lack of wastebaskets in cars, coupled with this same neatness, is what causes many motorists to toss their trash out car windows.

What else can they do with it, other than drop it on the floor?

To do this goes against basic home habit.

At best, those litter buckets are frequently kicked over and litter bags have a nasty habit of tearing, thus spilling trash all over a car's interior.

Automobile manufacturers are not about to install permanent, out-of-the-way but easy-to-empty wastebaskets in cars unless there is a strong demand from the public, even though the cost would not be great.

SO WHY shouldn't we start in right now and demand it?

Across the United States, one-half billion dollars is spent every year in cleaning up trash alongside highways. Here in Michigan, $300,000 of your tax money is spent for this purpose every year.

Maybe you enjoy paying these "throw-away" taxes. We don't!

News From Boysville

By RICK CURRIE

Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) aids 86% of the students at Boysville. The Eighty-First Congress passed the public law to give financial assistance to local educational agencies for children of needy families.

Louis Kocsis, ESEA coordinator for the Department of Education in Michigan, recently announced to Brother Robert Hormann, Director of Boysville, that the school was eligible for assistance.

Funds totaling $6,000 have been appropriated.

Brother Robert has authorized dental care of 50 students by five Tecumseh dentists. Before the boys leave for summer vacation, they will have received a complete dental bill of health.

Under this same Act, Brother Robert Fillmore has received $400 worth of books for the school library.

Boysville will continue to receive financial assistance from ESEA for each fiscal year.

Old campus communication took its last breath recently when General Telephone installed 25 telephones updating the intercom system to complete efficiency.

The new system will replace the old pushbutton box that the campus has been using for years.

Some of the advantages of the new system will be that every Brother can be contacted in seconds, a brother can make off-campus calls as well as take them and all calls will be private.

The new intercom system will provide immediate contact with any staff member on campus.

Seven Brothers, Romain, Robert Hormann, Jude, James Reisz, Robert Fillmore, Stephen Withey and Donald will remain on campus this summer and take summer classes at Eastern Michigan University.

The answer to what's going on at Boysville during the summer months can be answered in one word — Study.

Brother Romain and Brother Donald are working for their BA, Brothers Hormann, Reisz and Withey are working on their Masters in Guidance, Brother Robert Fillmore is studying for a Masters in Remedial Reading and Brother Jude in Math.

Brothers Leonard and Alexander will be at Gilmour Day Camp in Cleveland. Brother Aloysius and Brother Stephen Davis will be in Chicago taking graduate classes at DePaul.

Brother Thomas Friel will go to Notre Dame University to continue his Masters in Communication Arts and Brother James Kinsella will continue in Education at St. Mary's College in Winona, Minn.

Brother Jeffrey will be teaching summer school at St. Edward's High School in Cleveland and Brother Thomas Scheurer will continue his Masters in Manual Arts at Indiana State Teacher's College. Brother Gerald will be making his second novitiate at Akron .

"This is the last dance," the DJ said at 11 p.m. at St. Joseph Academy last Saturday night. His words were truer in more ways than one.

The National Honor Society's sponsored dance at the Academy ended this year's dances between the two schools.

The personal invitation dance found 32 boys from Boysville attending.

There have been nine dances with the girls from St. Joe's — five at Adrian and four here.

Final dance of the year will be the Junior-Senior Prom May 12 in Detroit.

May 21 is the date Boysville will have its annual Open House. Ed Zick of Macon will be chef for the barbequed chicken. Area people can tour the campus, dance, watch a softball game, take pony rides and see for themselves what goes on at Boysville.

After losing to Ida and Whiteford, Boysville came back with a smashing victory over Deerfield on the track, 88-21.

The track team continued to roll strong as they brought back eight medals from the Union City Relays.

Dick Kayl, Sam Kirkland, Marshall Carter and Dave Rockwell came within a tenth of a second from winning a trophy in the low hurdle shuttle relay.

The Rockwell brothers, Dave and Allen took a fourth in the shot put with a combined distance of 86'.

Tim Collins and Sam Kirkland placed third in the broad jump.

Boysville's baseball team won one and lost one this past week.

Mike O'Dea pitched a two-hitter against Deerfield bringing the Knights to an easy 10-1 victory.

John Yankoski hit a home run in the sixth inning.

Britton upset Boysville, 6-5. Boysville led 5-4 going into the last inning and with two outs, Britton got a hit that marked the winning runs.

Mike Gaudreau was the losing pitcher for Boysville.

'He-Ro-Long' Is Herd Name for Holsteins

Herbert F., Robert B. and Herbert W. Long of Tecumseh, will have the exclusive use of the prefix "He-Ro-Long" in naming all registered Holstein dairy animals bred in that herd.

This prefix name use has been granted by Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Summer Jobs for Students Being Set Up

ADRIAN — A concerted effort to provide summer jobs for students, age 16 to 21, has been organized in Adrian and Lenawee County, with the Michigan Employment Securities Commission acting as the clearing-house.

The local effort is a part of the national "Help Them Help Themselves" program, otherwise known as the Youth Opportunity campaign operated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Last summer the job program turned up more than 1,000,000 new jobs for high school and college age youths.

Charles E. Wise, general manager of the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce, will contact all businesses in the county with information relative to providing summer jobs.

Clifford Rice, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Securities Commission office in Adrian, has agreed to serve as a 'clearing agent' for the businesses and the students. He urged all businesses who expect to have summer employment opportunities to contact him as soon as possible.

Majority of the jobs are provided by private employers, including thousands of smaller businesses and offices throughout the nation.

Connie Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider, 706 W. Pottawatamie St., will receive a bachelor of science degree Saturday from the University of Michigan School of Nursing. She has accepted a position at the University Medical Center. Mr. and Mrs. Schneider will attend graduation ceremonies at the stadium Saturday morning and a reception for nursing students at the Women's League building in the afternoon.

Watch What Happens to Your Garbage, Refuse

Garbage and refuse do not belong on the road, in the roadside ditch, nor on someone else's property according to Dr. Tom Hamilton of the Lenawee County Health Department.

In establishing better control of this situation, the Health Department will enforce the County Sanitation Code regarding garbage and trash [illegible]ectors, starting June 1.

They will be required to use proper vehicles, to not scatter refuse on the roads, to dump only in licensed, controlled land fill areas. That is only half the battle.

Private citizens must do their part in controlling garbage and refuse disposition so as to avoid creating health hazards and nuisances. They must not dump their refuse in the nearest ditch, or on the neighbor's back lot, nor into a closed "dump".

Many land fills that were improperly controlled and laid out have been closed so it is unlawful to dump in these areas.

The Lenawee County Sheriff's Department and the Lenawee County Health Department are cooperating in the effort to rid our countryside of unhealthy and unsightly loose garbage and trash. Indiscriminate dumping will be investigated and violators prosecuted.

College Students Tutor Children

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Paula McKenna is co-ordinator at Western Michigan University of the only student-directed tutoring program for culturally-deprived children in the state.

Miss McKenna and some 250 fellow students at WMU are typical of the more than 5,000 students on Michigan college campuses who are engaged in the exciting volunteer community service program.

The program recently earned the commendation of Governor George Romney and the state's Human Resources Council has urged its expansion.

We don't hear enough about the college students who are trying to solve — instead of become a part of — the world's problems.

BEGUN IN 1963 with a nucleus of eight students, the program of tutoring became known as the Kalamazoo Tutorial Project.

With a modest budget of $50 donated by Campus Christian Fellowship, orientation sessions started for prospective tutors among the student body and "tutees" — the children who needed academic help at a local elementary school.

The program seeks to provide, on an individual basis, academic, cultural and social development for children who desperately need and want it.

TODAY 250 student tutors, both men and women, in Kalamazoo, work in five elementary and junior high schools in the area, spending several hours a week with 250 tutees who are 90% Negro.

The tutees have shown so much enthusiasm for the program that it has become a status symbol among their schoolmates.

In addition, an evening program has been started where tutors work on a group basis in arts and crafts, music, home economics, drama and soon to be added, photography and a story-reading session.

Co-operating on the latter program are students at Kalamazoo and Nazareth Colleges.

An office is maintained and the tutors' transportation is provided on campus buses, the most costly items on the present $1,500 yearly budget for the program.

Student executive members secure financing in the form of organizational contributions from campus and civic groups.

"MORE FUNDS will be needed if we are to continue to expand," Paula explained.

It takes an imaginative and energetic person such as Paula to pull all these strings together and make the complex operation a success.

She recently completed her sophomore year while carrying an 18-credit load as an English major in secondary education and is working on a sociology minor with plans to graduate into social work.

She is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McKenna of Cl ton and a 1965 graduate of Cl ton High School.

Paula's superior academ standing has qualified her for t Honors College and the Dea list.

She's a member of her do house council and works pa time in the cafeteria.

AT WESTERN they're st talking about the big tray-slidi party last winter when dorm c eteria trays were "borrowed" f sliding down the campus hill.

When nearly 300 tutees show up for the event on a wintry d Paula spent a student crew scou ing the dorms for all availab hats, mittens, scarves and bo to outfit them all.

It was also up to Paula to po der how to get all that wint gear back to rightful owners. S says what's left will be ready f next year's sliding party.

While "resting" from a nea bout with mononucleosus, Pau is already tossing around ide for ways to improve the proje when school resumes in August

She'll be in Lansing this we to help work out plans for a sta conference May 14 when stude leaders from all Michigan C leges and Universities will meeting to exchange ideas for i provement of the campus tut rial program.

The adult world can rest a sured that students like thes who are creating today's wort while "happenings" will be "i the real action of the future.

10 Tories Named National Honor Scholars

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

BRITTON — In an impressive ceremony Wednesday, 10 students were installed as charter members of the Britton-Macon High School Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Parents of the honored students were special guests.

Seniors Ray Vershum, Nancy Hawkins, Gary Griffin, Barbara Drexler, Kathleen Cheever, Irene Buckles and Larry Ash, junior Lynn Palmer and sophomores Nancy Vreeland and Peggy Hagans were the 10.

They were selected by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

These young people are Britton's first to be named to the National Honor Society.

Principal Charles Schankin conducted the ceremonies. Theme for the program was "Americanism."

He stated that the object of this chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leaderhip and to encourage the development of character in all students of Britton-Macon High School.

Faculty members George Berryman, Gary Lovett, Paul Marks and John Evans gave quotations from four presidents — Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Kennedy.

They showed how these great leaders personified the four characteristics of National Honors.

Mr. Schankin stressed the need for continuing excellence in each area.

Four candles were lighted at the corners of a special board, to represent the four attributes, with a tall center taper as knowledge.

Selected band members played patriotic music.

The active, or senior and junior members, received the pin of the National Honor Society and a certificate. All members, including the provisional members or sophomores, received membership cards.

Senior candidates eligible for election to the chapter had to have a minimum scholarship average of 3.0; juniors, 3.25; and sophomores, 3.5.

The 10 signed the registration book as charter members of the new chapter. Each received a yellow rose, flower of the National Honor Society.

The members and their parents were guests at a reception following the ceremonies.

Through My Window

HODGE-PODGE ARTICLE

Sunday, April 23, started out to be quite a pretty day. The sun shone brightly and the sky was a clear, almost a June, blue. It looked nice but looks can be deceiving. There was a strong, cold wind blowing — ugh. Will spring never come was the question of the day.

By 10 o'clock in the evening we were all sure that the answer to spring's arrival was a loud emphatic NO. It was snowing! And snowing hard, too! When we opened the drapes in the morning the world outside was a fantastic green and white.

Snow covered everything — freshly green lawns, the just leafed out clump of barberry by the drive, and how strange the tree limb looked supporting both snow and tiny new green leaves.

There were many other strange sights — Gertie's magnolia tree was at the peak of its blossoming period, many of our tulips were wide open, the ferns were up high enough to have started unfolding, forsythia bushes were golden yellow and, in the wild flower garden, we had hepaticas, blood root, adder tongues and even trillium—all of these springtime things did indeed look strange in the snow.

BUT WEEKS ago I declared an end to winter as far as this column goes. Therefore, no more snow talk. It can be up to the window sills and I shall not dictate the word again until late fall.

After all, today is the 4th of May already. I must admit, however, that the weatherman's lapse on the 23rd threw me into a tailspin. I simply said to heck with outdoor looking and buried myself in a book. It turned out to be several books and some unusual statistics.

This is the type of thing that, when the mood is right, absolutely intrigues me. These facts are not actually good for much, they are not earth-shattering or anything, but they are great conversation stoppers.

After all, what can you add after someone has said that a nursing blue whale calf will gain about two hundred pounds a day? Or that a flea can jump two hundred times the length of its own body whereas the best that the best human jumper can do is about four times his body length.

And we humans are not strong, either — an ant can lift 50 times it's own weight and to equal this, a man would have to hoist three big Cadillacs.

DID YOU have eggs for breakfast? Consider the ostrich egg, it weighs up to four pounds and is eight inches long. That would require quite a frying pan, wouldn't it?

Checking further into the weight and length business, a crockodile, a record holder, tipped the scales at more than two tons and measured an even 33 feet long. Japan has a salamander which weighs 90 pounds, there is an African frog which is one foot long and the tiniest frog measures one and one-half inch long as an adult.

If you should have a taste for clams, there is one kind which has weighed in at 579 pounds.

A flower-lover living in Borneo could go wild picking bouquets. A certain plant there, the rafflesia, has a flower which is three feet across. In Ceylon bamboo will grow as much as 16 inches a day. Another type of bamboo has a leaf which grows to a length of 65 feet.

And this is just for Pat, who dearly loves the fury and excitement of a storm at sea. Any guess as to the height of the tallest wave ever measured? One hundred and twelve feet — according to the U. S. Navy, place: the Pacific Ocean.

So it is that — oops, Marda, how are you ever going to come up with a title for this kind of a hodge-podge article?

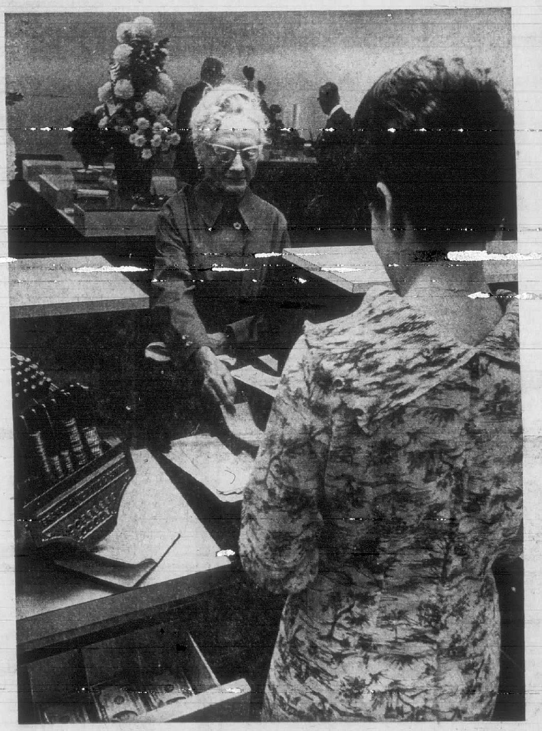
Our first customers check in at the new Herrick Park Branch

◄ FIRST SAVINGS ACCOUNT CUSTOMER was 7-year-old Jeffery Maynard, who proudly shows bank president R[illegible] Meadows his savings book, to which he had just added a $2 deposit, shortly after the new branch started operations on Monday.



FIRST CHECKING ACCOUNT CUSTOMER was Mrs. Ruth Dustin, who works with her son, Dr. Richard E. Dustin. The doctor's office is certainly in a convenient location for banking at our new branch, being right across Evans St. Serving Mrs. Dustin is Mrs. Linda Ladd, one of four tellers on duty in the branch, which offers complete banking facilities, including loans, safe deposit boxes and a drive-up window. Incidentally, the first person to bank from a car was the Rev. Ed Pistole.

A dedication and ribbon-cutting ceremony Monday morning officially opened our branch at Herrick Park — and the customers started to flood in almost immediately. Believe us, it was a real thrill. If you haven't signed up yet for a chance on Open House door prizes, you'll have an opportunity until Saturday morning. Remember, we're giving away a portable television set, electric drill, electric coffee maker, AM/FM transistor radio and 10 savings banks.

Any Think

By JUDY FIELDER

Any "spur of the moment" plans at our house must be made at least six hours in advance.

Take, for example, a recent Saturday:

I had slyly lined up a sitter for that night . . . just in case.

Jim knocked off work early . . . and . . . as hoped (I'm a sincere believer in mental telepathy), he suggested we spend the evening out, starting with dinner.

"Love to," was the reply, with the smug thought, "For once it's all set — no rush, fuss or problem."

At 2 p.m., called the sitter to tell her to come four hours later.

"What time will you be home?" she asked.

"Late," I cooed, thinking, "This is our night to howl."

"Oh . . . (pause) . . . well, if it's late, could you try to get someone else? We have a big day planned tomorrow."

AAAAGH! Why does this always happen to me? Doesn't anybody else have sitter problems?

But, smilingly, "I'll try to get someone else."

SO I DIALED freshly-manicured nails to obscenity, repeating the pitch each time and adding, for sake of honesty, we would not be in early.

Finally (hope at last) a girl's father said he would have her call back.

Meantime, children being what they are when you're in one spot for any length of time (they hate to see you sit still), kids were slamming in and out both front and back doors.

It's extremely difficult to be pleasant on the phone when one child is scaling the kitchen cupboard to haul the candy out while her sister is trying to pull her down.

The sugar spilled all over the place, but that was my fault because it was left on top of the plates, where climber had to step.

THIS, during my conversation with One Hope, helped me neglect to tell prospective sitter's father we would be late.

The thought struck as my big toe hit the bath water.

"Better call them," towel and all traipsed to the phone.

"In that case, Missus, who is downtown, will have to be consulted," said Dad.

"Okay," I glanced at the clock — 5 p.m.

Precaution . . . called original sitter, "If this doesn't pan out, I'll be in a real bind. (Sob) Would you change your mind?"

"Yes, if the other girl can't."

"Whew."

Bath water cold — refill necessary.

Quick check on children—playing nicely outside.

NOTHING like a few quiet relaxing moments of soaking.

SCREEEEEEEAM!

Grab towel, run to back door, where two struggle.

"She hit me in the back!"

"I did not!"

"You did, too!"

"You hit me first!"

"But not that hard!"

Fight stopped with threat to thrash them both.

Back to tub.

Ahhh . . . . peace.

RRRRRRING!

"Is Mr. Fielder there?"

"No, I'm sorry to say, he's not home. May I take a message?"

"It wasn't important. Goodbye." Click.

Mumble.

Reheat bath.

RRRRRING!

"I certainly appreciate your frank honesty," says Missus, "But we have a midnight curfew, so our daughter can't sit for you."

Me and my big mouth.

Original sitter consents to come.

Quick mop job on river between bath and phone.

Fast tub scrub.

Sitter takes girls out for snack, I get dressed, call Jim.

Away we go . . . . spur of the moment.

VANDALISM — One of the buildings the city planned to keep intact at The Pit was the registration office, which was going to be moved to another site. Since the swimming area closed last fall, destruction by vandals has taken heavy toll of five buildings. Don Moffatt, Supt. of parks and recreation, takes a close look at glassless windows and holes in siding caused by someone throwing cement blocks through the structure. Valued at $600.00, the building will be moved — torn apart and taken down, that is.

Token Lady Finds Family

A retired police chief in Manistee has found a relative after 60 years of searching — thanks to a Clinton woman.

John Leffew, placed in an orphanage as an infant, never knew if he had any living kin, but he was always searching.

As a Detroit policeman and later chief in Manistee, he was constantly on the watch for a Leffew who might be related to him.

Whenever he visited a different city, the first thing he'd do would be to check the telephone directory for persons with the same name as his.

But 60 years slipped by and he never turned up a relative.

THIS IS where the Clinton lady, Mrs. William R. Johnson, comes in.

While living in Muskegon, she learned of Mr. Leffew's quest in 1957. Mr. Leffew was visiting his wife's niece, who happened to reside next door to the Johnsons.

Mrs. Johnson and her husband then moved to Clinton, but she never forgot the plight of the elderly police officer.

She has a unique hobby — collecting tokens. It has her writing an average of 200 letters a week, all over the nation.

With each correspondence to a new town, she'd ask the person she wrote to if any Leffews lived there.

A FEW WEEKS back, Mrs. Johnson was checking ads in an Indiana farm paper, when she spied a "wanted" classified that made her eyes pop.

A Valparaiso resident, Mrs. Grace Leffew, was in search of an Amish book.
